The Association of Collegiate Alumnae announces a series of parlor lectures, to be given Saturday mornings of this month, at the residences of Mrs Wallace Pratt, Mrs. A. R. Meyer, Mrs. P. D. Hidenour and at Grace Guild hall.

The speakers are Mrs. William Trelease, of St Louis, November 9; Mrs. L. H. Perkins, of Lawrence, November 16; Mrs. L. B. Kellogg, of Emporia, November 23, and Mrs. A. A. F. Johnston, of Oberlin college, November 30.

Mrs. Trelease is president of the St. Louis branch of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae. She will speak upon "The Azores" from a personal visit to these interesting islands.

Mrs. Perkins is of Lawrence university. Her lecture upon the English lakes and their gems will be beautifully illustrated with a large number of views.

Mrs. Kellogg has many old friends here, and her name is well known to others who have never enjoyed the privilege of hearing her speak. Her subject is "Does Civilization Pay?"

Mrs. A. A. F. Johnston is professor of modern history in Oberlin college. She comes as a representative of that institution by request of the alumnae, who hope each year to have among their speakers a member of the faculty of one of the institutions represented by their association. Her lecture will be "Spain and the Spaniards."

Tickets for these lectures can be secured from members of the association, among whom are Miss Ethel Allen, Miss Jennie E. Burnham and Mrs. George C. Mosher.

Mrs. Trelease will arrive in Kansas City Friday morning, and will be the guest of Mrs. Mosher, of East Ninth street.

Cards for the exhibition of blue and white china by Elizabeth Benton, chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution are quaintly lettered in Old English. It will be given at Grace Guild hall Wednesday evening, all day Thursday and Thursday evening, November 6 and 7.

The mere announcement of the coming of Melba on the evening of November 25 will be sufficient to keep society from making other dates for that evening. Melba includes in her company Scalchi, Campanari, D'Aubigne, Bauermeister and a grand orchestra.

Invitations have been sent out for the opening of the new Lyceum hall, 704 West Ninth street, the evening of November 13, the occasion being also the debut in this city of Miss Gharlotte Hungerford Holder and Mr. Wilse R. Mills, baritone, both of whom have resided in Kansas City, and are promising additions to our artistic talent of the place. The opening recital is invitational and will be a fashionable event.

A box party at the Auditorium to-morrow evening in honor of Miss Hughes will be given by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gressang. Miss Ella Mosher, Jessie Hall and guest, Miss Shriver, Miss Hughes, of Grand, the Misses Hudson, Misses Fanny Davis, S. H. Basinall, Dr. W. A. Harris, J. B. Wood, Lewis Banks and Walter Dickson.

Mr. S. Sills will entertain guests in a box at Hughes Parlor Friday at the Auditorium to-morrow night.

Mrs. John Stillwell, Ninth and Oak-land avenue, has invitations out for next Tuesday afternoon from 4 to 6. The guest is expected to be home with Miss E. Weil, Subject: "From Cadiz to Santa Cruz."

At "at home" will be tendered by Mrs. T. J. Tessiter and Miss Tessiter, with Mrs. Lilly G. Spalding, of Cleveland, O., as guest of honor, next Friday afternoon, at 1112 Troost avenue.

An afternoon tea and evening party will be given by Mrs. W. Payne Hall and Miss Hall next Friday, as compared to their guests, Miss Hillard, of St. Louis, and Miss Shriver, of Ottawa, Kas.

Miss Pearl Ketchum's cards are out for the afternoon and evening of the 7th.

Invitations will be issued during the week for an afternoon card party, which will be given by Mrs. G. W. Hodgeboer and daughters, Wednesday, November 13, at 1214 Penn street.

Mrs. H. B. Robinson, Mrs. Charles Marshall and Miss Williams will give a conversazione reception on the afternoon of the 20th at the residence of Mrs. Robinson, for which cards will be issued this week.

Mrs. Charles Match will give an afternoon tea Friday in honor of Mrs. Trelease. Her guests will be limited to members of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae.

At Miss Dora Fulton's card party next Thursday afternoon, Miss Davenport, of Omaha, Neb., will be guest of honor.

