NEW PUBLICATIONS.

REPORT OF THE HEALTH OFFICER OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA, for the year ending June 30, 1885. Washington: Government Printing Office.

A comprehensive account of our District is here given, with maps of its villages; those bright little things, like water-drops, which ere long will unite and mingle into one—the grand national metropolis.

THE FAMILIES OF JOHN AND JAKE. Cincinnati: Robert Clarke & Co.

John and Jake rose from low origin. But now John is the rich and Jake the poor. This pamphlet suggests what John should do for the advancement of Jake, and what, probably, Jake will do should John continue negligent of the admonition.

THE COUNTRY BANKER: HIS CLIENTS, CARES, AND WORKS, FROM AN EXPERIENCE OF FORTY YEARS. By GEORGE RAE, with an American preface by BRAYTON IVES. New York: Charles Scribner's Sons. For sale by Ballantyne & Son.

All the mystery of banking is not only revealed and made plain in this volume, but the admirable style should command public attention, viewed solely from a literary point. The author has not become unmindful of everything except money-getting. He has read many good books, has entertained many good thoughts. "The Country Banker" must beneficially influence the public and those to whom the public intrust their treasure.

COMPARATIVE LITERATURE. By HUTCHESON MACAULAY POSNETT, M. A., LL. D., F. L. S. New York: D. Appleton & Co. For sale by W. H. Morrison.

"To our friends, the men of science," writes the author of this book in his preface, "we would say that the culture of imagination is of the utmost service alike in the discovery of new truths and in the diffusion of truths already known, and that the supposed hostility of science to literature, by discrediting this faculty, tends to lower our attainments alike in science and literature."

A key to the contents of "Comparative Literature" is furnished even by the above brief extract—a key that will open wonderful chambers of thought.

A MENTAL STRUGGLE. A novel, by THE DUCHESS. Philadelphia: J. B. Lippincott Company. For sale by Brentano Bros.

Sparkling, and abundant in quick life scenes. It doesn't require much thought in the reading, nor does it impart much; but still, and nevertheless, in certain luxuriously lazy moods, it is charming.

TALES OF ECCENTRIC LIFE. By WILLIAM A. HAMMOND and CLARA LANZA. New York: D. Appleton & Co. For sale by W. H. Morrison.

Lovers of the curious will find it here. And these pages prove that "eccentrics" are not confined to men.

VIOLETTA: A ROMANCE. After the German of Ursula Zoge Von Manteuffel. By MRS. A. L. WISTER, translator of "The Lady with the Rubies," &c. Philadelphia: J. B. Lippincott Company. For sale by Brentano Bros.

An excellent novel, and especially interesting because of its foreign peculiarities—furnishing us of America many scenes, original and unimaginable.

DON'T: DIRECTIONS FOR AVOIDING IMPROPRIETIES IN CONDUCT AND COMMON ERRORS OF SPEECH. By CENSOR. New York: D. Appleton & Co. For sale by W. H. Morrison.

This two by three inches volume, though not voluminous, is valuable. "These little things are great to little men," and women also. The book is a perfect gem as to appearance.

SAINT GREGORY'S GUEST AND RECENT POEMS. By JOHN GREENLEAF WHITTIER. Boston and New York: Houghton, Mifflin & Co. For sale by Brentano Bros.

This little book, only sixty-six pages, is precious as the late music of a master of his art. At four-score, Whittier herein proves himself still in youth, yet with the wisdom of age. Glorious spirit, for all thou hast done for truth and liberty, these many, many years, and still and forever glorious!

THE RECORD. A poem, illustrating the philosophy of life. New York: John W. Lovell Company. For sale by Ballantyne & Son.

We cannot be so positive as the author to call this volume a poem. Often, even its rhymes are fearfully astray, and its "harmony" resembles saw filing in a sultry summer day. Still the book is interesting reading to the philosophical and speculative mind concerned about spiritual things—but to the orthodox in religion it will be unmitigated horror!

THE ORDER OF CREATION: THE CONFLICT BETWEEN GENESIS AND GEOLOGY. Being a discussion between the Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Prof. T. H. Huxley, and Max Muller. M. Reville, and E. Lynn Linton. New York: The Truth Seeker Company, 33 Clinton Place. For sale by Brentano Bros.

This volume has very little respect for the things that be, religiously considered, and endeavors by geology, history, and supposition to ascertain the truth of all time and all eternity.

ARBITRATION BETWEEN CAPITAL AND LABOR: A HISTORY OF AN ARGUMENT. By DANIEL J. RYAN. Columbus, Ohio: A. H. Smythe. From the publisher.

Interesting as timely and important; most valuable as offering suggestions which may lead to the pacification of those two giants, capital and labor.

How to Tell the Time by Night.

[From the Buffalo (N. Y.) Times.]

