Charged With Breach of Trust.

L. M. Burton, a negro preacher, was arrested in Laurens county on Monday and brought to Neyberry, charged with breach of trust with fraudulent intent. The warrant for Burton's arrest, charging him with converting to his own use $63 which should have been applied as part payment on a note of the Mt. Zion colored Baptist church, held by the Naitonal bank of Newberry, was placed in Sheriff Buford's hands some time ago. Burton for some time past has been living in Abbeville. Learning that he would preach at Wateree church, at Mountville, on last Sunday, Sheriff Buford sent the warrant to that place and had Burton arrested before he left on Monday. Deputy Sheriff Pope L. Buford went to Mountville and brought Burton to Newberry.

Beautiful for Situation.

We had occasion to be in Newberry, S. C., last week. In passing the A. R. P. church, we could not help admire the beautiful situation and the elegant church building. The church is situated on one of the most beautiful residence streets of the town. The friends in Newberry have a right to be proud of their church, and one may add, their pastor.—Associate Reformed Presbyterian, Dec. 16th.

County Farmers Union.

The regular meeting of the County Farmers Union will be held the first Saturday in January, 1909.

J. B. O'Neall Holloway,
Secretary.

Preaching at Cannon Creek.

There will be preaching at Cannon Creek church on Sabbath afternoon at 3 o'clock by the Rev. D. G. Phillips.

STREET PAVING.

The Laying of Vitrified Brick in Caldwell Street to be Extended To the Postoffice.

At the meeting of city council on Wednesday night it was decided to extend the street paving in Caldwell street to the post office. Under the original contract, the paving went only to the north side of Friend street. Under the action of city council on Wednesday night, the paving will cross Friend street, going to the south side, and extending to the post office building.

This action of city council means a good street for one of the most important thoroughfares in the city—from Main street to the post office. City council is alive to the needs of Newberry, and this additional contract which has been awarded the Southern Construction company, now laying vitrified brick in Newberry, will meet with the hearty endorsement and commendation of all citizens who have at heart the city's material progress and advancement.

THE BARACA CLASS.

Election of Officers—Class in Excellent Shape—An Oyster Supper.

The Baraca class of the First Baptist church held their regular monthly business meeting on Tuesday evening, December 15th, at the home of the Rev. George A. Wright, in Caldwell street. The purpose of this meeting was to elect new officers for the class for thenext six months. Those elected were: R. M. Werts, president; Dr. J. A. Meldau, vice-president; W. H. Anderson, secretary; R. C. Leavell, assistant secretary; J. H. West, treasurer; Mrs. J. H. West, teacher; J. W. Taylor, assistant teacher; F. M. Grady, press reporter.

All retiring officers gave in their reports for the time they were in office. The president was pleased with these reports, as they showed remarkable progress. The Baraca class here is ahead of the Clinton Baraca class in every count, in the race for the largest class.

After all business was transacted, the president announced that "An oyseter hunt" was on. All went to the dining room where tables were set for about 30 people. Miss Lucy Wright, charmingly waited on the tables. No oyster supper ever given was enjoyed more than this. All the boys went away better pleased with Baraca work than ever before. Slowly but surely this class of young men is forging to the front, standing by each other and by the Bible. Any young man can join this class and find a welcome.

Sacred Cantata Postponed.

The sacred cantata which was to have been given on the night of December 22, in Central Methodist church, in which Dr. and Mrs. Thomas and other talented singers were to take part, has necessarily been postponed until after Christmas.

THIRTIETH ANNIVERSARY.

Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of Central Church Oldest Woman's Society in South.

On Wednesday evening, in Central Methodist church, the thirtieth anniversary of the Woman's Missionary society was celebrated.

There was a small but appreciative audience present and the service was entered into with much enthusiasm. There was a full choir present, with the exception of the organist, and the singing was good. Mrs. Frank Davenport presided at the piano, in the absence of Mrs. Burr Martin.

The address of the evening was made by Mrs. J. W. Humbert, who in her enthusiastic manner gave an interesting account of the organization of this wonderful movement among the women of the South, and presented much valuable data. She said that the Woman's Foreign Missionary society, of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, was preeminently the leader of all women's societies in the Southland. As is recognized now, there are more of these organizations and societies than can well be supported, yet Wednesday night was only the thirtieth birthday of the first one. Mrs. Humbert told of this first organization, how that after the officers had been elected the women could not speak until the men had retired. She also read the roll of the members of this first society, and many of the name were familiar to those present on Wednesday night; and many are now numbered among the sainted dead, the very calling of their names bringing up precious memories. Thirty years is a long time, and as Dr. Wolling remarked in his short talk, "it mows down a generation."

Besides being the first woman's organization in the State, it perhaps has done more from a financial standpoint than any other. Thousands of dollars have passed through the hands of the treasurer, and many missionaries in many fields have been supported by them. Truly in the great "reckoning up" the women will not be found wanting, for they have done much in carrying the "red stained banner of the cross" unto the uttermost parts of the earth.

It should not be a matter of indifference to the citizens of this city that Newbery has the distinction of being the birthplace of the first woman's society in the State; and the women of this organization should not be unmindful that they have as a heritage the honor of being not only members of the first organization in the State, but also of being the oldest, yea the leader of all women's societies in the South.

Death of Mrs. Mary Bishop Smith.

