The police made seventy-two arrests during the twenty-four hours ending at 8 a. m. yesterday.

Mary Lawton, living at 1009 Thirty-third street was sent to the hospital Saturday by the police.

Captain Ben F. Worrell, of the Treasury Department, is lying sick at his residence, Tenth and Grant Place.

Dr. W. Godding, of the Insane Asylum at St. Elizabeth, across the Eastern Branch, has written a book entitled "Guiteau and Another."

The National Association of Dentists, whose session has just closed in this city, adjourned to meet on the fourth Tuesday in July, and not the fourth day of that month, as published.

Mr. William L. Woods, an old-time Indianian, later for many yea s a resident of Washington as clerk to the Committee on Public Lands of the House of Representatives, is in Denver, Col.

Saturday afternoon a white child, 3½ years old, named Thomas Bodley, fell from the second-story window to the basement of house 118 D street southeast. The child was only slightly injured.

Lieutenant Arnold and officers of the fifth precinct yesterday afternoon arrested some of the denizens of Swinehammer alley for raising Cain generally in that delectable neighborhood.

Mr. Harry S. Vanderbilt, whilom appointment clerk of the United States Treasury Department, passed through Denver last week en route to Breckinridge, intending to "take in" Denver on his return.

Saturday morning a haystack in the southwest part of the Agricultural grounds was set on fire by an incendiary and totally consumed. The fire department turned out at the alarm. Damage about $125.

A white woman named James Gray fell in an apoplectic fit at the corner of Sixth and B streets southeast. He was taken to his home, No. 631 South Carolina avenue, and Dr. McKim rendered medical assistance.

As all the government witnesses in the case of Police Sergeant C. H. Shaffed, charged with severely clubbing a young man named Stewart, were not summoned Saturday, a continuance was again had until Tuesday.

Judge Snell decided Saturday that a person has no right to keep a vicious or dangerous dog by fining George Washington and William Pomeroy $10 or thirty days each. Both men owned dogs that had bitten little children.

In response to a dispatch from Fredericksburg that Frank Jackson, the brutal outrager, wanted in this city, had been arrested, Officer Byrnes proceeded to Fredericksburg, but returned late Saturday night with the report that it was not the right man.

Prosecuting Attorney Moore states that nothing will be done in the case of Bigelow until after the star-route trial, as his counsel, Colonel Totten, is busily engaged in this case. Then a motion will be made for a reduction of the bail, which is now $35,000, and a day will be set for a hearing.

Bud Edgerton had the largest audience that ever assembled under his canvas at his tent last night. The meeting was opened with prayer by Mr. Wilson. Stirring addresses were delivered by Messrs. Thomas Marsh, Joseph Hilton, Mortimer, and Bud Hinself. A number signed the pledge.

Bricklayers' Union, No. 1, of this District, has elected the following officers: President, John T. Lynch; vice-president, D. S. O'Brien; recording secretary, M. J. Curry; financial secretary, William Troell, jr.; treasurer, James W. Norton; sergeant-at-arms, G. W. Adrean; trustee, Charles J. Hope.

A mule belonging to Carter, the odorless excavating contractor, was overcome by the heat on Saturday evening at the corner of Ohio avenue and Fourteenth street. Major King had him removed to a yard and worked over him for an hour and a half. This is the first animal that has succumbed to the heat this summer.

To-night the Washington Light Infantry will determine whether they will go into an encampment at Cape May. There is a strong desire on the part of most of the members to take this delightful trip, with its attendant pleasures, and it will probably be determined in the affirmative. If they go the Marine Band will go with them.

Course 200 of the Washington Monument has been completed, and the workmen have begun raising the iron framework and machinery to a point twenty feet higher than its present position. This operation will require two weeks, and will enable the authorities to add a the girt of twenty feet of masonry before another suit is necessary.

The funeral of Mr. Philip D. Haines, senior vice-post commander of John A. Rawlins Post, No. 1, Grand Army of the Republic, took place Saturday afternoon from Buckley's undertaking establishment, on Pennsylvania avenue. The cortege was composed of a detachment of the Union Veteran Corps and Rawlins Post, with drum corps. The interment was at Arlington.