"Perhaps the most ingenious thing in the way of an advertising novelty that has come out for many years is a unique contrivance issued by the Duffy Malt Whiskey Company, Baltimore, Md., proprietors of Duffy's pure malt whiskey. Unlike most things of the kind, with which the country has been deluged heretofore, this is a decided departure from the usual rut, and aside from being one of the most attractive things we have ever seen, it involves a new discovery in science, which is both interesting and instructive. So valuable was this discovery regarded, it was awarded a first prize gold medal at the Brussels International Exposition, and it seems almost like prostituting science to put it to advertising purposes, as it is something that is invaluable to institutions of learning, and would readily command a good price if put on sale. However, the Duffy people, appreciating its importance, have gotten it out in the highest artistic style, such as will secure for it a permanent place in every home in the country.

"The device is called Duffy's Ancient Mariners' Stellar Time-piece, its object being to furnish a guide whereby the correct time may be ascertained at any hour of the night, by observance of the north star and three other bright stars near it; the four stars forming a cross or crucifix, which revolves round the celestial pole, like the hands of a clock. By the aid of the Duffy device, which represents a miniature instrument and tabular dial, the time can be ascertained almost to a minute, which is destined to render it invaluable to mariners, hunters, fishermen, and to the masses generally, as, after a little practice, even a child will be able to tell the time at night.

"Although the device is quite an expensive one, the proprietors intend distributing it free, and in time everybody in the country will have one. They positively refuse, however, to fill any request for same by mail unless accompanied by 6 cents in postage stamps, addressed to their Supply Department, as they are being flooded with applications."

DON'T FORGET THE OFFER of all books in stock at cost to close them out at Whitaker's, 1105 Pennsylvania avenue.

The National Credit is No More solidly founded than the reputation of Benson's Capcine Plasters. They are known, appreciated, and used everywhere in America—in hospitals and its homes. Physicians, pharmacists, and druggists affirm that for promptness of action, certainty, and range of curative qualities, they are beyond comparison. Once used, their unequaled excellence recommends them. The public are again cautioned against the cheap, worthless, and shameless imitations offered by unscrupulous parties under the guise of similar-sounding names, such as "Capsicin," "Capsicum," "Capucin," "Capsicine," &c. Ask for Benson's, buy of respectable druggists only, and make a personal examination. The genuine has the "Three Seals" trademark and the word "Capcine" cut in the center.

VIRGINIA STATE NEWS.

It cost the Virginia Bible Society 75 cents to give away a 25 cent Bible.

The Union street bridge has been bought by the city of Danville, and will be made a free bridge.

The receipts of cotton at Petersburg are about 2,000 bales in excess of the receipts for the same time last year.

The Gem furnace at Milnes, Page county, which has been out of blast for some time, will resume work in a few days.

The merchants of Luray, Page county, have determined to buy goods from no wholesale dealer who pays his taxes in coupons.

The old Libby prison at Richmond has changed hands, and is now full of the fruits of peaceful industry instead of starving prisoners, as in war times.

The original portrait of Thomas Jefferson, by Stuart, has been hung up in the state library at Richmond. It is painted on wood, and is nearly one hundred years old.

The membership of the Knights of Labor is increasing in Richmond at the rate of 200 per week. No new assemblies are being organized, but the additions are made to the old ones.

A lively contest is in progress for the Republican nomination for mayor of Petersburg, between Thomas J. Jarratt, present incumbent, and James D. Bowie, a prominent citizen.

The Fauquier White Sulphur Springs have been purchased by H. Clay Maddox, and will be opened the coming season for visitors. Extensive repairs and additions will be made.

It is said that Cortland H. Smith, of Alexandria, will be an independent candidate for Congress in his district. His platform will be anti-administration, anti-civil service, and anti-local option.

The dwelling house of Rev. W. E. Winfree, at Parlowa, Spotsylvania county, was burned on the 17th instant, destroying all his furniture and his valuable library. The insurance was only $500.

The Democratic city executive committee of Norfolk has ordered a two days' primary election to be held about the last of April, to select the persons to be voted for at the May election for city officers.

The contract for printing all the state documents, acts of assembly, journal, &c., has been awarded by the superintendent of public printing to James E. Goode, of Richmond. The prices are very low.

Nearly all the young lawyers of Norfolk are candidates for public offices. The offices principally sought after are commonwealth's attorney and city attorney; the pay of neither is more than about $700.

The Evening News of Norfolk has been enlarged to a twenty-eight column paper, and now contains more real live news than all the other Norfolk papers combined. Barring its bourbon proclivities, it deserves success.

The late Moody and Sankey meetings in Norfolk do not have appear to have cleared the moral atmosphere of that city entirely, as the number of drunk and disorderly persons daily before the police court do not decrease any.

It is proposed to mark the spot where Gen. J. E. B. Stuart, the dashing confederate cavalryman, met his death by a suitable monument. He was wounded at the "Yellow Tavern," on the Brooke turnpike, about three miles from Richmond.

