

THURSDAY MORNING, September 22nd, 1875.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—The poetical contribution, "Ad Imprudentes," has been received, but we have not yet had time to examine it. If accepted, it will be published in our next.

THE BALTIMORE REFORM PARTY.—The Reform party in Baltimore and the Potato Bug affair, there and elsewhere, unless we are imposed upon, are essentially different concerns. The main animus of the first appears to be, to purify and elevate the person of Baltimore representatives in the Legislature and in the City Council. The latter is unmitigated Know-Nothingism and nothing else. It is within our personal knowledge, that many who favor the first named movement are without the slightest sympathy with the latter. That S. Teackle Wallis should have turned proscriptionist in his old age—that a paper like the Sun should have colluded with a secret, cath-lound order like the Potato Bug—is so counter to all rational probability, that we scout the accusation with contempt and shall continue to so treat it until Mr. Wallis and the Sun shall have put themselves upon the record to the contrary. Certainly, up to this writing, nothing has appeared in the Sun, with editorial sanction, nor has there been any authoritative expression from Mr. Wallis, to justify the idea that either has had or intends to have lot or part with the sneaking and un-American faction which calls itself Potato Bug. We merely name Mr. Wallis and the Sun as exempli gratia.—There are thousands of others, we are confident, connected with the Baltimore Reform movement, who have the same contempt for bigotry and bigotry which we have supposed the Sun and Mr. Wallis to entertain. Treating, therefore, the Baltimore Reform Party as an independent and purely legislative and municipal movement, the question presents itself, is it deserving of good men's approval? Have incompetent or corrupt politicians, by log-rolling and unfair ring combinations, been foisted upon the Legislative and municipal tickets of our party in Baltimore? This has first to be established before any man claiming to be a democrat and a party man, can exonerate himself from the obligation of sustaining the party nominees. Knowing, of our own knowledge, nothing of the character and standing of these nominees or the ways and means by which they were nominated, we have no opinion to express in this connection, but this we say, if the facts are as alleged and the Reform movement is limited to the objects we have supposed it to be, then has the Democratic party laid itself open to rebuke in Baltimore to the extent of its improper nominations, and to this extent we hope it will receive it.

THE NEW PARTY MOVEMENT.—The last Gazette, speaking of the latest developments of the New Party Movement, says, that the Potato Bug, Radicals and Merchants Reformers have made up a State Ticket, consisting of J. Morrison Harris, for Governor; S. Teackle Wallis, for Attorney-General, and Edwin Wilkins, of Queen Anne's, for Comptroller. The Gazette positively asserts, that Mr. Wallis, who is now in New York under medical treatment, has accepted the candidacy offered him, and has written a letter to his friends in Baltimore city, giving his reasons for accepting, and also another letter which has been composed for reading at the public meeting of the composite party, to be held next week in Monument Square. This last letter, the Gazette goes on to say, is quite lengthy and gives Mr. Wallis' reasons for joining the New Party. Of Mr. Wilkins, we "know nothing," good, bad or indifferent, except that he is at present keeping disgracefully bad company; and of Mr. Morrison Harris, though knowing of him for many years, we have never heard any good of him, and we well remember him as the head-centre among Know-Nothingism as long as Know-Nothingism would pay. Mr. Wallis, however, is a different manner of man from either of these, and the Gazette must excuse us if we still insist, that there is some mistake—to call it by no harsher name—in the imputation, that Mr. Wallis has deserted in his old age his old principles and his old friends.

THE LATE BALTIMORE MASS MEETING.—In the opinion of all sober-minded people the late democratic demonstration in Monument Square, Baltimore, forecasts the election of our next State Ticket, with that of Mr. Latrobe, candidate for Mayor, beyond all reasonable peradventure. From some cause or from no cause, the democrats of Baltimore have allowed themselves to get in very ugly temper, and the real danger is, that while in this mood and before cooling time, they may elect too much and again shame themselves by selecting unfit men to represent them in the State Legislature and their City Council. That unfit men for both positions have been nominated by the party in Baltimore is now conceded on all corners.