Mrs. Nancy Virginia Taylor, of Marksville, Page County, Virginia, sent to the clerk of the District supreme court for a copy of the certificate to marry issued to Isaac W. Taylor and herself. She states that he is living with another woman and repudiates the marriage. The clerk found that the certificate had been issued September 30, 1867, and furnished her a copy of it.

J. Brooke Arnold left last week for Denver, Col., where he will enter business with the popular Fred Evans, late of this city, who will open one of the leading hotels of that queen city of the West on the 15th instant. Mr. Arnold is a most genial gentleman, and he and Fred Evans would form a drawing team in any line of life, more especially, perhaps, in the hotel business.

About 12 o'clock Saturday night a difficulty occurred at the corner of Eleventh and V streets northwest between two colored men named Charles Scott and John W. Scholls, during the course of which the former cut the latter on the left arm. Dr. P. B. Adams dressed the wound and pronounced it not dangerous. Officer Clark, of the second precinct, arrested Scott.

About 10 o'clock Saturday night William Coleman, colored, living at 1025 Q street northwest, called Acting Sergeant Columbus's attention to a white female child, about two months old, in a basket on the sidewalk at Seventeenth and Q streets. The infant was nicely dressed and wrapped in a red knit shawl. Officer Columbus took it to the station, and John Ripp, of the Park Hotel, volunteered to take charge of it for the night.

Mr. F. W. Stockhill, a law student with Merrick & Morris, has an unusual and painful experience, caused by the filling of a tooth. The dentist in filling the tooth penetrated the jaw and injected a liquid to kill the nerve. This liquid traveled downwards to the nose, and Mr. Stockhill's jaws became so locked that for thirteen weeks every time he took nourishment they had to be forced open. Blood poisoning is said to have set in, and his recovery is despaired of.

At Ellis's music store, on Pennsylvania avenue, there is a fine piece of artistic penmanship—a tribute of respect and esteem, in the shape of a series of resolutions to the memory of the late Daniel A. Brosnan, by his old associates and friends of the Geraldine Club, an association composed of the leading citizens of Irish birth and descent of the District. It was designed and executed by Mr. Dennis Callahan, of the Engineer Bureau, War Department.

Missionary Meeting.

Families M. E. Church Missionary Society held its regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon at 4 p. m. Mrs. S. M. Hartsock, president; Jacob Shindell, secretary; Joseph Quinter, treasurer. Oliver Goldsmith's works were contributed by the president to the class giving the largest amount for the month to the society. After being read the book is to be placed in the Sunday-school library. Mr. Wm. H. Proctor's class contributed the largest amount. Hon. Hyatt J. Smith, of Brooklyn, gave a very eloquent and soul-stirring address, followed by some remarks from the Hon. Mr. Hill, of New Jersey, and the Rev. Mr. Pierce, D. D., presiding elder of Chattanooga district, Holston M. E. conference.

American Legion of Honor.

The supreme deputy commander, N. Demongeot, organized and instituted a council on Saturday night called the "Federal Council." The following officers were elected: Watson J. Newton, past commander; Dr. S. C. Bancroft, commander; W. Z. Partello, vice-commander; E. M. Stocker, secretary; William Thomas, collector; John T. Winter, M. D., treasurer and medical examiner; Benjamin Kogel, guide; Rosa L. Partello, warden, and Louis Gaegler, sentinel. This is the eleventh council instituted under the auspices of the Supreme Council and will probably be the last in this district. As already understood, the Grand Council will be organized the 15th of the month.

Overloaded Cars.

Major King, the cruelty to animals man, reports that last evening when the boats arrived at the wharves the cars of the Washington and Georgetown Railroad were overloaded, as usual, and gave the conductors of the following cars: Closer 50 took off 30 passengers, being 32 more than a seating capacity; close car 58 had 48 passengers; open car 66 had 45 passengers, being 20 more than could be seated; close car 62 had 48 passengers; close car 65 had 38 passengers, and open car 101 had 46 passengers.

