LEVEL GREEN

There were many friends and relatives, among whom were J. W. Brown, from Mt. Vernon, and J. C. Brown, of Walnut Grove, called to see J. N. Brown, Sunday, and helped to make a gloomy day pleasant. The veteran writer, who has always kept the Signal posted with the hapenings of Possum Holler and vicinity, is so closely confined to his bed that he is unable to send in his usual correspondence. Besides numerous ailments, with which he has been so long afflicted, he is now battling with a cold and grippe.

There were services at Burnett's Chapel Sunday, conducted by Rev. Smith, the retiring minister.—R. L. Brown was up from Somerset Thursday to see his father.—The farmers are closely engaged with their fodder and late grass.—The familiar creak of the cane mill is heard in the land, while the little boys and girls feast around the skimming pan.—The "hayseeders" are preparing for a larger acreage of wheat this year than for several years, in fact our citizens are getting to be more industrious and becoming more prosperous every year from good management and improved machinery.—Wade Brown purchased from O. J. Mullins, a fine stock hog and litter, purchase price, $13.—Frank Catron, son of ex-Sheriff Henry Catron, and Prof. Hail, of Walnut Grove, have sold out, lock, stock and barrel, and will migrate to Kansas soon. Prof. Hail and wife are there now and will engage in school teaching.—Messrs. Eugene and Everett Broyles, from Indiana, are visiting their grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Broyles, of near Plato.—Harris Baker has sold his property and will soon move to Missouri. We can hardly blame those who want to live by farming to leave the rocks and saw-briars of this country.—School at this place is now closed for a two weeks' vacation for the teacher and pupils.—A Mr. Owsley, from Hazel Patch, is visiting at Mr. Broughton's. We think there are other attractions than our mountain scenery, which draws Mr. Owsley to our hamlet.—Jas Head says his son, who is in the Lexington sanitarium, is getting along fairly well. James Head, jr., is a bright young man and we trust he will soon be home again.—The singing class at Friendship is getting along right well, with O. J Mullins as teacher.—Mr. R. B Hatcher purchased of J. N. Brown, a calf at a fair price.—The family of Wm. Price, a former Level Green merchant, but now residing in Indiana, is visiting his brother, T. J. Price, at this place.—Mrs. Emeline Broyles is suffering from an attack of apoplexy.—Misses Ora and Ethel Brown gave an entertainment Wednesday evening, in the form of an apple-cutting, which was very much enjoyed by the youngsters of the Holler.—Coleman Broughton says he can cut more tops than any man, but for one to watch his movements in the cornfield, his boasting would seem doubtful.

LIKE FINDING MONEY.

Finding health is like finding money—so think those who are sick. When you have a cough, cold, sore throat, or chest irritation, better act promptly like W. C. Barber, of Sandy Level, Va. He says: "I had a terrible chest trouble, coused by smoke and coal dust on my lungs; after finding no relief in other remedies, I was cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds." Greatest sale of any cough or lung medicine in the world. At the drug store of the Mt. Vernon Drug Co 50c and $1; guaranteed Trial bottle free

Editor Watterson's assertion that a first-class man cannot afford to go to Congress on a salary of $5,000 a year, does hold good in cases where he has sons and daughters old enough to draw salaries as clerks, secretaries or messengers.

LAND, STOCK AND CROP

Beazley Bros., sold this week to Joe Bales 180 export cattle, weight 1,550, at 5-cts.—Lancaster Record.

R. B. Mullins sold to Charley Simpson three building lots just back of the Presbyterian church for $350.

The Rockcastle Real Estate Co. made a small sale of 75 acres of land near Brodhead to J. W. Woodall for $250. It was a part of the E. A. Cox farm.

T. W. Brock sold ninety-five cattle, weight 1,475-lbs, to Joe Frakes of Paris, for the S. & S. Co., at $5 10 straight. This is one of the best sales made here this fall, says the Winchester Democrat.—Bourbon News Baldwin Bros., of Bourbon county, bought of J. P. Sousley, 25 1,100-lb. cattle at $3.75.....Jonas Weil bought Saturday of Thos. H. Clay, Jr., of Bourbon, 76 head of export cattle, averaging 1,475 lbs. and of Jas. M. Russell, 45, averaging 1,450-lbs., at 5-cts.—Danville News.

STRAYED.—One two year old white steer, with red neck and head, horns about six inches long; one roan steer with stripe down back, short horns, also one pale red heifer one year old. Liberal reward for their return or any information as to their whereabouts.

CRAIG HICKEY,
sep 22 tf. Orlando, Ky.

COURT DAY.—There were more mules on the market Monday and more sales made and at better prices than ever known in Mt. Vernon at any court day. J. H. Thompson of Lincoln, bought six sucklings at an average of $40; J. M. Craig, some sucklings, at $40 to $60 and some 3-year-olds at $80. Will Hysinger bought a 5 year-old of Will Brown for $85; W. D Cash sold to George Rogers, of Garrard, a 5-year-old saddle horse for $100. several plugs sold from $40 to $70. Aden Rash sold a mule colt to Tom Mink for $60.

Dunn's weekly review of trade for last week begins with these words: "Assurance of prosperity on the farm generates confidence in all departments of trade and industry. Contracts are placed for distant delivery and the commercial payments are more prompt." It is the old familiar story. When the great agricultural interests of the United States are in good shape all other interests prosper. The owner of railroad stocks and bonds is in better humor because his locomotives have more to haul to and from the farms; the manufacturer is happy because he sees lots of sturdy fellows with money in their pockets who want his wares and are ready to pay for them; the banker and the mortgage leaders know that they are going to get ttheir money back; the wholesale jobber and the retail merchant find sales easy and payment prompt. Everything booms when the farmer has good crops and is selling them for good prices.

