A MODERN SUFFERING.

The Want of Sleep a Most Trying Condition.

SURPRISE THAT THE BODY CAN STAND SUCH A STRAIN.

Nature's Sweet Restorer an Inestimable Boon.

To restore the nervous energy spent during the day and invigorate the whole system, a certain amount of sound, unbroken repose is necessary.

Sleep is absolutely essential for the preservation of mental and physical health, and the loss of it for a long time must sooner or later lead to serious results. Who has not at some period suffered the misery of a sleepless night, the tossing about, the long hours, the weary thinking and thinking, the vain endeavors to court the fickle goddess of sleep, and the tired feeling, the utter weariness of mind and body on the following day?

Sleeplessness is essentially a modern suffering, the outcome of this nineteenth century life of hurry, irregularity and competitive strife. Regularity of habits is an induce of sound and healthy sleep, provided the nervous system is in good condition. If there is deficiency in the blood and nervous system need to be strengthened and invigorated. Mrs. Emma Turner, of 256 Fifteenth street, New York city, was a victim of this disease, who had tried in every way to induce sleep without avail. At last she found the cure—natural sleep came to her, and with it health and strength again.

MRS. E. TURNER.

"I have been sick for two years," writes Mrs. Turner, "with nervous prostration, gastritis and spinal trouble. I was confined to the house a greater part of the time. I was troubled with insomnia also.

"After taking Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy for three months, I have entirely recovered my usual health and strength. I sleep well and eat well."

What a great change in Mrs. Turner's life came from the use of Dr. Greene's Nervura, the great blood and nerve remedy. Her nights of restless tossing and wakefulness gave place to calm, restful, delicious sleep under the strengthening and invigorating influence of this admirable medicine. It will do the same for you. Use it, and again sound sleep will be yours, and with it health and strength. This grand remedy is the discovery, after years of research, of Dr. Greene, of 35 West Fourteenth street, New York city, who may always be consulted, personally or by letter, free of charge.

PROFESSOR DYCHE'S CURIOS.

An Interesting Display in the Window of Emery, Bird, Thayer & Co.

One of the large Grand avenue windows of Emery, Bird, Thayer & Co. presents an interesting spectacle and is being observed by thousands of people. Yesterday the spacious window was fitted up with an exhaustless display of Arctic curios collected by Professor L. L. Dyche, of the Kansas state university. They will be used by the professor in his lectures at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock and tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. The collection is a representative and exceedingly interesting one, being composed largely of Indian garments made of skins, such as the Eskimo and Siberian Chukchis use to protect them from the cold. Besides these there are large numbers of photographs taken by Professor Dyche on his recent visit to the Arctic regions. Blankets, boots, moccasins, harpoons, sabers, etc., are exhibited in the same window together with furs and Arctic birds and animals.

Professor Dyche will deliver a brief address at the point where this morning at 11 o'clock he will deliver a lecture tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock and tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. Tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock he will deliver a lecture before especially invited guests of the Y. M. C. A. auditorium. Tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the same place he will deliver another lecture Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock and at 8 o'clock he will lecture in Kansas City, Kas.

CORONER BEDFORD NOT VEXED.

Michael J. Quinlan's Body Was Not Removed and Dr. Kuhn's Statement Deemed Sufficient.

With reference to the death of Michael J. Quinlan, who accidentally shot himself Wednesday morning, an evening paper published an article, in which it states that "Coroner Bedford refused this morning to approve the death certificate of Michael J. Quinlan, because he had not been notified of the death before the body was removed from the scene of death." The body has not yet been removed. Coroner Bedford was seen last night, and said: "I saw Dr. Kuhn this morning, and he told me that he was present at Mr. Quinlan's death, and talked with him before he died. I thought this statement was perfectly satisfactory, and did not take any further steps in the case. You may quote me as saying there is not a word of truth in the evening paper's statement."

