the Waco, and that one of the barges belonging to the Picton Construction company has been used in the work.

It is expected that the surveying party will reach the waters adjacent to Corpus Christi in about two weeks and when once here will require about that length of time to complete the work. Captain Miller, who has charge of the work, as representative of the government engineers at Galveston, several days ago said he would in all probability move to the Corpus Christi waters as soon as possible in order to have the protection of the breakwater.

During the recent equally spell ships anchored behind the breakwater remained safely at their moorings, while at neighboring ports several are reported to have drug anchor badly, some beach and some were damaged more severely as in the case of the Waco which went to the bottom.

BEEVILLE WINS EASY GAME FROM CORPUS CHRISTI

Kroniger of Fort Sam Houston headed the Beeville ball team in Corpus Christi yesterday as its choice of a hurler and won with a 7 to 0 score. He came with a great reputation as a pitcher throughout this section of Texas and he left last night with his reputation still intact, another scalp on his belt and the admiration of thousand fans who saw him perform.

So well did he handle the boy work for the visiting team that he let the locals down with three scattered hits, a double and a single by Pollard and a single by Partain. On more than one occasion Corpus Christi had a runner advanced as far as third but it was then that Kroniger tightened up and showed his real ability as a hurler.

Three bases on balls were drawn off of his delivery but the big righthander more than made up for it by striking out an even dozen batters. In four of the six innings that Corpus Christi had men on bases Kroniger struck out the batter for the third out. It was a great exhibition of pitching, especially in the pinches when the hurler exerted himself.

Tom Tunches pitching for the locals had the reverse action insofar as his part of the combat was concerned. The visiting stickmen seemed to handle what he had to offer at will, especially when the bag was occupied and Tom was touched up for a total of nine hits, three of them doubles which gave the Beeville aggregation the game by the score of 7 to 0.

The Beeville spirit was certainly there in the grand stand. What the rooters lacked in numbers they more than made up for in volume and they proceeded to heal the local fans misery from the start to the end of the game.

MISS JULIA S. GORDON WELL CAST IN NEW FILM

Talented Actress Has Great Role in "The Passionate Pilgrim" Paramount Photoplay.

Julia Swayne Gordon, who scored a triumph as the woman conspirator in "Heliotrope" has a striking part—that of Mme. Watt, who slays her husband,—in "The Passionate Pilgrim," which comes to the Amusu theatre today.

The personal of "The Passionate Pilgrim," is remarkably strong, including a number of players famous in the screen world. It is a wonderful cast of featured players, even the smallest parts being filled by actors and actresses of established reputation on the screen.

Miss Gordon has had a long and successful career in stock, vaudeville and productions, worth mentioning. In motion picture dramas has been in "The Soul Master", "Son of the Hills," "The Message of the Mouse," "Soldiers of Chance," "The Hillman," "Over the Top," "The Soup Girl," "Love Watching," "The Captain's Captain," "The Girl Problem," "Miss Dulcie from Dixie" and "The Moonshine Trail."

In "The Passionate Pilgrim" she plays a part requiring great dramatic power. The leading roles are portrayed by Matt Moore and Ruby de Remer.

WOMAN'S PART IN MAN'S SUCCESS—Often the strongest impulse to save comes from the woman of the household.

Every man should consider himself fortunate who has a wife or mother who helps him to save money.

The important part about saving is not the amount of money you set aside each week. The essential thing is the firm decision to save a definite, regular sum, no matter how small it may be.

Even $1, saved regularly each week, will make your savings grow amazingly.
