FOUR WERE ENDORSED

Charitable Institutions of the City Are Given Permission to Solicit Funds for Their Needs.

A special report was issued Saturday afternoon by the Charities Endorsement board appointed some months ago to investigate the various charitable institutions of the city and cards of endorsement were issued to those institutions which were deemed worthy. It was feared that the people of the city were being imposed upon be unscrupulous persons who were diverting funds subscribed in the name of some more or less fictitious organization to their own use.

The institutions granted the approval of the board were the Young Women's Christian association, the United Provident association, the Sunbeam Home association and the Oklahoma Orphanage, the latter on a six months' probation. While the Young Women's Christian association is not primarily a charitable institution, it is engaged in the work to some degree and is recognized by the board. Any one from whom funds are solicited is allowed to ask to see the card of authorization before making subscriptions.

The board as appointed by the chamber of commerce consists of Dr. Phil C. Baird, pastor of the First Presbyterian church; president; Dr. S. R. Cunningham, vice president; F. A. Whitten, secretary of the Retailers' association, secretary, and R. M. Campbell, counsel.

TELLS HOW TO BE A CHRISTIAN

Doctor Chase Preached Sermon on Most Important Subject Last Night.

ARE OTHERS AFRAID OF IT?

Dr. Roluf A. Chase, pastor of the First Methodist church took for his subject last night "How to Become a Christian." Dr. Chase said in part:

"I shall take as my text the words of the Phillipian jailer who rushed in to Peter and Silas and exclaimed: 'What shall I do to be saved?' The answer was 'Believe and be baptized.' For another text I shall take Luke 10:25-27: 'And behold, a certain lawyer stood up and tempted him, saying 'Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?' He said unto him 'What is written in the law? How readest thou?' And he answering said, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind and thy neighbor as thyself.'

"The young man came to Jesus and said: 'What shall I do to inherit eternal life?' That is the great question. I do not wonder that men seek for an answer, that they strive for a solution of this question, but I am wondering how a brother minister could have employed such a form of teaching as to be misquoted to that extent. I know now pretty well all the ministers of Oklahoma City and I know that all of them are willing to try to answer that question. I can not think of any so afraid of his job that he would shun so great a point.

"There are those today so controversial as to get away from real Christianity. There is over the waters now a man who has his battles on and who is getting extremely pious. He is talking much about God and saying that with God his efforts will prevail. There are many who are becoming much amused at this man, and many are openly scoffing. Religion is not greatly promoted by controversial methods. Religion is a greater matter than our disagreements. Take the text 'Arise and Be Baptized and Thou Shalt Be Saved.' There is a text, and there are many others, that seem to emphasize baptism in order to be saved. I have been going through the New Testament and I am surprised that there is not more emphasis on baptism. I can hardly understand, though, how there can be any controversy on the subject. True Christianity does not consist in forms and ceremonies. The moment you lay emphasis on form you take on Romanism. Whether I have one sacrifice or seven, as the Jews have, makes no difference in the religion of Jesus Christ.

"You cannot make formulas for an answer to the question, 'What shall I do to be saved?' The great question is one of faith, of hope and of love. You cannot prescribe a formula because there has to be a recreation of the heart. With different persons this recreation will be brought about by different means. The spirit must be wakened to a life of love. There is much emphasis placed on the baptism of Jesus. The cardinal thing about the baptism of Jesus is that it is symbolic of that which is to come. John says 'I baptize with water, but he shall baptize with the Holy Ghost and with fire.' You can't have baptism at all unless it symbolizes the baptism of the spirit of God.

Confirms Many Beliefs.

"Take the case of Peter when Cornelius came to be baptized. Peter raised the question 'Can any forbid water, that these should be baptized which have received the Holy Ghost?' They received the initial rite, but not as in Masonry, or in Odd Fellowship, for these in themselves make men no better. There must be the spirit and the essence and the real quality of the soul.

"I can furnish verses to confirm sprinkling, verses to confirm no baptism, as the Quakers believe, verses to substantiate the Presbyterian belief in immersion, or the Methodist belief in both sprinkling and immersion. There is no interpretation in the New Testament which would allow any man to challenge the integrity of other folks in not having complied with any one method of baptism or any other symbol in religious rites. You may argue ceremonies all the days of your life and then not be one iota more a Christian.