CATHOLIC CELEBRATION.

Interesting Services at St. Aloysius and St. Dominic's Churches.

On Sunday last was the anniversary of the birth of Ignatius Loyola, the founder of the Order of Jesus, and yesterday coming within the octave of that event was appropriately observed at St. Aloysius Church, which is under the control of the Jesuit brotherhood. The altar was elaborately decorated with choice cut flowers and potted plants. Solemn high mass was celebrated at 11 o'clock. Rev. Father Toner, S. J., being the celebrant; Rev. Father Conuly, J. S., of Woodstock College, the deacon, and Rev. Mr. Gillespie, S. J., the subdeacon. The music was exceptionally good, La Hache's mass being sung by Miss Livingston, soprano; Mrs. Dr. Kimball and Miss Nellie Eichhorn, contralti; Mr. John O. Pugh, tenor, and Mr. Frank M. Pearson, bass. Mr. William Waldecker presided at the organ.

ST. DOMINIC'S CHURCH.

The Feast of St. Dominic was celebrated at St. Dominic's Church, South Washington, yesterday at 11 o'clock, with a grand solemn High Mass, celebrant, Rev. Father Spencer; deacon, Father Call; sub-deacon, Father Edelin. A most eloquent sermon was preached by Rev. Father Horgan, who recalled the many crowning virtues of the patron saint of the Dominican order, and exhorted his hearers to emulate the glorious example of this holy man in their daily lives. The Mass rendered by the full choir of the church was Giorza's. Immediately preceding the Gospel the "Sit Nomen Domini" was sung, and the "Ave Maris" was most effectively rendered by Mr. Koenzling, Professor J. F. H. Riols presiding at the organ. At the conclusion of the services the members of the choir were invited to the dining hall of the residence of the Dominican Fathers, where they were most hospitably entertained, as a slight token of the appreciation given to their arduous work in preparing for the music of the day.

A BIG FUNERAL.

Three Thousand People Present at the Obsequies of Mrs. Fred. Douglass.

The funeral of Mrs. Anna Murray Douglass, wife of Hon. Frederick Douglass, who died last Friday from paralysis, took place yesterday afternoon at her husband's residence, Cedar Hill, Uniontown. The ceremonies were conducted by Rev. Dr. William Waring, formerly of Ohio, pastor of Berean Baptist Church, who preached an eloquent sermon, taking his text from the beautiful parable of the wise and foolish virgins. The funeral was very largely attended indeed, there being present fully three thousand persons, at least one-third of whom were white friends of the great orator and his lamented companion. The remains were followed to the grave, which is in Grace Cemetery, beyond the northwestern boundary of Washington, by and was accompanied by a great number on foot, who plodded along under the blazing sun to do honor to their loved friend. The pall-bearers were ex-Senator Blanche K. Bruce, James Wormley, John F. Cook, Robert Parker, B. B. Woods, and Dr. Green. Among the many present were Hon. George C. Smith, ex-Senator of Mississippi; Professor Greener, Hon. Robert Smalls, of South Carolina; Hon. John R. Lynch, of Mississippi; Colonel Perry Carson, and other representative colored men. Mrs. Douglass, who was 69 years of age, was born in Maryland, in the same neighborhood with Mr. Douglass, of free parents. She became engaged to her future husband when he was still a slave, but he declared that he would never marry in slavery, so she waited, until he ran away and then joined him in New York city, where they were married.

THE COMMISSIONERS.

Current Transactions at the Various District Offices.

A delegation of residents of the county had an interview with Lieutenant Greene, Assistant Engineer Commissioner, Saturday in relation to the extension of the Wheeler road. They were informed that as there was no appropriation the road cannot be opened.

The superintendent of the Washington Asylum has applied to the Commissioners for curbing and bricks to lay a sidewalk in the front of the asylum grounds on Nineteenth street.

The new public school building at Tennallytown is now being fitted up for the next session.

