By the addition of the letter "r" the complimentary notice of the appointment of Mr. Robert A. JOHN MURPHY'S TRIAL FOR MURDER.

A Verdict of "Not Guilty" Rendered and the Prisoner Discharged.

Yesterday, in the Criminal Court, John Murphy was tried for the murder of Thomas Fitzgerald on the night of May 21st last. The District Attorney and Mr. Hugh T. Taggart appeared for the Government, and Messrs. F. H. Fall and A. A. Lipscomb for the defense. The facts developed at the inquest were that Murphy and Fitzgerald had an altercation early in the evening at 715 Twenty-sixth street northwest, and that later Fitzgerald went to Murphy's house, and was seen to come out of his house staggering and went toward the river. Next day his body was found in the river, with his skull fractured. Sergeant Perry testified to the body being found in the water. Dr. J. F. Hartigan to the wounds, and that they might have caused death. Mrs. Moran, John Moran, and other witnesses testified to seeing a man go to Murphy's house on that night, and hearing a noise.

THE DEFENDANT TESTIFIED

that Fitzgerald came to his house that night, and as he refused to go out he knocked him down, and when the deceased got up he had a knife or pistol in his hand; he closed with him and put him out of the house. The Government desired the court to wait the arrival of Susie Carr, whom they claimed to be an important witness for the prosecution, she having testified at the Coroner's inquest that Murphy told her he was looking for an axe to kill the son of a b——, and later he acknowledged killing him, and said he would serve her the same way if she said anything about it. Mr. Taggart stated she was coming from Cincinnati, and that the train had been delayed, and the witness would not arrive until three o'clock. Judge Wylie said he would not wait for the witness' appearance. Counsel on both sides declined to address the jury, leaving the case to His Honor's instructions. The jury, after being out about ten minutes, returned a verdict of not guilty, and the prisoner was discharged.

The Audran Opera Company.

The "Pirates of Penzance," which was presented by the Audran Opera Company at the National Theatre last night, though given as a substitute, was witnessed by an audience which embraced many distinguished people, among whom may be mentioned the President and his son, Senator Anthony, Mr. W. J. Florence, and others. The opera was enjoyed for its own sake, and the charming singing and piquant acting of Miss Lillian Post completely captured her auditors and made them at once her friends. The rest of General Stanley's daughters sang well, and their appearance showed that they were "beauties." Of the male members of the troupe Messrs. Greensfelder and McCollin were the most noticeable. To-night "Olivette" will be produced.

"My Sweetheart" at Ford's.

Miss Minnie Palmer was greeted by a large and highly enthusiastic audience last night, which proved that her popularity in this city has not suffered by her absence. "My Sweetheart," the play in which she has won her reputation, has been decidedly improved since it was first launched upon the stage. It is now played in three acts. Much of the dialogue has been changed and new characters introduced. Miss Palmer is, of course, the central figure, and in her bright and sprightly acting shows the development she has made in her art since her last visit. The applause was vociferous, and she was called before the curtain at the close of every act.

The National Museum.

The National Museum is soon to be enriched by a large and valuable collection of rare and curious objects, formerly a part of the Centennial exhibit, and latterly of that of the Permanent Exhibition Company, consisting of many complete, as well as partial exhibits, of some of the largest manufacturing houses in the United States. Among other things captured by the agent of the museum from this exhibition is the famous mosaic inlaid, from one of the oldest temples of the world, and which attracted so much attention in the Tunis department in 1876.

The Hess Acme Company.

The Hess Acme Opera Company, which consists of sixty people, and is one of the largest organizations traveling, will appear at Ford's Opera-House on the 24th instant. Among the soloists are Miss Addie Randall, Messrs. Henry and James Peakes, Mark Smith, and others equally well known. The repertoire includes "The Chimes," "Mascotte," "Olivette," and a new and extremely funny opera called "The Widow."

THE BOOM IN REAL ESTATE.

What an Enterprising Firm Is Doing—Rare Chance for Suburban Residences.

THE REPUBLICAN has recently given many transactions to show that capital is seeking investment in and around Washington. Every real estate dealer is besieged by buyers, and the tendency of the market is upward. Below is given a few of the transfers made through the real estate exchange of W. H. Main & Bros., 81 Charles Hotel, corner Third street and Pennsylvania avenue. Some of this property is well known, and all of it is particularly desirable, the value being rapidly on the increase, as is all the suburban property about Washington. Captain Carpenter, of Pittsburg, Pa., purchased Judge Clark's place of forty acres, near Uniontown, D. C., for $8,000 cash. J. H. Small & Sons paid R. H. Burr $12,500 cash for his suburban property, containing about fifty acres. C. J. Bussey's place, adjoining the Washington camp ground, in Montgomery County, Maryland, was bought by Thomas Marshall for $4,350 cash. Mr. J. C. Wise, of Virginia, bought the place of J. W. Guilter, in the same county, for $3,600 cash. B. D. Tubman's place, known as Pye's Wharf, on the Potomac, was purchased by the Potomac FruitGrowers' Association, for $7,000 cash. The Association is engaged in improving this tract, and will make it one of the most inviting spots on the lower Potomac for excursionists. The association will show what can be accomplished there in the way of

IMPROVED FRUIT CULTURE.