Miss Maud Ellis and Mr. S. N. Baragar will be married next Tuesday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George Law, of Troost avenue.

The marriage of Mr. James Newton Gant and Miss Retta Haines will take place Wednesday evening, November 6, at the residence of the bride's parents, 69 East Sixteenth street. Owing to the recent death of Mr. Gant's brother only the immediate family will be present. Mr. Gant has been connected with the Dougott Dry Goods Company for the past five years. They will be at home to friends after November 15 at 69 East Sixteenth street.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Hope announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Georgia Helen, to Mr. Charles Alfred Lewis, Jr., Tuesday evening, November 13, at 7 o'clock, at 1629 East Ninth street.

Cards announcing the betrothal of Mr. Henry Gustiel, of the Polaris Clothing Company, of this city, and Miss Martha Auerbach, of Topeka, Kas., were received last week by friends in this city. Both are well known and popular in Jewish circles.

The Hancroft Club will meet during November with Mrs. Elizabeth Garland, 1805 Penn, beginning next Tuesday.

The Hickwicklas C. L. S. C. will meet with Mrs. J. M. Searles, 638 Tracy avenue, during the month of November. Lessons for November 6: Growth of the American Nation, chapters 7 and 8; Greek and Roman Mythology, chapters 15 and 16; Roman Literature, chapters 10 and 11.

The East Side Literary Society will hold its first meeting at the Independence Avenue church on Tuesday evening. Dr. Quarle, Mr. Edgar J. Eilkes, Miss Leidigh and Mr. Eaton will furnish the programme. Mrs. J. Eilkes will read the review. The first meeting will be an open one, to which the friends of the society are invited.

The perfect adaptability of Mr. William A. Wilson's residence to all the requirements of a delightful entertainment was particularly in evidence on Thursday evening last. The rooms, always magnificent in their rich furnishing, were set with palms and the greatest profusion of chrysanthemums brought to a high degree of perfection in the luxuriance of their bloom. Mr. Wilson received, assisted by his guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. Walton H. Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. Shannon C. Donohoe, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Woosley, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Boone Holmes and Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Ayres. There was much to admire in Mr. Wilson's home beside the cordial hospitality of the host, and guests lingered in groups in different apartments, pleasing the sense of sight with a view of the beautiful scene. The statue of Rebecca in Parian marble reared its tower of strength in palms, the vivid green leaves enhancing the stately beauty and grace of the fair face and form. Then there was the exquisite cabinet with its delicate treasures, each with a history of its own. And the romance story in the tapestried walls of one room, so complete in its conception, chapters that it needed no words—only the glow of color and light to give it eloquence and a happy finish.

Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hagerman, Mrs. Hamilton Gamble and Mr. John Perry assisted in entertaining.

A musicale occupied the early part of the evening. The numbers, which were charmingly rendered, included:

"Vieni Meco" (Campana), Mrs. Schultz, Miss McFadden.

"Valse Caprice" (Rubinstein), Mme. E. Appy Bourcicot.

"Ci, Ci, T. Ci" (C. Chaminade), Miss Mabel Haas.

"Medora Love Song" (Cito Pinsuti), G. R. Metcalf.

"Souvenir de Spa," 'cello (Servais), Mr. Louis Appy.

"Nymphs and Fauns" (Bemberg), Miss May McFadden.

Mrs. Jennie Schultz, accompanist.

Later there was dancing in the spacious hall on the upper floor, where punch and lemonade were informally served. Elsewhere refreshments were also served throughout the evening in the dining-room, which was in pink, with a table which was a pink rose festival itself, under a glow of a pink canopy helped by pink gas jet shades. Here strands of smilax carried to the table corners. The centre was a floral bed of La France roseleaf, with a mound of full blown roses in the center. The reception hall was in white chrysanthemums, the railings of the stairways were implicitly covered with a screen of woven smilax, brightened by white chrysanthemums.

The toilettes of the ladies were very effective in the midst of handsome environments. A number of the ladies who had lately returned from abroad wore lovely Parisian creations.

