THE NATIONAL REPUBLICAN.

WASHINGTON, D. C., JULY 27, 1881.

SERENE SAM.

There was a young fellow named Sam,
Whose nature was serenely calm,
But one day a bull came
On his lip, and the same
I'll bet you, has caused him to damn.

He rubbed it with alum so sour
And washed it so clean every hour,
That it all went away,
Still, on a fine day
A fever sore came there. With pow—

He swore he would murder his lip,
So from a pocket that's over his hip
A razor he drew,
And a lather-brush too
And he shaved off the fuzz 'thout a slip.

—Silas J. Beaver.

'SKEETERS.

Wakes up, for we are coming,'
Sounds the message softly there.
And I hear the low, sweet humming
Of mosquitoes in the air.

Though I hear the cry of warning
Yet I cannot keep them out,
And my visage in the morning
Is as speckled as a trout.

—Mollett.

SPORTING NOTES.

An English fox terrier, recently rescued from a hole in the ground where he had been imprisoned thirteen days without food or water, soon recovered his strength.

Mr. Frederick Gebhard rode his racer Zeta against Rosella in a private match, half a mile, in Saratoga the other day. Zeta won in 52¼ seconds. Rosella was the favorite.

The Dwyer Brothers have won $31,000 with Hindoo this year, and $22,000 with their other racers. P. Lorillard has won $10,500 in this country and $9,000 in England, of which Iroquois has won $4,500.—Sportsman.

A large number of rainbow trout have lately been hatched at Roslyn, Long Island. The fish are to be distributed in streams of New York under the supervision of Mr. Eugene Blackford, of the New York fish commission.

The London Daily News prints: "We cannot praise Mr. Merrill's performance too highly. His style is simply perfection. Mr Myers showed us form that we have never before seen in this country. He appears to skim over the ground." Other newspapers echo this praise.

The time-trotting stallion Mambrino Lapwing, shipped to South America by Mr. Vicente Casares for the purpose of improving trotting stock in Buenos Ayres, died from exhaustion on the voyage. Mr. Casares has purchased Young American Eagle and shipped him by steamer to take the place of Mambrino Lapwing.

Mr. Patrick Ryan, of Troy, has not yet announced his intention of accepting the invitation of Mr. Peter D. Rouse, of Colorado, to meet him for fistic honors and money in Wyoming, Dakota, or Utah. Mr. Ryan was so eager to fight a few weeks ago that in a local challenge he guaranteed a meeting in defiance of the police. The far West now offers unusual facilities for a fighting man.

The race which the Cornell crew will row against the Vienna crew on August 5 will be over a three-mile course on the Danube for a mile and a half against a rather powerful stream, then around buoys and back to the starting point. The prize is valued at about $1,250. In addition each of the winning crew will receive a gold medal. The Austrian crew has been selected from four rowing clubs of Vienna. They are stalwart men, with an imperfect knowledge of the science of rowing.

MILLIONS AT THE MINT.

Arrival of a Great Consignment from the New York Assay Office.

Over $5,000,000 in broad, salmon-colored bars or bricks of gold, occasionally darkly tinged with a copper-like coating, arrived yesterday morning at the United States Mint. They came in one hundred wooden boxes, about two feet square and a foot deep. An express wagon, with several custodians, carried them, and they were rolled and dumped into the weighing-room like so much lead. To the men in the mint the daily handling of fabulous sums of the precious metals begets an indifference that puts it on a par with the commonest merchandise. Not an ounce of it, however, is free from the closest scrutiny while within these walls. Although a man may walk in from the street and stand at a step before the open door of the weighing-room vault, where $30,000,000 is stored, with but a single official in sight, it would need but the slightest alarm to have a score of men, with loaded weapons in their hands, standing on the spot. Unlike foreign mints, no display of armed protection of the treasure is made, but the precautions are nevertheless complete. The large consignment yesterday came from the assayer's office in New York. Each box contained a "melt," or, in other words, the entire refined contents of a crucible, each varying in quantity, and every brick was numbered. The men who do the heavy work opened the boxes, took off the paper wrappings, and piled the bricks upon the scales. Then the clerk weighed them and carried the bricks into the vault. The entire weight was 266,960.78 ounces Troy, or over eleven tons. The actual net weight valuation was $5,104,466.31. If any one could count thirty dollars every minute and keep it up without stopping it would take within a fraction of four months to count this amount in coin. In the mint all the counting is done by weight and measure. Piles of various kinds of coin are measured, and if they are the requisite number of inches each way and the weight corresponds, the number and value is set down far more accurately than if the money had been counted by the deftest fingers.—Philadelphia Times.

