Wight, deceased, yesterday returned a list of debts due the estate, classified as follows: Good, $2,809.02; doubtful, $11,075.61; desperate, $36,743.22. Total, $50,627.85. Of all the above accounts and notes it is supposed that about $1,500 can be collected.

Albert Batchern, a young white man, was yesterday held for the grand jury in $100 bond for obtaining 25 cents from Edward Judson, colored, under false pretense. The money was a week's dues to the United States Beneficial society, which had been consalidated with the Mutual Aid society. Batchern did not the money over to the latter society.

MINISTER MORTON has spent over $100,000 in improving the Red Sulphur Springs property, West Virginia. He has run it regardless of expense during the last two years, and now, as will be seen, advertises it for sale. The old "Red" now ranks in importance among the mountain resorts of Virginia as next to White Sulphur. It is not nearly so large as far as accommodation is concerned, but it is beautifully located, well kept, and its water is declared by standard medical writers to be the best known for the cure of pulmonary and bronchial troubles.

Dangerous Buildings.

Builder Inspector Entwisle has notified J. B. Porter, agent, of the condition of the houses Nos. 904, 906, 908, and 910 E street northwest, where the rear walls of each are founding leaning dangerously. The north wall of 912 is in the same condition. Owners and agents of these buildings are notified to rebuild or take down.

To Officeholders.

A good dinner is heaven, but digesting it is pandemonium. Their business does not give regular exercise to keep the food moving after digestion begins, therefore the weakest organ becomes clogged; and each person has his own consequent disease. Ironite used occasionally remedies all this. It is not a poison, but acts as a true solvent in harmony with all the juices of the body.

OFFICER FOWLER'S FUNERAL.

Many Grand Army Men and Police Officers Follow the Body of the Murdered Policeman to the Grave.

It was a sorrowful crowd that assembled outside the residence of the late John H. Fowler, 243 Eighth street southeast, yesterday afternoon, and a still more sorrowful gathering inside the house, where Rev. C. D. Andrews, of Christ church, was reciting the Episcopal burial service over the remains of the murdered police officer. Tearful and sobbing relatives and sorrowing friends and comrades stood around the bier while the last sad rites were being said. The widow was in a pitiable condition of nervous prostration from grief, but insisted upon being present and following the body to its last resting place. The service ended, the following pallbearers conveyed the handsome casket to the hearse: Messrs. Joseph Torrens, George O. Burke, and M. C. Leonard, on behalf of the G. A. R., and Lieut. Boteler, Sergeant Darley, and Officers Acton and Howell, on behalf of the police force. Commander M. A. Dillon, of Meade post, No. 5, G. A. R., was present at the head of the post, and every other post in the city was represented. Lieut. Boteler and Greer were in charge of a detachment of police, four from each precinct detailed, and as many more who came voluntarily. Maj. Dye and Capt. Vernon were also present, as was Col. Stoutenburg, of workhouse, Dr. McKim, and many others connected with the public service.

The floral tributes were profuse and beautiful. Col. Rockwell contributed, through Lieuts. Boteler and Guy, a handsome and massive policeman's shield with the deceased's number "23" in the center. The "Gates of Heaven," sent by the men of the first precinct, and a broken column by those of the eighth, formed the principal other features of the display.

It was after 4 o'clock when the cortege commenced to move, and the line extended almost into the congressional cemetery from the house. Rev. P. H. Burghardt, chaplain of Meade post, made a short prayer and address at the grave.

COL. BETTS'S WILL.

Experts Consider it a Suspicious Looking Paper—Mrs. Betts Files a Caveat.