The funeral services will be held at St. Patrick's church, Eighth and Cherry streets, at 9 o'clock this morning. The interment will be conducted by Father Glennon. The remains will be taken to Leavenworth at 10:30, where they will be interred.

IMMIGRATION DISCUSSED.

A Meeting to Form Plans for the Promotion of the Settlement of Indian Lands.

Representatives of the immigration bureaus of Kansas and Nebraska met yesterday afternoon in the Midland hotel with J. V. Moffett, of El Reno, O. T., president of the Oklahoma immigration bureau. The object of the meeting was to bring about the consolidation of the immigration bureaus of all the Western states, to promote harmony and do away with conflicts in the handling of the immigrant business. Another meeting will be held in this city on February 26, at which a permanent organization will be effected.

Mr. Moffett has done a great deal in the past in the way of inducing settlement of Oklahoma and expects to do much more in the future. He says that there are open for settlement in the Cheyenne and Arapahoe country 1,920,000 acres, and in the Cherokee strip, Leased, making a total of 2,320,000 acres. In the Kiowa, Comanche and Apache country and in the Chickasaw nation are 3,700,000 acres to be opened, of which bills have been passed by congress to open 2,000,000 acres.

A Bad Husband Put to Work.

When the case of Grant Bertram was called before Judge Jones yesterday morning the court humors grew somewhat more interested than usual at seeing his wife and daughter appear and loudly against him. The story told that Bertram little or naught would cut off his daughter's clothing and at other times sell the furniture for drink. Mrs. Bertram stated that she had brought three overcoats for her husband during the winter, but that he had sold them all. Bertram pleaded to be allowed to leave the city, but Judge Jones said:

"Nine hundred days in the workhouse."

Ungrateful to the Helping Hand.

When Rev. Shawhan, of the Helping Hand, arose Tuesday night and asked for response statements from anyone in the congregation, Frank Manning arose and proceeded to criticise the institution. He was invited to leave the meeting. He left, after again saying many unkind things about the Helping Hand. An officer followed him to a saloon at the corner of Fifteenth and Main and brought him to Central station. Judge Jones sent him to the workhouse for twenty days yesterday morning for disturbing a religious meeting.

A New Chef for the Midland.

Joseph Castagna, a noted chef of New York, landed in this city yesterday morning with his force of assistants, and tomorrow morning will assume charge of the kitchen of the Midland hotel. He will take the place of Henri Kaiser, who has been with the Midland for a long time, and who has gone to the Coronado hotel. Together with Castagna, who is chef of the Murray Hill and Plaza hotels, of New York, when they were opened, and has a high standing, M. Campana and Greg Sin, entire force of assistants, with him.

George Hoover, Insane and Missing.

Some time ago George Hoover was brought here from Zanesville, O., and placed in a private insane asylum at 1012 East Eighth street. He arose about 4 o'clock yesterday morning and escaped from the house. Hoover is 45 years old, with light hair and a quite bald head. He is very long-armed. It is thought that he may have started for California to look for a brother of whom he has been talking of late.

Death of John Quinlan.

John Quinlan, aged 61, and one of the oldest residents of Kansas City, died Wednesday in the Insanite for a few days, while attempting to move the body of a Wabash hot Monday, fell under it and contained severe injuries. The deceased lived at 2302 Lexington avenue, and his block East avenue. The funeral arrangements have not yet been completed, but the body will be buried in Mount St. Mary's cemetery on Friday.

Open Day and Night.

The Coates House Turkish baths are unsurpassed.

MINOR MENTION.

The regular meeting of the board of education will be held in the Public Library building this evening.

The first annual meeting of the stockholders of the Santa Fe Mining Company will be held at the Coates House January 27, at 8 p. m.

The police were notified yesterday that the cigar store of H. Switzer, 508 Main, was burglarized during the night before and $1 taken from the cash drawer.

Willard DeWeese, 22 years old, who is said to be mentally demented, wandered from his home, in Westport, yesterday. He was picked up. The police were notified to be on the lookout for him.