GIVE US A REST.

More About the Gush and Twaddle of Newspapers.

To the Editor of THE REPUBLICAN:

I agree with "Common Sense" in his remarks about the gush and twaddle that the reporters and papers have got off about the President and his family, the latest of which I see copied in the Sunday Herald from a Hartford paper. It is perfectly disgusting to see the papers day after day filled with every little detail of what the President eats and says and thinks, and when he turns over or raises a hand or leg, or jokes or laughs, and still more so to read the panegyrics about his wife and the wonderful feats of his boy. The official bulletins showing his condition are all right and proper, for they contain what the public want to know; but the private affairs of his family and the sick room the public and the newspapers have no business with. The following from a Western paper, I think, speaks the sentiments of sensible people everywhere so far as it touches the subject. No one has a higher respect for the President and his wife than I, and for their sake, as well as that of common decency I protest against this twaddle and nonsense. As this paper says

Throughout the whole distressing affair Mrs. Garfield has acted coolly, affectionately, and practically, just as any one of ten million sensible women in the United States would act under similar circumstances. In this connection there is much nauseating twaddle published in papers edited by maudlin idiots, which would make the whole family of the President die of disgust if they should see it.

A fellow named Weems, who wrote a life of Washington, made our dignified first Chief Magistrate ridiculous in history by inventing the cherry tree and little hatchet story about him. It is to be hoped that such maudlin dyspeptics as Weems will be throttled before they have an opportunity to manicate such fables against the Garfield family out of their muddy brains and gushy pinions.

CITIZEN.

A Horrible Death.

Eavan Reese, eighteen years of age, went up to the topmost portion of the breaker of the Butler Colliery Company, in Carbondale, Pa., and was standing on the upper screening-wheel when a companion named Lowery arrived. The latter told Reese to come down, or he would pull out the iron holding the screening wheel, which makes thirty revolutions a minute when in motion. Reese refused to come down, and the bolt was thereupon withdrawn, and the screen turned so rapidly that it threw Reese thirty feet. He struck head first upon a large rock below, and his brains were knocked out and his whole body disfigured.

A Heartless Woman.

Ann Devere, who resides in Johnstown, Pa., where, it is said, she has three sons in independent circumstances, brought her husband, an old and infirm man, to Jersey City, and left him on the street. She was about to start back for Pennsylvania when she was arrested by Captain McKay at the instance of the overseer of the poor. This morning, when arraigned before Judge Pelouhet, she positively refused to take her husband away with her, and the Judge ordered her to be locked up until she shall give some guarantee that her husband will not become a charge of the city.

The Warren Court of Inquiry.

The summing up in the Warren court of inquiry has begun before Generals Augur and Newton at army headquarters, New York. Major Gardner was present in the capacity of judge advocate. Mr. Albert Stickney, counsel for General Warren, reviewed the testimony that had been taken favorable to his client and contended that the position taken by General Warren at Five Forks was made for him by General Grant, who now blames him for having taken it. The summing up will probably be concluded by this afternoon.

THE GRAVE OF PENN.

Epistolary Passages Between the American Commissioner and Others.