LAND SALES.—J. Frank Bohannan sold at Trustee's Sale on Tuesday last the homestead of the late Benedict Magill, containing 460 acres of land, for $2625. Purchaser, Benedict Bond. Robt. C. Combs sold at Trustee's Sale a tract of land in the sixth election district, the property of the late Matthew Stone, containing 100 acres of land, for $300.—Purchaser, Mrs. Wm. Henry Guy. B. H. Canahler sold at Trustee's Sale a tract of land, located in the 6th election district, formerly belonging to Mrs. Priscilla Evans, containing one hundred acres, for $450. Purchasers, Enoch R. Evans and Joseph E. Evans. J. T. M. Riley, sold as executor of George H. Morgan, a portion of the real estate of deceased, containing about 100 acres, for $2000. Uriah Johnson, purchaser.

THE CONCERT.—The entertainment, at the Society's Hall on Tuesday night last, was largely attended, and the musical and dramatic deliveries were of the highest order of merit and were applauded to the echo. This is all we have time now to say or space to put it in, but we have been promised a detailed account for publication in our next and shall reserve in advance the necessary space.

MAMMOTH PEARS.—Our friend, J. Thomas Abell, of Newtown Manor, left at our office on Tuesday last three mammoth pears, the largest of which weighed a pound and three ounces, the average being a pound each. Upon the estate occupied by Mr. Abell, there are 2500 dwarf and standard pear trees now in vigorous growth, all of improved varieties. Upon the different farms which comprise the Manor there are 8,000.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.—There will be a Teachers' Institute held in Leonardtown on the 7th, 8th and 9th of October.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.—The September Term of our Circuit Court began on Monday last, His Honor, Judge Ford, on the Bench. After the calling of the Grand Jury, His Honor delivered an able charge. The Dockets were then called, etc. 15 Grand and 20 Petit Jurors answered to their names.

Tuesday, 21st. The Court met, full Bench in attendance. Judges Brent and Magruder arrived in the Steamer Sun this morning, both looking hale and hearty. The Appeal Docket was then taken up and trials proceeded with.

Combs vs. Garner. Appeal from Justice Fowler. Submitted to Court.—Judgment reversed and judgment for appellant. Willson for Appellant.—Key for Appellee.

Guyther vs. Marshall. Appeal from Justice Dent. Submitted to Court.—Judgment reversed and judgment for appellee, etc. Willson for appellant.—Combs for appellee.

Bohanan vs. Gourley & Jackson. Appeal from Justice Thomas. Submitted to Court. Judgment affirmed. Crane for appellant. Crane for appellee.

The case of State vs. John A. Partridge. Indicted for obstructing the public highway, etc., was taken up on a motion to quash the indictment. Motion sustained. Indictment quashed and Traverser discharged. Crane for State. Camalier for defence.

Up to present writing, no other case of public interest has engaged the attention of the Court.

MR. CARROLL'S VISIT TO OUR COUNTY.—We owe an explanation to our readers for making the announcement in our last, that Hon. John Lee Carroll, the democratic candidate for Governor, would visit Leonardtown on the 21st and address his fellow-citizens at the Court House. This announcement was predicated upon the statement of a gentleman then just returned from Baltimore, that Mr. Carroll would be prompt to time and place, and upon this hint we spoke, being desirous to give as much publicity to the fact, if it were a fact, as possible. The reader will notice that we spoke of Mr. Carroll's coming as a "report." We speak by the "word" now, when we announce, that Mr. Carroll, with others of our State Ticket, will be in Leonardtown on Tuesday, the 12th of October coming. We expect a monster greeting.

THE BEAUTIFUL MARRIAGE SERVICE OF THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH WAS PERFORMED WITH INFINITE GRACE AND SOLEMNITY, BY REV. MR. TALBOT, PASTOR OF THE CHURCH AT DURHAM. "The silver link, the silken tie," now bind their hearts and lives forever. The music again thrilled attending ears with its delicious swell as the wedded pair left the sacred edifice.

