SPORTS OF THE SEASON.

A TIE GAME BETWEEN THE STATESMEN AND THE COWBOYS.

Last League Championship Game To-Day—Exhibition Games Arranged for the Remainder of the Season—Horse Races—Other Sporting News.

The contest yesterday between the Nationals and Kansas City clubs resulted in a tie, each side having made two runs, when the umpire called the game on account of darkness. However, it is more than probable that the visitors would have won the game had the lack of daylight not prevented the completion of the eighth inning, as the Cowboys had made three unearned runs on costly errors by the home team in the first half of that inning, when the umpire decided to call game. Consequently the score had to go back to the seventh inning, and the game was therefore a draw.

Nothing interesting or brilliant occurred during the progress of the exhibition, outside of some clever catches in the outfield by Shock, Carroll, and Lillie, and as a whole the game was rather tiresome and uninteresting. The score:

GAMES ELSEWHERE.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—Titcomb's wild and ineffective pitching permitted Detroit to administer a crushing defeat to the Philadelphia team to-day. He gave four bases, and when he did get the ball over the plate it was hit hard by the Wolverines. Histrface wild pitches also helped the runners around the bases. Baldwin pitched a steady game, and held the Philadelphians down to four scattered hits. The field work of both teams was excellent. The clubs will play two games to-morrow afternoon. Score:

Detroit.....	0	5	1	0	0	0	5	—11

Base hits—Detroits, 12; Philadelphia, 4. Errors—Detroit, 2; Philadelphia, 7.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The New York and St. Louis clubs played an interesting game at the Polo grounds to-day. The Maroons were unlucky, and could not bunch their hits. Doyle pitched with effect. Attendance, 1,000. The St. Louis nine scored three runs and tied the score in the ninth inning, but the umpire called the game before it was completed, so the runs were lost. Score:

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 8.—The Chicagos met their Waterloo to-day, being completely shut out from getting in their winning runs. Radbourne puzzled the visitors, while McCormick was batted freely, every Boston player but Wise making at least one hit. Boston's battery made but one error, and only two are charged to Chicago's. Score:

SPORTING ITEMS.

The Nationals and Kansas City clubs meet this afternoon for the last time during the present season, and as this will be the final League championship game of the season, a large crowd should be present. Shaw and Gilligan or Gilmore and Mack will be the home battery, and it is probable that Wiedman will pitch for the visitors.

Manager Gaffney has arranged the following exhibition games to be played during the remainder of the season: Oct. 11, with Baltimore, at Capitol Park; 13th and 14th with the Georgetowns, in Georgetown; 15th and 16th, in Baltimore; in Baltimore and 18th and 19th with Baltimore, at Capitol Park.

A. G. Spaulding has offered Joe Quest $5 a game to umpire the series between Chicago and St. Louis for the championship of the world. Was ever such liberality heard off? Great head for the dollars and cents has Spaulding.

Umpire Quest lost a scarf pin worth $75 yesterday. Spaulding's liberality would not go far to make up his loss.

Joe Lennon and Frank Herald fought six rounds at Boston Thursday night. Lennon won, Herald being knocked out. The police did not interfere.

Serious Danger

Threatens every man, woman, or child living in a region of country where fever and ague is prevalent, since the germs of malarial disease are inhaled from the air and are swallowed from the water of such a region. Medicinal safeguard is absolutely necessary to nullify this danger. As a means of fortifying and acclimating the system so as to be able to resist the malarial poison, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is incomparably the best and the most popular. Irregularities of the stomach, liver, and bowels encourage malaria; but these are speedily rectified by the Bitters. The functions of digestion and secretion are assisted by its use, and a vigorous as well as regular condition of the system promoted by it. Constitution and physique thus defended against the inroads of malaria by this matchless preventive, which is also a certain and thorough remedy in the worst cases of intermittent and remittent fevers.

Funeral of Jos. K. Sharp.

The funeral of Joseph K. Sharp will take place on Sunday from the Tabernacle in South Washington. The pastor of the church, Rev. Mr. Scofield, and Richard Norris, of Wesley M. E. church, will officiate, and the interment will be at Congressional Cemetery. The pallbearers will be Messrs. Geo. White, Wm. J. Stephenson, Wm. Worrell, W. J. Murtagh, R. F. Downs, and A. C. Irvine.

DON'T take it!—If a dealer offers you a bottle of Salvation Oil without labels, or wrappers, insist upon getting a perfect, unbroken package. 25 cents.

The Funeral of Mr. Wm. G. Gibbons.

