Letter From Scott Stanfield.

Dear Mother, Father, Sister and Little Emory:

Once again we have been here in the trenches and I am back again. We didn't carry long in the trenches this time. We proceeded to give old Fritz the rest of his life. Of course long before this reaches you you will know of the bravery of the American boys and how we have whipped the best troops Germany has. The French say we are the greatest fighters they ever saw and even go so far as to say we are better than they are. We are back again for another rest, a rest also place this time, of course all my friends did not return but for anything good we have to always pay so we don't grumble, as the Frenchmen say "It is the war." The people at home are undergoing hardships we have know and we also know never before in the history of the world has a nation of people been behind their troops as you all are behind us, and believe me I certainly helps. It is the things the good things we think about that help you know, for you realize that there are no bands playing, no hurrahs flying, no patriotic speeches being made or anything else to inspire a man at the front to fight now. It is cold blooded kill or be killed and aside from our thoughts of the loved ones at home and the trip back home if God is good enough to allow us there is nothing else.

I am in good health and things at present are as pleasant as could be expected under the circumstances. We didn't come over here for a picnic although some of us, me for one, had a hard time realizing what this all means. You all are passing thru one of the worst if not the worst troubles I ever heard of. Poor old Tall he is getting awfully old to have to hunt grass for those dogs in summer and winter. Tell him to hold the bunch down until I can get back and I will give him a relief. Tell Emory we haven't got the Kaiser yet, but if he doesn't watch his steps we will in the near future. He is not our as borrowed time now.

Well I will close for the time and write again soon as long as I can. I always write off regularly.

Lots of love to you all, write a little oftener cause it's receive the papers. Love. SCOTT

Prominent Family Back In Snyder.

Dr. W. E. Johnson and family have returned to their home in Snyder and are meeting cordial welcome at the hands of their friends. They have been in San Antonio and Dallas for several months. Dr. Johnson enlisted last Spring as First Lieutenant in the Medical department of war service. He was stationed at Kelly Field, San Antonio for some while and was then transferred to the Aviation Repair Depot at Dallas and has had charge of the hospital there until his health became so much impaired that he must get relieved. He therefore has resigned his commission and resumes his civil life. It is supposed he will resume his professional work in Snyder and we all and with us hereafter. He and Mrs. Johnson are held in high esteem here and their friends hope they will resume their former place in our community.