Miss Walton Holmes was in cream brocaded satin, the ladies draped in soft cream crepe, with garnitures of old point lace embroidery.

Mrs. Ayres, white crepe de chine, combined with cream brocade in arabesque design.

Mrs. Donohoe, black mousseline de soie, over black with deep yoke of iridescent crystal strands and fringe.

Mrs. Woosley, black chiffon, with garnitures of Venice velvet, overall with strands of crystal beads.

Mrs. D. B. Holmes, chrysanthemum red satin brocade, with draping of white mousseline de soie.

Miss Snider, white silk, combined with cream lace, with garniture of point lace and clusters of violets.

Mrs. Woods, opaline satin duchesse, with sleeves and corsage veiled in jetted Brussels net.

Mrs. Gamble, French gray brocade, with garniture of duchess point lace.

No more charming debutante will be found in this winter's list of society belles than Miss Fern Weston. Her gentle grace of manner won her many friends at the reception given in her honor by her mother, Mrs. C. Lester Hall, on last Tuesday afternoon. The receiving hours were from 4 to 6. Guests were ushered into Mrs. Hall and her daughter in the pink parlor, where great clusters of pink chrysanthemums enhanced the beauty of the room. After the first formal greetings, Mrs. Ewing Hall, Mrs. Lee Porter, Mrs. Laura Porter, Mrs. John Thompson, Mrs. Charles Hall, Mrs. Herbert Gregory, Mrs. E. V. Garnett, Miss May Sappington and Miss Newell Smedley were delightful assistants in entertaining. Punch was served by Miss Margaret Keith and Miss Annette Perrin. Miss Fannie Wood and Miss Angie Perrin presided at the refreshment table in the blue and white drawing room, and the hospitalities of the dining room were extended by Miss Jessie Hall, Miss Adaresta Thompson, Miss Shiras, of Ottawa, and Miss Elizabeth Gentry. The table was yellow and green, with centerpiece of growing ferns.

The afternoon brought out many ladies in handsome new autumn attire. Mrs. Hall wore a toilette of black silk crepon, with garniture of elegant lace.

Miss Fern Weston wore an salmon pink brocaded satin, combined with velvet, and carried pink roses.

The young ladies at the tables wore gowns in harmony with the decorations of the apartments in which they served.

Among the lovely afternoon events of the past week was the luncheon given by Miss Chattell, assisted by her sister, Miss Estelle, on Friday last, in compliment to Miss Fern Weston. It was the first formal opening of the Chattell sorority home at Twenty-seventh street and Cleveland avenue, a beautifully located and elegantly appointed residence. Pink roses and palms were profusely distributed in jardinieres on window ledges, mantels and floor.

The luncheon tables were draped in white damask, with pink centerpieces. After the serving a game of cards was played and prizes were won by Miss Emily Blair, of Lee's Summit; Miss Catharine Allen and Mrs. J. G. Watkins. Vocal solos by Miss Hattie Robinson were greatly enjoyed. Present: Mrs. James W. Barber, Mrs. Henry Merrill, Mrs. Oliver Hutchinson, Mrs. Walt Webb, Mrs. Robert Gregory, Mrs. Edward Browne, Mrs. George Monast, Mrs. Lillian Price, Mrs. William B. A pretty compliment to Dr. J. T. Coombs and his lovely bride, who was Miss Nellie Moore, of Nashville, Tenn., was a dining given by Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Davidson of East Ninth street, last Thursday evening. The large rooms bloomed with chrysanthemums. The tables were draped in handsomely embroidered linens, overlaid by dainty doilies. The serving was in elegant courses. Present were: Rev. and Mrs. George H. Coombs, Rev. and Mrs. Henry Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Tomlin, Mr. and Mrs. Churchill Bridgeford, Mr. and Mrs. Hunter M. Merjweather, Dr. and Mrs. George C. Mosher, Captain and Mrs. J. R. Willis, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kirk, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gillis, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Crabbs, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Kirk, Mrs. James Shepherd, of St. Louis, Miss Birdie Hewson and Dr. Austin.

