HE TACKLED A MEDIUM

WITH TWO SLATES AND CAME AWAY MYSTIFIED.

Now Searching for a Missing Link—The Spiritualistic Power Doubted. But the Writing Puzzles Him—If it is a Trick it is a Good One.

A reporter for the REPUBLICAN had an uncanny experience the other day, and if he thought previously that he "knew it all" he was certainly convinced on the day in question that he had missed a link somewhere, and is overly anxious to have some one supply that link.

At the risk of being laughed at he gives the result of an interview with a spiritualistic medium, whose claim of supernatural aid is feebly advanced, and who claims to possess such aid only because he can give no other reason for the phenomena.

While attending a performance at the National Theater two weeks ago he was much interested in Kellar's slate trick, whereby writing was made to appear upon an apparently clean slate held in the hands of one of the audience. It was an especially clever bit of legerdemain, and was confessedly produced by trickery, the solution of which was naturally refused the audience.

That evening, in conversation with an avowed spiritualist, the reporter was told that if he desired to have his admiration changed to absolute wonder and possibly to conversion to his friend's peculiar belief he should call upon a certain medium whose habitat adjoins the police court on Sixth street northwest, one Pierre L. O. Keeler, and that, to dispel his idea of chemical means being used to produce the phenomena, he might purchase two ordinary school slates, and the writing would be produced upon them.

Confident of his ability to detect the trick and expose a fraud, he called upon Mr. Keeler, and was given an audience, the medium assuring him that the conditions were right, and that he could produce messages from departed friends upon the slates the scribe had furnished, and that without their being out of his sight even for an instant, which claim the reporter substantiates, or else he is sadly fooled.

He was requested to write upon small slips of paper the names of departed friends and any message he might desire to convey to them and fold them up, neither the medium nor any visible confederate being able to see either the writing or the names, the medium meanwhile being seated on the opposite side of an ordinary table. This he did. The medium then took hold of the slates and proceeded to wash them again in clear water, merely giving them a superficial rubbing which certainly did not last ten seconds, and during which time alone was it possible to apply any chemical preparation to them. Then, with a request to the his handerchief around the slates, the medium passed them to the reporter, first placing a minute particle of slate pencil between them. The scribe did so, and scarcely had he seized the slates when a scratching noise such as is produced by writing on a slate was heard. This continued some five minutes, when the medium informed the reporter that he was at liberty to untie the the slates and look on the inside of them. His astonishment and amazement can only be appreciated when an examination of the slates is made, which are on exhibition in the editorial rooms of the REPUBLICAN. The two slates are covered with what purport to be messages from the dead in different handwriting, three of them being characteristic of the persons from whom they purport to have been received. The fourth one, however, is an anchor to which the reporter pins his continued belief in the faith of his fathers, for the professed writer is yet in the land of the living as far as the scribe knows, he having unwittingly used the name instead of that of his brother, who died some years ago, both being acquaintances. Whatever force was used—trickery or psychic, odic, esoteric, or spirit force—the wonderful penmanship remains a puzzle to all who have examined it, there being over two hundred words, written in four handwritings, each being positively different, the detail and finish of which being such as to challenge admiration if produced by a trick, and a belief in supernatural agencies returned to the earth if a reasonable doubt was not caused by the fourth handwriting.

It appears that there is in existence two spiritualistic societies in the city, in both of which philosophical spiritualism is taught and phenomenal spiritualism exhibited, the first holding forth at Seventh and L streets northwest, the other in sundry private dwellings.

To the exclusive one nobody is admitted save known and trusted friends, and in its mystic circles many of the brightest men and women of the capital are included—all devout believers.

A public avowal of their belief would set the very nation by the ears, but their secret is jealously guarded. Mr. Keeler is the high priest of both societies, and to his almost supernatural abilities is attributed the sudden impetus received by the cause the last few months. It is noticeable that many people prominent in church life and other reform movements are investigators, while not a few have abandoned their orthodox belief to pursue the beautiful philosophy taught by spiritualists.

These people have a reasonable explanation of such exposes as are furnished in the Di Lebar and similar cases by the assertion that unscrupulous people endeavor to extort money by professing either to possess powers they lack, or, in the case of crooked mediums, they are not satisfied to obey the behest of their guiding spirit and give only occasional seances, but resort to trickery and deceit to heighten their natural gifts.

Mr. Keeler is a pleasant-faced young man of 32, originally a student for the ministry, who professes to be under the guidance of George Christy, the old-time minstrel, and says his powers are comparatively limited.

Department Changes.

