Morning Journal.

W. S. Burke, Editor

Terms of Subscription.

[illegible]

SENATOR WINDOM'S new house in Washington will cost $60,000. He evidently expects to stay there.

FOR ENTERPRISE the new town of Silver City is one of the liveliest and busiest towns in the Territory.

NOW the occupation of the Utes is to take place next May, 1883. Which we suppose it is to be understood means that they will take the usual holiday.

THE Lake Valley Herald announces the whole district singularly free from a death. Which is, we suppose, the Republican way of saying the Democrats have not hung any lately.

THE Prospector says that Bing & Co. have from Hillsboro, in the last month alone, sent to New Mexico. You are probably aware, Mr. Prospector, that "Bing" does not in that connection stand for 1 cent per pound.

A NEW WAGON road is to be built from Solomon to Kingston. The Lake Valley Herald says the work will cost about $4,000, and will make the distance between the two points only eighteen miles whereas it is now thirty.

EXAMINER

C. S. Blackwell is the only candidate for office in the Territory who carried his county and not a vote against him. There is some satisfaction in being a candidate under such circumstances.—Rocky Mtn.

Not quite so fast Mr. Miner. Elwood Maden, of this place, was elected county commissioner without a dissenting vote, and received nearly a thousand more votes than your man.

WOOL.

The weekly wool circular of Walter Brown & Co., for the week ending the 11th instant, says the wool market since the 25th of September has been dull and in a generally unsatisfactory and unsettled condition, but considering the limited demand, high rates for money, the recent failures and a common distrust in taking only unquestionable credits, prices are firm and possibly stronger than under the circumstances could be expected or was generally anticipated.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

In an article which appeared in The JOURNAL a few weeks ago, on the question of public schools in New Mexico, we made some statements in regard to the appropriation by the general government, of the proceeds of sales of certain sections of land in some of the States, to a general permanent school fund, to be safely invested and only the interest of which is used as supplementary to the school tax raised each year in those States. There is some such provision as this made for New Mexico, but there being only one section in each township of the public lands set aside for this purpose, the amount to be realized from the sale of the same, during the next twenty years, will necessarily be a sum inadequate to the needs. We have before suggested that the entire proceeds of the sales of public lands, in the future, be devoted to public school purposes, of course including provisions for a State University, Agricultural College, etc.

In many portions of the Territory if a man should start out in search of school sections, he would probably have to travel several days before seeing any more than one or two sections; and then, in all probability, he would find them of such a character that he would not pay one-fourth the government price for it. Therefore we claim that it would be a most wise provision for Congress to pass an act providing for the appropriation of all money hereafter received for the public lands in New Mexico to a permanent school fund. Of issues we would not recommend the apportioning of any part of this sum, or the income from it, to the carrying on of schools during the present system of public schools. For experience in Territories has proved that all funds placed in the hands of Territorial governments, are sooner or later squandered by legislation. We would have the Territory treated in precisely the same way as the States in this matter. We would have all public school moneys placed beyond the reach of our Legislature, and would have the interest only used for school purposes. We would have the principal loaned out on good security, and would have the interest paid into the Territorial treasury, and then apportioned among the counties, in proportion to the number of children of school age in each county.

IF CARS for general use are to be built in Denver, Pueblo and Trinidad, we may hear the Herald.

WORK progresses steadily in putting on the new roofs.

A shipment of about $100,000 in bullion will be made in a day or two.

THE ore body in the superior of which mention was made last week, has widened to six feet.

D. H. Jackson has been looking at his mines on the Tecolote, and says he is exceedingly well pleased with the outlook.

THE rock has been coming on the lower level of late, but it is expected by the miners of Albuquerque that there will be rock within a few days.

THE REPORTS which come from the Lake Valley district are to the effect that the prospects look well for a good winter's business. Quite a number of miners will be back within a few days.

THE REPORTS which come from the Kingston district are to the effect that the prospects look well for a good winter's business. Quite a number of miners will be back within a few days.

IN THE new Rodeo part of the town, there are a few houses. The Pioneer Hall, the Lake Valley Hotel, the Pioneer Saloon, and a few others. The Lake Valley Herald says that the Pioneer Hall is the finest hall in the Territory. Now the Herald should see the Hall at Las Vegas, which is the finest hall in the Territory. The Republican hall is the handsomest hall in the Territory up to date, but Las Vegas has the finest hall in the Territory.

THE Prospector says that "some thing a little more than a month ago, Mr. Fraser, the Democratic sheriff of this county, said that there was not a Republican in the county." Which goes to show that the Prospector is a very big liar.

A NEW WAGON road is to be built from Solomon to Kingston. The Lake Valley Herald says the work will cost about $4,000, and will make the distance between the two points only eighteen miles whereas it is now thirty.

EXAMINER

C. S. Blackwell is the only candidate for office in the Territory who carried his county and not a vote against him. There is some satisfaction in being a candidate under such circumstances.—Rocky Mtn.

