A DESPERADO.

...ure of a Member of the Famous Jesse James Gang.

...icksburg, January 20.—City Mar... W. K. Gildart of Greenville, ...ssissippi passed through Vicks... yesterday en route home with a ...isition from Governor Crittenden ...Missouri for the safe return of F. ...Warren, a notorious criminal and ...perado, to the authorities of that ...e. Our readers will readily recall ...mind a special telegram to the Her... announcing the capture of War... on the fourteenth of last month at ...on's island, just above the town of ...enville, on the Mississippi River. ...capture was effected by Marshal ...K. Gildart, aided and abetted on ...part of United States Detective ...nham. The credit of the business, ...ever, is due chiefly to Marshal ...lart, whose indefatigable industry, ...uine detective shrewdness and un...ing pluck crowned his efforts with ...ess in the affair and more especial... ...s so many others had failed in pre...s endeavors to bring the notorious ...inal to justice.

...W. Warren is wanted in Mis...i for many deeds of blood and ...ne committed in the flesh, but ...e especially for the murder of one ...gston, an old bachelor who, it is ...ed, he robbed of from ...00 to $18,000 in cash. The crime ...committed in Dunkin county, ...souri, about a year ago. The sum ...000 was offered for his capture ...private sources, and the state ...issouri set aside $10,000 for his ar...and conviction.

...arren has not confined himself ...rely to Missouri in his career of ...d and depredation, and hence he ...nted in Jefferson county in this ...e. Justice yearns for his presence ...wo counties in Missouri, exclusive ...unklin county, where he is now ...g, and still there is a large section ...nd and many states in the country ...rge to hear from.

...uring the late unpleasantness he ...nged to Lee's army, afterwards ...ed General Mosby's, and later ...ntrell's famous band, and last but ...least, was a member of Jesse ...es' notorious gang of bandits.

...arshal Gildart says Warren has ...teen bullet holes through his body, ...of which were received from the ...d of the officers of the law in Jeffer... county, Mississippi. He is now ...nd in irons in the Greenville jail. ...acknowledges having killed Kings... and of his various exploits in ...r portions of the country, he ...ks pleasantly and with a degree of ...rest that never fails to render his ...y attractive.

...hen captured he had just come ...of a small boat which he had built ...cially for his own use, and in ...ch he had traveled many hun...ds of miles down the Ohio and ...issippi Rivers. It was always his ...aution never to land at a city or ...n of any size during day time. ...moored his little craft in some ob...e part of the river four or five ...s from town, and at night would ...e a landing near the suburbs, ef...ng such purchases as were neces... for the journey at the nearest ...ery, and pull out and drift far be... the city before daylight. When ...ared he was standing on the ...k looking below at a number of ...dies cutting wood. Gildart came ...n him suddenly with his pistol ...ed and in his hand and com...nded him to surrender. Warren ...mpted to pull his pistol, but seeing ...was no use, desisted, and walked off ...ietly with the officer toward the ...own of Greenville.

Lampasas possesses a good hotel and ...free buss line, which is an addition ...worthy of emulation by many, if not ...the railroad towns of the state. ...Mr. Thomas, the accommodating ...nty clerk, is a staunch friend of ...GAZETTE, and says he would be ...apacitated for the duties of his ...ce were it not for its daily visits.

GAZETTE OFFICE, January 23.

...he number of bushels of corn pro...ed in the United States in 1882, ...ounted to 441,000,000 bushels in ...ess of the product of 1881. The in...se of wheat for the same period ...180,000,000 of bushels. Estimates ...e the production of cotton as con...rably greater.

...he press of Chicago, in reviewing ...business of that city for the year—...ir commercial review is made up to ...uary 1, instead of to September 1—...e somewhat surprised to discover ...t the greater portion of this busi...s was purely speculative—that is, ...ling in futures. The total transac...ns in grain and pork futures during ...r in Chicago, amounted to the pro...ious figures of $2,000,000,000. ...ere had been sold for future deliv... fifteen times as much grain and ...at as was received in the city, and ...siderable more than the entire crop ...the country.

...Chicago is but little different from ...neighbors. New York, for in...nce, sold 32,700,000 bales of future ...ton last year, or six times the crop ...the country. This may seem like a ...sk future business, but both the Chicago future produce and the New York cotton markets are quiet and calm as compared with the future movements in oil in Oil City and other petroleum centres. A daily business of 20,000,000 barrels of future oil is considered a light day's work in a town of only 15,000 inhabitants, and quotations change in so rapid and startling a manner as to wreck as many fortunes as a Chicago pork deal. While the petroleum market can never compare in size or importance with wheat, pork or cotton, it can manage to do a much livelier future business.

The Mark Lane Express of January 8, in its review of the grain trade during the past week says: "Early sown wheats continue to look fairly well, though in some cases the color has been affected by the long continued wet weather; late-sown wheats are very unpromising and unsatisfactory. Sound native wheats fetch extreme rates; the damp sort is neglected. The country flour arriving is in a very unsatisfactory condition and cheaper, while choice sorts are firm. Foreign breadstuffs were very quiet; the sales were restricted. The stocks of wheat and flour are very large; the pressure of foreign flour is becoming an incubus on the milling trade. Maize continues to decline. Barley has been very quiet; cargoes off coast have been rather steadier, but only in slight request. There were five fresh arrivals and six sales; five were withdrawn and five remain, all American; about a dozen cargoes are due this week. The forward trade has been firm, with a fair business in California and Oregon. The sales of English wheat during the past week were 28,468 qrs, at 40s 7d per qr, against 4,020 qrs, at 44s 9d during the corresponding period last year.

The commissioner of internal revenue has made careful estimates as to the amount of money that would be required to refund the taxes on cigars, cigarettes, tobacco, distilled spirits and matches, collected on stock consumed, should such taxes be repealed. The statistics he furnishes are in brief as follows: There are 394,692 dealers in manufactured tobacco, 1,328 rectifiers of distilled spirits, 4,241 wholesale dealers in distilled spirits, and 168,770 retail liquor dealers in the United States. There are probably 25,000,000 gallons of tax-paid distilled spirits in the hands of the trade, the tax upon which is $22,500,000. The tax on manufactured tobacco in the hands of dealers would amount to $8,285,000; on cigars and cigarettes, $4,204,000, and on matches, $1,090,753, making a total of taxes to be refunded $36,681,000. These figures ought to receive the attention of those who have been indulging in loose talk concerning the repeal of these taxes.

If the whisky statisticians of Kentucky, Illinois and Ohio had devoted half the time to securing a reduction of the excessive tax on spirits which they have given to the bill to extend the time for keeping their products in bond they would no doubt have succeeded in the effort. The consumers pay the tax, and the distillers, therefore, are not interested in its reduction. In fact, they prefer to have the tax maintained, as it enables them to charge more for their whisky. But under the bill to extend the time for paying the tax they can keep their whisky in bond in the care of the government until it ripens sufficient to enable them to charge large prices to consumers.—Philadelphia Record.