Every week there are bunches and car loads of cattle at the stock yards which sell above $6 per hundred. Enquiry into their breeding and feeding invariably reveals the fact that they are good grades from pure bred sires, and that the feeding has been carefully conducted to develop them rapidly. An instance at point is that of the work in this line of an excellent farmer near Heyworth, Illinois, Mr. J. O. Davis. He is one of the best cattle feeders in the country. A few days ago he sold six car loads at the yards which he fed to a finish on his own farm. His prime Polled Angus steers, 18 in number, averaged 1,368 pounds, and sold at $6.50 per hundred. Another lot of high grades brought $6.30, and still another lot of grades sold at $6 25 Attention is called to these cattle to show what painstaking both in breeping and feeding will do. On the same day these cattle were sold there heavier fat steers sold at $5 60. The difference in quality was that the latter were not well bred, nor fed and lacked the thick meat which sells highest.—Indiana Farmer.

ATTACKED BY A MOB.

And beaten, in a labor riot, until covered with sores, a Chicago street car conductor applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and was soon sound and well. "I use it in my family," writes G. J Welch, of Tekonsha, Mich., "and find it perfect." Simply great for cuts and burns. Only 25c at the drugstore of the Mt. Vernon Drug Co.

The republicans who object to depriving the negro of his vote in Virginia and North Carolina may point proudly to the shining example of Philadelphia where the republican machine has has not only deprived "no living man" of his ballot but for years, have allowed 50,000 dead people to keep on voting

WILDIE.

L. T. Stewart made a business trip to Berea Tuesday.—Several from this side of the county attended court Monday.—Rev. Lunceford closed a week's meeting here Sunday, with one addition to the fold.—John Crawford and family, of Brodhead, were here Saturday and Sunday visiting relatives.—J. H. Brannaman was down from Berea College Saturday and Sunday.—J. Henry Fish want to Lexington Thursday to take in the State Fair

There were several over from the Oak Hill section Sunday attending church.—Miss Ila Proctor was up from Orlando Sunday to see home folks.—Mrs M. E. Stewart, who was hurt in the runaway, we are glad to state in fast improving.—Bogie Phillips and wife are at French Lick, Ind., for their health.—Parrott Nash and daughter, were down from Berea Sunday.—G. A. Ballard, of Garrard, was here first of week, taking up a car load of hogs.—Miss Alma Brooks has returned to her home in Columbus, O., after a months' visit here with relatives and friends.

Prof. Chas. Chandler was with our merchants Tuesday, talking flour.—Clay Aldridge, of Winchester, was down first of week, and one of our young widowers, had to go way back and sit down.—The assistant cashier of the Gibralter of Rockcastle, situated at Brodhead, was over last Friday night to attend church, and we learned he behaved very unbecoming to a gentleman.—Dr. Lewis hasn't been "fishing" this week Come, cheer up Doc., there will come a time some day.—We invite "Smithy" over to church again as we are always glad to have him come.—It seems the officers of our church have started out to make the young men behave while in church. God send if they had commenced several years sooner.—Hurrah for the independent ticket headed by Judge Lair.

Cabinet officers are now returning to Washington to take up those questions "of vast public import" which have obligingly been quiescent during the heated term.

ARE YOU ENGAGED?

Engaged people should remember, that, after marriage, many quarrels can be avoided, by keeping their digestions in good condition with Electric Bitters. S. A. Brown, of Bennett-ville, S. C., says: "For years, my wife suffered intensely from dyspepsia, complicated with a torpid liver, until she lost her strength and vigor, and became a mere wreck of her former self. Then she tried Electric Bitters, which helped her at once, and finally made her entirely well. She is now strong and healthy." Sold by Mt. Vernon Drug Co., who sells and guarantees them; price 50-cts a bottle.

Philadelphia proposes to celebrate the two-hundredth anniversary of the birth of Benjamin Franklin. Philadelphia has but recently been trying to practice some of the precepts of honesty and fair dealing that were laid down by poor Richard.

Jas. Caldwell, member of Parliament, has killed more bills in the British House of Commons, than any other member. It is a proud distinction, and it is a pity that every legislature in the United States is not the proud possessor of a "Caldwell."

BRYAN NO CANDIDATE.

"I want to make my position perfectly clear, I want to say to you that not only am I not announcing a candidacy, but I am not permitting a candidacy."

In these words William J. Bryan administered a check to the enthusiasm which at the Jefferson Club banquet given this week in Mr. Bryan's honor greeted the speeches advocating his nomination for the third time for President.

There had been warm words of praise for Mr. Bryan, particularly from Congressman Ollie M. James, of Kentucky, and Judge J. P. Tarvin, of Covington, Ky., who had declared unqualifiedly for Mr. Bryan as the Democratic nominee for President in 1908, and from Alexander Troup, New Haven, Conn., who declared that Bryan was the natural and legitimate leader of the Democratic party in the coming campaign.

"I am not now," said Mr. Bryan, "a candidate for any office, but I want to say now that talk of candidacy for office does not affect me as it once did. I believe that my place in history will be determined not by what the people are able to do for me, but by what I am able to do for the people. I think it is now too soon to choose a candidate to make the race three years from now; it is too early to pledge ourselves to any one man. I trust that before that time comes to name a man for the next presidential race light may be thrown our party's pathway, that a man may be chosen who will be able to do for the party more than I have yet been able to do."
