FORT WORTH MARKETS—DAILY REVIEW.

OFFICE OF THE GAZETTE, FORT WORTH, TEX., March 12, 1886.

The strike, which remains unchanged in its leading features, has not had as yet any very marked influence on the prices of commodities, though some articles have gone up considerably. Apples, for instance, have advanced from 25 to 50 cents per barrel owing to scarcity, the market being almost bare yesterday. A single car load distributed among several dealers constituted the entire supply.

Irish potatoes have advanced of late and our quotations exhibit the figures they are now bringing, with a good demand.

Sweet potatoes are also marked up 10c higher on the bushel.

Chickens and turkeys have advanced considerably, the former being in demand at $2 25@2 50 per dozen and the latter 65@85c each.

The game dealers are very much elated over the unobstructed way to the west via the Texas & Pacific, which was lately blocked for freight from Colorado City to El Paso. A number lost considerably from the delay.

The Missouri Pacific still suffers from the strike and freight shipped on its lines is still being delayed.

The situation is yet grave. Commerce, while not prostrated, languishes, especially in one or two lines, and curtails the volume of trade at one of the best business periods of the year.

The quotations given below are revised daily and may be relied on as accurate:
