Isabella Duplar on Saturday commenced suit on the law side of the court against George W. Geddes, claiming $1,000 damages. She avers that by false and fraudulent statements of the defendant she was induced to part with a note for $500 and $50 in money, and that she has been injured to the amount claimed.

A gentleman named Farland fell on Saturday afternoon at the corner of Ninth street and Pennsylvania avenue, and in falling struck the edge of the curb, causing an ugly wound in the left side of his head. Dr. Parsons dressed the cut, having discovered that an artery was severed, and made the sufferer as comfortable as possible.

On Saturday Lieutenant Austin, Sergeant Hollinsberger, Officers Wheelock and Shanks, and Special Lice nse Agent Raff raided house No. 607 Seventh street, where lottery tickets were supposed to be for sale, and arrested J. M. Rodgers and H. M. Plumb, who were recently fined $50 each for the same offense. The raiders captured books, tickets, and circulars in large numbers.

Last Friday night a white woman named Mrs Ross, employed at Keegan's grocery store at the corner of Second and H streets northeast, went into the yard to get a hod of coal. While there she was attacked by a savage dog, who inflicted a severe injury on her cheek and bit her badly on various parts of her body. The dog was subsequently killed. Mrs. Ross was removed to the Freedmen's Hospital.

He was arrested in the act of throwing stones at the trains on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and for placing obstructions on the track. He was sent to the reform school during his minority.

An old Californian has just reached Washington with a novelty that is taking the town by storm. He has a collection of fancy goods made from California woods which are as beautiful as they are unique. The specimens he has are made from madrinita (resembling carnelian), chaparel, mesquite, pepper wood, acacia, cyanota, redwood, chamiso root, palm, orange, laurel, benita, wild tobacco, wild coffee, live oak, queen's-heart, and at least thirty other varieties.

The Artificial Stone and Marble Company are now pushing their works with the utmost vigor. Mr. J. W. McKnight, who has charge, has been for years a well-known, energetic, and practical contractor, and there is every prospect that this enterprise will prove a success. Such an enterprise in the city with so few manufactories should merit undivided support. A fine quality of stone and marble is produced under his process, and is said to be very much cheaper than that quarried.

The Potomac Boat Club have formally accepted the invitation of the Rappahannocks, of Fredericksburg, Va., for a race between junior crews on July 4 next. A petition has been received by the Commissioners from sixty lumber dealers of Virginia and Maryland, complaining that the laws requiring an official measurement of lumber in this city oppresses them, and asking that the office of wood inspector be abolished. The Commissioners report upon the matter that by consulting the principal lumber dealers they find that they all indorse the lumber laws as eminently wise and beneficial to secure accuracy of measurement and fair dealing and to prevent fraud.

At the regular meeting of the Garfield Masonic Memorial Association held Saturday evening at the office of Matthew Trimble, corresponding secretary, it was developed that the lodges throughout the country are actively engaged in forwarding the enterprise. Of the lodges in this jurisdiction Federal, No. 1, guarantees $300; Pentalpha (organized in 1782) Columbia, $50, and Washington Centennial, $44. Lodges from all sections of the country are forwarding contributions. The first cash received came from Evanston Lodge, No. 4, Wyoming Territory.

He Has Been There.

During the past three or four days the chief interest of this community has been centered in the horse races, and the man of wealth who could not be spared from his desk at the office was ever ready to wager a small pecuniary stipend on his favorite equine. At Evans' popular dining-rooms on F street, where a large number of the clerks of the Interior and Post-Office Departments and Surgeon-General's Office take in their daily sustenance, there has been each morning a rush for THE NATIONAL REPUBLICAN to get the first glimpse of the name of the "winning horse" and reliable information as to the nature of "French pool." Mr. Evans says he don't recollect the time when the boys came to their breakfast so early. He says some don't seem to want much to eat after canning the paper. They have evidently let on the strong horse.

THE STAR-ROUTE CASES.

Another Indictment Found by the Grand Jury on Saturday.