The discussion about the removal of Penn's remains grows interesting, and Pennsylvania's commissioner waxes wrathful. In a letter to the London Times, after stating that his appeal was dismissed without a hearing, he questions the right of the trustees of Jordan's burial place to the exclusive right of determining the question of removal. He claims that Penn was a public man, and Pennsylvania has, therefore, a right to use his memory in the most effective manner for the public good. He says that until the remains were wanted in America few persons knew or cared where they rested. In conclusion he pleads that the people, seeing Penn's remains in a public place in Philadelphia, "would be elevated for good or restrained from evil by the inevitable consciousness of the high, pure, and courageous character of the man before them." He adds: "The allegation that the precise spot where Penn's remains are buried cannot be found cannot be accepted, as it is quite certain that Penn was buried in a leaden coffin." The commissioner then enters into a long and exhaustive argument in favor of the removal of the remains to America.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Stock and Bond Quotations—Baltimore and New York Produce Markets.

The following observations on the transactions in the financial market yesterday, together with opening, highest, lowest, and closing quotations, are furnished by the banking-house of H. D. Cooke, Jr., & Co., 1129 F street, Washington, D. C.:

NEW YORK, July 26, 3 p. m.—The market has continued feverish and irregular, with a tendency for lower prices. The Southwesterns, Gould's specialties, Northern Pacific, and the low-priced stocks generally were freely sold, and marked the most serious decline to-day, from 2 to 5 per cent., while New York Central, Lake Shore, Northwest, and the good dividend-paying stocks close at about the prices of yesterday. The conflicting rumors respecting the condition of the President were used as excuses for the uncertain condition of the market but the impression gains that the decline is due more to the effect of general liquidation of speculative accounts than to special local causes, and to-day the general feeling was probably largely for account of the class of persistent bulls, who, with short margins and unlimited faith in higher prices when the market was its highest, remained believers notwithstanding the decline, hoping for reactions, till exhausted margins demand the closing of their accounts. Unlike the market of yesterday the closing, which was weak, gives no promise for a stronger market to-morrow. Governments have been weak, showing a decline of ⅛@¼ per cent. Money easy at 2½@3 during the day, closing at 4 per cent.

BANKERS' EXCHANGE.

Three-day bills ..... 483½ | Sixty-day bills 483⅛

NEW YORK, July 26, 9:45 a. m.—There was not much general confidence last night in the rally established late in the day yesterday in the market. Notwithstanding many thought the list had been considerably oversold, it was stated that Lake Shore and Union Pacific loaned late in the day at 1-64@1-32, and that deliveries of Northern Pacific preferred and Western Union continue irregular and unsatisfactory. Sage continued to believe in a bull market, and said last night it was apt to go up any day 5 per cent. The order broker in Wall street says Gould bought more of the latter yesterday than he sold. It was claimed that Sage and Keene were sustaining Lake Shore to protect their puts, and that the buying does not come from Mr Vanderbilt. A former banker of the latter now retired believes the market will go down from 5 to 10 per cent yet.

It was reported that Keene bought in 3,500 of his Northern Pacific preferred yesterday, but that he is still short 10,000 shares.

The friends of the Villard party claim the latter have sold none of their stock. It was stated that Cammack was still short 10,000 shares of the preferred.

The order broker in Western Union says Gould has been selling all of the latter that he could market for the past three weeks. The bears say this stock looks like 75.

The switch and yard men on the St. Paul road have had their wages raised, and will not join the strikers at Minneapolis.

A bet of $2,500 was made on the Branch boat last evening that St. Paul would sell at 109⅝ before 120½. A prominent Broadway broker offered to bet $5,000 more the same way at the West End Hotel in the evening. One of the largest Broadway houses say it sold very largely of long stocks yesterday for Boston and New England account. The Messrs. Seligman are bearish on the market. C. P. Huntington is also bearish.

The brokers say that the principal buying of St. Paul yesterday was by Patterson, James McCormick, and Enos. Zerega was the largest seller of Lackawanna, and the Jersey pool worked hard to support the latter through Kemys. The Philadelphia rate for Chicago tickets is down to $7 this morning, and the Boston limited price is $15, with $10 rebate at Chicago.

12 m.—A London telegram from a prominent English stock concern says the account shows liquidation of the bull interest, but later the market was stronger, and some orders were received here to buy.