A DELIGHTFUL RECEPTION WAS HELD AT THE RESIDENCE OF MR. RICHARDSON, when the friends were hospitably entertained and farewells to the bride and bridegroom, who left at 6 P. M., for a tour through the White Mountains and other points of interest, followed by the prayers of all present for their bon voyage over "life's tremulous ocean."

THE PROCESSION RECEIVED BY THE BRIDE WERE NUMEROUS AND OF UNUSUAL ELEGANCE AND TASTE, each one being an expression of genuine interest in the fair recipient.

IF ANY CASHIER, servant, agent or clerk, or any person employed for the purpose or in the capacity of cashier, servant, agent or clerk in any person or to any body corporate, shall, by virtue of such employment, receive or take into his possession any money, goods, bill, note, bond, check, evidence of debt or other valuable security or effects, for, and in the name, or on account of his employer, and shall fraudulently embezzle, secrete or make away with the same, or any part thereof, he shall be deemed guilty of having feloniously stolen the same from his employer, for whose use or in whose name, or on whose account or to the use of, or were delivered to or taken into the possession of such cashier, servant, clerk, or person employed, although such other money, goods, bill, bond, note, check, evidence of debt or other valuable security or effects was or were not otherwise received into the possession of such employer, than by the actual possession of his cashier, servant or clerk, or other person so employed; and every such offender, his adviser, aider, procurer or abettor shall, on conviction thereof, be sentenced to the penitentiary for not less than five nor more than fifteen years.

AGAIN.—Maryland Code, supplement 1861-'67, sec. 52: "If any money or security for the payment of money shall be intrusted to any banker, broker, merchant, attorney or other agent with any direction in writing to apply such money or any part thereof, or the proceeds or any part of the proceeds of such security for any purpose specified in such direction, and be shall in violation of good faith and contrary to the purpose so specified, in anywise convert to his own use or benefit such money, security or proceeds, or any part thereof respectively, every such offender shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, being convicted thereof, shall be imprisoned in the penitentiary for a term of not more than ten years or less than three years, and be fined not more than five thousand nor less than one thousand dollars; and if any chattel or valuable security, or any power of attorney for the sale or transfer of any share or interest, in any stock of this or any other State or of the United States, or any foreign State, or in any funds or capital stock of any body corporate, company or society, shall be entrusted to any banker, broker, merchant, attorney, or other agent for safe custody, or for any special purpose without any authority, to sell, negotiate, transfer or pledge, and be shall in violation of good faith and contrary to the object or purpose for which such chattel or security, or power of attorney shall have been entrusted to him, sell, negotiate, transfer, pledge,

WANT OF SPACE prevented us from noticing in our last issue the marriage of our young brother, the Rev. J. H. Wilson, Editor of the Marlboro' Gazette, to Miss MARY E. RICHARDSON, of Durham, Hampshire. The interesting event came off at Durham, Sept. 1st, and the last heard of the young couple they were wandering in the Northern mountains "happy as the day is long." A correspondent, writing to the Gazette, and describing the happy occasion, speaks as follows: "The lady has many warm and devoted friends in the community, and is greatly beloved and admired for her womanly graces, generous nature, and cultured mind; while Mr. WILSON has won the admiration of all, by his manly bearing and fine qualities of head and heart."

"The day was cloudless and fair—a bridal of the Earth and Sky." The pretty church was decked by loving hands, in a most artistic manner, with floral arches, wreaths, bouquets and stands of brilliant flowers and tracery of graceful, trailing vines—converting the simple chapel into a temple of fairy-like beauty, in which the lovely bride should stand, to plight her troth to the man of her choice.

"All seemed to feel the exquisite sentiment so sweetly expressed by Mrs. Heman's: "She is leaving the home of her childhood's birth, Her place is now by another side; Bright flowers, bright flowers, for the fair young bride."

"And since 'Flowers are lovely, and Love is flower-like,' it was fitting that a wealth of them should surround this nuptial scene.

