THE TIMES' PROGRAM

An institution that shall stand for honest dealing for service to the public without regard to party, sect or consideration, consistent in all its policies and while belonging to no party, opposing with its might the demagogues of all parties, standing for progress and practical reform, opposed to secret privilege and the control of monopoly, influencing law-making and law enforcing bodies, whether to prevent plutocracy or predatory poverty, whether to capital or labor, devoted to the public welfare first, resources consistently strained to provide the news accurately and to display it impartially, willing to correct instantly its editorial errors, one that shall be proud to spotlight to the most high the native sons.

GOING TO THE BOW WOWS

In regard the Sapulpa Herald of yesterday, The Oklahoma City Times has made a prediction to the effect that the state was going to the bow-wows, notwithstanding the recent "hopes" says the McAlester News Capital.

Just as occasional spell-bound and spoils hunting politicians are the only drawbacks to Oklahoma's progress. In years to come Daily may be an occasional drawback whenever one of the self-seeking politicians in this state is about run.

The winds are full of good prospects in Oklahoma and that kind is seldom allowed to fulfill office. This season will have a chance until the spoils gang is once whipped to a frazzle at the polls. That train has to get out of Dixie. Those good Democrats are going to help do it at the next opportunity.

WHAT THE WORLD OWES

The world does not owe us a living. All it owes us is an opportunity to earn a living. Many overlook the latter in clamoring for the former. It is the old situation described by the late Mr. Webster spoiling the dog with a bone in his mouth at the same time disappointing and troubling of the yellow.

So merely the declaration to the contrary. By the sweat of the brow is disappointing. That there is with the passing of the years an increasing disrespect for the dignity of labor, a view notwithstanding the commencement addresses and the vapid mouthings of shamanistic politicians.

The country boy's ambition is to get to town and secure many names in exchange for which he is easier than plowing at the land will. The town boy, just out of high school, is useless for the office "grafts" he has been cut out.

All are [illegible] and there is seemingly here still a mass of the results serious notice of months of national and a finance tempest. Days of our [illegible] preparation are more objective still [illegible] of settlement.

The bill [illegible] Europe. And in million youth who [illegible] high resignation [illegible] the [illegible] pressing [illegible] of life [illegible] in the [illegible] manufacturing. At the same time hundreds of the [illegible] are [illegible] and some [illegible] opinions as to the number of [illegible] since 1492 — only the best of writers who [illegible] of [illegible] in foundation. It means there is [illegible] and [illegible] and [illegible] the [illegible] of the [illegible] ground.

Economy [illegible] the [illegible] of Wall street [illegible] the office [illegible] of [illegible] leeches [illegible] and [illegible] and [illegible] class who would [illegible] of wealth who would [illegible] further making more purposeful and more virgin members of society "divide up" [illegible] them.

They are no less than "molecules of gorge wealth," the [illegible] of [illegible] own deficiencies they [illegible] progress.

ABOLISH THE HYPHEN

That was quite [illegible] Dennis Flynn before the Rotary club the other day, when he insisted that there was no such a thing as a hyphenated American, that every citizen was either an American or a foreigner. On no other ground can the citizen of this republic be considered. He is either an American at the time [illegible] regard less of his origin, or he is a foreigner.

Oklahoma is populated by the sons of other states and nations, but there are Oklahomans this day. Oklahoma City is composed of the sons of various other urban communities, but its present [illegible]

[illegible] in the commercial world is simply [illegible] that they have [illegible] Oklahoma's [illegible] the first day [illegible]

[illegible] Oklahoma. This [illegible] And as [illegible] of the European war [illegible] we hope [illegible] the spring [illegible] of citizenship. There is [illegible] Hence [illegible] Italian, or a German, or an Asiatic American, or a French American, when the matter of a [illegible] land sets in [illegible] soil of America and [illegible] the adaptation [illegible] by the [illegible] assumed [illegible] of the national rights [illegible] privileges and rights [illegible] citizenship.

KAFIRS IN OKLAHOMA

[illegible] Kafirs have done for Oklahoma [illegible] and indelible [illegible] of the state and demonstrated [illegible] quality by the exposure [illegible] State Fair. By [illegible] varieties of [illegible] redeemed [illegible] a tremendous [illegible] in 1915.

We are the latest campaign of education [illegible] the farmers in the production of [illegible] crop as a regular [illegible] state. It is [illegible] regular and [illegible] a [illegible] county of the state.

But with our largely increased production of the cereal [illegible] grown up against problems [illegible] of the crop. How can it be [illegible] and under what conditions [illegible] profitably marketed. This all important phase of the kafir industry is being treated in a splendid series of articles by George Bishop in the Oklahoma Farm Journal [illegible] kafir growers in the state [illegible] and [illegible] the future [illegible]

These articles are educational [illegible] and should be an [illegible] for Mr. Bishop himself a farmer simply writing of problems he has met. It [illegible] a matter of a short time until kafir will be included in the grain markets of the nation side by side with feeding corn. We examine the growing kafir this day, and to realize the greatest possible profits therefrom, is Mr. Bishop's chief purpose.

[illegible] for example—for purposes [illegible] It is from natural gas [illegible] million [illegible] are [illegible] of Oklahoma [illegible] The gas companies never [illegible] and they ask the corporation commission to [illegible] producing to there [illegible] wasteful. Oklahoma's [illegible] reasonable industrial rate [illegible] state would [illegible] in a position [illegible] this [illegible] In voting bonds for a [illegible] Muskogee seems to have [illegible]

[illegible] during the year [illegible] [illegible] Germany [illegible] of the world. On this [illegible] the allies, and [illegible] Berlin.

Mr. Bryan [illegible] neutrality and his [illegible] trying to be elected [illegible] once in a while one [illegible] the people to get [illegible]

[illegible] of President Wilson, as [illegible] of the world" [illegible] that of that same president [illegible] involve America in war.

[illegible] now knows [illegible] end of demonstrators [illegible] always come home.

Half Slaughter suddenly [illegible] days of annoying.

[illegible] "Well, we were shipping [illegible] Mrs. Rogers.

[illegible] Where we went into the first [illegible] I asked the [illegible] some [illegible] information [illegible]

[illegible] Let us see what [illegible] who was waiting on us stood up to the situation at once [illegible] the bill. It was the [illegible] [illegible] possible. He brought out [illegible]

[illegible] "Well, I guess [illegible] good [illegible] for [illegible] Martin. [illegible] gave me [illegible] off [illegible] and half cities. You forget that these rings will [illegible] are really cheaper in the end."
