A Representative and Champion of American Art. The Aldine, THE ART JOURNAL OF AMERICA, Issued Monthly.

"A Magnificent Conception, wonderfully carried out." The necessity of a popular medium for the representation of the productions of our great artists, has always been recognized, and many attempts have been made to meet the want. The successive failures which so invariably followed each attempt in this country to establish an art journal, did not prove the indifference of the people of America to the claims of high art.

THE ALDINE, while issued with all the regularity, has none of the temporary or timely interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is a permanent and enduring work, as compared with the ephemeral character of the ordinary art journal. It is a permanent and enduring work, as compared with the ephemeral character of the ordinary art journal.

THE NATIONAL FEATURE OF THE ALDINE MUST be taken in no narrow sense. True art is cosmopolitan. While THE ALDINE is a strictly American institution, it does not confine itself entirely to the reproduction of native art. Its mission is to cultivate a broad and appreciative art taste, one that will discriminate only on grounds of intrinsic merit.

Every subscriber for 1875 will receive a beautiful portrait, in oil colors, of the same noble dog whose picture in a former issue attracted so much attention.

"Man's Unselfish Friend" will be welcome in every home. Everybody loves such a dog, and the portrait is executed so true to life, that it seems the veritable presence of the animal itself.

Every subscriber for 1875 will receive a beautiful portrait, in oil colors, of the same noble dog whose picture in a former issue attracted so much attention.

THE ALDINE ART UNION. The Union comprises the original of all the Aldine pictures, which, with other paintings and engravings, are to be distributed among the members. To every series of 5,000 subscribers, 100 of these pictures will be sent.

Specimen Copies of The Aldine, 50 cents. The Aldine will, hereafter, be obtainable only by subscription. There will be no reduced or "trial" rates, and no subscription must be sent to the publishers direct, or handed to the local canvasser, without responsibility to the publishers, except in cases where the certificate is given, and the requisite signature of JAMES SILTON, President.
