WEST WASHINGTON.

During the fishing season a report concerning the condition of the water at Great Falls will be published each day, as furnished by the Washington Aqueduct office, Georgetown, using the following scale of measurement: Very turbid, 0 to 8; turbid, 8 to 15; slightly turbid, 15 to 22; clear, 22 to 36. Condition of the water Friday, April 28—At Great Falls, 3; at receiving reservoir, 36; at distributing reservoir, 36.

The report circulated on the streets that Captain Howgate was secreted in one of the abutments of the Aqueduct Bridge is not true—at least, so says our nautical friend, J. Thomas Riggins, who ought to know, as he devoted nearly two days of valuable time trying to find him. Poor Biggins! The picture of that $500 reward, which has been before his eyes so constantly during the past week, has vanished like a dream.

An amusing incident occurred the other evening at the residence of one of our prominent merchants, on Second street. A number of friends were invited in to celebrate a birthday anniversary of one of the little ones, and among other amusements charades were indulged in. Of course a ladies' dressing-room was necessary, and the hostess kindly offered the fair ones the use of her bedroom on the second floor for that purpose. The merchant, who had been absent on business in Baltimore for several days, returned about nine o'clock, and upon reaching his home and seeing the parlor filled with guests, hastened unannounced to his bedroom, where he no doubt expected to be able to wash and dress unnoticed. As he dashed into the room, eager to escape notice, a scene met his eye probably never witnessed by a man in that house before. It so happened there were seven or eight beautiful females dressing at the time the lord and master of the mansion entered the apartment, and, as the charade about to be acted necessitated on the part of some a very light and airy costume, changes were being made in their dress entirely different from putting on a hat or pair of gloves. Our prominent merchant remained only a second inside of that room, and, from the manner in which he came down those stairs, valise and umbrella in hand, one would judge he regretted very much having ever gone up there. As he landed in the front hall he was received by a dozen or more frightened friends, who had rushed out from the parlor to ascertain the cause of the piercing screams heard from the room above. It is safe to say that hereafter, when he returns unexpectedly, he will inquire if there are any charades going on in the house before he rushes up to his room.

Messrs. Baden, Johnston, and Lawrence returned last night from their fishing trip, with substantial proof of their ability as fishermen. Notwithstanding the muddy condition of the water near Great Falls they brought home twenty-seven bass, three of which weighed nearly four pounds each, and the smallest tipping the scale at eleven ounces. In addition to this they caught some forty-odd perch, a dozen good-sized catfish, and several large eels on their way home.

The drivers on the Metropolitan Railroad who were discharged Wednesday last have been reinstated by order of the president of the company.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Jackson have returned from their wedding trip.

Drs. Kiefner, Schmidt and Mackall have not been able to extract the ball from the wound of Benjamin Smith, who was shot by Alonzo Donaldson, as mentioned in yesterday's REPUBLICAN. They consider the wound of a dangerous character.

ARRIVAL OF GRAIN BY CANAL.—The H. M. Talbot brought down 1,500 bushels wheat, and the Ruby 3,500 bushels wheat, sold to arrive, for Hartley & Bro.

Offerings on Change to-day, 1,500 bushels wheat. Of that which was sold, 184 bushels brought $1.02½; and 900 bushels, $1.50½.

SALE OF FISH.—Fifty thousand herring, at from $5 to $8 per thousand; 1,800 shad, from $7 to $12 per hundred; 2,000 taylors, from 50 cents to 75 cents per hundred.

The Brethren Will Not Unite.

The conference of the bishops for the African Methodist Episcopal Church and the Colored Methodist Episcopal Church of America, the object of which was to bring about a union of the two bodies, was brought to a close in Baltimore without effecting that object. Bishop Holsey, the representative of the last-named body, said he did not feel authorized to proceed in the absence of a majority of the bishops of his branch of the church. Resolutions were adopted expressing regret that the object for which the meeting was held could not proceed. The bishops of the African M. E. Church resolved to await the meeting of the general conference of the Colored Methodist Episcopal Church, of America, which will assemble in Washington on Wednesday next, and if an invitation shall be extended from that body to resume the conference looking to the consolidation of the two churches.

Something to Scare Philadelphia.

A letter was received at the survey department, Philadelphia, from Postmaster MacArthur, of Kinmouth, Can., asking for certain information from the registry office, and the name of the best law firm in this city. It also contained a clipping from a Canadian newspaper asserting that Colonel Jacob Baker, a soldier of the revolution, who died in Canada in 1801, owned at his death fifteen acres of land (then in the suburbs of Philadelphia, but now in the heart of the city), which is now estimated in value at $15,000,000. Postmaster MacArthur added that a nephew of Colonel Baker is now living at the village of Kinmouth. Search through the department shows that there is no trace of any such property on the books in the survey department, and Chief Engineer Smedley thinks that the claim, if a claim is really made, is founded upon an old and worthless deed.