A young man named Richard Floyd, claiming to be one of the F. F. V., of the Eastern Shore, while visiting a low den of infamy, became involved in a quarrel with a young colored man, John Jackson, and in the melee was cut and dangerously injured—so much so that his recovery is considered doubtful.

An effort is being made in Danville to induce the Durham, N. C., people to build their road to that city instead of going to Lynchburg. The advantages claimed are that Danville can be reached in one-half the distance, and can give a more direct communication with the western markets than can Lynchburg.

The "Old Blandford" Church at Petersburg was built in 1734, and "is now chiefly remarkable for the melancholy charm of a moss-velveted and ivy-embroidered colonial church, in whose yard lie many of the brightest and purest and noblest characters of Petersburg, who have lain down their life in defense of the American Union and civil liberty."

Goon style is good sense, good health, good energy, and good will, but a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is a good benefaction that suffering humanity has already learned to appreciate.

A report made to the North Carolina board of agriculture says that the catch of shad on the Cape Fear river this season is double what it was last year, when more shad were caught than any previous season.

A very remarkable discovery has been made in Bladen county. In sinking pits the men have come to massive walls of stone and cement at quite a depth below the ground. There is no record of any building having been built there by any one of the present generation.

A wonderful spring has been discovered in Nake county. It was accidentally found by a wood-cutter who was on his way home from work. It has already effected some marvelous cures. A chemist who has analyzed the water says its specific gravity is 1.001, and that it is largely charged with carbonic acid. The country around the spring is extremely rough, and not without the picturesque element, which has made all western North Carolina famous. New river runs within a few hundred yards of the place.

WEEKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW.

The Unsettled State of Affairs Affecting the Stock Operations.

NEW YORK, April 23.—Doran, Wright & Co., in their financial review of the past week to Walsh, Cropley & Co., say: "Labor troubles and the possible dangers not only to property but to life, which invariably attend them have, so to speak, governed the situation. There is no reason why a riot in St. Louis should affect the price of New York Central stock, but what it does affect is the feelings of the brokers and room traders, who are excessively sensitive to good and bad news, and infer that if there is trouble in St. Louis there may be trouble in New York, and accordingly proceed to discount it. A notable example of this method of doing business was seen in Pacific Mail, paying 5 per cent. Pacific Mail was a cheap enough investment at 55 and 60 to-day. Pacific Mail pays no dividend, has very little money in the treasury to fall back on in case they should lose a vessel; receives no subsidy; has to pay Mr. Sage $25,000 per month at 6 per cent. interest, and yet the stock is selling at 54½, and only declined about 1 per cent. when the news of the dividend being passed was made public. But then, the stock has been declining steadily for a week or so, having been rushed up to 52 in order to give investors and insiders a chance to unload. Now that every one is bearish on it, however, on precisely the same principle we have just exemplified, we would hesitate very much about selling the stock short; in fact, would be almost inclined to buy it for a turn, not for its intrinsic value, but for the speculative interest which may be aroused in it to punish the shorts. One of the best purchases on the list for investment account are the Texas and St. Louis first mortgage 6 per cents, which will be issued on or about the 8th of May. The stock and second mortgage bonds selling, respectively, at about 40 and 23, are an excellent speculative purchase; in fact the road is earning and can pay 4 per cent. on the second mortgage bonds, and they must sell very much higher, for the firsts, paying only 2 per cent. more, are selling at twice the price, namely 98. We can unhesitatingly recommend them, having made close inquiries with regard to their intrinsic merit. Of the general market we incline to think that it is going higher, but do not look for more than a 2 or 3 per cent. rise, for there is very little short interest to work upon and the condition of affairs is too unsettled to coat the public in, while professional buyers never buy to hold. Their motto being small profits and quick returns.

WASHINGTON CITY MARKETS.

Collated From the Official Reports of Washington Produce Exchange.

S. S. S.

Scrofula of Lungs.

I am now 49 years old, and have suffered for the last fifteen years with a lung trouble. I have spent thousands of dollars to arrest the march of this disease, but temporary relief was all that I obtained. I was unfit for any manual labor for several years. A friend strongly recommended the use of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.), claiming that he himself had been greatly benefited by its use in some lung troubles. I resolved to try it. The results are remarkable. My cough has left me, my strength has returned, and I weigh sixty pounds more than I ever did in my life. It has been three years since I stopped the use of the medicine, but I have had no return of the disease, and there are no pains or weakness felt in my lungs. I do the hardest kind of mechanical work, and feel as well as I ever felt since I was a boy. These, I know, are wonderful statements to make, but I am honest when I say that I owe my existence and health to day to S. S. S. I would be recreant to the debt I owe to humanity if I failed to bear this cheerful testimony to the merits of this wonderful medicine.

T. J. HOLT.