The funeral of Mr. Wm. G. Gibbons, of Wilmington, Del., who died suddenly on Wednesday, will take place at his residence in that city at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

AN eminent physician says: "The great remedy known as Celery, Beef, and Iron is a gentle stimulant as well as nutritive, and all who have used it pronounce it to have been taken with excellent results, especially when taken for brain trouble, nervous prostration, or disorders of the stomach. Celery, as a cure for nervous affections, is invaluable. Beef is the most nutritious and invigorating of all meats, and as a tonic for the blood and food for the brain there is nothing better than pyrophosphate of iron."

LEVI M. BATES, ESQ.,

President Citizens' Mutual Life Insurance Association.

AN EQUITABLE SYSTEM.

That Adopted by the Citizens' Mutual Life Insurance Association—A New Departure in Life Insurance.

The following are a few of the many notices concerning the Citizen's Mutual Life Insurance Association of New York by the press of New York city:

[From the Commercial World, N. Y.]

Many efforts have been made within the past few years to relieve life insurance of the burdens imposed upon it by the cumbersome methods of the old line "regular" life insurance companies, and it has become evident that the relief sought for is to be found only in the system of mutual assessment, but the first crude efforts in this direction were only partially successful. The principle upon which they are based, however, indisputably correct, and has been brought to the highest state of perfection by the Citizens' Mutual Life Association of this city, which is organized under the laws of the state of New York for the purpose of furnishing life and accident insurance at the lowest possible rates consistent with the most unquestionable security. Their system presents many advantages which will secure the attention of thoughtful insurers, and the prominent standing of the gentlemen who have the direction of the enterprise is a sufficient guarantee of the responsibility of the institution.

The "equity system" is the result of a prolonged and careful comparison of the relative advantages of different forms of life insurance hitherto existing, and a retention of their best features while eliminating all the objectionable characteristics. It secures insurance at the lowest possible cost, and at the same time afford the most undoubted security. It reduces expenses to a minimum, and thoroughly exemplifies the true principle of co-operation. Immense "reserve" accumulations in the disposal of which the insured have no voice, are entirely done away with, and every policy holder is an active and potential member of an association formed for mutual benefit. All surplus that may accrue is regularly distributed among the assured, thus combining profit with absolute protection.

The company's policies in the accident department present greater advantages than can be secured under any other form of insurance.

[From the New York Daily News.]

The president, Mr. L. M. Bates, is one of New York's favorite citizens, justly distinguished for his pre-eminent business qualities as the head of the immensely successful dry goods firm, Bates, Reed & Cooley, for his active and substantial participation in all important movements in the city's interests; for his liberal and wise patronage of the arts, and for his high social qualities. Like the true New Yorker of brains he retires from one success only to develop another. It would be difficult to find a man better suited as general manager and chief executive officer of the association than its first vice president, Mr. H. I. Kimball, who comes from Atlanta to locate in New York that he may devote his entire resources to the association. In the south Mr. Kimball needs no introduction. His great services, more than that of any other score of men, says the Atlanta Constitution, in not only restoring Atlanta—demolished by war—but making it the most solidly built and prosperous city of the south, and his successful co-operation in commercial and industrial movements of greatest value to Georgia, and the entire south has established his reputation there as most enviable. He comes to the association in the prime of life, with all his characteristic push and proved executive ability.

[From the Investor.]

The plan adopted and pursued by the Citizens' Mutual Life Insurance Association is a wise and economical one, as well as being thoroughly consistent with the principles of life insurance. It avoids the extravagance of the old companies and gives its policy holders greater advantages by reducing the cost of insurance to a very low figure. The company starts out under the most favorable auspices. Its board of directors embraces the names of several well-known business men, its president, Mr. Levi M. Bates, holding a most prominent place in the mercantile community as a man of sterling integrity and good business push and sagacity, while its general manager, Mr. H. I. Kimball, and its secretary and treasurer, Mr. Charles Bell, are both well-known and capable gentlemen, who are in every way qualified to satisfactorily discharge the duties of their positions.

[From the Jewish Messenger.]

When the assessment plan of life insurance first attacked the "reserves" of the "old line" companies, it was mercilessly decried; but, gaining wisdom by experience, the assessment idea has developed rapidly in the past decade. Now comes the Citizens' Mutual Life Association, at 115 Broadway, and claims, in short, clear terms, backed with seemingly unassailable statistics, that its "equity system" meets all the important objections of the assessment plan, and thus perfects the most popular life insurance system.

[From the Financier.]

