A Popular Railroad Man Dead.

Special to the Gazette.

CLEBURNE, TEX., Dec. 6.—W. E. Levy, who has been roadmaster on the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe railroad for several years, and has lived in this city, died this morning at 10 o'clock of pneumonia. He had only been sick a few days. His death will be a great surprise to his many friends. Mr. Levy was a well-known railroad man, and was well known throughout the state. He was married two months ago to Miss Day of this city. He was a Knight Templar and will be buried with the honors of that order at 2 o'clock p. m. to-morrow in this city.

Cleburne.

Correspondence of the Gazette.

CLEBURNE, TEX., Dec. 5.—The celebrated Martin wife case from Hill county terminated after six days' hard fighting in a jury verdict in favor of the original will and transferring the supposed codicil as a forgery.

The criminal docket will be called Monday with a full average number of cases. At least two-thirds of the civil docket is to come after the criminal docket is disposed of.

To-day has been a busy day for our merchants. The city was crowded with country people and trade was good.

Lake Michigan on a Tare.

CHICAGO, ILL., Dec. 6.—The damage done here by the storm of Friday night was much more than was at first supposed. The lake has seldom been rougher. Along the shore skirting Lincoln park, the temporary breakwater was totally demolished and the waves made deep inroads, completing the destruction of the lakeshore drive, which was begun in the storm of last spring. For more than a mile the entire width of the drive with the pavement was washed out and in its place is a tangled mass of wreckage, tanbark and other rubbish. The damage amounts to many thousands of dollars.

Body of Levy Moore Still at the Bottom of the Central Depot Well—Other Victims Rescued.

A Colored Dame and Her Son Arrested for Theft—A Happy Congregation—Not Enough Gazettes.

Special to the Gazette.

THE WELL CATASTROPHE.

WACO, TEX., Dec. 6.—The body of Levy Moore, the man who was entombed in the well at the Central depot yesterday evening, remains there yet, as a great deal of work will be necessary to get at the remains. The well was fifteen feet in diameter, intended to supply water for engines, and had reached a depth of thirty-two feet. Mr. C. E. Clark, the foreman of the gang, was standing on some bracing near the bottom of the excavation when the earth caved in. Just above him were two workmen, and near him was Levy Moore, who is dead. The two men near the top were rescued about two hours after the accident. Clark remained in his imprisoned position four hours. During all this time he and Moore were in water and could not move, as their bodies were closely clasped by the heavy timbers of the bracing, which had fallen in. They could hear the men working above them, and every time the sand caved it added a new horror to their situation. For awhile, Mr. Clark says, he and Moore talked a little, and speculated on the chances for rescue. Then Moore ceased to make any response to questions, and Mr. Clark knew his companion was dead. He remained there near the dead man for two hours before rescue, and says the two hours seemed as long as ten years. Clark is fearfully bruised and cannot move hand or foot to-day, but talks intelligently of the disaster. Superintendent Allen of the Central road put a force of men to work to-day removing the sand and debris. The hole is now about thirty feet in diameter and twenty feet deep. The quick-sand nature of the soil explains the accident. Moore, the dead man, leaves a wife and family.

SUNDAY CRIMINALITIES.

Mary Gurley and her son Gus, the latter aged twelve years, and both colored, were arrested at the Farmers' house this morning and jailed. The boy stole $45 from the proprietor of the hotel. When arrested he gave up $35 of the money and said he had given the other $10 to his mother. She denied having it, and hence her arrest. The boy also confessed to stealing a watch one of the boarders lost a few weeks ago, and says he gave it to a colored woman named Ida Walker. She, too, was arrested and jailed, but denies having received the watch.

A CONGREGATION'S REJOICING.

A thanksgiving service was held at the First Baptist church to-day in commemoration of the fact that the church debt, incurred for the erection of the new edifice, and aggregating about $35,000, is now paid off and a balance left in the treasury. Rev. Dr. Carroll, the pastor, preached a sermon appropriate to the occasion, and an address was made by Dr. Burleson.