"At the appointed hour the church was filled with an elegant assemblage of ladies and gentlemen in brave attire, many coming from Boston, Dover, Washington and elsewhere, to witness the interesting ceremony. As the bride and groom entered the church, escorted by the family, friends and the hand-some ushers, Mr. Forest Smith and Mr. Harry B. Smith the organ, under the masterful touch of Mr. Mellen, pealed forth the grand, glad tones of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, which rang out upon the sunny air, with a new inspiration, accompanying their graceful progress up the aisle.

"The beautiful, impressive marriage service of the Episcopal church was performed with infinite grace and solemnity, by Rev. Mr. Talbot, Pastor of the church at Durham. "The silver link, the silken tie," now bind their hearts and lives forever. The music again thrilled attending ears with its delicious swell as the wedded pair left the sacred edifice.

Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine for September, 1875, published by the Leonard Scott Publishing Co., 41 Barclay Street, contains as follows: 1. "The Dilemma." Part V. With plans of the Mustaphah Residency. 2. "My Study Chair." 3. "A Night's Adventure." 4. "In a Studio." Conversation No. III. 5. "Tennessee's Queen Mary." 6. "Horatian Lyrics." 7. Lessons from the Recent Summer Manoeuvres.

This number is largely devoted to poetry.—Tennessee's "Queen Mary" comes in for a long review, with many quotations, and a dissertation on "Elegiacs" occupying over twenty pages, gives examples from numerous poets. The pictures printed by the Leonard Scott Publishing Co. (41 Barclay Street, N. Y.) are as follows: The London Quarterly, Edinburgh, Westminster, and British Quarterly Reviews, and Blackwood's Magazine. Price $4 a year for any one, or only $15 for all, and the Postage is prepaid by the Publishers.

Peterson's Ladies Magazine for October is a most brilliant number. The frontispiece is a most exquisite steel engraving, representing "Psyche" a beautiful female figure, holding a mirror. The colored cover, in plate represents the latest Parisian mode of fall and winter styles, and is gotten up in the biggest style of the art. There is also a beautiful lady pattern, representing two figures of peculiar type, on Java canvas. There are also numerous other patterns of different styles and designs, beside the novelities, poetry, and miscellaneous reading. Address: C. J. Peterson, No. 206 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

IN COMMUNICATION.—In your issue of the 15th inst. we saw your communication on the "New Party Movement" in Baltimore. My object in writing you is simply to answer one question propounded by your writer, not for the purpose of connecting himself with you upon the main subject of his letter, viz.—the necessity for a democratic unito in the nominations of the Baltimore Convention. In this I fully agree with you. To do otherwise would be to encourage the success of the democratic party in the present and weaken its energy in the momentous contest of '76 upon the issue of which "hangs the life of all men that have liberty."

The high personal character of our standard-bearers as yet unimpaired by any one so far as I know, should be a sufficient guarantee to democrats, alike the wishes of the ring to the contrary or the faithful and impartial performance of their various duties if elected, which I hope and believe they will be by handsome majorities on the 2nd of November next. Now for the questions of "A Democrat" and its answer. "Surprised (says he) am I to see the name of S. Teackle Wallis connected with this movement. It was only necessary for him to express a hint for a moment on the subject, and he would have been a member of the Convention. I believe, Messrs. Editors, that in the Winter of '74 it was stated and believed that the friends of Mr. Wallis sought for him a seat in the U. S. Senate, a position he would have honored, and that the immaculate Wm. Pinkney Whyte, then Governor of Maryland, and then and now recognized as King of the ring, could and did succeed in securing him at the annual convention of Annapolis. And I would further state, that in the dark and bloody days of the rebellion, when faithful servants to the State was rewarded with bars and chains, that Mr. Wallis encountered no such formidable opposition. According to popular report, the future Governor and Senator was about that time yacating on the Rhine, and his subalterns had not then emerged from those security to which all good democrats hope they will soon be content to return, as return they must, or democratic ascendancy in the State, go down in ignominious defeat. I fear, before many more years shall have come and gone.