An ideal bride's luncheon was that to which Miss Hebe Wood, of Cliff Cottage avenue, invited a merry company last Friday afternoon. The table was spread in snow damask, set with the daintiest of doilies and enhanced by a centerpiece of two hearts of daybreak carnations. A lovely hand painted souvenir in leaflet form, with appropriate verses, lay by each plate, and held a cluster of pink carnations tied with white ribbons. Only one young lady at the table declared that she was not a prospective belle, and upon her card was written: "I'd rather bear the ills I have than fly to others that I know not of." Those who responded to Frank Spalding, Mrs. Charles Gill, Mrs. George Carkener, Mrs. Smith Hall, Mrs. Will Murray, Miss Stafford and Miss Deardorff.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Snider entertained at dinner last Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. William Nettleton, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Thayer, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Washburn, Miss Upton, Miss Anna Foard, Miss Hume, of Lexington, Judge C. L. Dobson, Mr. William A. Wilson and Mr. John Perry. After the serving, guests were entertained at a box at the Auditorium at the "Thrilby" play.

Mrs. Sidney McWilliams entertained last Monday evening for a delightful evening card party, given by Mrs. McWilliams for her guest, Miss Lizzie Henry, of Chillicothe, Mo. Prizes were won by Miss Pearl McDonald and Mr. Charles Rose. Miss Nellie Lucas and Miss Margaret Peak rendered the company with well rendered musical selections. Guests were: Misses Margaret, Mary and Mattie Lee Peak, Miss Pearson, of Topeka, Misses Jennie Sharpy, Wells, McDonald, Etty Walpole, Nellie Lucas, Messrs. Steele, Mills, Miller, Willitts, McDonald, Rush, Webb, Corney and Homer McWilliams.

Guests who shared the hospitality of Captain and Mrs. F. A. Freeman, Wednesday evening were: Messrs. Arnold, Shankling, George Burnham, Arthur Newall, L. J. Winch, S. M. Lane, George W. Snope, R. H. Lyon, C. H. Dorton, Captain Watts, Charles Hazlitt, S. B. Lightsey, W. F. Kirchmaier and Robert Salisbury.

It was an anniversary of the captain's birth, on Capt. Wed. Wednesday, being his ancestors "moored their bark on wild New England's shore." Much of his life has been passed in remote lands and upon waters encircling the globe, yet this cosmopolitan citizen, with his treasures of historic association and gathered curios has found that "each man's chimney is his golden mile stone," where love and friendship dwell. Each and every guest was welcomed heartily to the charm and cheer of his pleasant home. Cards were the amusement, a dainty spread the meth, and a merry good time the verdict of the company.

Miss Alice Dawson entertained the Iota Omega Society at luncheon on last Friday afternoon, at her home, 1307 Troost avenue. Present were: Misses Mary Hampton, Edna Chase, Elizabeth Goodhue, Kate Dawson, Katherine Gray and Alice Dawson.

A few friends spent Hallowe'en with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rush very pleasantly. They were: Mr. Rosenzweig, of Cleveland, O.; Miss Todd, of Denver; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Menifee, Mr. and Mrs. James Thornton, Miss Briggs, Miss Mispaugh and Dr. J. P. Harnman.

Miss D. May Howard delightfully entertained a limited number of friends on Wednesday evening, the early part of which was devoted to the game of "hearts." Miss Jessie McAlpine and Mr. Fred Chapman being the successful "pearers" of hearts, and therefore the successful winners of prizes, which were very beautiful and appropriate. Delicate refreshments were served, followed by dancing. The rooms were very prettily decorated for the occasion and the "heart" idea fully carried out.

Miss Howard was assisted in receiving and entertaining by Mrs. R. E. Kroh and Miss Barrett. The invited guests were:

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Kroh, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McPherson, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Melling, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Chapman, Judge and Mrs. O. L. Miller, Mrs. Nettie G. Downs; Misses Fannie Gilbert, Pearle Kroh, Charlotte Hutchins, Alice Wells, Ivy Todd, Laura Jost, Ida Jost, Jessie McAlpine, Lillie Mills, Adelaide Cornell, Louise Barrett, Grace Prowitt; Messrs.
