Notice to Election Boards.

Next Tuesday is Election Day, and here in Butler county almost all the returns are filed in the Prothonotary's office by noon next day, as required by law, but each and every year, heretofore, the newspaper men of the town have been frustrated in their efforts to get the official note promptly, by finding that both envelopes returned to the Prothonotary were sealed. The law requires that one of these returns shall be sealed and the other left open for public inspection, and we hope that none of the Election Boards will make the mistake of sealing both envelopes next Tuesday night.

BUTLER should be the banner county of the State.

UNDER date of Butler, Pa., Oct. 28, 1889, the Democratic candidate for District Attorney makes "one more appeal in the way of a suggestion:—"Quietly see each Democratic voter in your neighborhood at least one day before the election and make arrangements for him to turn out. Be at the polls all day if possible and look out that our men vote all right, and as this is an off-year we can get a great many Republican votes;" and the Democratic politicians of the town, who fear that their influence with certain voters is not very extensive have had William A. Wallace of Clearfield, Pa.—the renowned William of Coffee Pot fame—write to them that. "Your candidate for Dist. Att'y is in every way worthy of the office. If the entire democratic vote is polled he will be elected. Will you make this a personal matter, and use your influence in electing him, and giving a majority in your county for Mr. Bigler."

THE citizen who is able to move out of doors next Tuesday, and consciously fails to vote, will neglect his duty.

About the Election.

It ought to be the business of every Republican to urge upon his Republican neighbor the duty of going to the polls. In every off-year the Republican vote falls off largely, for the reason that so many think that the 80,000 Republican majority will elect the candidates, and that that is all that is needed.

Such, however, is not the fact. Even 80,000 majority can be beaten if the stay-at-homes continue to increase their number. Don't forget this.

The State is prosperous Labor is employed; the farmer has had good crops and fair prices; while he has not made large profits, he has been steadily prosperous; and the iron industry is in a healthy condition, with the promise of continued activity during the winter.

Under these circumstances our candidate, Mr. Boyer, ought to have 60,000 majority.

But this can only be secured by individual effort. Committees, it is true, are appointed. But committees cannot do everything, and they are not expected to do everything. They need help, and it is the duty of every Republican voter to see that they have it.

This can be done by urging your neighbors to vote. That is most that is needed—urge the Republicans to vote.

Any considerable reduction of last fall's Republican majority will be regarded by Democrats as a victory. Deprive them of this satisfaction by doing your duty as a good party man, in getting out the vote.

Our candidates are worthy. They are entitled to the vote of every Republican in the county.

BE ON your guard against eleventh hour stories, and tickets with "stickers" on them.

THE campaign in Ohio is extremely warm this year, even for Ohio, where they invariably make things sizzle.

OHIO, Virginia and New Jersey elect governors next Tuesday. Ohio votes on the "first Tuesday after the first Monday of November" for the first time in its history, and the fight there between Foraker and Campbell has been "red hot" from the beginning of the campaign. In old Virginia little Mahone, who is said to weigh but 85 pounds, is giving the old mossback Bourbons the worst shaking up they have had since the war. In New Jersey the candidates are Gen. Grubb and Leon Abbott, and the campaign centers on railroad and temperance questions, with Gen. Fisk favoring Gen. Grubb, the Republican candidate.

THE special train containing the delegates of the International Congress will reach Pittsburgh from the West next Wednesday. The party will go to the Monongahela House, and the next day, Thursday, will visit the works of Ripley & Co., Oliver Iron and Steel Works, Jones & Laughlin Iron Works, Homestead Steel Works of Carnegie, Phipps & Co., W. D. Woods & Co's Sheet Iron Works, National Tube Works at McKeesport, and Edgar Thomson Steel Works at Bessemer. On Friday, Nov. 8, the party will visit Tarentum, in the natural gas region; the Pittsburg Plate Glass Works at Allegheny Junction, Porter's Locomotive Works, Cresent Steel Works, works of Hussey, Binns & Co. and the A. French Spring Company. On Saturday morning, Nov. 9, after breakfasting at the Monongahela House, the party will leave Pittsburg for Altoona, stopping en route to visit the glass manufactories at Jeannette, the Grapevelle gas fields and the steel works at Latrobe. The Pennsylvania Railroad shops at Altoona will be visited, after which the special train will be run through to Philadelphia, reaching that city about 10 P.M.

ST. PAUL has a positive sensation. Patrick Mahoney appeared to have been killed by accident. The dead man was repeatedly and fully identified as that of Pat. Even his own brothers, his mother and about 500 acquaintances were sure of it was he. All this was while the body was in good condition, and seemingly easy to identify. Yet, after they had buried it, Patrick turned up alive and well.