Not quite so fast Mr. Miner. Elwood Maden, of this place, was elected county commissioner without a dissenting vote, and received nearly a thousand more votes than your man.

WOOL.

The weekly wool circular of Walter Brown & Co., for the week ending the 11th instant, says the wool market since the 25th of September has been dull and in a generally unsatisfactory and unsettled condition, but considering the limited demand, high rates for money, the recent failures and a common distrust in taking only unquestionable credits, prices are firm and possibly stronger than under the circumstances could be expected or was generally anticipated.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

In an article which appeared in The JOURNAL a few weeks ago, on the question of public schools in New Mexico, we made some statements in regard to the appropriation by the general government, of the proceeds of sales of certain sections of land in some of the States, to a general permanent school fund, to be safely invested and only the interest of which is used as supplementary to the school tax raised each year in those States. There is some such provision as this made for New Mexico, but there being only one section in each township of the public lands set aside for this purpose, the amount to be realized from the sale of the same, during the next twenty years, will necessarily be a sum inadequate to the needs. We have before suggested that the entire proceeds of the sales of public lands, in the future, be devoted to public school purposes, of course including provisions for a State University, Agricultural College, etc.

In many portions of the Territory if a man should start out in search of school sections, he would probably have to travel several days before seeing any more than one or two sections; and then, in all probability, he would find them of such a character that he would not pay one-fourth the government price for it. Therefore we claim that it would be a most wise provision for Congress to pass an act providing for the appropriation of all money hereafter received for the public lands in New Mexico to a permanent school fund. Of issues we would not recommend the apportioning of any part of this sum, or the income from it, to the carrying on of schools during the present system of public schools. For experience in Territories has proved that all funds placed in the hands of Territorial governments, are sooner or later squandered by legislation. We would have the Territory treated in precisely the same way as the States in this matter. We would have all public school moneys placed beyond the reach of our Legislature, and would have the interest only used for school purposes. We would have the principal loaned out on good security, and would have the interest paid into the Territorial treasury, and then apportioned among the counties, in proportion to the number of children of school age in each county.

IF CARS for general use are to be built in Denver, Pueblo and Trinidad, we may hear the Herald.

WORK progresses steadily in putting on the new roofs.

A shipment of about $100,000 in bullion will be made in a day or two.

THE ore body in the superior of which mention was made last week, has widened to six feet.

D. H. Jackson has been looking at his mines on the Tecolote, and says he is exceedingly well pleased with the outlook.

THE rock has been coming on the lower level of late, but it is expected by the miners of Albuquerque that there will be rock within a few days.

THE REPORTS which come from the Lake Valley district are to the effect that the prospects look well for a good winter's business. Quite a number of miners will be back within a few days.

THE REPORTS which come from the Kingston district are to the effect that the prospects look well for a good winter's business. Quite a number of miners will be back within a few days.

THE new Rodeo part of the town, there are a few houses. The Pioneer Hall, the Lake Valley Hotel, the Pioneer Saloon, and a few others. The Lake Valley Herald says that the Pioneer Hall is the finest hall in the Territory. Now the Herald should see the Hall at Las Vegas, which is the finest hall in the Territory. The Republican hall is the handsomest hall in the Territory up to date, but Las Vegas has the finest hall in the Territory.

THE Prospector says that "some thing a little more than a month ago, Mr. Fraser, the Democratic sheriff of this county, said that there was not a Republican in the county." Which goes to show that the Prospector is a very big liar.

BOARD OF TRADE

Meeting of the Board that it has accomplished all it can, and that it should be dissolved.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 17.—

Because there has not been a quorum at the regular meeting of the Board of Trade of late I conclude that there is a demand from some quarters for a dissolution. Is this fact? Is there any question in such a demand? Has the Board been of no service to the city? Let the substantial bridge which spans the Rio Grande, at this point, answer the question.

The block of ground for a public park, worth several thousands of dollars now, which in future will be of inestimable value to the city, was secured from the New Mexico Town Company on solicitation by a committee of the Board, and that alone is more than sufficient to repay our citizens for the trouble and expense of its organization and support. The work on our streets, the interest in the Fire Company, the securing of lands for the Indian school and its location near us; and many other enterprises testify to the value of the organization from city. But that which speaks louder than all else in its behalf is the fine smelter, sampling works and assay office of Mr. Trubbs, now nearly completed, just south of the Atlantic and Pacific machine shops. It was through the action of the Board that these valuable works were secured. Will they not alone repay us an hundredfold for the time and money given to the organization and support of the Board? So far, with the means at our command, we have accomplished wonders. Let us not be too impatient. No young city in the west has made greater progress than ours in so short a time and with so little capital. It took many years to build Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha and Denver. We must not expect too much. We cannot reasonably demand that the Board shall bridge the Rio Grande and locate a smelter at every meeting.

Judging from a few items in our city papers, several of our citizens have taken a little interest in politics quite recently, which may account for the "plentiful scarcity" of members at the regular meetings of the Board during the last few weeks. We have observed however, that when a special meeting was called, the object stated, that there was no trouble to secure a quorum.