The paper filed with the register purporting to be the last will of Col. Wm. H. Betts was yesterday examined by several persons, including experts. It was perfectly plain that it had been tampered with, and some of the changes were in such places as to create suspicion that the alterations had not been made for an honest purpose. Mrs. Betts also filed a caveat objecting to the filing of the paper on the ground that it is not the last will of the testator, as she claimed she would be able to show upon the hearing of the case. When the case was called the petition of Mr. Shaffer that he be permitted to turn over to the register of wills the property of the deceased held by him was read and the court made an order to that effect. Mr. Pelham wished some action taken in regard to the will, but the judge said it was unnecessary at that time, as no one had come forward to prove it or ask for its admission to probate and record. It would be considered hereafter.

Mrs. W. H. Betts entered a suit yesterday for the recovery of her husband's estate, retained by Dr. B. B. Jolley, and succeeded in recovering all of the property in his possession. The court also ordered Mr. Shaffer to turn in the money of Col. Betts's which he has. Unless Dr. Jolley should press the alleged will of Col. Betts, the tempest in a teapot over this estate may be regarded as in a state of subsidence. If he does press it, the widow's legal advisers promise him a lively time.

The Best.

Col. Houston Rucker, the well-known southern oil merchant, Richmond, Va., says that in a terrible case of swelled and burning rheumatism in his right ankle, the application of St. Jacobs oil, the great pain cure, gave instantaneous relief and cured him.

Growth of a Rumor.

While awaiting the conclusion of the services over their deceased comrade, John H. Fowler, Department Commander Alexander and several other Grand Army men discussed the news of the President's indisposition. Mr. Alexander mentioned the fact that a newspaper man had told him that Postmaster General Gresham had called but was unable to see Gen. Arthur. This was passed along the line of waiting comrades, growing as it traveled, until it reached the last man in the line in the form that "the President was in a dying condition, and the cabinet had been summoned to New York, but Judge Gresham had been refused admittance to his room; that he had not more than an hour to live at last accounts."

Elegant Shoes for Gentlemen.

Our fall stock of gents' fine hand-sewed shoes is in. We have as fine a line as there is in the district. Prices way down. Wm. Hahn & Co.'s Reliable Shoe House, 816 seventh street.

Dr. Gross and His Due Bill.

Jesse Jackson and Dr. George Gross renewed their application in the orphans' court yesterday to be released from the bond of Mrs. Elizabeth Slyer, administratrix of the estate of John P. Millard. When the application was made before Mrs. Slyer objected to the release of Dr. Gross until he had given up a due bill for $25, which she had given him for going on the bond. Dr. Gross had the due bill with him yesterday, but did not give it up. He wanted to make a statement, and the judge told him to put it in writing and swear to it, whereupon Jackson and Gross left the court, and nothing was done.

ABIGAIL S. COLES, of Moorestown, Burlington county, N. J., says: "Eighteen months ago I had dropsy around the heart. The first bottle of Hunt's Kidney and Liver Remedy gave me great relief. I feel I owe my very existence to Hunt's Kidney and Liver Remedy.

Groff, erect five two-story and basement dwellings, North Carolina avenue, between Eighth and Ninth streets northeast, $8,000; Mrs. Mary White, repair brick, 328 Thirteenth street northwest, $1,400.

A Dispute About Letters.

Mr. George E. Lemon, the pension attorney, yesterday filed a bill in equity against N. W. Fitzgerald & Co. praying an injunction, and a restraining order was issued returnable Sept. 18. When Fitzgerald & Co. sold out their pension business to Mr. Lemon it was stipulated that all the mail in relation to the business addressed to the former should be delivered to the latter. Matters progressed with harmony until the 9th instant, when Fitzgerald, it is charged, again began receiving the mail, which has resulted in the application for an injunction.

Tooth Crowns and Artificial Teeth Without Plates.

This system entirely obviates the necessity of extracting teeth, does away with artificial teeth, prevents the suffering caused by decay of the teeth and consequent extraction of the roots (producing a change in the expression of the face and mouth), and avoids the pain and excessive annoyance of a plate.

By this method roots and badly decayed teeth, which are firm in position, may be restored to effect usefulness and beauty, performing the office of mastication like the natural teeth.