Receipts at the custom house yesterday were twenty pieces of Japanese goods from Kobe, Japan; five cases of earthenware and one of glassware from Bremen; two cases of brass and one of wooden and two cars of bullion.

There arrived in this city last night Special Harvey Halloway, of Portsmouth, Va. He will return to Nebraska to-day with George Ellis and William Smith, alias Gibson, now under arrest here charged with stealing harness in Nebraska.

A city garbage wagon, in charge of Thomas L. Houston, ran away yesterday morning and collided with a telegraph pole at the corner of Twelfth and Penn. Each of the two horses had two legs broken. Both animals were shot. It was not necessary to notify the residents of that section of the city of the collision.

During a fight in Sam Jordan's saloon yesterday afternoon, between William Tracy and Con Bell, the latter received an ugly knife wound in the left cheek, and Tracy, in addition to losing two teeth, was otherwise badly disfigured by Bell's fists. Both were brought to headquarters, their wounds dressed and afterwards locked up.

Some days ago the 2-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Meade, 825 Penn street, was stricken with a severe case of diphtheria. By the use of anti-toxine the child's life was saved. Within the last few days, however, the child's mother and grandmother have each developed a most pronounced case of diphtheria. This is considered rather extraordinary, as it is not usual for adults to contract the disease.

THE MILLMAN TRIAL ON.

HE IS CHARGED WITH POISONING A JUDGE OF ELECTION.

One of the Outcomes of the Notorious Election of 1894—Strong Evidence Against the ex-Legislator—Other Court News.

Charles A. Millman, ex-representative to the legislature from Jackson county, was placed on trial yesterday morning in the criminal court, charged with administering poison, mixed with bad whisky, to Firman D. Fenton, an election judge in the Forty-ninth precinct of the Ninth ward. The offense is alleged to have been committed on election day, November 6, 1894.

During the campaign Millman was a candidate for the office of justice of the peace against C. D. Withrow. The judges and clerks having charge of the booth in the Forty-ninth precinct, which was situated in a small paint shop on East Eighteenth street between Holmes and Charlotte streets, had been appointed by the designating board, of which Millman was a member. Fenton, however, failed, when put to the test, to stand by his teachings and, it is alleged, it was to get him out of the way that he was doped.

All day efforts were made by the gang members who were in charge of the Forty-ninth precinct, to change the result of the election and have Millman elected, but Fenton "balked," and it was seen that he must be taken care of. During the afternoon, the evidence showed yesterday, Millman purchased two ounces of morphine from a neighboring drug store, put it in two half-pint bottles of whisky and gave it to a friend to give to Fenton. There had been beer and whisky carried into the polling booth all day, of which the clerks, judges and gang workers had drunk their fill, and when Fenton was handed a small, insignificant bottle of whisky by Martin Welsh, he suspected nothing and, placing it to his lips, took a long draught. He passed the bottle to Welsh, but the latter promptly dropped it to the floor, breaking it into a thousand pieces, thus precluding any possibility of his having had to take a drink of the stuff.

Fenton had the other bottle in his pocket, but was told not to "spring" it until later in the day, when he would need it worse. Such instruction proved only too true, for when shortly before 6 o'clock Fenton took another drink from the bottle, he immediately felt the effects of it. It was not long until he had to be taken home in a wagon and the gang was left in full charge of the polls for the day.

Witnesses yesterday testified to having seen Millman about the polls considerably during the day and once or twice he was noticed in close conversation with Fenton. C. Beck said he knew both Fenton and Millman. Saw them together several times and also noticed Hayden with them. Said when he saw that Fenton was "fixed up" he went to him and tried to talk to him. Fenton was then lying across a bench in the back part of the building and said: "Let me alone; I feel dizzy." With that he got up and walked out of the room. This was the last seen of him about the polls, as he was taken home soon afterwards.