GENERAL LOCAL REPERTOIRE.

Every copy of the sixteen-page GAZETTE sent here to-day was sold inside of a half-hour, and the newsboys say they could have sold many more copies if they had had them.

There are several dozen of the policy-holders of the Mutual Self-Endowment and Benevolent Association of America resident in this city and county, and they are mournful over the news.

AWFUL TRAGEDY.

An Idiot Commits a Double Murder and is Shot Dead.

JEFFERSON CITY, MO., Dec. 6.—Meager particulars have been received here of a triple tragedy that occurred yesterday at Lion Creek, Camden county. Dr. Lyons, residing on a farm near that place, has for several years past, purely as a matter of charity, cared for an imbecil, named Williams, who has been considered harmless hitherto. Yesterday, without a word of warning, the idiot snatched up an ax and struck Dr. Lyons on the head, cleaving his skull and killing him instantly. He then attacked the doctor's fourteen-year-old daughter and killed her also. A young son of the doctor hearing the disturbance, came on the scene at this juncture and procuring a rifle shot the idiot dead.

THE GAZETTE.

Some Kindly Expressions of Esteemed State Contemporaries.

The Interest Manifested in the Newspaper Situation — Symmetrical Development Personified.

Still the Best.

Waco Examiner: THE GAZETTE still is the best North Texas newspaper.

All Wool.

Marshall Messenger: The Sunday GAZETTE is all wool and a yard wide.

Superb Editions.

Kosse Cyclone: The Fort Worth GAZETTE's Sunday editions are superb.

It is a Humper.

Terrell Star: The Fort Worth GAZETTE will have to hump itself now, but then it is a humper.

And Daily New.

Big Spring Pantagraph: THE GAZETTE made another scoop Wednesday on Postmaster-General Vilas' annual report.

Just as Good.

Waco Examiner: THE GAZETTE seems, to our apprehension, just as good a paper as the Dallas News.

Demands Legal Notice.

Corsicana Democrat: The Dallas News has swallowed the Herald, but before it gobbles up the Fort Worth GAZETTE we want ten days' notice.

Solid for the Gazette.

Tyler Courier: The fight in North Texas is now between the Dallas News and the Fort Worth GAZETTE, with the Fort solid for THE GAZETTE.

To Receive Special Attention.

Cuero Star: The Dallas End of the News has absorbed the Dallas Herald, and now the Fort Worth GAZETTE will receive special attention from Belo.

Rich With News.

Gainesville Sun: The Fort Worth GAZETTE is getting out a most excellent Sunday edition every week; in fact, every day's paper is rich with news.

The Sunday Gazette.

Palo Pinto News: The Sunday's edition of the Fort Worth GAZETTE was mammoth in size, and as neat as a ten-year-old miss on her way to Sunday-school.

Distances Competition.

Galveston Tribune: The Fort Worth GAZETTE's Sunday issue fairly distances competition. Artistic typography and incisive paragraphing stand out in every column.

The Newsiest Issued.

Hillsboro Mirror: Fort Worth GAZETTE's Sunday edition of twelve pages, seven columns to the page, was the newsiest paper issued from the press in Texas on that day.

Growing Better Daily.

Decatur Post: Last Wednesday's Fort Worth GAZETTE contained forty-one columns of good solid reading matter. THE GAZETTE is growing better as the days roll by.

Is to Be Seen Yet.

Clarksville Standard: The News will doubtless be a good paper; whether better than THE GAZETTE is to be seen yet. It will hardly be much better as a news-gatherer.

A Credit to the Fort.

Paris News: The twelve-page Sunday issue of the Fort Worth GAZETTE reflects credit on that paper and on Fort Worth. THE GAZETTE has done as much to build up Fort Worth as any railroad that runs to it.

You Will See.

Waco Examiner: THE GAZETTE has now an open field with but one solitary competitor, but that competitor is surely worthy of its very best licks. Now we shall see what we shall see, and very soon, too.

The Northwestern Favorite.