The Mason farm, adjoining, and containing 1,000 acres, has been purchased by W. H. Main & Bros. for $10,000. This enterprising firm intend to stock it with improved breeds of sheep, and no doubt will receive rich returns for their investment. The valuable mill property near Pye's wharf has been purchased by Mr. Kent, of Michigan, who will transfer his capital and energy to the banks of the Potomac. W. H. Main, one of the firm, has bought the farm of Robert Strong, in Webster County, West Virginia, containing 2,700 acres, for $13,000. Benjamin Prosise has sold his farm in Prince George's County, Maryland, to Adam Dade for $4,000. Mrs. Hess' farm, in Prince George's County, Maryland, to Mr. Reside, for $8,000, Mrs. Hess purchasing the brick house, No. 1209 L street northwest, for $8,000. W. H. Main & Bros. have recently purchased from George Bonifant a beautiful tract of land at Silver Spring Station, on the Metropolitan Branch Railroad. It is bounded by the improvements of Montgomery Blair and W. H. Thompson. They intend to divide it up into convenient building sites and place a portion upon the market. The firm state that a perfect title, scott free, will be given to those who bind themselves to build good and substantial residences upon the gift. Nothing can be more liberal than such an offer, and those desiring a suburban home will do well to call on the Main Brothers at once, where a plat of the grounds can be seen.

B. & O. Employees' Relief Association.

The report for March of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company's Employees Relief Association shows that over eight hundred benefits were paid to members, and with the allowances for medical fees the list exceeds nine hundred. This is the largest number for any month. In the list are payments for eighteen deaths, both from natural causes and accidents, there being several of the latter. The association has an active membership of nearly fifteen thousand. One of its chief promoters speaks of the association as follows: "It continues to be in a most prosperous condition, and is meeting the highest expectations of its founders in the magnitude and ramifications of its usefulness. In England these railway benevolent organizations are repeatedly the recipients of large bequests and annual contributions from leading, influential, and opulent citizens, and it is noteworthy in this connection that the first donation has been made to the Relief Association of the Baltimore and Ohio Company. This is but the beginning of what may yet develop into great dimensions. Railway operatives, as a class, are a worthy and deserving body, and the purely benevolent character of this organization will doubtless attract to it, as is general in England, liberal bequests from our wealthy citizens."

Gerster—Kellogg.

The great musical event will be the short season of grand Italian opera by the Strakosch Opera Company on next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday evenings, 24th, 25th, and 26th instant, at the National Theatre. This is positively the farewell appearance of the great Hungarian songstress, Mme. Etelka Gerster, and America's greatest prima donna, Miss Clara Louise Kellogg. The repertoire will be: Monday, "La Sonnambula," Mme. Etelka Gerster in her great character of Amina, a role in which she is adulthed to be without a rival; Tuesday evening, "Faust," Miss Clara Louise Kellogg in her original creation of Margherita; Wednesday afternoon, grand matinee, "Il Trovatore," Mlle. Marie Litton as Leonora, her last appearance prior to her return to Europe, and Wednesday evening, farewell of the great Gerster in her charming rendition of Rosina in "Il Barbiere di Siviglia." Mme. Gerster will introduce in the singing lesson Benedict's variations de bravoure, "Sur le Carnival de Venice," and, as a finale to the opera, Arditi's polka, "Fior di Margherita." The sale of season tickets for choice of seats will commence to-morrow (Wednesday) morning, at half-past eight, at the box-office of the National Theatre—the sale of seats for single nights on Thursday morning.

LOCAL MENTION.

PUBLIC VOICE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 30, 1881.

GENTLEMEN:

Being a sufferer from female weaknesses to such an extent I could not go around the house, and having failed to get relief from the treatment of some of our most responsible physicians, my husband persuaded me to try Brown's Iron Bitters, two bottles of which completely restored me to health, and I am now strong and hearty. My husband also took Brown's Iron Bitters for kidney complaint with beneficial results. From the effect shown on me by the use of the first bottle, Dr. Briston recommended its continued use.

One of the pleasantest things about the Buckingham Hotel is the number of growing plants which adorn its rooms and corridors. Ferns and palms seem to spring up everywhere. * * * Another good thing about the Buckingham is the attendance.
