

ESTABLISHED 1850

BALTIMORE LOCK HOSPITAL

TO ALL SUFFERERS A
A SPEEDY & PERMANENT CURE.

Dr. CLEGG may be consulted either personally or by letter, upon all those diseases usually termed confidential which tend to embitter life and shorten its duration. Including:

NERVOUS DEBILITY
 Causing Indigestion, Pain in the Back and Loins, Headaches, Blurred Vision, Nervousness, Defective Memory, Weakness, Pains in the Feet and Body, Aversion to Study, Confusion of Ideas, Consumption, Nervous Headache, Rheumatism, Pollution of the Heart, Brooding or Manicoly, Dimness of Sight, &c.

YOUTHFUL INDISCRETION.
 Dr. CLEGG'S treatment embraces twenty-five years' experience in the above disease, which enables him to effect a cure, when all other remedies have failed without the use of Mercury or Mineral in any form, the Doctor's treatment being PURELY VEGETABLE.

Let us know the symptoms which are suffering from any of the above diseases, making an early application, for the same, as the longer they remain, the more difficult will be their cure.

Patients boarded at the Hospital if required.
 107 N. Broadway, Baltimore.

Dr. CLEGG'S treatment has been so well placed under his treatment that he has been called upon to attend and cure persons afflicted with all the above diseases, and all diseases, free by post for two three-cent stamps.

Patients living at any distance can be successfully treated by sending symptoms of their disease. The doctor will forward a printed list of questions, which enable the patients to give a minute description of their case, which is all that is required to effect a cure. The doctor's office hours from 8 in the morning till 10 at night; Sundays till 12 noon.

All letters directed Dr. CLEGG, Lock Hospital, Baltimore, Maryland, will receive prompt attention.
 Nov. 9, 1876-ly.

The Largest Variety and Finest Patterns of

Cooking Stoves

in the market:

THE EMERALD, VIRGINIA, VIRGIN QUEEN, WELCOME, SEA BIRD AND ADVANCE.

See the Manufacturer and Proprietor of the Celebrated

FAME REGULATOR AND CHAMPION Fire Place Heaters

The best in the world. Constructed upon an entirely new principle. Also make and have constantly on hand

A LARGE VARIETY OF HEATING STOVES.
 JAMES HARRISON,
 No. 50 Light Street,
 Baltimore, Md.

Manufacturer and Dealer in STOVES, RAN-GERS, FURNACES, HOLLOW WARE, TIN and SHEET IRON WARE generally.
 Sept. 28, 1876-17.

ESTABLISHED 1869.

R. K. & P. LACEY, Attorneys-at-Law
 520 South Street, Washington, D. C.

Insurance Company

OF BALTIMORE,
 Office No. 17 South Street,
 B. G. HARRIS, President.

Directors:
 S. H. Coughy, of North Walker & Co.
 J. L. Langley, Com. Merchant, Balto.
 T. D. Anderson, of Anderson & Bro.
 John Stach, Carpenter and Builder.
 Hon. George Brent, Court of Appeals.
 J. T. Ballenger, St. Mary's county.
 B. G. Harris, Baltimore.

Insurance Company, gotten up in the interest of the citizens of Baltimore, to enable them to overcome the difficulties they experience in procuring insurance in the ordinary way. The Company is managed by a Board of Directors well known in the community.

It has been in business now over four years. All losses accrued, and they have been usually large, have been faithfully
 and promptly paid, which is our best guarantee for the future.

The plan adopted in the safe and cheapest kind of Insurance, and affords all the insurance at the exact cost, and ought to be encouraged by all who wish to protect themselves against loss or damage by fire.

If those interested will get it their patronage and interest themselves in the increase of its business, in a few years it will rank among the largest Insurance corporations in Maryland, a credit and a benefit to all, and an honor to the State.
 June 26, 1873-tf.

Fire! Fire! Fire!

DWELLINGS, Furniture Bars, Out-houses, Farm Produce, &c., &c., insured on the Mutual Plan by the

STATE OF MARYLAND
 MUTUAL FIRE
 Insurance Company

OF BALTIMORE,
 Office No. 17 South Street,
 B. G. HARRIS, President.

Directors:
 S. H. Coughy, of North Walker & Co.
 J. L. Langley, Com. Merchant, Balto.
 T. D. Anderson, of Anderson & Bro.
 John Stach, Carpenter and Builder.
 Hon. George Brent, Court of Appeals.
 J. T. Ballenger, St. Mary's county.
 B. G. Harris, Baltimore.

Insurance Company, gotten up
 in the interest of the citizens
 of Baltimore, to enable them to
 overcome the difficulties they experience in procuring insurance in the
 ordinary way. The Company is
 managed by a Board of Directors well known in
 the community.