The license agent Saturday swore out four warrants against different hackmen for failure to obtain license.

The District Commissioners have ordered that $1,200 be paid to the treasurer of the Children's Hospital, F. B. McGuire, on account of expenses of last quarter at that hospital.

The Commissioners on Saturday informed Mr. George Mattingly of their acceptance of his proposition to sell lots 59, 60, 61, and 62, square 495, northeast corner of Sixth and F streets southwest, as a site for one of the new school buildings.

A. A. Stewart was on Saturday granted a permit to erect a residence on Eleventh street, between Q and R streets, to cost $3,000.

Major Morgan says there is no truth in the rumor that the executors of the late George A. Cawell, commissioner of the Washington Asylum, were short.

More About Bank Injustice.

To the Editor of THE REPUBLICAN:

In your issue of the 4th instant you refer to the appointment by Commissioner Loring of E. W. Ayres, ex-confederate, as special agent of the Agricultural Department. In Saturday's issue your correspondent, "Section 1754," gives a partial history of the official life of Mr. Ayres and his wife. Permit me to add a short chapter that Mr. Loring may be more fully informed as to the antecedents of this special pet of certain Republican U. S. Senators and Representatives. Before this man Ayres secured a position in the Post-Office Department, and during the last presidential campaign, he held a clerkship in the War Department, from which he was dismissed for his bitter denunciations of the Administration and the slanderous articles he was constantly publishing against the Republican presidential candidate, General Garfield. Previous to this he was employed in the United States Senate under Mr. Bright, Democratic Sergeant-at-Arms, who summarily discharged him for the vilely abusive language which he, in presence of other employes of the Senate, and in tones loud enough to be overheard by the Senator himself, used against Senator Ingalls. Did a maimed ex-Union soldier ever get such persistent, effective help from any of our public men as has been given to this ex-confederate and Bourbon by Mr. Plumb and Mr. Anderson, of Kansas, and Mr. Hill, of Colorado? It is shameful. EX-SOLDIER.

Mrs. Scoville Wants a Divorce.

A dispatch from Chicago announces that Mrs. Scoville, of Guiteau notoriety, on Saturday filed in the circuit court a bill for divorce against her husband, alleging as a cause cruelty on two separate occasions, and passionate anger on his part. The dispatch says that her husband claims she is influenced by interested outsiders, and has no real grievance, and that not much significance is attached to the proceedings. After the repeated statements made on several occasions by both Mr. and Mrs. Scoville that immediately after the execution of Guiteau both sides would commence divorce proceedings it seems strange that Mr. Scoville should in any way resist the suit. Mr. Scoville said when here that after Charles was hung he could obtain such proof that he could instantly obtain a divorce. Mrs. Scoville said the same thing. The whole proceedings are very consistent with the Scoville Guiteau family.

Injustice to Mr. McMichael.

To the Editor of THE REPUBLICAN:

The article in THE REPUBLICAN of Saturday morning is utterly false, so far as I am concerned. I was never interested in the "Agents' Protective Union" in any way. I have had no connection with the National Printing Company since December 1, 1881, until August 1, when, after Weigmann disappeared, I purchased and removed the fixtures of the office. While connected with said company I had no knowledge of the "Agents' Protective Union," and do not now know the manner of carrying on the same. W. C. MCMICHAEL.

Abner's Summer Garden.

The corophone and zyliophone, euphonious in name and sound, will continue this week to delight the audiences at Abner's Summer Garden, under the masterly touch of Professor Sawyer. Mr. J. W. Fagin, the popular basso, will also remain, while added to these will be the attractive mezzo-soprano, Mrs. Beauman, who, with her melodious voice, has sung herself into the good graces of every audience wherever she has appeared in public. The week's prospects for first-class entertainments at Abner's are thus very auspicious.

Theatre Comique.