THE noted soap manufacturer, B. T. Babbitt, is dead. Of him it was truly said: "While there is life there's soap."

Obituary.

REV. JAMES H. MARSHALL.

All who knew Rev. James H. Marshall, of Concord Church, were pained to hear of his death on Friday last, Oct. 25, 1889, at his home in Middletown. He had been pastor of the church for over twenty-four years, and no man stood higher in both church and community. He had been troubled with an affection of the throat for some years, and last summer went to Clifton Springs and took hot baths, which seemed to do him harm. It is said that he never could speak aloud after taking the first bath, and the affection went to his lungs and caused his death.

He was born near Glade Run in Armstrong Co., and was married during the first year of his pastorate at Concord to Miss Barnett, of same county. His wife and three children survive him. Charley and his two sisters were attending college in Ohio at the time of his death and did not get home till a few hours after he breathed his last. He was 52 years of age last July. His funeral took place at Concord church, Tuesday morning, and was attended by almost the whole of the Concord and North Butler congregations, as well as by a large number of his neighbors. Rev. J. R. Coulter had charge of the services, and Revs. Oller, McConkey, Wright, Breaden, Irwin, Reed and Starks were present. He was buried in the churchyard adjoining the church.

It was stated that had he survived till the 1st of April next he would have been pastor of the two churches of Concord and North Butler for twenty-five years, from which we judge that he preached for the two churches for a few months before his installation.

Concord church is one of the oldest churches in Butler county, having been organized by Rev. Jas. Hemphill, with six members, and Messrs. Jeremiah Sutton, Sr., Hugh Conway, Sr., William Christy and John Christy were the first elders. Rev. John McPherrin was the first pastor and held the office till Feb. 10, 1822. He was succeeded by Rev. John Coulter who was pastor for forty-one years—from 1823 to 1864, and he by Rev. Marshall who was installed Oct. 23, 1865. Nine members of the church have entered the ministry, viz: Revs. G. W. Mechling, S. P. Kinkaid, D. M. Rankin, James Smith, J. Harper, Thos. Graham, J. R. Coulter, Josiah McPherrin, and Perry S. Allen. The present session consists of David J. Russell, Samuel Russell, Thos. E. Coulter, Peter Kamerer, Robert Emery, John S. Campbell, and Harvey Campbell.

JAMES B. STOREY.

On Monday morning last, word reached Butler that Major James. B. Storey, formerly of this town, but who for some years has had a desk in the Auditor General's office in Harrisburg, had died suddenly of heart disease. The news was a shock to his friends here, who remembered his hearty and rugged appearance when attending the reunion of the 102d in Butler in August. He was buried in Harrisburg.

Major Storey enlisted as a private in the One Hundred and Second Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, and was promoted to various positions, until made Major for gallantry in battle. He was shot in the head at Cold Harbor. In front of Petersburg, in June, 1864, he was shot through the left side and lost his left arm. He was Sheriff of Butler county, and, in 1882, was appointed to a clerkship in the Auditor-General's department.

Birthday Party in Oakland.

A pleasant birthday party met at the residence of Jas. M. Hutchison of Oakland township.

The neighbors and relatives assembled at the house about 10 o'clock to the number of about one hundred and fifty. A beautiful and bountiful table was spread in the yard in front of the house and all present ate heartily.

A birthday dinner was served to Mr. Hutchison at his bed side. He was injured in the spinal column about ten months ago by the falling in of a coal bank in which he was working. His injury gave him great pain and suffering and ended in paralysis, of which he can never recover. In his bed he was happy to take the hand of all visitors and thanked them for their birthday presents, which were small but numerous and given with that hearty cheer and friendship that characterized the first settlers of Butler County.

Mr. Hutchison was a soldier for three years. He served in the 62d Pa. Vols., was transferred when that regiment's time expired to the 155th Pa. Vols. and from that to the 191st, and was was discharged after the war was ended. In his manly struggle for life for himself and his family he was wounded at last near his own home, where he will remain, we hope, years, to receive the care and comfort of his noble neighbors and friends, who are all owners of an old book that says: "Inasmuch as you did it not unto the least of these, my little ones, ye did it not unto me."

This was a very pleasant day and all present went away feeling better and left this afflicted neighbor many good wishes, a few presents and a small purse of money for which he returns many thanks.

ONE WHO WAS THERE.

Whitestown Chatterings.

Be it known:—

That Whitestown still lives, moves and has its being.

That it has been raining a little, which we are all glad to see, as the water is getting very scarce.

That W. E. Cooper is still on the warpath and visits our neighboring village, Prospect, very regularly. Go it, Warrie, while you're young.

That Wright Bros. & Co., of Prospect, have purchased the store formerly occupied by G. M. Graham, and are doing a good business, with W. H. Alexander at the helm.

