Pembroke Magisterial District—Josiah Gray Magistrate; Jas. V. Forbes Constable.

Buchanan, Scroggan Bros' great stallion, valued at $35,000, died in Louisville this week.

The Montgomery-Wortham contest in the Fourth District will be settled in a primary election August 4.

Daviess, Union and Henderson counties have votes enough to nominate, but one candidate cannot hope to carry all of them solid.

The State Medical Society will meet at Shelbyville June 6, 7 and 8, at the same time the Press Association is holding forth at Frankfort.

A colored preacher named I. T. Burgis was lynched at Palatka, Fla., for advising negroes to rape white women. He was the 49th this year.

Dr. Clardy will get a part of the vote of every county in the district that has no candidates of its own. And it will be the biggest part in most of them.

So scholarly an editor as Jim Richardson makes the blunder of playfully alluding to Joaquin Miller as "Joyky." Waukeen, me boy, Waukeen. What is the matter with your Spanish?

It is a little early for figures, but Dr. Clardy will win the nomination on the first ballot by something like the following vote: Christian 12, Hancock 4, McLean 4, Daviess 14½, Union 5½, Webster 3. Necessary to nominate 38.

Col. Breckenridge got knocked out of his chance of appealing by the ignorance of his Washington attorneys, who failed to file the bill of exceptions in time. Judge Bradley has ruled him out of court and there is nothing to be done now but to walk up to the cashier's desk and plank down his $15,000.

Among the contributors to the Century for June are Mark Twain, Frank R. Stockton, Thomas A. Edison, Edmund Clarence Stedman, John Burroughs, Timothy Cole the engraver, Hjalmar Hjorth Boyesen, W. J. Stillman, Brander Matthews, John Fox, Jr., Alexander W. Drake, Thomas A. Janvier, Will H. Low, Dr. Albert Shaw, Ella Wheeler Wilcox, and eleven ex ministers of the United States.

In the Forum for June, Mr. Morton, the Secretary of Agriculture, writes on "Farmers, Fallacies, and Furrows," to show that the agricultural unrest is caused less by agricultural distress than by political and economic fallacies by which a certain noisy proportion of farmers have been led away from their furrows. As a class, the tillers of the soil are yet the most independent and the most thrifty.

Hon. A. J. Carroll, Speaker of the House, will be married to Miss Sarah F. Holt, at the First Presbyterian Church in Frankfort, Wednesday evening, June 6, at 6:30 o'clock. There will be a reception tendered them at the residence of Judge W. H. Holt, the bride's father, from 7 to 9, the same evening. This is during the Press meeting, but it will not conflict with the Governor's reception the same night, which does not begin until 9 o'clock.

The June Century contains a number of salient features. One of the most interesting is an authorative account of "Edison's Invention of the Kinetic-Phonograph" by Antonia and W. K. L. Dickson, Mr. Dickson having been associated with Mr. Edison in working out this invention. There is also an introduction by the inventor, and a portrait of him from a recent photograph, together with examples of the pictures shown by this new invention for reproducing to the eye the motions of a given scene as the phonograph reproduces the related sounds.

One good feature of the convention plan adopted in this district is that the candidates cannot concentrate their efforts in any particular county with votes enough to nominate and pay no attention to the other counties. Every precinct carried in any county is represented by a proper fraction of the county in the District Convention. The man cannot manipulate the county conventions and deprive the country precincts of their choice in the convention. It is fair to every candidate and will result in the nomination of the candidate the country may want. The plan has many other good features of a primary election without the heavy expense and other disadvantages.

The Ladies.

The pleasant effect and perfect safety with which ladies may use the celebrated liquid laxative, Syrup of Figs, under all conditions, makes it a favorite remedy. To get the genuine article, look for the name of the California Fig Syrup Co., and for sale by all leading druggists.

Dr. Clardy and Judge Vance spoke at Owensboro the other day, and their speeches were reported by the Messenger. The only question upon which there is a difference between them, is that of silver, and as the people are greatly interested on that question just now, we reprint the Messenger's report:

"Judge Vance, spoke first, occupying a little over an hour. He differed, he said, with Dr. Clardy in his financial views. If free and unlimited coinage of silver were forced upon the country at the present ratio, while all other great nations had suspended its coinage, silver wood soon lose its value as money and become a mere commodity. As well say there shall be two standards of measurement as two standards of value. There can be no free coinage without an international agreement. He thought Dr. Clardy would make a very acceptable Populist candidate."

From this it would appear that Judge Vance is as radical a goldbug as Mr. Cleveland himself. The platform demands the coinage of both metals and the Democrats of this district are almost a unit for a bimetalic standard of currency. It is fortunate that Judge Vance has been smoked out on this question early in the campaign. His position being antagonistic to the party platform, is undemocratic and the Judge may be regarded as more than ever out of the race in the district, where no man who is unfriendly to silver can hope to be nominated.

Dr. Clardy was reported on the same subject as follows,

"Mr. Vance has made a mistake as to my views. I did not know he was the great man he seems to be. I did not know he was going to read me out of the party. He has floundered on the financial question for three months. He has said he was for gold and silver as money, but he has never explained how he was going to put his views in operation. Lately he has got on the gold standard.

"My doctrine is and the government is pledged to a bimetalic standard. I am not in favor of fiat money. Gold is not a commodity. There is no gold bullion on the market. Gold has increased in value over 50 per cent, since 1873. If the ratio is adjusted say at 23 to 1, as soon as silver is coined the silver dollar would exceed in value the gold dollar and then the silver would have to be recoined—and then the value of the silver dollar we now have would be about equal to gold."

