KANSAS CITY IS FAR AHEAD

HERS WAS THE ONLY POULTRY SHOW TO PAY PREMIUMS IN FULL.

The Exhibitors in Other Cities Had to Be Satisfied With From 10 to 60 Per Cent—Prospects for Next Year's Exhibit.

The managers of the Mid-Continental Poultry and Pet Stock Association have refused formal reports from all of the cities that claim to be the successor to the present association, and are obliged even the newspapers owing in large of the cities to show in order to realize on the money received from the sale of the tickets. The show held here last week was the only one of all the associations that paid its premiums in full. The Kansas City show was the only one that paid a premium every day, and was the only one that paid premiums in full to prize winners.

The show at St. Louis made the most formal report of any of the cities. It claims that it paid premiums in full. It claims that it paid premiums in full. In New York and Philadelphia the shows were given up to the Madison Square Garden people, who paid the premiums in full. The show in Atlanta, Ga., is said to have paid premiums in full. In Chicago the show was given up to the Madison Square Garden people, who paid the premiums in full. In Kansas City the show was given up to the Madison Square Garden people, who paid the premiums in full.

The show in St. Louis made the most formal report of any of the cities. It claims that it paid premiums in full. It claims that it paid premiums in full. In New York and Philadelphia the shows were given up to the Madison Square Garden people, who paid the premiums in full. In Atlanta, Ga., the show was given up to the Madison Square Garden people, who paid the premiums in full. In Chicago the show was given up to the Madison Square Garden people, who paid the premiums in full. In Kansas City the show was given up to the Madison Square Garden people, who paid the premiums in full.

Last year, with the work so far ahead, it is necessary, it seems, to have a special report on the show. It was not so much of a success as it might have been, and it was one of the poorest shows ever held in Kansas City. The management in charge of the show was not to blame for the poor showing, but it was due to the fact that the show was held in the middle of the winter, and it was not advertised as it should have been. The show was held in the middle of the winter, and it was not advertised as it should have been. The show was held in the middle of the winter, and it was not advertised as it should have been. The