That Howard Graham is driving team for Curt. Ruby in the oil country, and proves himself quite handy with the lines.

That from all appearances the oil is coming this way, and we think it will be but a short time until the rigs may be seen dotting the landscape on all sides, and the voices of the oil men shall be heard in our midst, and the oil may be seen running down every gutter.

That the schools have commenced, and the boys and girls are learning to "shoot" quite rapidly, under the instructions of Miss Rose and Miss Kerr.

MOONLIGHT.

Marion Township.

Our schools opened on Monday.

Corn huskings are are in order now.

Will Cummins, of Altoona, is visiting friends in this vicinity.

Mrs. Adams is treating her house to a coat of paint, "Jockey" Mann wields the brush.

Miss Emma Kimes is very low with the typhoid fever.

Mrs. John McMurry, who had the typhoid fever, is recovering slowly.

J. H. Dible will complete a fine dwelling house for Mrs. Matilda Vincent this week.

John Gilghrist has been quite poorly for some time with malaria fever.

G. B. Kimes who was elected to teach No. 1 school in this twp. has given up teaching and will work at "the art preservative of all arts," in Pittsburg this winter. H. K. Wilson of Grove City, will take his place in the school.

Milton Bailey met with quite an accident last week, he was working on a well in the oil field below Butler, when a derrick lamp exploded, throwing oil on him and burning him seriously. And since he has come home erysipelas has set in and he is in a very critical condition at this writing.

NEMO.

Portersville.

Our town is to have another shoe shop.

Frank Heberling left for Jackson township on Monday, where he has engaged to teach a five months' term of school.

Harry Okeson and Willie Kinsey were home from Centreville on Sunday.

James McClymonds, of Centreville, is visiting friends in town and vicinity.

Arch Marshall will occupy the house recently vacated by Mr. Frisbee's family.

Sleek up, boys and girls, and say "besom;" we are going to have a photographer.

A number of Odd Fellows and Rebeccas were at New Brighton last week attending a meeting of the lodge there.

Abigal Wimer visited at Rose Point last week.

Ollie Davis, who was taken home with the scarlet fever, is convalescent.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

While four men were sitting under a freight car at Irwin, last Sunday, playing cards, a shifter pushed a train of cars against the freight car, moving it and killing all the men under it.

Wm. Harn of Tarentum, shot and killed himself in a coal shed last Saturday

The P. & W. Ry. Company has bought the Herr Island property, paying therefor the sum of $38,000. The ground purchased will be utilized as a freight-yard.

A little girl died last week from spasms caused by riding a "merry-go-round" at Uniontown.

The West Penn Press and the Valley Times, of Tarentum, have consolidated.

A pumpkin is on exhibition in Indiana county, which weighs 76½ pounds.

Warren county is said to be the hunter's paradise. One day recently, while a gunner was out, his dog treed three porcupines on one tree and three black squirrels on another.

While killing a rooster, Mrs. John Platt, of New Castle, received a scratch from the spurs of the fowl. A few days later Mrs. Platt and the child she was nursing, developed symptons of blood poisoning. The child has since died and the woman cannot recover.

The Emlenton News says: "Emlenton is now enjoying a boom the like of which has not been experienced for years."

The champion mean man is claimed by New Castle in a citizen who gave a farmer a check after banking hours and then discounted it for cash.

The Meadville Messenger says: "Raising wheat in Crawford county is not a thing of the past as many supposed. We have only just begun to realize what we can do in this direction. At six barns, on Brown Hill, there was threshed this season 3,770 bushels of number one wheat, or over 626 bushels average raised on each farm."

On Sunday last Charlie, five years of age, son of Fred Weindorf, of Fairview, Erie county, came to his death in a remarkable manner. While the child was playing in the yard he picked up some Lima beans and placed them in his mouth. He stumbled and one of the beans was drawn back and lodged in his windpipe. The boy was unable to dislodge it, and was slowly choking to death as he reached the house and tried to tell his mother the trouble. She endeavored in vain to remove the bean. His face and neck turned almost black.

A doctor was sent for, but ere he arrived the little fellow threw his arms about his mother's neck, muttered "Good-bye ma, ma," and died.

Tuesday of last week was the day set by the Second Adventists for the coming of the "King of Kings," and a large number of persons were in camp at Screamersville, Pa., awaiting the event. The prediction for Tuesday having failed, the time was extended to Thursday.

The citizens of Johnstown have raised $5,000 to continue the search for the dead. The work of cleaning out Stony Creek river, where the State forces left off, will be commenced at once, and continue as long as the weather will permit.

The contest between the candidates for Judge in our neighboring counties of Westmoreland and Armstrong, is waxing hotter day by day; but the chances are decidedly in favor of the Republican candidates.