The following official changes have been made in the departments named below:

The Unity Club.

If as has been wisely said, "the man who increases the sum total of human happiness is a benefactor," then Messrs. Charles Davis, E. J. Whipple and others, who contributed so delightfully to the entertainment of this club and its friends Friday night at Dr. Bland's, stand in the ranks in that category. Certainly human happiness was very largely enhanced upon this occasion. Mr. Davis's subject was "Electric," ably handled, and Mr. Whipple sang "Rosemary," "The Bridge," and "Finnegan's Heel." Other music was by Mrs. White, Miss Davis and Byrne, and recitations by Miss A. Sneed and D. L. Murphy.

Making a Place for His Son.

Hon. John S. Williams, third auditor of the treasury, has removed Fred. Ed. Price, his confidential secretary, and appointed his (Williams's) son in his place, at a salary of $1,400. Mr. Price was one of the hard workers, and one of the most active Democrats in Indiana, but a fat place had to be provided for the boy, and the colored lad had to go. Great is reform.

You can depend upon it, our clothing is the lowest step for prices, and the uppermost for style and finish. Eiseman Bros., cor 7th and E. The only manufacturers in Washington.

Conkling Memorial Services.

The Ethical Literary, an organization of our colored citizens which meets at the Metropolitan A. M. Church, M street, will hold memorial exercises in honor of the late Roscoe Conkling at their next meeting, Tuesday night. Speeches will be made by Hon. Frederick Douglass and others.

HARRIS' BIJOU THEATER.

A Spectacular Revival of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," with a Great Cast.

There will be a grand revival of the old familiar play, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," this week at the Bijou, and the mammoth company that will interpret it has been carefully selected by Manager Harris, with an appreciative regard for the demands of each part. Miss Maggie Harold, who will enact the role of Eliza, has achieved some reputation as an emotional actress, both at home and abroad. Mr. Wm. Davidge, jr., is to play the comedy part of Marks, and in it he is inimitably funny. Miss Sallie Partington, the Topsy, has rendered this character over a thousand times. She supplies it with musical and terpsichorean oddities that delight and charm audiences. The little Eva, Miss Hewitt, is but six years of age, but her work, it is said, would do credit to children of maturer years. Mr. R. Harold, jr., as St. Clair, is spoken of as a manly interpretation. The other characters will be in good hands. The Jubilee Singers will be seen in their plantation sketches and melodies, and the bloodhounds, six in number, are great features.

Another New Bank to be Built.

The present building of the Bank of Washington will soon be torn down to give way to a marble structure that is estimated to cost $51,000. It will be two stories high, with a frontage on Seventh street of 40 feet, 86 feet on Louisiana avenue, and 80 feet on C street. The roof will be of the Queen Anne style, and a tower will be built at the Louisiana avenue and Seventh street corner. The bank room will be in size 48 by 50 feet. James J. Hill is the architect and D. J. Macarty is the builder. The directors' and cashier's rooms will be in the rear, on C street and Louisiana avenue respectively.

The Builders' Bulletin.

The first number of the first volume of the Builders' Bulletin was issued yesterday and is neat and attractive. It is eight pages, gotten up in excellent shape, and presents a neat typographical appearance. Mr. J. C. Wright is the editor and manager, and announces that the Bulletin is for "The purpose of promoting the interests of the artisans and builders of the national capital," and making the paper a success. The field is wide and there is room for the latest comer.

The Orchestrone plays any kind of music, in any key, and any one can play it. No cabinet organ ever made compares with it. Call and see what it can do. Gately & Aldrich, 357 Seventh street northwest.

Raedy's Base Ball Gallery.

Michael Raedy, of 16 and 18 Massachusetts avenue, was yesterday fined $25 by Judge Snell for allowing people to occupy stands he erected on the tops of his houses overlooking the base ball grounds. The complaint was that the people congregated on the roofs and caused disorder. The court afterward suspended the execution of the sentence.

Death of C. W. Thorn.

C. W. Thorn, the wholesale dealer in notions at No. 315 Ninth street northwest, died yesterday morning at his residence, 218 I street northwest, of consumption, after an illness of over five months. He had been a prominent business man of this city for nearly thirty years and built up a large business.

The Amended Mechanics' Lien Law.

The commissioners have recommended the bill to amend the mechanics' lien law so that no lien shall attach for materials contracted for or furnished unless the owner of the property affected by the lien is previously notified, if such owner is not the purchaser of the materials.

Charged With Outraging His Daughter.