The cool and airy Theatre Comique Summer Garden will abound in great attractions this week. There will be the sterling melodramatic artists, Miss Minnie Oscar Gray and Mr. W. T. Stephens, with Hero and Zip, their famous trained dogs, in the thrilling and effective drama "Saved from the Storm," an idea of unsurpassed excellence; Florence McDonald, the favorite among song and dance artists; the wonderful Egyptian juggler, Nelson, and many other greater and lesser stars of the artistic world.

The National Rifles.

A called meeting of the National Rifles was held at their armory, on Saturday evening, to further consider the question of a trip to Cape May. It was stated that information had been received that the Marine Band would be unable to obtain a leave of absence to make the trip, and the matter was postponed until further efforts are made to secure the services of the band. Should the Corps be successful in this direction, they propose to visit Cape May, N. J., for a week's encampment.

She Couldn't Stop Them.

On Saturday evening a respectable middle-aged lady rushed into the Baltimore and Ohio depot, and in a wild state of excitement informed the bystanders that her daughter, who was employed in the Government Printing Office, had eloped with a clerk in the War Department, and would depart on the evening train. She asked assistance to stop the runaway couple. As the young lady is of age, nothing could be done to arrest her on the romantic step she had taken.

Driver's Summer Garden.

Driver's Garden has met with uninterrupted success thus far, both in point of excellence of attractions offered and the large attendance accorded. Even the rainy evenings of last week could hardly deter its patrons from their accustomed visits to their favorite resort, and now that a rather oppressively hot week is in prospect, this garden will be eagerly sought as an admirable place for both comfort and pleasure.

EXCURSIONS.

The Various Organizations That Will Entertain Their Friends on the Potomac.

The Alexandria Light Infantry will give another excursion to Marshall Hall next Friday evening, the first one having proved, in all respects, a most successful affair. The steamer will leave the Seventh street wharf at 6:30 p. m. and Alexandria at 7:15. The Marine Band will furnish the music.

The Fanchon Club gives its sixth annual excursion to-night on the W. W. Corcoran, leaving her wharf at 6:30 sharp. Marshall Hall is the destination, where the usual round of gay festivities will be in order. The well-known reputation of this club insures an agreeable evening to all who may participate.

The Mary Washington is daily carrying a large complement to Occoquan Falls. Mr. Randall has made this enjoyable trip one of the pleasantest on the river.

The Washington letter-carriers will have a grand entertainment at the National Fair Grounds on the 16th instant. A varied programme has been arranged, and bicycle races, running races, and other interesting events will tend to the enjoyment of the visitors. There are no harder worked body of men, always excepting the slaves of the press, than the letter-carriers, and it is to be hoped the public will show their appreciation by patronizing the picnic liberally.

Not only the excursion committee, but the entire membership of the Union Veteran Corps, are exerting every effort to make the excursion to Marshall Hall to-morrow evening equal, if not superior, to the excursion of last month, of which such pleasant recollections are entertained. It will be borne in mind that the Corcoran will start at 6 o'clock. It is unnecessary to state that the very best of care will be taken of the guests.

The "Dozen" are giving a series of excursions every Tuesday evening on the steamer Mary Washington, leaving at 6:30 p. m. and returning at 11:30 p. m. These parties are the most enjoyable of the season, made so by the experience of the committee.

The annual excursion of the Young Catholics' Society to Lower Cedar Point takes place to-day. The Jane Moseley will leave her wharf at 8:30 this morning and return at 9:30. Pistorio's brass band will render the music for the occasion. A delightful day may be anticipated to all those who are fortunate enough to hold tickets.

The Sundry Civil Appropriation Bill.