Corsicana Courier: The war between the News and THE GAZETTE will not be devoid of interest, and as THE GAZETTE is the Northwestern favorite and has a solid financial backing, lively times are coming.

The Only One.

Seymour Cresset: Of the several daily papers that come to this office the Fort Worth GAZETTE is the only one to report the result of the local-option election recently held in Fulton county, Ga., embracing the city of Atlanta.

Journalistic Enterprise.

San Antonio Light: The publication of the postmaster-general's report by the Fort Worth GAZETTE, was an exceptional instance of journalistic enterprise for Texas. It made twenty-three columns of solid matter, and furnished much valuable information.

Bets on the Gazette.

San Angelo Standard: The Dallas News, as we predicted, has gobbled the Herald. Nothing else was to be expected. It may now possibly try to gobble THE GAZETTE. Should it make the attempt we will bet our nickle-plated stick that THE GAZETTE will stick in its craw.

Does Not Weaken.

Corsicana Courier: Since the journalistic amalgamation at Dallas the conflict has been narrowed down to the Fort Worth GAZETTE and Dallas News. THE GAZETTE is beyond question the peer of the News and a warm contest can be looked for. THE GAZETTE does not weaken in the least.

Not a Bit Afraid.

Waco Examiner: THE GAZETTE throws down the gauntlet to the Dallas News in gallant style. It doesn't seem to be a bit afraid of either End or both Ends together. THE GAZETTE is after the "bar" of his excellency, and will never sleep soundly until that capillary adornment of the head of the state hangs serenely upon its lodge pole.

Sets His Pile on the Gazette.

Galveston Tribune: All newspaperdom is agog to note the progress of the certainly impending war between the Dallas Morning News and the Fort Worth GAZETTE. Evening Tribune weeks ago offered a wager of dollars to burst ginger cakes that the first squealing would not come from the direction of Pantherville. The proposition is still open.

WHERE DO YOU MAKE YOUR PURCHASES?

TAYLOR & BARR'S.

Immense stock! Magnificent display! Grand sky-lights for the day, and electric lights at night! Well, but don't that everlasting call for cash, and that before you get your goods, annoy you? No, it rather tickles my pride to be seen paying cash. More, the idea seems to be abroad that ladies who dress in the height of fashion cannot pay cash, but are slaves to credit. There never was a greater mistake. And, again, if you wish to purchase in more than one department, they stick a paper they call a transfer at you! Yes, and on it is summed up in dollars and cents the amount of your purchases, saving you the mortification of overrunning your pocket-book. Too much red tape for me! The red tape that enables me to make my purchases throughout ten different stores, viz., 1st, notions, hosiery, laces; 2d, corsets, buttons, ribbons; 3d, dress goods and linings; 4th, white goods and embroideries; 5th, staple cotton and woolen goods; 6th, men's, ladies', misses' and children's fine shoes; 7th, trunks and valises; 8th, ladies' underwear and cloaks; 9th, clothing and furnishing goods; 10th, carpets, mattings and shades; relieving me of lugging countless packages, and delivering all goods at my door free of charge, is none too much red tape for me.

Special bargains in high novelties just received per express: Ten pieces 24-inch boucle cloths, at 50 cents, worth 75 cents per yard; five pieces 40-inch boucle cloths, at $1.00, worth $1.50 per yard; six pieces 40-inch homespun, at 50 cents, worth 75 cents per yard; five pieces 50-inch homespun, at $1.00, worth $1.50 per yard.

Fort Worth Will.

San Antonio Light: The News ought to be satisfied with the conquest of the Dallas Herald and be careful how it infringes upon the territory of THE GAZETTE. Fort Worth will back her newspapers for all there is in them, and what was easy sailing in Dallas, will be the hardest kind of hard work in Pantherville. THE GAZETTE is pretty well loaded all the time.

A First-Class Paper.

