SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES.
No. 940. October Term, 1881.

George Myers, plaintiff in error, vs. Frederick J. Swann et al.

Mr. S. F. Phillips, of counsel for the defendants in error, suggested the death of George Myers, the plaintiff in error in this cause, and moved the court for an order under the different rule to make the proper representatives parties; whereupon it is now here ordered by the court that unless the proper representatives of the said George Myers, deceased, as aforesaid, shall voluntarily become parties within the first ten days of the ensuing term of this court, the defendants in error shall be entitled to have the writ of error dismissed. Provided, that a copy of this order shall be printed in some newspaper at the seat of Government, of general circulation, for three successive weeks, at least sixty days before the beginning of the term of the Supreme Court next ensuing.

Dr. Frazier's Root Bitters.

Frazier's Root Bitters are not a dram-shop whisky beverage, but are strictly medicinal in every sense. They act strongly upon the liver and kidneys, keep the bowels open and regular, make the weak strong, heal the lungs, build up the nerves and cleanse the blood and system of every impurity.

For Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the Head, tending to Apoplexy; Dyspepsia, Fever and Ague, Dropsy, Pimples and Blotches, Scrofulous Humors and Sores, Tetter, Ring Worm, White Swelling, Erysipelas, Sore Eyes, and for young men suffering from Weakness or Debility caused from imprudence, and to females in delicate health, Frazier's Root Bitters are especially recommended.

Dr. Frazier: "I have used two bottles of your Root Bitters for Dyspepsia, Dizziness, Weakness, and Kidney Disease, and they did me more good than the doctors and all the medicine I ever used. From the first dose I took I began to mend, and I am now in perfect health, and feel as well as I ever did. I consider your medicine one of the greatest of blessings." MRS. M. ANOTHER TALE OF LOVE.

* * * * * * *

Two hours have passed. So have seven or eight horse-cars, but the one for which Vivian is waiting finally comes along and soon lands him at the door of Pericles O'Rourke's house. Ethelberta is sitting in her boudoir (high-toned word for room), sewing some foamy lace into the neck of a velvet dress, as the young man entered.

"I have bad news for you, my darling," Vivian says in sad tones, while a don't-bluff-or-you-will-be-called look comes over his face.

Bertie nestled her little dimpled hands confidingly in his. "Tell it to me at once, sweet," she said, "only with you alive and well nothing could be so very dreadful."

Vivian looked at her with a wonderful grave tenderness in his blue eyes.

He was sizing her up.

"My father and I have quarreled, and he has disinherited me. I have"—and here his voice quivered slightly—"been given the g. b. on your account. I am a beggar, Bertie."

Her soft, dusky eyes grew wider and more serious.

"Yes," continued the sucker, "I am poor. But I wouldn't care if it wasn't for you, darling. It means that I must give you up, for I cannot ask you to share life with me on a thousand a year."

She looked at him with a rich crimson flush surging into her cheeks. If it had been a full Vivian would probably have gone under, but a flush could never scare him.

"Vivian," she said, passionately, "do you think I will let you give me up? I love you too well for that. A beggar or a prince, you are the same to me—my king, my lover."

And he folded her to his heart with a great, almost speechless tenderness and joy.

"My darling, my precious," he whispered.

Three months later, on a golden December afternoon, with a blushy as in June, there was a grand wedding at the O'Rourke mansion. As Vivian and Ethelberta were entering the carriage that was to bear them to the depot she looked at him with a weirdly precious smile.

"And so you would not desert me, darling," he said, "even when you thought that I was poor?"

"No, my precious one," was the reply. "I learned long ago that a sucker once off the hook will never bite again, and your father and I put up the job so as to land you a little quicker."—From "The Siren and the Sucker," by Marat Halstead.

THE COMMISSIONERS.

Current Transactions at the Various District Offices.

Building permits were issued yesterday to Professor C. V. Riley, to build six brick dwellings at Thirteenth and R streets northwest, to cost $25,000; W. M. Poindexter, to build one brick building between Twenty-seventh and River streets and G and H streets northwest, to cost $3,000; Misses Mary A. Cushing and Adelaide Manshur, to build one brick office on F street, between Ninth and Tenth streets northwest, to cost $5,500; Annie Kegeris, to make additional repairs at 730 Tenth street northwest, to cost $400; James G. Boss, to make repairs at 800 Fourth street northwest to cost $200; Patrick Maher, to make repairs at the corner of Second and O streets, Georgetown, to cost $40; George W. Perkins, to make repairs at 412 B street northeast, to cost $25, and W. H. Wright, to make repairs at 1227 H street northwest to cost $30.