The Chicago and Omaha earnings increased $28,825 the third week in July. The brokers say Gould is borrowing considerable Lackawanna.

A Chicago dispatch gives the East-bound rail shipments for the week as 5,860 tons less than the week before. The grain rate continues at 15 cents, which is claimed to be low enough to compete with the Lake. The percentages last week were: Michigan, 23.90; Lake Shore, 20.60; Fort Wayne, 18.76; Pan Handle, 16.29; Baltimore and Ohio, 9, and Grand Trunk, 7.69.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 26.—Money active at 2½@4 per cent. on call, and closed at 3 per cent. Exchange weak at 482½@4823 for long and 484½@485 for shortsight. Governments were weak and ⅛@¼ per cent. lower. State bonds dull. Railroad bonds generally weak.

The stock market opened irregular, but in the early dealings prices advanced ½@1¼ per cent., with Union Pacific and New Jersey Central leading the improvement. Before the first board, however, the speculation became weak, and under the influence of a free selling movement prices fell off sharply, the downward movement being assisted by the circulation of reports that the President's condition was extremely critical. The lowest figures were touched after the second board, after which there was a slight rally, but in the final sales quotations again fell off, and the market closed very heavy at the lowest figures of the day. The day's decline ranged from ½ to 5 per cent., Denver and Rio Grande, Mobile and Ohio, Texas Pacific, Missouri Pacific, Col. Coal, Northern Pacific, Louisville and Nashville, Nashville and Chattanooga, St. Paul, Union Pacific, Wabash Pacific, New Jersey Central, Western Union, and Ontario and Western being most prominent therein.

The sales aggregated 421,304 shares, including Canada Southern, 4,600; Central Pacific, 5,300; Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, 2,600; Denver and Rio Grande, 18,300; Erie, 12,900; Kansas and Texas, 16,600; Lake Shore, 21,400; Louisville and Nashville, 5,500; Michigan Central, 8,600; Memphis and Charleston, 2,800; Missouri Pacific, 14,600; Northwestern, 14,100; New Jersey Central, 26,300; New York Central, 6,100; Northern Pacific, 92,500; Ohio and Mississippi, 5,900; Ontario and Western, 10,700; Pacific Mail, 5,500; Reading, 2,100; St. Paul, 30,900; Texas Pacific, 11,600; Union Pacific, 15,700; Wabash Pacific, 26,600; Western Union, 43,400; Central Arizona, 6,100; Col. The Passage from the Liver.

of bile into the intestines at proper intervals is essential to health and regularity of the bowels and stomach. When this important function is interrupted by the failure of the gland to perform its secreting duty properly constipation and indigestion result, bile is injected into the blood, and dyes the skin a dirty yellow; there are nausea, headache, pain in the right side, furred tongue, and other annoying symptoms. For these and for their cause Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a far more rational and pleasant remedy than the drastic, violent purgatives sometimes taken. It relaxes the bowels without pain or annoyance, and imparts the requisite stimulus to the liver, promoting its activity, and that of its associate organ, the stomach. These combined beneficent effects are speedily appreciable. MWF

DIED.

LITTLE.—On Tuesday, July 26, 1881, MARY JANE LITTLE, wife of Franklin Little, esq., aged sixty-seven years.

Funeral will take place from residence, 813 North Capitol street, on Thursday, 28th instant, at two p. m. Relatives and friends are invited.

Obituary.

KITTINGER.—MRS. ANN ELIZA, widow of the late H. C. Kittinger, departed this life on the 26 of July, 1881, in the seventy-third year of her age, at the house of her sons-in-law, Robert Wilson and Josiah Shaw, in Washington, D. C. She had been a faithful wife and mother, a kind and cheerful neighbor, ever ready to help the needy, and a consistent member of the Church of Christ. The more her faith and patience were tried by cares and infirmities the stronger and brighter they grew. She was tenderly cared for by her children and their families through a very painful illness, and without fear resigned her spirit into the hands of her God and Saviour. Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord.