As it finally passed both Houses Saturday evening contains the appropriation (originally inserted by the Senate) of $300,000 to purchase a site and commence the erection thereon of a public building in Brooklyn. Senate amendments were also retained in the bill appropriating for public buildings at Williamsport, Pa.; Scranton, Pa.; Marquette, Mich.; Chicago, Ill.; Abingdon, Va.; Harrisonburg, Va.; and Leavenworth, Kan. The Senate amendment providing for the erection of a new building for the Pension Bureau in Washington by appropriating $150,000 in addition to the unused appropriation made last year of $250,000 is modified by confining the provision to a reappropriation of the sum last mentioned. A proviso is added that the entire cost of the site and building shall not exceed $400,000. The Senate amendment appropriating $75,000 for the erection of a new Naval Observatory was stricken out by the committee of conference, as also provisions looking to the purchase of property contiguous to the Norfolk navy-yard for the construction of a wet dock; appropriating $900,000 for completing four sections of the dry-dock at the Pensacola navy-yard, and appropriating $250,000 for a quay-wall at the New London (Conn.) navy-yard. The bill as passed appropriates $30,000 for completing the sea-wall at Governor's Island, New York harbor; $25,000 for a dry-dock at Mare Island navy-yard; $250,000 for the purchase of additional land for Indians; $48,500 for a quartermaster and commissary depot at St. Paul, Minn.; $88,000 for the completion of barracks and erection of officers' quarters at Fort Leavenworth, Kan. The appropriation for the Signal Service was fully compromised at $200,000. The House also agreed to the Senate amendment appropriating $25,000 to defray the expenses of removing the remains of Lieutenant-Commander De Long and his companions to the United States. The appropriation made by the bill for public printing and binding is $2,400,000. The Senate receded from the amendment by which that body proposed to restrict the printing of the debates in Congress to remarks and speeches "as may be delivered and nothing else." Consequently the members of the House of Representatives may continue to print their prepared speeches ad libitum.

Funeral of Cannoneer Sutton.

Cannoneer William Sutton, of the District Artillery, who was injured on the Fourth of July, died at Providence Hospital on Saturday of a congestive chill, after undergoing a surgical operation. He was buried yesterday with military escort, detailed from the battery of which the deceased was a member. The coffin was draped with the United States flag, and there was an abundance of floral tributes. Three volleys were fired over his grave. Mr. J. R. Wright was the undertaker.

Is It Possible?

It is admitted by the Democracy in some sections of the State, that the "election law is framed more in the interest of fraud than fairness." It was enacted by the Democratic party in order to defraud of their votes those, who, in the exercise of their constitutional rights, voted against this party, and by such fraud to hold on to office. Is it possible that the honest people of Alabama will vote with a party who would enact laws, and continue them on the statutes books by which party advantages are gained by fraud?—Huntsville, (Ala.) Advocate.

Punishment.

Last Sunday, as an Austin clergyman was wending his way to the sanctuary, he saw a boy with a fishing pole over his shoulder, going in an opposite direction. "Do you know you are a bad boy?" "Yes, sir." "Don't your father ever punish you?" "Yes, sir; I at summer he made me go to Sunday-school twice."—Texas Siftings.

LOCAL MENTION.

DYSPEPSIA.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5, 1882.

GENTLEMEN: I have until recently suffered with dyspepsia nearly all my life, and at times so bad that everything I ate disagreed with me, besides had great oppression and heaviness about the stomach. Now, after taking two bottles of Brown's Iron Bitters, can eat anything; all the heavy feeling has left, and I already think it has done me more good than any medicine I ever tried.

Respectfully,

LOUIS A. RICHARDSON.

Speer's Wine Indorsed by the Faculty of New York.

NEW YORK.

We, the undersigned committee of physicians requested to examine into the merits and report upon the Wines of Alfred Speer, have given our special attention to his Port Grape Wine, and do report upon his Port Grape Wine made from the Oporto Grape, grown in his own vineyard, as follows: First—The Wine is strictly pure. Second—It is very acceptable in flavor. Third—It is palatable and has a rich body.

First—We are all satisfied of its purity, having been through his vineyards, and warehouses and cellars during the Grape seasons, and seen the method of its production and preservation, no secrets being made of the means employed in the cultivation of the Grape, or the mode of collecting, expressing, and fermenting the juice.

Second—Its flavor is such as to render it acceptable to the most delicate stomachs, being equal to the best Imported Foreign Wines, and we are all satisfied that it can with safety be recommended to invalids as an article well calculated for their use where Wine is needed.
