Interesting Commencement Exercises of the Spencerian Business College.

Lincoln Hall Crowded to Overflowing—List of Graduates and Committees.

Lincoln hall was never before so densely packed as it was last night at the commencement of the Spencerian Business college. The class was the largest ever graduated from this institution, numbering thirteen ladies and thirty-eight gentlemen. The hall was prettily decorated with flowers and flags. The salutatorians were Mr. B. Carlyle Fenwick, a short, rather stout blonde, and Miss Carrie Belle Pumphrey, a slender, petite, graceful girl, with bright dark eyes and magnetic voice, whose average standing in the studies of the class was the highest made by a lady. The valedictorians were Mr. J. Wilber Patterson, a young gentleman of easy address and decided ability, and Miss Mary Elizabeth Smith, the belle as well as the valedictorian of the class. Misses May Howe, Ida Tomlinson, and Lizzie Wetzel, three of the loveliest and most graceful of the second class, performed the pleasing duty of transmitting to the graduates the many floral tributes offered by their friends.

Mr. Fenwick's address was pictorial and rhythmical, very gracefully delivered, and deserved the applause it met. Miss Pumphrey's salutatory was a poetical welcome to the audience, whose cordiality was equaled only by its beauty. Mr. William M. Clayton made a decided "hit" with his address on "Dead Beats and their Friends." He is a slenderly built, brown haired young man, with a full, round barytone voice, well modulated. He displayed a very creditable degree of mimetic power. Miss Smith's valedictory showed as decidedly that she possessed brains as her face and form prove her title to beauty. About the medium height, with the ideal Greek face, brown hair, hazel eyes, and a graceful dignity of manner, she impressed the audience as a woman of both mental power and force of character. Mr. J. Wilber Patterson showed he possessed power to handle an audience, which is the touchstone of oratorical ability. He is rather sturdy in build, with a graceful ease of movement, and a quick, clear, forcible style of speaking.

Mrs. Spencer's address to the lady graduates was full of genuine practical wisdom, clothed in that rhythmical garb which is a distinguishing feature of this lady's eloquence. She dwelt particularly upon the necessity of women conquering their rightful place in life, opposing to circumstances the highest and truest elements of pure and self-respecting womanhood. Prof. Spencer made a brief address to the male graduates, and then introduced First Comptroller Lawrence as the awarder of the diplomas. Briefly pointing out the wider fields for the display of trained intellect which the commercial spirit of the age had opened to the rising generation. Judge Lawrence then carried his audience with him by the display of some exquisite satire on the relative importance of men and women. He then awarded the diplomas, forty-nine in all, two of the graduates being necessarily absent through sickness. After music from the orchestra the immense audience slowly dispersed.

The programme was as follows, interposed with beautiful musical selections by the marine band:

Invocation by Rev. William A. Bartlett; gentlemen's salutatory, B. Carlyle Fenwick; ladies' salutatory, Carrie Belle Pumphrey; "Dead Beats and Their Friends," William M. Clayton; ladies' valedictory, Mary Elizabeth Smith; gentlemen's valedictory, J. Wilber Patterson; address to lady graduates, Mrs. Sara A. Spencer; address to gentlemen graduates, Prof. H. C. Spencer; awarding of diplomas, with remarks by Hon. William Lawrence, first comptroller of the treasury.

Local Items.

The slight damage done to Willard hall last evening will in no way interrupt the charity entertainment to be given to-night by the ladies of St. John's church. Arrangements have been made for the repair of every particle of scenery injured, and by evening the hall and stage will be in order for the brilliant assembly anticipated. It is expected to be one of the most interesting and elite entertainments ever given in Washington.

The following officers have been elected by the Washington Grove Camp Meeting association for the ensuing year: Maj. Thomas P. Morgan, president; William R. Woodward, vice president; E. F. Simpson, secretary; John T. Mitchell, treasurer. The following were elected trustees: Maj. Morgan and Messrs. Mitchell, Beaman, and Woodward, of Georgetown; E. Simpson, Somerville, Willett, Wilson, Cohen, William R. Woodward, and Wade. Executive committee—Drs. Howard and Barrows, and Messrs. Worthington, Altschwe, Birch, Bovee, Taylor Birch, Deeble, Hall, Chapman, Polkinhorn, Craig, and St. Clair.

About 7:30 last night the decorations around the stage at Willard hall ignited from the post lights, but were extinguished before any serious damage was done. An alarm was turned in from box 136, in response to which engine companies No. 1, 2, and 6 promptly responded, but did not go into action. The damage was about $10.

Mrs. Morgan's recital last night at the Riggs house was attended by some of the prominent people in the district, and the efforts of the lady proved that she was an accomplished artist.

The National and Waverly will play the third game of the series of games this season at the Athletic park this afternoon at 4:30. An enteresting game is expected, as the last game was won by the Waverly, by a score of 2 to 1.

The New York train was delayed several hours last night on account of a freight train being wrecked at Seabrook, fourteen miles from this city.

Officer Ranke arrested a man named Sydney E. Mudd, on the charges of fast driving, drunk and disorderly, and indecent exposure. He claims to be a member of the Maryland legislature.

The commissioners have issued an order "that hereafter, under the provisions of section 22, revised plumbing regulations, the inspector of plumbing shall require the construction of flushing tanks for all water closets above the basement floor."

Mrs. Secretary Chandler will not receive to-day.

The Grand Army Posts Acting.

At a meeting of James A. Garfield Post, No. 7, G. A. R., a resolution was offered by Comrade Avery to appoint a committee of three to act with a similar committee from other posts to wait on the President with reference to the grievances of old soldiers at the hands of the district commissioners. The commander appointed as committee himself and Comrades Avery and Kirby.

WE ARE PREPARED

—TO—

FIT ANY MAN

Not actually deformed, and with the assistance of our SPECIAL ARTISTS we are enabled to make even a "RICHARD THE THIRD" look very attractive.

When gentlemen from London, Paris, New York, and Boston are surprised at the custom-like finish, air, and fit of our regular tailor-made Garments, they certainly must be well-nigh PERFECT.

We cut REGULAR SIZES, as do all other houses. In addition, we cut a FAT SIZE and a SLIM SIZE, making THREE DISTINCT SHAPES TO EACH BREAST MEASURE, from 34 to 50 breast. The fat sizes are low in back of neck, short skirt, short sleeves, and large in stomach. Our slims are long sleeve, high collar, and extra long. So we can surely fit you, no matter how irregular your shape. Besides, we have a large corps of REGULAR ARTIST TAILORS, who perfect the fit when necessary. It is not politic for us, as our good name (the immediate jewel of our soul) is worth much more than we can make, not only off of one, but off of many customers, and should we falsely persuade you that a garment fitted, the first friend you met would point out its fault, so you can depend on our statements. Money always cheerfully refunded when asked.

If you intend buying a Blue Suit, DO NOT DO IT until you have examined the line we offer. There is one thing certain, if you buy a Blue Suit of us you buy one thing that will hold its color. We don't offer any other kind.
