Wheat Market Closes Heavy

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—Uncertainty in regard to Argentine export trade together with prevailing lack of new export business in this country, had a bearish effect today on the Wheat market here. Prices closed heavy, 2½ to 3¾c net lower, with March ranging at 11.48 and July at 11.60½ to 11.60¾. Corn lost about ½ to 3c, oats is to 1c and provisions 12 to 35c.

Attention of wheat traders evidently was kept almost exclusively on the truth of rumors that the Argentine government had taken action which implied that there would be no sales to exports. Buying machines were extremely inactive. Argentine news was conducive to bearish sentiment, it being said that the Argentine crop was improving with rains and that the Argentine government would not be in a position to sell wheat for export until the United States grain had run so within sight of the end.