Complaints are made of the impassable condition of H street between North Capitol and First streets.

An amendment to the District code to prevent dogs from becoming a howling nuisance has been submitted to the House District Committee. It provides that when two residents on a square complain that a barking dog disturbs the sick or well the owner shall remove the annimal without the District limits. Adequate punishment by the Police Court is provided for failure to do so.

District Assessor Dodge has prepared a list of exempted property in the District of Columbia for the purpose of forwarding it to Chairman Neal, of the House Committee on the District. The assessed valuation on twenty-two pieces of exempted property, principally churches, schools, and asylums, amounts to $5,323,648.

Major Brock, Superintendent of Police, has issued an order furnishing the members of the force with a copy of the congressional act "For the preservation of game and protection of birds in the District of Columbia." This is done for the information and guidance of the force.

The special assessment division have completed the revision against alleys in squares 417 and 14.

The Commissioners have ordered that the following paragraph be added to the building regulations, after the words "Or otherincombustible material," the words "All stores, or store houses, or other buildings, except dwellings or churches, now, or hereafter erected, when in close proximity to other structures, shall, when ordered by the building inspectors, be provided in the rear, side, or sides with iron or other fire-proof shutters in all openings, which shutters shall be closed at the termination of each day's business. The interested party may, after having been notified, appeal in writing to the Board of Fire Commissioners, who will determine as to the enforcement of the order."

ALEXANDRIA AFFAIRS.

There were no cases at police headquarters yesterday.

City Treasurer M. B. Harlow is confined to his house by sickness.

The sinking fund commissioners of the city held a meeting yesterday afternoon at the auditor's office.

The alarm of fire Wednesday night, about eight o'clock, was caused by the explosion of an oil-lamp in a housecat in the Third Ward.

The family of Royal Marionettes in Hyde & Behman's show is said to be more than worth the price of admission to the entertainment.

Lent will soon be over, and then the fun will commence again. The entertainments to be given by the Old Dominion Boat Club will repay all for their forty days of total abstinence.

Mrs. Virginia C. Neale has accepted an invitation from the mature to make Louise Home, Washington, her future abiding-place, and will shortly leave this city for her new home.

A new pump is now being made for the intersection of Fairfax and First streets, north of the canal-locks, near the boundary of the city. The canal trade has created a considerable suburban hamlet at this point. The pump will be put in by Superintendent Coleman next week.

The excursion steamer Mary Washington was sold yesterday in front of the custom-house, by Mr. S. Ferguson Beach, trustee, to Captain John C. Graham, for $4,500. The Mary Washington, owned by the Upper Potomac Steamboat Company, was built in 1871, at a cost of $28,000.

The examination of a number of young gentlemen by Messrs. Blackburn, Ficklin, and Kemper, undertaken at the request of Hon. John S. Barbour, with a view to determine upon whom the cadetship at West Point should be bestowed, took place yesterday afternoon, and was not completed until a late hour. No intelligence of the proposed examination having appeared in any newspaper until Monday evening last, few competitors appeared. The examination was in writing. It will be about a week before the result is announced.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

The bill redistricting the State for Circuit Judges has passed the house.

The Magdalen Association of Norfolk are endeavoring to establish a house of reform.

Mr. Board has introduced in the house a bill making it a penal offense for any person to use money to influence legislation.

A personal altercation occurred in the house on Wednesday between Delegates Frazier, of Rockbridge, and Honaker, of Bland. Blows were interchanged, and after the combatants had cooled down they apologized to the house.

"Last winter I fell on the ice," writes W. T. Dowdall, esq., of Peoria, Ill., "and badly dislocated my left shoulder, causing me intense suffering. The first application of St. Jacobs Oil gave great relief, and with the use of less than one bottle I quickly regained my former strength."

POLICE COURT NOTES.

Henry L. Blout, for obstructing the sidewalk, was fined $5.

Michael Greene, a colored vag, was sent to the workhouse for ninety days.

James Kehoe, a sailor, was charged with vagrancy, and released on promising to join his vessel at once.

Barbara Hornbache was charged with violating the sanitary regulations, and the case was dismissed.

George H. Turton failed to exhibit a light on obstructions in the street, and gave personal bonds not to repeat the offense.

Ben Butler—not the General, but another Ben—charged William Pine with trespassing upon his property and pulling up a cedar log. Both parties are colored. The Judge did not think a case had been made out against the defendant and dismissed the case.

As the doctor turned sadly away from the patient whom he found using Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, he said: "It beats me every time."

Star of Hope Lodge, No. 12, I. O. G. T.

Hon. A. H. Frear, G. W. C.