It has been in business now over four
 years. All losses accrued, and they have
 been usually large, have been faithfully
 and promptly paid, which is our best
 guarantee for the future.

The plan adopted in the safe and
 cheapest kind of Insurance, and affords
 all the insurance at the exact cost, and
 ought to be encouraged by all who
 wish to protect themselves against loss
 or damage by fire.

If those interested will get it their
 patronage and interest themselves in the
 increase of its business, in a few
 years it will rank among the largest Insurance corporations in Maryland, a
 credit and a benefit to all, and an honor
 to the State.
 June 26, 1873-tf.

1877.

The Quarterly Review
 AND
Blackwood's Magazine.
 THE LONDON QUARTERLY REVIEW, 41 Bury St., New York.

Continue their authorized reports of the four leading Quarterly Reviews.
 Edinburgh Review (Whig).
 London Quarterly Review (Conservative).
 Westminster Review (Liberal).
 British Quarterly Review (Branfordist).
 AND
 Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine.

The British Quarterly Review gives the reader well-digested information upon the great events in contemporary history, and contains masterly criticisms on all that is both and valuable in literature, as well as a summary of the triumphs of science and art. The work is likely to command large sales, and will be especially valuable to those who are desirous of a thorough and abundant source of information, and sketches of the highest literary merit.

Terms (including Postage): Payable Strictly in Advance.
 For any one Review, $4.00 per annum For any two Reviews, 7.00 " "
 For any three Reviews, 10.00 " "
 For all four Reviews, 12.00 " "
 For Blackwood's Magazine, 4.00 " "
 For Blackwood and 1 Review, 7.00 " "
 For Blackwood and 2 Reviews, 10.00 " "
 For Blackwood and 3 Reviews, 13.00 " "
 For Blackwood and 4 Reviews, 16.00 " "

Clubs.
 A discount of twenty per cent. will be allowed to clubs of four or more persons. Thus: four copies of Blackwood or of one Review will be sent to one address for $12.00, four copies of the one Review and Blackwood for $16, and so on.

PREMIUMS.
 New subscribers (applying early) for the year 1877 may have, without charge, the numbers for the last quarter of 1876 of each periodical as they may subscribe for.

Neither premiums to subscribers nor discount to clubs can be allowed unless the money is remitted directly to the publishers. No premiums given to clubs.

Circulars with further particulars may be had on application.
 The Leonard Scott Publishing Co., 41 Bury St., New York.
 Dec. 21, 1876.

John C. Hachtel & Co.,
 GENERAL
COMMISSION MERCHANTS

AND MANUFACTURERS OF
APPROPRIATED SUPER PHOSPHATE, SOLE, Talpago Furnace and Distilled Soap, & Borden's Wharf near the Corn Exchange,
 BALTIMORE, MD.

Sole Agents and consignments, Jan 25, 1877-4f.

"THE WORLD" FOR 1877.

The New York World for 1877, Daily, Semi-Weekly, or Weekly, will be published by the cheapest and best newspaper published in the United States. It will be printed in an improved form with new type upon the best paper and no copy of labor will be spared to maintain it in every department of the highest possible standard, and to command it in all respects to the confidence of the public. It is the most valuable community without regard to political opinions or religious differences.

It will be before its readers:
 The News of the Day of all kinds and from all quarters, by mail and by telegraph, carefully condensed and lucidly arranged, special attention being given to all Commercial, Legal, Financial, and Political news of importance to the City of New York and in the United States.

Full Reports, including and illustrating all Congressional and Legislative proceedings, at Washington and Albany; all Meetings of importance, Religious, Literary, Educational, Scientific and Political; and all Social Events, gay and grave, and Personal information of interest to the public.

Correspondence, especially prepared for this journal by a permanent staff of accomplished resident writers at all centers of interest throughout the world.

Literary, News and Reviews, by which our readers will be kept advised of everything worth the attention in the current Literature of Europe and America.

Criticism of all notable works and notices of all notable events in connection with Music, the Drama, Painting, Sculpture and all other branches of Art.

Editorial Articles upon every subject of presential interest to the public.

For the principles by which the World will be governed in its discussion and treatment of public questions it will suffice to say that the World will be controlled by the great sense the concentration of all that is good and wise in our public institutions and our political system. It will be a platform for the discussion of all subjects of public interest, and will be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are imposed by procedure, and a rational respect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a practical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discussion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opin-
 ions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discus-
 sion of all subjects of public interest, and will
 be upon the rights of private judgment and the
 prerogatives of Reform, as those which are im-
 posed by procedure, and a rational re-
 spect for the rights and for the honest opinions of all classes and sects of men. While it
 has labored for the principles and has the triumph
 of the Democratic party as affording a prac-
 tical promise of Reform in our political administration, city, state and national, it will not be
 blindly devoted to the advancement of any party
 or system. It will be a platform for the discussion of