Sheriff Cling, of St. Mary's county, yesterday took back with him Edward Tanner, arrested here by Lieut. Vernon, charged with committing an outrage on his 14-year old daughter in March last at Bald's creek, near the Charles county line. He is 52 years old.

Speaker Carlisle's New Residence.

Gustaf L. Reutersklold, the Swedish minister, and wife have sold their residence on K street, between Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets northwest, to Speaker John G. Carlisle for $21,000, the deed for the same being filed in the recorder's office yesterday.

Bail for Manslaughter Reduced.

Justice Montgomery, in the criminal court yesterday, fixed bail at $1,500 in the case of Joseph M. Chase, the colored man indicted for manslaughter in having caused the death of Prof. E. A. Paul on Apr. 7 last by driving a horse against him while he was on his bicycle.

THE SMALL THINGS OF A DAY.

Minor Occurrences In and About the City.

Fannie B. Evans has purchased of Edwin B. Hay and wife for $7,500 parts of subdivs Uniol 5 in square 97.

George W. McIntosh, employed in the city postoffice, will quit, as the postmaster wants his place.

Gilbert B. Towles has sold to the vestry of St. Andrew's parish for $4,000 subdivs 55, 56, 57, 58 and 59 in square 249.

Edward J. Sexton has been appointed president student at the Washington asylum, vice Wm. P. Compton, resigned.

The Washington Brick Machine Company have sold the tract of land known as "Trinidad" to Benjamin Durfee for $12,000.

The early and favorable action upon H. R. bill 8849, providing for the erection of fire escapes, is urged by the commissioners.

Annie Connell, aged four years, was accidentally run over and painfully injured by a hurdle on Pennsylvania avenue yesterday afternoon.

A motion to quash the indictment was filed in the criminal court yesterday in the case of Henry T. Cook and Frederick Cook, charged with forgery.

A new trial was granted by Justice Montgomery in the criminal court yesterday to Benjamin Pollard, who was convicted about a month ago of housebreaking.

George A. Sheahan, C. B. Hall, Christian Heurich, E. L. Westcott, and Chas. Early were drawn yesterday as petit jurors to fill the vacancies in the panel in the criminal court.

Samuel Bilber, as assignee for Nathan L. Rosenberg, has transferred the stock of goods, furnishings, &c., in store 503 Seventh street northwest to Alex. J. Hofheimer, for $2,500.

Francis O. Connolly, aged 55 years, living at 455 New York avenue, died suddenly Friday afternoon of congestion of the lungs. The remains were taken to Lancaster, Pa., yesterday for interment.

John F. Thomas, colored, who was indicted with two others for endeavoring to secure a fraudulent pension, and on arraignment pleaded guilty, yesterday withdrew that plea and entered one of not guilty.

Jane Dodson, who was convicted in the police court recently of keeping a disorderly house, and took an appeal to the criminal court, yesterday gave bond in $500, with Jacob Price as security, to appear for trial.

Messrs. Edwards and Barnard, as solicitors for Rosina M. Parnell, yesterday filed a bill in equity against Nannie L. Smith, John Ambler Smith, Charles C. Glover, and eight others, to recover the balance due on a promissory note for $1,350, secured by a deed of trust.

SHOOTING UNNECESSARY.

Opinion of the Jury in the Case of Benj. Klopfer.

Coroner Patterson, with the following jury, composed of Messrs. Thomas Sommerville, W. H. Douglass, Frank A. Belt, Robert Leitch, jr., Allison Nailor, and Warren M. Whyte, yesterday morning held an inquest over the remains of the late Charles Tieling at the first precinct station house.

Jesse Varnell testified that he and Tieling were returning home by way of Ohio avenue, going east, having just crossed Thirteenth street, when Klopfer appeared on the corner behind them, raised his arm and fired. Tieling was hit in the back and fell. Varnell then summoned Frank Bowers, Frank M. Skinner, and W. A. Cardrick, from whom they had just separated, and they took the wounded man to the station house.

The three last named companions were also sworn, and testified to seeing Klopfer chase a man from a house on C street and fire his pistol and blow a distress call.

Andrew G. Connolly also testified to the same.

Dr. Lachlan Tyler testified that the bullet entered Telling's back, passed through his left lung, and was found near the second rib. Death resulted from hemorrhage and exhaustion.

Officer Klopfer related the circumstance of his having been called to eject a man from a house on C street for disorderly conduct; how he pursued him to Thirteenth street and Ohio avenue; there stumbled, and his pistol being in his left hand was discharged. He pursued the man, and ran him into Sergeant Diggins's arms. He did not know until afterward that he had shot any one, for he had no such intention.

