GRAIN.

Chicago Grain.
CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—Wheat prices underwent a decided setback today largely as a result of the difficulties of foreign shipping. There was a notable absence of export bids and it was said a majority of Liverpool dealers had assumed a waiting attitude. Fine weather here and fair offerings from the country tended also to increase bearish sentiment. After opening ⅝ to ¾c off the market suffered a material decline all around, July receding 3½c.

Corn weakened because of free selling and lack of support. The depression in prices, which varied from a shade to ¾c lowerm, were followed by a rapid general decline.

Traders in oats took their cue from the action of other grains, and the break however, big houses were conspicuous buyers.

Lower quotations for hogs pulled down provisions. The heaviness of cereals formed an additional weight on the market.

Liquidating sales by discharged holders and general selling on the part of house followed and wheat prices afterward turned much lower, tumbling to 130¾. Closing prices were nervous at 2¾ to 3¼@4⅝c net decline.

Slowness of shipping call had a further bearish influence on corn until European demand revived into in the session. The close was unsettled at a decline of 1½@1⅝ to 1⅞ compared with last night.