"The essential things which Christ demands are respect, obedience, and love. He said to the rich man, 'Go sell that thou hast and give to the poor.' To give all and become charitable was what he needed. I can find in the New Testament more argument for charity than I can for all forms and ceremonies. You may say that I am preaching simply a humanitarian doctrine. God forbid, that I should ever preach anything else.

"'Repent, believe and be baptized. What does this mean? It means the same as it meant when he said to the men with the fishermen's nets, 'Forsake all and follow me.' Repentance means a turning toward Christ. Do this and you will go out a power for good.

"The people from over the seas have been coming to our shores a million a year and in the years of the future they will come in greater numbers. And why do they come? They have had a vision which has led us to follow Jesus Christ. We have heard of him and have come to him as a larger vision, as a clear conception of life.

"What is the difference between Peter and Judas? They repented in different ways. Repentance is a turning aside from the evil, sordid, sinful life to Christ, who is altogether lovely. There can be no sort of conversion without the conviction that he is worthy of a new life. We must have faith in the life of Jesus Christ as the representative of God to man.

"It is very bad if any teaching or any theology excludes the principal of how men may become more manly. The way to become a Christian is to turn Godward and Christward. Blessed is the man who gives to Jesus Christ the conviction and purpose of his life to follow him, and follow him to the end."

TO SELL AT AUCTION

Foodstuff Exhibited by Manufacturers Will Be Auctioned Tonight in Room No. 5 West Main Street.

In spite of their efforts the National Manufacturers' Exhibit was a failure as far as selling the goods on exhibit at retail prices is concerned, according to those in charge of the show. A large part of the goods was sold, but the quantity still on hand will have to be closed out at wholesale prices, and for that purpose an auction will be held at the building at 5 West Main tonight.

Large lots of goods were sold at prices according to their size all afternoon and the highest bidder will get the articles left tonight. Even with the goods closed out at this way the net results will be good sand C. H. Russell of the Oklahoma Panama-Pacific Expedition commission, who is in charge of the show.

All gross proceeds will go toward the construction of the Oklahoma building at the fair and for the sake of the state as well as to get real bargains the people are asked to come down and lay in a good stock of necessities. Bargains will be plentiful and the goods are of the finest quality, being the exhibitions of the different companies and representing their best efforts.

All of the exhibits were donated to the commission and the sale is, with the exception of exhibit costs, absolutely gross for the commission fund. The remaining goods have been moved to the first floor and will be sold there tonight.

WILLIAMS IS COMING

Evangelist From Jamestown, N. Y., Will Hold Revival at First United Brethren Church Here.

After two months of hard effort, Dr. Nine, pastor of the First United Brethren church, and his people have succeeded in securing Evangelist Williams and Mrs. Oliver E. Williams of Jamestown, N. Y., for a revival campaign early in January. For twelve years Dr. Williams has been the successful pastor of one of the leading churches of Jamestown. From one to three months each year has been given to evangelistic work outside of his own church. During this time meetings have been held in New York, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Missouri and Nebraska.

At present the evangelistic party is in the midst of a great revival campaign at Waterloo, Iowa. The evangelists will come direct from Waterloo to Oklahoma City. Mrs. Williams is a woman of rare training and ability. She directs the music, does solo work and conducts special meetings for women, girls and children. Dr. Nine and his church are very busy getting ready for this meeting and kindly extend an invitation to pastors and churches of the city and gospel teams to unite and make this meeting city-wide in its influence.

U. S. TO HAVE MOST OF WORLD'S TRADE WHEN WAR IS ENDED

Washington, Dec. 14.—The close of the European war will see the United States firmly established in possession of a share of the world's trade never before gained by American manufacturers, in the opinion of Dr. C. W. A. Veditz, commercial attache to the embassy at Paris, who has departed for his post. The field of operations covers the greater part of southern Europe.

"There is bound to be a sentimental boycott for many years on the part of the belligerent nations against the goods of their enemies," said Dr. Veditz. "Now why should not American goods take the place of commodities of countries that are tabooed?"