The omission of the borough of Jeannette from the election proclamation of Westmoreland county, it is thought, may result in knocking the Republicans out in their stronghold. They announce the omission as a Democrat trick.

A bear weighing 433 pounds was killed in Indiana Co. last week.

The Big Bend Creamery at Lisbon, near Emlenton was burned last Wednesday night, with its entire contents of machinery, etc. The origin of the fire is a mystery. When discovered, the entire building was in flames and nothing could be saved. The loss is about $3,000: insured for $2,100.

A Homer City man went down stairs the other morning for the purpose of lighting the gas in the kitchen stove. He applied the lighted match and turned on the gas. But it didn't ignite. The match went out and without turning off the gas he went to hunt another and after a time he found one and returning to the stove stuck the lighted match in the fire. It caught on that time. The stove was full of gas and an explosion, that sent the top of the stove to the ceiling was the result. It is said the man was so frightened that he ran upstairs and would not come down till his wife had first gone down and turned off the gas. His experience will be of use to him and we publish it in order that others may profit by his mistake.

Over in Blair Co. one day last week, two men went out hunting for wild turkeys. They separated, and one took the other for a turkey and shot and killed him.

Warren, Erie and Corry in this State, and Jamestown, New York, are supplied with gas by the Pennsylvania Co. supposed to be a branch of the Standard. The Company has lately raised the price from $3.00 per fire, to $3.75 per fire, and this has brought about a grand kick, and an effort is being made to annul the charter of the Company.

At Franklin last Friday a number of school-children found a dynamite cartridge near the school-house, and while attempting to open it with a knife, it exploded, killing two boys and injuring eighteen others.

The Co-operative Flint Glass Works at Beaver Falls, was destroyed by fire last Thursday night.

Wayne county has a fair and it is pretty broad gauged in its management, too. It advertises the full list of premiums awarded; a little courtesy to exhibitors that is greatly appreciated.

An Allentown embezzler has played a sharp game on those he wronged. Had he skipped to Canada, his own country would have been closed against him indefinitely. He did better by hiding in his own luxurious home for two years, within sight of his robbed employers. Now he comes out, pleads the statute of limitations and is free—to swindle some one else who will trust him.

The singing was no good last Friday night; the young folks all went to the dance. H.

A LARGE number of witnesses were put upon the stand in the Cronin case last Friday. The purpose of the State was to positively identify the body and to show the cause of death. The attorneys for the defence endeavored to cast doubts upon both of these points, but with little success. A portion of the medical testimony was shaken upon cross-examination. On Saturday the defense tried to rule out all the witnesses who had read the papers, but were unsuccessful.

THE COURT HOUSE of Harlan county, Ky. was taken possession of by the Howard gang, one day last week.

Care for the Children

Children feel the debility of the changing seasons, even more than adults, and they become cross, peevish and uncontrollable. The blood should be cleansed and the system invigorated by the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Give it a trial.

"Last spring my two children were vaccinated. Soon after, they broke all out with running sores, so dreadful I thought I should lose them. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured them completely; and they have been healthy ever since. I do feel that Hood's Sarsaparilla saved my children to me." MRS. C. L. THOMPSON, West Warren, Mass.

DEATHS

EICHENLAUB—At the residence of J. Stoup at Herman, Oct. 29, M. Eichenlaub, aged 82 years.

MONROE—At the residence of his grandfather, N. M. Kirkland, Leasuresville, Pa., Oct. 24th, Norman Kirkland Monroe, aged 7 mos.

CONN—In Clay Tp., Oct. 2, 1889, of diphtheria, Goldie Pearl, daughter of R. B. and M. E. Conn, aged 1 year, 9 mos. and 6 days.

The angel of God from heaven descended,
To gather gems for the Savior's crown,
As the gardner gathereth the rarest flowers,
So he the brightest jewels claimed.

We hoped in vain that he would pass
And leave our flock an unbroken band,
But his hand was laid on "Goldie Pearl"
And from our arms he took her home.

Our hearts were sad as her spirit wafted
Up to the realms of endless day,
But we know she is bosomed on Jesus' breast,
Safe from all harm and earthly care.

O "Goldie," how much we feel thy loss,
How lonely are our evening hours;
Thy merry laugh and smiling face,
Are silenced, save in midnight dreams.

We know that thou art happier far
Than all earth's love and song could make thee.
Why should we sorrow then for thee,
When thou art in eternal rest?

O God, be with us in our grief,
And teach us thy afflicting hand to bless.
May our loved one now in heaven,
Bind our hearts more close to thee.

May we humbly in our weakness say,
"The Lord hath given, and taken away,"
And bless Thy name more fervently,
Trusting to meet around Thy throne.