I might answer another question, Messrs. Editors, were the time more propitious, but I feel that such discussion can be of no good to the cause we are both equally zealous. I hope, in a solidifying. In conclusion—no democrat in voling himself to the support of the nominees of the Baltimore Convention! For sake of the success which is ours in '76, if we but stand united, let us "rather bear those ills we have than fly to others we know not of."

BREACH OF TRUST.—The Board of Trade of Baltimore city have had under consideration the proposition to inquire into and report upon the expediency of petitioning the next Legislature of this State to enact such laws as will make Breach of Trust subject to the same penalties as larceny. Subsequently, the Committee reported and says that it finds the existing law in Maryland to consist of the following statutes:—Md. Code, Art. 30, sec. 49.

"If any cashier, servant, agent or clerk, or any person employed for the purpose or in the capacity of cashier, servant, agent or clerk in any person or to any body corporate, shall, by virtue of such employment, receive or take into his possession any money, goods, bill, note, bond, check, evidence of debt or other valuable security or effects, for, and in the name, or on account of his employer, and shall fraudulently embezzle, secrete or make away with the same, or any part thereof, he shall be deemed guilty of having feloniously stolen the same from his employer, for whose use or in whose name, or on whose account or to the use of, or were delivered to or taken into the possession of such cashier, servant, clerk, or person employed, although such other money, goods, bill, bond, note, check, evidence of debt or other valuable security or effects was or were not otherwise received into the possession of such employer, than by the actual possession of his cashier, servant or clerk, or other person so employed; and every such offender, his adviser, aider, procurer or abettor shall, on conviction thereof, be sentenced to the penitentiary for not less than five nor more than fifteen years.

AGAIN.—Maryland Code, supplement 1861-'67, sec. 52: "If any money or security for the payment of money shall be intrusted to any banker, broker, merchant, attorney or other agent with any direction in writing to apply such money or any part thereof, or the proceeds or any part of the proceeds of such security for any purpose specified in such direction, and be shall in violation of good faith and contrary to the purpose so specified, in anywise convert to his own use or benefit such money, security or proceeds, or any part thereof respectively, every such offender shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, being convicted thereof, shall be imprisoned in the penitentiary for a term of not more than ten years or less than three years, and be fined not more than five thousand nor less than one thousand dollars; and if any chattel or valuable security, or any power of attorney for the sale or transfer of any share or interest, in any stock of this or any other State or of the United States, or any foreign State, or in any funds or capital stock of any body corporate, company or society, shall be entrusted to any banker, broker, merchant, attorney, or other agent for safe custody, or for any special purpose without any authority, to sell, negotiate, transfer or pledge, and be shall in violation of good faith and contrary to the object or purpose for which such chattel or security, or power of attorney shall have been entrusted to him, sell, negotiate, transfer, pledge,

THE OCTOBER NUMBER OF THE SCIENCE OF HEALTH, and will give the best recommendation of all candid readers for the variety, excellence and timely character of its contents. The first article, "The Science of Health," furnishes much practical advice which might be deemed a somewhat orthodox text. The first installment of "What I know about Doctrines" reveals certain of the under-workings of medical practice, which are as true as any publication is applicable to the parties chief in interest. "Pulsing the Veils of Life," "Sanitary Influence of Atmospheric Conditions," "Shall we use Phlebotomy?" "Oats and Oatmeal;" "A Hygienic Dwelling;" with plans; "The Park and the People;" "Temperature and Health in Shading;" are among other articles of much interest. The single number is worth a year's subscription. Price 20 cts.; 2 a year, $4. Address, S. R. Wells & Co., 157 Broadway, N. Y.

DIED.—On the 25th of August, ult. Mrs. LEAH A. WHEELER, in the 58th year of her age. I know thou art gone to the home of thy rest, Then why should my soul be so sad; I know thou art gone where the weary are blest, And the mourner looks up and is glad. In my far away home where'er it may be, I know thou hast visions of mine, And my heart sends recollections of thine and of thee. In my a token and sign.

Died, at the residence of her son, Jos. H. Alvey, in Marlboro' Hall district, on the 16th instant, Mrs. MARY ALVEY, relict of John Alvey, in the 92nd year of her age.