Fenton took the stand and told his story. He said he went to the polls about 6:15 without his breakfast. Did not get any thing to eat until noon. He had two drinks before dinner and several after. At dinner the judges and clerks drank a pail of beer. At 5:30 Martin Welsh handed him the bottle from which he took a big drink, but it made him sick and he threw it up. He did not remember being taken home, but was awakened about 9:30 by C. Beck and Welsh who asked him to resign the returns. He said Millman and Joe Shannon were both in the booth at different times.

On cross-examination Fenton could not be shaken in his statements and reiterated everything he had said in his direct examination. Said that Elmer E. Marshall, a Republican challenger, had told him on the morning of the election to watch out as somebody was going to be fixed before night.

Marshall was called and swore to about the same points given in by witnesses for the state. He said there was a good deal of drinking going on before the polls, but very little afternoon, and not any after Fenton was sent home, as the boys seemed to be suspicious. Joe Hayden was another witness for the state. Dr. Hanawalt and Dr. Waring, city health commissioner, testified as to the symptoms of morphine poisoning and the actions of people under such circumstances.

The case will be resumed to-day, and will no doubt be finished ready for the jury by to-night.

INVESTIGATION OF GAMBLING.

The Grand Jury Examined Many Witnesses Yesterday and Will Subpœna Others To-day.

The grand jury was busy yesterday examining witnesses with a view to obtaining enough evidence to return indictments against Ed Findley and others who are charged with running gambling houses. The jury before several writers and editors of the Star went before the jury in an attempt to establish the charges that have been made in their paper during the past two weeks.

Yesterday the grand jury, in the hope of getting at tangible evidence, had a number of witnesses before it, among whom were Chief of Police Speer, Lieutenant Hayes, Hyde, Evans, Gallagher, Marsh and Sullivan, Sergeant Casey, Police Judge J. H. Jones, Rev. J. L. Sewall and Thomas Jones, president of the Civic Federation. Thomas Jones, of the federation, said he could name the names of policemen who had told him they had gambled, and the places where and when they had done so. He was requested to submit to the grand jury that he submitted a number of names of people who will be subpœnaed to-day. Mr. Jones said the people named were willing to testify against the gambling houses owners, and there is a general feeling among the citizens of the city that on tonight or to-morrow night the grand jury will have returned true bills against several persons suspected of running gambling tables.

AN OLD CASE DISMISSED.

Charged John A. Wheeler With Seduction and Has Been in the Courts Twelve Years.

The seduction case in the criminal court against John A. Wheeler, manager of the Wheeler Coal and Lime Company, was dismissed yesterday. For twelve years this case has dragged through the criminal courts of Jackson county, and has been a very remarkable one in many respects. In 1883 Mr. Wheeler, then a fellow coal merchant of Kansas City, was arrested on complaint of Miss Nancy M. Wheeler, that he had accomplished her betrayal under promise of marriage. He was tried, found guilty and sentenced to the penitentiary for three years. The supreme court reversed the decision of the lower body and ordered a new trial for the prisoner.

The second trial resulted in Wheeler's being again convicted, but this time sentenced to jail for one year with a fine of $500. The late Judge Wofford, before whom the case had been tried, granted a new trial on motion of the defendant on a technicality. The third trial was before Special Judge Sandusky, of Clay county, who was appointed to try it, and resulted in a year's jail sentence for Wheeler and a fine of $500. The supreme court granted him another trial.

The case had now become a thoroughly tangled affair because of the bickerings of the attorneys for both sides, and Wheeler was never tried again. A change of venue had been taken by Wheeler from Independence to Kansas City. Special Judge Wood, on motion, sent the case to Clay county, but Judge Broaddus sent it back with the information that the change of venue from Independence to Kansas City precluded any other change of venue. Judge Wood ordered the case taken from the docket, and the prosecuting attorney put it back, and so it went from time to time until yesterday, when, having worn itself out in the courts, it was again dismissed.

It is said Mr. Wheeler has spent large sums of money fighting the case, and has always stoutly maintained that he was innocent of the charge against him. He was married a few years after the case was first instituted, and now has a large family.