Dr. Clardy argued that gold had appreciated in value and labor had consequently declined, and quoted English authority. "England is a creditor nation," he said "while ours is a debtor nation. France demonetized silver because (1) she did not want German silver to come in, and (2) because she had enough money. France is differently situated from us. It is a finished country. It does not need an increase in circulation; it has now a per capita of over $40. But we have to have more money. Nobody says we have too much circulation. This country is not in the same condition as France. We want more money. We can't get gold. Iron won't do—as suggested by Mr. Vance. We want money fixed on such a ratio as will maintain its equal exchangeable value. None of the predictions of evil that gold men made to result from coinage of silver has resulted. On the contrary the predictions of silver men have been realized. The Sherman law was a wrong and a makeshift and ought to have never been passed. Silver has been legislated down and gold legislated up. I was in favor of repealing the Sherman law. I was in favor of putting something better in place of it.

"I have never said Mr. Cleveland belonged to Wall street nor anything disrespectful of him. I have said that he has done a wrong in not allowing the coinage of the seigniorage. The bullion is lying there doing no good. If coined it would have restored prosperity. The people said through their representatives to Mr. Cleveland that they wanted the seigniorage coined. It would have hushed complaints all over the country. I do not say he acted corruptly, but he acted counter to the wishes of the people.

"Mr. Vance says money is valuable in proportion to the cost of mining it. That is a singular idea. No, it is not the cost of mining but the demand. The value of your wheat is not the cost of production, but the demand."

A gentleman who heard the two speeches, writes the KENTUCKIAN as follows: "Judge Vance did not reply to Dr. Clardy. It was evident from the beginning that almost all present favored the nomination of Dr. Clardy and since the speaking the general expression is that Dr. Clardy will carry the county almost solidly. Especially is this true with regard to the county districts, where it is confidentally asserted he will not lose one in the county. There are twenty-two country districts and eight in the city and of these eight Dr. Clardy will we believe carry more than half."

Editor John H. Westover, of the Williamstown Courier, is the father of twins. They were born May 10 and are both boys. The rest of the story is best told in the following words, which we clip from the Courier:

"Dr. J. M. Wilson is in some measure responsible for the calamity, being present and assisting at the initiatory exercises. He also claims the honor of having been the "chief cook" at the birth of the mother twenty-five years ago, and of the father, now nearly thirty-one summers since. This latter claim is somewhat traditionary, as the editor does not have a distinct recollection of the occurrence at this time.

As Col. Westover has been married six years and these are the first heirs-at-law, he is carrying things with a high hand.

The mother is doing nicely and the boys are as lively as crickets. Here's hoping that the same thing may not happen again for a good while to come.

They are said to be the first twins born in Williamstown for twenty years and the first twin boys ever born on this historic soil.

P. S. All persons knowing themselves indebted to the Courier for subscription accounts or otherwise will please settle at once and save trouble."

The youngsters have been named Henry Clay and William Dickerson, in honor of their grandfathers, Messrs. H. C. Musselman and W. D Westover.

A Girl's Opinion of Boys.

Arthur's Home Magazine.

A little girl wrote the following composition: "Boys are men that have not got as big as their papas, and girls are young women that will be young ladies by and by. Man was made before woman. When God looked at Adam He said to himself: 'Well I guess I can do better if I try again,' and then he made Eve. God liked Eve so much better than Adam that there have been more women ever since. Boys are a wearing on everything but soap. If I had my way half the boys would be little girls, and the rest would be dolls. My papa is so nice that I guess he must have been a little girl when he was a little boy."

A dose of Ayer's Sarsaparilla each morning, during vacation, will greatly benefit you.

It is hardly necessary for the editor of the KENTUCKIAN to notice the absurd charge of the Henderson Gleaner that he has conspired with the editor of the Owensboro Messenger to deadlock the convention and "force Ellis on the party" as a dark horse candidate. Capt. Ellis is not a candidate and he has said over and over again that he would not accept a renomination. His best friends know he is in earnest and even if he should change his mind a nomination under such circumstances as the Gleaner suggests would be out of the question. It would disorganize the party and would simply be inviting defeat. Any man with three grains of sense ought to see this. Capt. Ellis has declined positively and without reserve and that should be the end of all talk of his candidacy.

The statement that Clardy, Vance and Laffoon demanded a primary election is untrue. Dr. Clardy made no suggestions at all, but would have been entirely satisfied with any fair method. He never at any time authorized any body to say he favored a primary election. Mr. Laffoon submitted in writing several plans that would be satisfactory to him. The plan adopted was one of them, with some slight modifications. Judge Vance favored a deadhead primary, to cost the candidates nothing and with the responsibility of defraying the expenses placed on the local committeemen. This was out of the question and was not seriously considered. When the vote was taken on the legalized primary, at the expense of the candidates, Judge Vance's own committeeman declined to vote for it. There was no effort to "force" anything in the meeting. The vote for the plan adopted was unanimous and nothing but harmony prevailed. The Gleaner might have obtained the real facts if it had taken the trouble to send a representative to the meeting.

As to Dr. Clardy, there is no need of "conspiracies" to secure his nomination. His race is virtually won now. All over the district it is recognized that he is far in the lead of his opponents. He will get votes in six counties and be nominated on the first ballot.