It has been known for some time past that the grand jury would find another indictment against the defendants in the so-called star-route cases, the present one being defective in more ways than one. On Saturday morning, at 11:30, the grand jury came into court and made a presentment against John W. Dorsey, J. R. Miner, J. M. Peck, Stephen W. Dorsey, Harvey M. Vaile (alias H. M. Vaile), Montford C. Rerdell (alias M. C. Rerdell, alias Montford C. Ruddell), Thomas J. Brady, and Henry M. Turner, for conspiracy to defraud the United States of America. The presentment was a prayer was read, written by the deceased, after which the young ladies sang "The Summer-Land of Song." Mrs. Butcher then read an eulogium expressing in a very touching manner the noble qualities of the departed and how much they were appreciated by herself and the institute, after which all united again in singing. The parents expressed with deep emotion their gratitude for this very kind and beautiful remembrance of their daughter on this, the second anniversary of her death. It will be remembered that this young lady was associated with the faculty of this institute without compensation, as a labor of love, the leading object of her life being to do good to others.

Sam. Kinsley's Benefit.

Mr. Samuel Geswhilikins Kinsley, the urbane treasurer of the National Theater, in a communication to THE REPUBLICAN announces that his center cognomen is not Geswhilikins, but Gale, and that he wishes his benefit on May 29 to be successful in order that he may raise the wind. He is too mild and summery (and likewise summary) to be called Gale, but there is no doubt his benefit will be a gala occasion. To-day the box-office for the sale of seats will be open and the benefiting will preside therein himself, giving a choice seat and a ravishing smile to every comer for $1. Of course Samivel knows that every one in town will be in at his benefit and anticipates buying THE REPUBLICAN forces new spring ties and New-port ties with a portion of his receipts. The Washington Operatic Association will sing "The Chimes," with the following cast: Serpolette, Miss Eva Mills; Germaine, Mrs. E. R. True; Rosette, Mrs. T. S. Chappell; Jeanne, Mrs. D. McLeod; Gertrude, Mrs. J. W. Cross; Susanne, Miss Iola Williams; Henri, Mr. John Pugh; Robin Mors, Mr. J. F. Ruhl; Gerpard, Mr. E. B. Hay; Baillu, Mr. Louis Selbold; Notary, Mr. H. A. Foreman; Attendants, Mr. Blois and Mr. Donahue.

Mr. David C. Bangs's Benefit.

One of the finest concerts of the season will be given next Wednesday evening, the 24th instant, the occasion of the complimentary benefit to Mr. David C. Bangs. A crowded house is anticipated, as Mr. Bangs's gratuitous services to the public as a reader justly entitle him to this proper recognition of his talent and generosity. Among those who will participate are Miss Katie Scott, Miss Seymour, Madame Logan, Messrs. Hay, Tweedale, Palmoni, Pugh, Whipple, and others. The above talent alone should insure him a rousing house.

An Evening with Shakspeare.

Mrs. Adeline Duval Mack will give a Shakspearian evening at Ford's Opera-House May 29. Mrs. Mack is an accomplished teacher of elocution, and has been very successful in her vocation. On the night in question she will render the characters of Lady Macbeth and Queen Katherine, and her pupils will present scenes from various Shakspearian works. Great care has been taken in the preparation of the costumes and scenery, and the occasion will be an enjoyable one.

Joe Sessford's Benefit.

To-morrow night Mr. Joseph S. Sessford, the deservedly popular ticket-seller at Ford's, will receive a benefit at the Opera-House, and it is to be hoped there will be a crowded house. Mr. C. B. Bishop, the eminent comedian, will present Major Wellington De Boots, in "Everybody's Friend." Mr. Bishop will be supported by a fine cast. Tickets may be had at Drew's drug store and Ellis' music store.

LOCAL MENTION.

PUBLIC VOICE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 4, 1882.

GENTLEMEN: Finding myself breaking down with work and business care, I resorted to Brown's Iron Bitters as a strengthener. From their use I have derived much benefit; so much, I keep them in my house now at all times as a family medicine. I most cheerfully recommend the medicine (Brown's Iron Bitters) for general debility caused by overwork and mental strain.

Wine for Weakly Persons and Consumptives.

Dropsical and rheumatic persons find the use of Speer's Port Wine of New Jersey of incalculable benefit. Their purity and valuable properties have given them a wide reputation among physicians throughout this country. Mr. Speer has devoted years of toil and spent thousands of dollars in trying to raise the Port Wine grape in this country and bringing fermentation of wine to perfection without the addition of alcohol. He has a large vineyard of the Oporto grape in New Jersey. The wine is for sale by all druggists and grocers.