Miss Wheeler sued Wheeler in the circuit court of this county and got a verdict for $2,000, but was never able to collect any part of it. She is now clerking in a store, and lives on East Eighteenth street.

IN THE CRIMINAL COURT.

Many Minor Cases Disposed of at Yesterday's Session.

Cases against William Brennon, John O'Donnell, Pearl Rogers, Eugene Morse, Frank Van Horn, Lee Rumble, Frank Johnson, James Nettleton, A. C. Whitman, all charged with burglary and larceny, were dismissed in the criminal court yesterday. In the majority of the cases the defendants are at present serving sentences for other crimes. In the cases of Johnson and Nettleton, two boys, there were no prosecuting witnesses to appear against them.

James Williams, who was charged with W. T. Martin, with robbing the Metropolitan Street Railway Company by means of a "brother-in-law," was discharged for want of prosecution. The case against D. E. Napper, charged with forgery, was also dismissed for want of prosecution. The crimes these men are charged with having committed were committed several years ago and they have all done time in the county jail. Enough in fact to expiate their crimes.

A. Dilick, of Lee's Summit, was discharged from a charge of selling liquor without a license and the case against A. J. Leison, who was indicted for obtaining money by fraud, was dismissed.

William Perry, for robbing the racket store on Main street last July, was sentenced to six months in the county jail.

WILL MAKE A TEST CASE.

How the Telephone Rate Situation Will Be Cleared Up.

It has been agreed between Special Counsel C. O. Tichenor and City Counselor McDougal to make an arrest of a Missouri and Kansas Telephone Company collector in order to begin a test suit against the company on the Bonnell tax ordinance. It was arranged yesterday to have J. M. Flater, a butcher in the city market, pay his bill and then have a warrant issued for the arrest of the collector. The bill was paid but the warrant was not served yesterday afternoon.

The County Court.

The county court held a session in Independence yesterday, granting a number of saloon licenses and auditing small accounts against the county. During the forenoon session Superintendent Brant, of the Kansas City workhouse, appeared before the court and wanted the county to take charge of August Elsner, who cannot speak English and is considered crazy. A year ago Elsner distinguished himself by breaking out window glass in a bank in Kansas City, and was sent to the works for a year. His term is nearly out. The county judges wanted the county to be shipped—they did not care where, just so it was out of the county. They took up the matter of buying poor farm supplies and ordered Superintendent Gentry to make his purchases in wholesale lots from wholesale houses.

Divorces Wanted.

Mrs. Susie Anderson, against whom suit for divorce was brought by James Anderson, filed an answer and cross-bill in Judge Scarritt's court yesterday. She denies his charges of infidelity and abuse, and charges him with practically the same offenses. They have two children.

Lillian Crawford, who sued Elmer Crawford for divorce, makes a plea for alimony in her cross-bill.

In the suit of Leander G. Self against Arla L. Self, the latter in her cross-petition charges her husband with drunkenness and abuse. She prays for alimony and the custody of their two children.

Berry and Beckley to Go to Jefferson City.

County Marshal Joe Rochdear will leave to-day for Jefferson City with "Dummy" Berry and John Beckley, convicted and sentenced each to twenty-five years in the penitentiary for the murder of T. W. Johnson, and Henry White, sentenced to four years in the state prison for burglary and grand larceny. Beckley pleaded guilty last week, and Berry, who is hardly out of his teens, was convicted by a jury last fall in the criminal court.

The case against D. A. Cameron, charged with obtaining money by false pretenses, was dismissed in Judge Henderson's court. The same disposition was made of a similar charge against H. L. Douglass, in Justice Ebert's court.

William Harris, ex-driver for the Railroad Transfer Company, who is now an employe of the Kansas City Brewing, and who was released in $500 bond Monday on a capias warrant issued in the criminal court, was yesterday released on $200 bond by Judge Wofford. The bond was signed by Harris' wife and M. R. Clay, a colored capitalist. His trial has been set for January 20.