The jury brought in a verdict that Telling came to his death "from a pistol-shot wound of the left lung, inflicted with a pistol in the hands of Benjamin F. Klopfer, on the night of the 15th instant. While the jury think there was no intent to shoot the said Telling, we believe that the shooting was unnecessary."

On application of his counsel the prisoner was released on $3,000 bail by Judge Montgomery. Messrs. Belt and Richardson furnished the bail.

BISCOE TO HANG.

The Gallows for His Execution Has Been Erected.

Governor Jackson, of Maryland, has decided not to interfere further in the case of John Benjamin Biscoe, who has been convicted in the county court of Charles county of the murder of Capt. R. R. Dixon. It will be remembered that Biscoe shipped from here on the boat with Capt. Dixon and subsequently killed him with a stick of wood while coming from out the cabin. The information comes from the Leonardtown jail, where the murderer is confined, that Biscoe has undergone a marked and sudden change and the apparent indifference and lively spirit which has so long characterized him are things of the past. For the first time he seems to be conscious of his terrible fate and now devotes the whole of his time to religious duties. The gallows and wall for the concealment of the execution have been erected.

Found That She Had Another Husband

Samuel Bruce, of Third street, between C and D streets northwest, by his solicitor, E. C. Weaver, yesterday filed a bill in equity for the annulment of the bonds of marriage between himself and Louisa Bruce on the ground that she is the wife of one John W. Wood by a previous marriage. In his bill he state that he was married to the respondent by Rev. William Gibbons on March 29, 1886, believing her to be free to contract such marriage, but he has since discovered that she was married to Wood in this city on Dec. 1, 1881; that Wood is still living and that respondent has never been divorced from him.

EXTRAORDINARY

BARGAINS IN SILKS,

To start the week, and lend an additional impetus to our already extensive trade in Silks, we shall offer on Monday the following choice seasonable Silk Fabrics at considerably lower prices than ever heretofore named on identical qualities, offering a grand opportunity to secure a silk dress at a great monetary saving:

1 lot 26-inch

BLACK FRENCH SURAH SILK.

An excellent quality, suitable for either a full spring and summer suit or to make up under black lace. Never before offered for less than 90c., and considered good value at that price.

Only 80c. per yard.

1 lot 21-inch

BLACK FRENCH GROS GRAIN SILK.

An extra fine supple quality, and warranted for wear and general excellence. Heretofore sold at $1.35.

Only $1 per yard.

1 lot 21-inch

BLACK AMERICAN GROS GRAIN SILK.

This American make is considered fully equal to the quality above, and is even preferred by some customers, and is but a matter of choice. Has been sold up to this day at $1.12½.

Only $1 per yard.

1 lot 22-inch

BLACK BENGALINE.

This is one of the most popular of the new weaves, and is fully worth its regular price, being offered in this instance only as a "drive" to quicken trade. Never before sold for less than $1.25.

Only $1 per yard.

ADDITIONAL OFFER EXTRAORDINARY.

To lend an additional attraction to this unrivaled sale, we shall include the following two lots of Black Silk Rhadames.

Our grand $2 quality, reduced to $1.50.
Our grand $2.25 quality, reduced to $1.75.
We have no hesitation in saying that we do not believe equal value for the money has ever been offered in this city.
While this offering is made particularly for Monday, yet should any of the lots be unsold the prices will remain as above advertised.

NEVER SO FINE!

It is generally conceded that for years we have kept the largest and most complete stock of Boys' Clothing in the city. We also have a complete line of Men's Clothing, which comprises the newest patterns and styles, and are all this season's productions. In fact nothing can exceed the newness and freshness of our present magnificent display of beautiful goods for Men, Boys, and Children. These are considerations of special importance to buyers.

Our stock of Shirt Waists is now ready, including all the new patterns in French Percales, many of them made expressly for us, also Flannels, Muslins, and Linen Waists, the largest and handsomest assortment ever shown in this city, ranging in price from 25c. up.

BLACK SURAH SILKS.

W. M. Shuster & Sons

Having bought largely of these durable goods we offer decided inducements in extra values at 75c., $1, $1.25, $1.50, and $2. We have never sold so many in one season as we have this year. The reason is obvious, the goods are very superior and the prices low. The $1.50 and $2 grades are heavy, but for real hard wear they are superior to any silks made.

Great bargains in Black Gros Grain, at $1.25 and $1.50, worth $1.50 and $2.

New patterns in Moire Silks.

New Black Grenadines. New Mourning Goods, the very latest weaves.

New Hosiery and Underwear. Fast black Hose in all qualities.
