BROWER'S WIND-UP

In the Carpet and Rug Department.

Intelligent merchandising requires a LOOK AHEAD, a GETTING READY, a CLEAN UP of the STOCK on hand to make room for the FALL PURCHASES. It is the LOOKING AHEAD, this GET READY IDEA that impells us to put on this SALE which for QUANTITY, QUALITY and PRICES, equals if not surpasses any of our former efforts. Come and reap the benefits of the great bargains offered.

Racing Killed in New York State

The final blow against racing in New York State was struck Thursday when the Legislature passed two more of the so-called anti-oral betting bills, which have been urged by Governor Hughes to make effective the Agnew-Hart bills, which he forced through at an early session two years ago.

One bill passed Thursday was introduced by Assemblyman Perkins, of Broome county. It makes directors of racing associations criminally liable for violating the anti-gambling laws on their tracks. This bill, horsemen declare, will finally seal the doom of racing, and will prevent the opening of the tracks in that State. It passed the Senate by a vote of twenty-eight to fifteen.

The second bill, introduced by Senator Agnew, and also passed by the Upper House, is the "oral betting" bill proper. It prohibits the laying of odds either without or with writing. This bill was put through the Assembly Thursday by a vote of 92 to 45. An attempt was made Thursday by Assemblyman A. E. Smith, of New York, to include the New York Stock Exchange and all forms of stock speculation under the same provisions of the law, but was defeated.

The racing associations have maintained in Albany since the opening of the session a strong lobby which has done everything possible to bring about the defeat of the measure.

The enactment of the anti-oral betting laws was recommended by Governor Hughes in his annual message to the Legislature. The demand for some such measure to make operative the Agnew-Hart bills grew out of such decisions as the notorious Gaynor-Gray decision. These Agnew-Perkins bills when approved by the Governor will prohibit bookmaking and betting of every character on the race tracks.

New Depot for Richmond.

In addition to several thousand dollars just spent for the building of several miles of new siding at Richmond and two new water tanks in the yards at Richmond, the L. & N. R.R. Company is going to spend $12,000 more in the erection of a new modern depot on the same site as the old one.

Definition That Counts.

If we are to have any serenity in life we must learn to think for ourselves and to distinguish between things trivial and things worth while.

A Mystery.

We sometimes wonder how people who do not drink sassafras tea are ever able to find out when spring comes.

Parisians Sued in Clark Court.

The Winchester Democrat says: "D. L. Gay and others, constituting the Kentucky Blue Grass Seed Company, have filed suit in the Circuit Court against R. B. Huthcraft of Paris. The petition alleges that Patterson and Evans bought of defendants in 1906, thirty thousand pounds of grass seed, at $1.20 per bushel; that the sale was assigned to the Kentucky Blue Grass Seed Company; that the seed was not delivered; that the profit would have been 42 cents per bushel or a total of $900 for which judgment is asked.

"The same plaintiffs have sued N. Ford Brent, alleging that he sold to Evans 6,000 pounds of extra seed at $1.30 per bushel, under about the same circumstances; that the profit would have been 38 cents per bushel or a total of $912 for which judgment is asked.

"Another suit in which the same plaintiffs recites that on July 19, 1910, Brent sold his entire crop gathered and bought at 95 cents per bushel; that he delivered some, but failed to deliver ten thousand bushels which he should have done and on which plaintiffs would have made three thousand dollars, and for this amount they ask judgment.

"Two similar suits involving about two thousand dollars and pretty much the same conditions were filed against W. D. Nelson, of Lexington."

Not Sorry for Blunder.

"If my friends hadn't blundered in thinking I was a doomed victim of consumption, I might not be alive now," writes D. T. Sanders, of Harrodsburg, Ky., "but for years they saw every attempt to cure a lung-racking cough fail. At last I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. The effect was wonderful; it soon stopped the cough and I am now in better health than I have had for years. This wonderful life-saver is an unrivaled remedy for coughs, colds, la grippe, asthma, croup, hemorrhages, whooping cough or weak lungs. 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Oberdorfer.

Why Not?

The Grant County News says: "If the Burley Tobacco Company fails in making a sale of its holdings within a reasonable period, two plans of disposing of the crop are being considered, we are told. One is to place the tobacco on the open market and let it bring what it will; the other plan is to establish manufacturing plants in various parts of the State and go into the manufacturing business in competition with the American Tobacco Company. It is probable that a fair price could be realized by placing the tobacco on the market, but if capital can be secured in sums sufficient there is little doubt that the manufacturing scheme will meet with the greatest approval.

The earnings of the American Tobacco Company are tremendous. The original capitalization of the company was only $5,000,000, but the watered capital is sufficient to bring the total capital up to ten times that, and it is on this latter sum that dividends are declared. It is therefore easy to see that the profits in manufacturing tobacco are very large, and that if the Burley Company chooses it can go into the manufacturing business without fear of being frozen out, because the stockholders would be producers of tobacco and a fight against it by the American Tobacco Company would avail nothing."

That Mighty Pen.

The superiority of man to nature is continually illustrated. Nature needs an immense quantity of quills to make a goose with, but a man can make a goose of himself with one.—Christian Register.

Patriotic.

Artist (to tentative customer)—Now, I'll be quite frank with you. I refused a thousand dollars for it from an American, because I don't want it to go out of France, but I'll let you have it for ten.—Bon Vivant.

The Man Who Fails.

The man who fails is the one who quits when he thinks he has done all it is possible for him to do.

In Mutual Admiration.

In his youth George Meredith was a fervent admirer of Tennyson, to whom he sent his first volume of poems in 1851. Tennyson wrote back a very complimentary letter, saying that there was one poem which he wished he had written himself, and a firm friendship was established between the two.

Always Some Discord.

No one is wholly satisfied with his life. The best man you can think of cannot have felt any complete satisfaction on reviewing his career.

Huh!

It's easy enough to be honest when life flows along like a song, but when you're out of work and the rent is due and your wife is ill and the children are hungry and you see something you want and there's nobody looking and you've got to a point where you don't much care if there is some one looking, because a warm cell is as good as a cold pavement—why, then?—Life.

Childish Ingenuity.

If grown-ups were as ingenious in manufacturing happiness as children are, this old world would be grinning all the time. Two little boys in Jones street yesterday had a roller skate to play with. The bigger boy put it on, and the smaller boy rode astride the bigger boy's foot. The two of them had as much fun out of that skate as if it had been an automobile.—Newark (N. J.) News.

Joyous Philosophy.

Let us learn to be content with what we have. Let us get rid of our false estimates, set up all the higher ideals—a quiet home, a few books full of the inspiration of a genius; a few friends worthy of being loved, and able to love us in return; a simple religion full of trust and hope and love—and to such a philosophy this world will give us all the empty joy it has.—David Swing.

$15 Men's Suits

When you seek ECONOMY, ask your merchant to show you this $15 suit. Compare it with one that costs $25, and see where lies the difference. It does not lie in the wearing qualities, surely not in the style and fit. The great difference is one of price, caused by more than one reason made in the largest factories of their kind in the world.
