LOCAL AND GENERAL.

—Large additions are being built to the car works

—C. E. Miller is having his store front remodeled.

—The police are after Hunkies who are dynamiting fish.

—Branchton is having a boom in limestone operations.

—Monday, Jack Grubbs received a $100 bull pup from Denver, Col

—The Elwood basketball team tackles the Alamedas at the Park, Friday evening.

—George Mardorf has a handsome automatic, electric sign for his Amusement Arcade.

—Awarding the contract for the addition to the Hospital has been postponed for one month.

—Tax Collector Slater and his assistant, R. A. White, are the busiest men in town this week.

—This is triennial assessment year and the assessors are getting ready to start on their work.

—As school opens Sept. 7th, it would be advisable for all pupils to be vaccinated before that time.

—Some property on Wood St., Pittsburg, changed hands, last week, at ten thousand dollars a foot front.

—Queens Junction will be the name of the new town, at the junction of the Bessie and Allegheny Western.

—Three or four hundred dwellings have been built in Butler already this year and still the cry is "more houses."

—The Good Will Hose Co. entertains the South Side fire laddies at a smoker, in their handsome appartments on W. Jefferson St., this evening.

—A stable belonging to James W. McKee of the Southern Oil Co. on Brady St. was damaged by fire to the extent of $500, Tuesday afternoon.

—A carp 28 inches in length and weighing 24 pounds was caught by J. J. Manny and others in a shallow place near the West St bridge, Monday.

—The Y. M. C. A. of Du Bois picniced at Alameda Thursday; Friday the Baptist Sunday school will picnic and on Saturday the Knights of St. John.

—James Vance's pocket book was stolen at the circus, Saturday, but he lost only some small change, having taken $55 out of the purse before starting.

—At Washington, Pa., last Friday a young Jew accused of larceny saturated his clothes with oil, touched a lighted match to them, and died a horrible death.

—Geo. W. Phillips of Allegheny has bought the Dikeman farm at Valencia and will lay it off in building lots. The farm contains 60 acres and was sold for $60 per acres.

—The two-minute trotter has arrived. At Readville, Mass., Monday, Lou Dillon, a mare, lowered the trotting record of 2:02¼ made by Crescens in 1901, to two minutes flat.

—An earthquake shock was felt in St. Louis, lately; and the managers of the Expo. are trying to devise a means of harnessing the next one that comes for exhibition at their Fair.

—An insurance agent lately stated that fifteen millions of dollars went from Western Pennsylvania (the Pittsburg district) to the eastern life insurance company, annually.

—At Cramp's yards in Philadelphia, Saturday, the big, new Cruiser "Pennsylvania" was successfully launched. She will be a powerful ship, and will cost, complete, about seven millions.

—The oilmen will have a fac simile of the first oilwell drilled by Col. Drake at Titusville in 1859, at their reunion at Alameda, Sept. 9-11, and will give a gold prize to the most interesting baby.

—As the doings of the Penn'a R. R. is distressing one of our cotemporaries we'll just tell 'em that the new road is coming up the Connoquenessing, and will hit out East of Butler somewhere.

—Harry Snow, an 18-year-old son of Matthew Snow Zeigler Ave. is alleged to have tried to shoot his father, yesterday morning, at their home on Zeigler Ave. A warrant is out for his arrest.

—The mineral spring on the Rudert farm is a wonderful thing. A rheumatic grasshopper that was going around on three legs drank freely of its waters, and can now jump over any house in Saxonburg.

—"Dan Patch" is a horse, and as he paced a mile in a second less than two minutes, the other day, at Brigton Beach, his owner probably values him at several times the usual limit for a human life by a railroad accident.

—The river barge, Annie Roberts, loaded with 1500 excursionists sprang a leak, Sunday, and sank in the Monongahela river. Fortunately she went down in a shallow place and the water reached only to the first deck. The passengers were panic stricken, but none were hurt.

—Sheriff Gibson and his deputies are still prepared for war at North Slipperyrock. The striking miners refuse to go to work unless an interpreter named Sigardi is discharged. The Coal Co. has ordered the men to go to work or be evicted on Sept. 1st, and trouble is anticipated.

—Some Butler boys attended the Kittanning Fair, last Thursday, and as they were eighteen miles from home, and across the river, they broke the wheel of fortune, peeped into the hoochie choochie tent, munched ginger-bread, ate peanut, drank lemonade, and did other foolish things. Everything goes at the Kittanning Fair—also the Punxy and Indiana.

—Butler county will have no Fair, this year, and so a fair day and the Barnum & Bailey show drew the largest crowd to the town that has been here, this year. The sale of tickets for the afternoon performance was about ten thousand, and for the evening performance about six thousand. The average price of seats was 75 cents; and deducting expenses here the show probably took about ten thousand dollars out of the county. The only trouble was in feeding the crowd at noon. This town would stand a few more hotels very nicely.