Mrs. Mary Bishop Smith, wife of Mr. W. E. Smith, died on Tuesday, December, 15, at the home of her father, in this city, after a long period of intense suffering.

Mrs. Smith was the daughter of Mr. Clinton W. and Mrs. Christian Meredith Bishop. She was born in Newberry a little over thirty-two years ago. Until her marriage she lived in this city, where she was loved and esteemed by those who knew her.

On September 16, 1895, she was married to Mr. W. E. Smith. For a few years they resided in Orangeburg, and then removed to Columbia, which has been their home since.

Mrs. Smith has been seriously ill for several weeks, and often during this time her life was despaired of, but for a long time she held on with such strong determination and brave endeavor that death was warded off for a little while.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Smith leaves two little children, the oldest a little girl about nine or ten years old, and a little boy about six years old. An infant preceded the mother to rest some few weeks ago. The children will be taken to the home of their uncle, Mr. George W. Bishop, who lives in Columbia, and will there make their home for the present.

Much sympathy is felt for the heart broken husband, the little motherless children, the father, and the other relatives of Mrs. Smith. She lived a beautiful life, and has gone to her eternal reward trusting confidently in her Savior.

The funeral exercises were held at Central Methodist church yesterday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock, the services conducted by Dr. Wolling, who is a relative of Mrs. Smith's family. The body was buried at Rosemont cemetery.

Silver Street Lutheran Church.

The Sunday school of the Silver Street Lutheran congregation will meet next Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. At 3.30 there will be service conducted by Rev. S. P. Koon. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

THE MAYOR'S SALARY.

City Council on Wednesday Night Increased it From $400 to $600 Per Annum.

At the meeting of city council on Wednesday night it was decided to increase the salary of the mayor from four hundred dollars to six hundred dollars per year. The salary of Newberry's mayor has been too small for a number of years, and this action of council is a step in the right direction, putting Newberry on a par with other cities of similar size in this section of the State.

Immediately after the service there will be a meeting of the congregation for the purpose of adopting a constitution and electing officers.

Beginning promptly at 6 p. m. the Sunday school will render a service consisting mostly of songs. Three of these will be by the primary department of the school. Dr. Roy Z. Thomas will make an address at this service.

Moving Pictures.

The Rockefeller Amusement company, which has charge of the Lyric theatre in Columbia, last night opened a moving picture show in Newberry, in the building in Main street, formerly occupied by the Golden-Murray Co. The theatre will be known as the "Lyric," and will be in charge of Mr. Kalletski. The program which will be changed daily, will include the best moving pictures and illustrated songs.

The "Lyric" in Columbia has been very successful, and it is hoped that the "Lyric" in Newberry will meet with equal success. The admission is only five cents.

"A KNIGHT FOR A DAY."

An Extraordinary Musical Attraction to Appear at Newberry Opera House, January 27.

To those who follow things theatrical the fact that the big musical gaiety, "A Knight For a Day" came to New York direct from its phenomenal success of 607 performances in Chicago and immediately gained favor with the patrons of the theatre in the eastern metropolis to such an extent that it continued at Wallack's for six months to capacity business will doubtless be ample proof of its legitimate claim to the most tuneful score, the cleverest book and the most delightful lyrics of any musical piece in the past decade. It went from Wallack's in the latter part of June last to the Tremont in Boston and continued there for the entire summer and up to September these three cities were the only ones afforded an opportunity of witnessing it.

The initial presentation was made under the direction of B. C. Whitney who still stands sponsor for it and the statement that it is credited with excelling in perfectness of scene equipment, electric novelties and richness of costumes and production previously made by this well-known producer of musical plays will mean a great deal more to those who are familiar with his lavishness in this regard than mere idle boast.

Like all the other Whitney productions the ensembles, dances, and chorus evolutions have been devised by Gus Sohlke whose cleverness in his particular line has won for him the name of the "Wizard." Dr. Sohlke is said to be one of the fed directors of musical productions who can produce season after season and still never duplicate any of his clever work. Each number he puts on is said to be in a class entirely by itself and he is said to have given this his latest effort several novelties which will be a surprise to even those who are thoroughly familiar with his work.

"A Knight For a Day" will be seen at the Newberry Opera House January 27th. A company of 70 people. A chorus of 50.

Cannon-Adams.

In the last issue of The Herald and News there was a clipping from the Rock Hill Record concerning the marriage of Mr. R. S. Cannon. The following is from the Gastonia News:

"Last Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock, at the home of the bride, Miss Lida Adams became the bride of Mr. R. S. Cannon, of Rock Hill. The ceremony being performed by the bride's pastor, Dr. J. C. Galloway. The home was beautifully decorated with palms and potted plants.

Miss Pauline Orr sang "Because" and at the appointed hour, to the strains of Mendelsshon's wedding march played by Miss Ida Pursley accompanied by Miss Jane Morris on the violin, the bride entered the parlor on the arm of her brother Mr. Willie Hope Adams. The groom was accompanied by his brother Mr. C. H. Cannon.

"Those receiving in the parlor were Mesdames Leon Adams, E. W. Gilliam and Thomas Powers. Miss Laura Hanson received in the dining room. Those in the hall were Misses Rebecca Adams Nell and Pauline Orr, Laura Page, Ethel Gray and Mrs. Andrew E. Moore.

"A number of out-of-town guests were present."
