A quiet but fashionable wedding took place at the residence of Mrs. McKenzie, Ontario street, Toronto, when her daughter, Grace, was married to L. A. Wood, of Kansas City, Mo., business manager of a syndicate stock yard, the Kansas City Live Stock Indicator. The bride and drawing rooms were tastefully decorated with water lilies, marguerites and ferns, the dining room with roses. The bride was crowned in white and carried white lilies and maidenhair ferns. Among the gifts to the bride was a case of silver silver offerts from the officials. After the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. M. L. Leitch, Mr. and Mrs. Wood left for the mountain district of Arkansas, where the groom has real estate and mining interests. There they intend spending the month of July before taking up his residence in Kansas City. Franklin Fry, formerly of Kansas City, three years ago, Mrs. McKenzie-Wood was quite prominent in Stratford society, and the many people who remember her charming voice and pleasing manner join with a host of personal friends in wishing her every happiness.