—Lettuce is reccomended by a prominent medical journal as a sure preventive of smallpox. The preventive is so dead easy that people will be slow to pin their faith to it. The paper argues that small-pox belongs, like scurvy, to the scrobutic diseases, and attacks people deprived of fresh vegetables. It always rages during the winter season, when the poor people are deprived of fresh vegetable foods. Lettuce contains the valuable properties which will prevent small-pox. The same journal further says; "We say, without the least hesitation or reserve, that lettuce will prevent smallpox. It is better than vaccination. We are willing to stake our professional reputation on the broad statement that any one who eats lettuce daily will not catch smallpox, whether he be vaccinated or not."

Ritter & Rockenstein's sale of pu to date clothing gives every one a chance.

—Plenty of plums.

—Work on the 100-foot addition to the B. & O. freight depot is being rushed.

—Three police officers from Pittsburg spent Saturday in Butler spotting crooks.

—Rev. Smith and Dr. Boak of New Castle boxed, then fought, and now are in Court.

It is reported on good authority that Eli D. Robinson has disposed of most of his interest in the Butler Eagle.

—Joseph Pulitzer, editor of the New York World, has given $2,000,000 to establish a school of journalism in Columbia University.

—The location of the new fair grounds has been changed from the Forcht farm to the Duffy farm on the New Castle road at the top of the hill west of town. Fifty acres can be obtained on a 20 year lease.

—Marriage brokers have sued Count Larish, of Germany, who married Miss Satterfield of Titusville, for $50,000, which they loaned him to swell on while courting, and he is prosecuting them as blackmailers and swindlers.

—A Butler township man thumped a stranger who had jostled and knocked down a woman with a baby in her arms at the B. & O. station, Saturday. The stranger ran away and the local man was arrested and fined $2 and costs.

—The finest flower in Butler at present is J. B. Mechling's "Queen of the Night." A species of cactus, similar to the night-blooming serus, but more fragrant and beautiful. It bloomed Saturday and Monday nights.

—An operation was performed, Monday, by Dr. Patterson on Harry Sumney of the Kemper barber shop, for the removal of a growth from a bone in his leg, which is a result of an injury to the bone by a dog-bite when he was a child. The operation was successful.

The following graduates and students of the Butler Business College have recently accepted positions as follows: Robert Seaton, with the Standard Steel Car Co Harry Ehrman, with the Butler Savings & Trust Co. David Black, with Jones & McLaughlin, Pittsburg.

—At the Knights and Ladies of Honor's picnic yesterday Kate Dittmer won the egg race, Dot McCandless the ladies' 50-yard dash, Walter Talbot the fat man's race, Mary Dickey and Alma Hauck the girls' three-legged race, Ford Hayes and Ed. Negley the men's three-legged race, Alma Hauck the girls' wheel-barrow race. Jim Barr caught the greased pig.

—The following Butler county rural mail carriers were appointed on Tuesday: Boyers, regular, Harold E. Murrin, substitute, Arthur P. Murrin; Butler, regular, Maurice P. J. Lehnard, Frank E. McNany, substitutes, George Rettig, John McNany; Carbon Black, regular, Milton E. Muder, substitute, Mrs. Alice Muder; Evans City, regular, Joseph Little, substitute George Little.

—Mrs. John Friskorn and her four children, a young son of Matthias Kirchner, and two others were bitten, Saturday by a five months old pup on Cleveland St. Several dogs were also bitten. The wounds of the bitten people were cauterized and Dr. Atwell sent the body of the pup to the Mercy hospital, Pittsburg, but it was too badly decomposed on reaching there to determine on the presence of hydrophobia.

—The residence of Wm. E. McLaughlin of Kirkpatrick's jewelry store was robbed Saturday while the family were standing on the front porch watching the parade passing on W. Jefferson St. Two diamond rings, a diamond and emerald ring, a diamond brooch and other jewelry to the amount of $500 and $46 cash in a small bank were taken. The loss was not discovered until Mrs. McLaughlin went to her room after supper.

CONNELL & GROUTT.

PARK THEATRE.

DILGER-CORNELL CO.—ALL NEXT WEEK.

Monday Night Aug. 31st, the Dilger-Cornell Co. will open a week's engagement at the Park Theatre. This Company needs no introduction to the theatre-goers of Butler, having already established themselves as favorites here. This season the Company is much larger and stronger than ever before, presenting a line of royalty plays that are all tried Metropolitan Successes, but that have never been given before at popular prices. The play for Monday night "Enemies for Life" is one of the strongest melo-dramas ever written. The Oil City Blizzard in speaking of the piece says, "Enemies for Life" is a melodrama of high order and each member of the company did full justice to his part, the action of the play is thrilling and at no time is it allowed to drag the waits between the acts were filled in with high class specialties, making it a continuous performance.