Palo Pinto Star: The Sunday edition of the Fort Worth GAZETTE is a daily multum in parvo library of current events—home and foreign—miscellany and popular fiction, dressed up in the best style of news-printer's art. The enterprise displayed by THE GAZETTE management in giving its readers a first-class paper in each of its editions deserves all the immense patronage it receives.

Affairs in Spain.

MADRID, Dec. 6.—The funeral services over the remains of the late King Alfonso have been arranged to take place on the 12th inst., at the church of San Francisco, the largest edifice of the kind in Madrid, so as to accommodate the immense number of persons who have signified their intention of being present.

Premier Segasta has endeavored to conciliate Gen. Lopez Dominguez, and has offered to him the Spanish embassadorship at Paris. The offer, however, was refused. There was a reunion of fifteen generals yesterday at the residence of Gen. Dominguez. The ministry is anxious concerning the political situation. Senor Canovas del Castillo, the late prime minister, has called a meeting of the senators and deputies to precede the opening of the cortes to decide upon the Canovas-Segasta programme. Senor Canovas will be president of the chamber of deputies and either Gen. Campos or the Marquis de la Habana will be president of the senate.

The committee on customs reform has presented a petition to the minister of foreign affairs, asking him to accelerate negotiations for treaties of commerce with America and England.

The Leader of the Armies Pacified.

MADRID, Dec. 6.—Premier Segasta visited Gen. Lopez Dominguez and arranged for concerted action on the latter promising to sustain the cabinet in developing a liberal policy. Gen. Dominguez assured the premier that the recent reunions of generals at the former's residence were in no way connected with any hostile movement against the government.

El Resumen, the organ of Gen. Dominguez, reports that the Carlists are actively organizing at their headquarters and that they have settled the details in relation to military commanders and arranged a plan for a revolution.

The Globo, Senor Castelar's journal, praises the government for its order, instructing the prefects not to interfere with public meetings and granting to the press the right of free speech. The Republicans are satisfied, says the Globo, and if the ministry perseveres in the same course it will never furnish the Carlists with a pretext for revolt.

A Warning to the Balkan States.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—The Standard has a dispatch from Vienna stating that Herr Von Tisza, the Hungarian premier, Count Kalnoky, the imperial prime minister, and other high officials, had a conference there to-day and that Count Von Huller, the Austrian minister to Servia, started for Nissa bringing an urgent warning to the Servian government that the resumption of hostilities with Bulgaria will bring dangers which even Austria's good will cannot prevent. The dispatch also says that Prince Alexander has been notified that Austria will intervene if Nissa is captured by the Bulgarians.

Parnell Gaining Seats.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—The total Parnellite vote cast in Ireland was 221,881 and the Loyalist vote, including the Tories and Liberals, is 121,101. Four Conservative candidates were elected without opposition, one for West Devon, one for East Dover and two for Dublin university. Twenty Parnellites were returned unopposed. In all Ireland seventeen Tories and 69 Parnellites have been elected. O'Connor is elected for the district of Liverpool, and Gray for Dublin, thus giving the Parnellites safe seats in Galway and Carlow. Fifteen of the 17 districts unpolled are certain to return Parnellite candidates, and these, with Galway and Carlow, will bring the Parnellite total up to 86.

A Liberal Leader on the Stump.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—The marquis of Hartington speaking at Matlock Saturday night said the attitude of the Conservatives in regard to the Irish question was virtually tantamount to accepting Parnellite help on Parnell's terms. The Tories, he said, by their complicity or silence had allied themselves with the enemies of England. It would be impossible for the Tories to obtain more than 260 seats in parliament. The Liberals might not have a majority of the Tories and Parnellites combined, but British patriotism would finally assert itself.

Suing for an Estate.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—The celebrated Tichborne claimant threatens to bring a suit against Sir Henry Tichborne for title to the estate when he, Sir Henry, becomes of age next May. The defense of the estate from the famous succession demanded by the claimant has cost Sir Henry's possessions say £600,000. They are, however, very rich and comprise 12,000 acres, with large properties in the metropolis, and altogether yield a yearly rental of £14,000.