Our population is not composed of idlers. All have more than they can find time to do. Many members say that unless business of great importance is to come before the Board, they cannot spare the time to attend. And then, there are several meetings of this kind in the city every night in the week. Why not do all the business of the Board at special meetings, the call stating the object? Whatever plan is adopted let us hear no more about disbanding. Has the Board no future? Is there nothing more to be done? The securing and improvement of grounds for a State house, penitentiary, insane asylum, agricultural and industrial college, military supply posts, foundry, machine shops, and rolling mills, county court house and jail, woolen mills and factories, competing lines of railroads, public schools, electric lights, waterworks and many other important matters demand the attention and encouragement of the Board.

The Board of Trade is a necessity. It will not disband. Very truly,

E. A. S.

QUEER ELECTION RETURNS.

A thousand and twenty Republicans voted in Bernalillo county this year, and only one Democrat. Now the Democratic candidate for Delegate received 1,000 votes in Bernalillo county, and the Republican candidate received 1,000 votes in Bernalillo county. Now, how many Democrats voted in Bernalillo county? Answer.

[illegible]

BY CROW

[illegible]

D. GOLDBERG,

DEALER IN

Diamonds, Watches and Filigree Jewelry.

Railroad Avenue, Opera House.

KINGSTON.

Kingston, N. M., Nov. 18.—

I notice in one of the four late issues letters from two Kingston men, Messrs. McFadden and Morris, regarding the mines at that place. The former sees humbug in an expert, and the latter interests his own.

I was at Kingston, Mr. Editor, as you know, in the best part of September, because I accompanied a tenderfoot as far as Hillsboro. While there I made a thorough examination of all the prominent mines north of Kingston, as far as the railroad, and I found the country was considerably beyond that.

Mr. McFadden's question that none of the men are in to put up money knowing anything of an actual find worthy of notice. The only lower level from the Solitaire is in the Mexican and Iron King mines, and the former is not and the latter is not in sight.

The Solitaire strike is situated on the north side of a very steep hill, at the junction of the gulch leading to the South Percha. It is a bunch of magnetic iron, and does not seem that it is thrown up in the center of the ledge, which on both sides the surrounding rock is quartzite or porphyry.

There are two very strange things about this Solitaire. The first is that the nature of the float and the place mineral is entirely different. The second is that the place mineral is unknown, and so far as I have yet learned, and I have made considerable inquiry, has not been found anywhere else in America. The float at the Solitaire, although found from the grassroots to the ridge, on the side of a very steep side hill, is confined to a space of about two acres in extent. It neither overruns the crest of the hill, nor has it washed into the creek at its very feet. I panned and picked the creek for a mile north of the Solitaire (down stream), and failed to find a trace of the float. I also examined the south side of the hill, over the crest from the Solitaire, on the Moore boys' property, and not a trace of the same float or place could be found.

The float at the Solitaire is found ten feet above the creek on the side hill, in pieces weighing from half an ounce to two or three hundred pounds. Two chunks of the latter size had been found when I was there. It is a sulphide of silver and worth about ten or eleven dollars a pound. The ore in the ledge is of the appearance of galena, but instead crumbling and presenting a cleavage face, it peals under the knife and I was informed by Mr. Bentley, the superintendent, that it was very rich in silver, running from one to nine hundred dollars.

In Sawpit gulch there is one of the richest mines in the district, the property of Messrs. Burke and Skipps. It is the "Silver Queen," and is an immense deposit of gold ochre, hematite iron and black manganese. The latter ore is a contact vein almost fifty feet wide, and runs as per three different assays I had made $108 in silver. The Silver Queen considering the vast quantity of ore and its softness and the easiness with which it can be mined, is beyond all doubt the richest mine in the Percha.

The Iron King is another vein mine but the vastness of the vein would lead one to suppose it to be a "blanket." It is a very rich mine. The ore is a smithing ore decidedly iron, but runs from thirty to ninety ounces in silver. The Iron King has a very considerable amount of work done on it and shows up in fine style as to quality.

The Miners' Dream and Mountain Chief are two pretty good looking prospects adjoining the Iron King. The former, though, runs the best in silver; I had both assayed. The Miner's Dream is a zigzag fissure vein, and is of a mixed character, alternating from galena to ochre, iron and sulphuret.

The next and most valuable group of mines is the Baldwin and its surrounding neighbors, the Superior, Caledonian, etc. These mines are being worked briskly, and are, as I was told, very rich. Certainly the appearance of the ore would indicate it as running about thirty ounces, but Mr. A. D. Town, superintendent of the mill at Lake Valley, who is a part owner in the mines, told me that it ran as high as $200 per ton. The ore is a jasper in lime stone, running into a carbonate like at Hillsboro. Horsetail, for it and all its companions, are similar in formation and mineral contents. The ore is free milling and quartzy. The ore is of a brown color and quartzy. The ore is of a brown color and quartzy. The ore is of a brown color