THE WORLD SPECIAL OFFER. THE NEW YORK WEEKLY WORLD, AN EIGHT-PAGE NEWSPAPER, Will be sent (postage prepaid) From Now Until January 1, 1879, FOR TEN CENTS.

On the 1st of May, 1878, the ownership and control of The World passed into the hands of the undersigned, under whose absolute and untrammelled direction The World has ever since remained and now remains.

During the whole of this time The World has labored patiently and perseveringly for the accomplishment of two great objects in politics of profound interest to the Southern people.

I. The restoration of Local Self-Government at the South.

II. A Real Reform of the Civil Service, in such degree as to destroy the political machines which the operation of the South has come to pass that the people are taxed to support political parties, whereas political parties have no other reason of being except to lessen the burdens of government.

The first of these objects has been triumphantly accomplished. All intelligent Northern men now admit that all parts of the country were as deeply interested as the South in this work. A corrupt and anti-Democratic government in the South was a permanent peril to the ascendancy of true American principles in the Federal Government and therefore to the peace and honor of the whole people.

The second political object for which The World contends remains to be fully achieved. The actual Administration began its career with excellent promises in this direction of which it is sufficient to say that they have been as yet only in part redeemed. The World for its part will resolutely support any honest effort to redeem these promises fully, by whomsoever made, and will as resolutely denounce every obstacle thrown in the way of redempting them, from whatever quarter.

It seems to the undersigned eminently proper that he should ask the co-operation of the best men of the South in his efforts to carry out the policy here outlined. He believes The World to be a paper which Southern citizens and Democrats can recommend to Southern readers as an influence worthy and important to be brought to bear with constantly increasing power upon the conduct of our national affairs, in the interest of truth, justice and of harmony among our people of all sections.

It is my desire to keep The World in a living relation with the best thought of the South, to send that the best ideas, wishes and feelings of the Southern people may be clearly and fully made known to the North, the West, Alaska in private and in public, and to the friends of the South in all parts of the world. The root of so much evil that has come to be a synonym with strife. It was a wise saying of the time of one of our sharpest writers, Great Britain, that two intelligences alone on a raft in the Atlantic would be able to adjust the whole world in an hour.

The World simply asks its friends at the South to aid it in bringing about a complete meeting of minds on all public questions between the intelligent citizens of all parts of the Union.