This newly organized life insurance association has, we believe, a brilliant future before it, and when the equity system it offers to its policy-holders becomes fully known there is no doubt but that the Citizens' Mutual Life will become one of the most popular institutions in this country. We have carefully examined the equity system as offered by the Citizens' Mutual Life Association. It combines not only equity, but common sense, and meets fully all the requirements of safe and popular life insurance. We notice that the death and reserve funds are kept up by regular payments from the insured, equalizing the combined experience table of mortality, payable yearly, half-yearly, or bi-monthly. No person should cavil at renewing an insurance on his life at these periods. Rents and fire insurance are payable in the same manner. The equity system is definite, and that is no small consideration. Regular payments from the insured will maintain the death and reserve funds. The security offered is unquestionable. The death fund with accretions thereon over the amount necessary to pay current death claims is deposited to the credit of the association with the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, or invested in United States bonds and lodged with the states' departments of insurance. Both new and persisting members make an equal number of mortuary payments for equal terms of insurance. New members do not carry any burden of mortality that has increased with the association's age. This is equitable in every way.

The equity system is inexpensive and profitable, as it insures a saving of one-half to cash outlay to the insured compared with the old system, and provides that all surplus shall be apportioned to the close of every policy decennial period among the dividing members. The expense account is limited. All expenses in conducting the surviving business and remuneration to agents must be paid from the amounts received as admission fees and a moderate allowance on the collection of annual dues.

The association will issue accident certificates to members only on very favorable terms. The association have organized an assessment department in order to meet the views of those who advocate the post-mortem assessment plan, so that the Citizens' Mutual will be in a position to put co-operative life insurance to a practical test, and issue policies upon terms that are unsurpassed by any other reliable company carrying on business. Members can be transferred at any time to the equity department free of charge.

DARE THEY GO HOME TO VOTE?

The Republican Clerks in a Disagreeable Position.

There are a great many clerks in the departments who have kept their vacations until now, and who intended to go away during the last of this month, so as to be home during the elections. But within the last few days they have received very emphatic notices from the heads of bureaus and departments that during election time they would be expected to be at their desks, and hence the clerks intend to take only a short trip now, and wait until Christmas for the rest. The question which now arises among the clerks, especially the Republicans, is whether they dare to go home to vote. The Democratic officials disclaim any interference in the matter, but at the same time there are indirect methods which are employed to effect the purpose. The impression seems to prevail in the departments that some clerks will be discharged if they go home to vote; at least, the Republicans say it will be tried on them. The Democrats say they do not fear, but are rather encouraged to go and vote as often as they please.

THE breath of a chronic catarrh patient is often so offensive that he cannot go into society, and he becomes an object of disgust. After a time ulceration sets in, the spongy bones are attacked, and frequently, entirely destroyed. A constant source of discomfort is the dripping of the purulent secretions into the throat, sometimes producing inveterate bronchitis, which in its turn has been the exciting cause of pulmonary disease. The brilliant results which have attended its use for years past properly designate Ely's Cream Balm as by far the best, if not the only real cure for hay fever, rose cold, and catarrh.

Findings of the Grand Jury.

The grand jury yesterday presented indictments against the following parties: Vincent J. Battle, larceny of a watch; George Hawkins, housebreaking. Charges against the following were ignored: Samuel Gassenheimer and Isaac Gassenheimer, manslaughter in killing Frank A. Blackford; Albert H. Gawler and William Michener, assault with intent to kill Samuel Gassenheimer; Jefferson Daily and Charles Ryan, robbery; James S. Brown, embezzlement; George Roberts and George Reed, rape.

THE MARKETS.

Further Decrease of the Volume of Business in Stocks.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—To-day's stock market again showed a decrease in the volume of business, and the net result of the trading for the day is that prices are lower in a majority of the active list. There was again shown this morning a disposition to await events, but, notwithstanding a flood of unfavorable rumors and assertions, which came chiefly from the west, the general market was firm throughout the morning hours. Later, when the hope that something definite would be accomplished at the meeting at the Grand Central depot to-day was given up, prices declined, and the lowest figures were reached in the last hour. The market closed firm on a rally. Reading was the principal feature in the trading, but followed the course of the general market.

Upon the announcement that Mr. Corbin would enter the Western Union directory, which was interpreted to mean that a compromise of some sort in the telegraph business would ensue, Western Union became especially strong and closed within one-eighth of the best prices reached. The trunk lines and grangers, which are principally affected by the trouble at Chicago, were quiet, and fluctuated within a narrow range. The market rallied in the last half hour and closed firm at quotations.

Money on call is active, ranging from 4 to 10, last loan at 4, and closing at 4 asked. Sterling exchange is dull and steady; actual business at 481½ to 481¾ for sixty-day bills and 484½ to 484¾ for demand; posted rates 482 to 485. Government bonds have been dull and heavy. State bonds have been neglected.

Treasury balances—Coin, $125,890,213; currency, $20,143,435.
