PARIS BUDGET.

ROUND BOUGHT BY RAILWAY MEN FOR A CEMETERY.

Open Air Religious Services—Judges Go Home. Work of the Courts—Marriage Licenses. Real Estate—Buildings Going Up.

Paris, Tex., April 9.—(Special.)—The Frisco employes here have purchased a five block in Evergreen cemetery and will use it for the burial of railway men who may die here, and having no family or friends here would otherwise be buried in the public cemetery. Shrubs and flowers have been donated and the place at cost will be made beautiful. Yesterday the first burial took place, being that of Dan Duvalt, the section hand who was run over last Thursday near Pecan Gap while trying to remove some tools from the track.

The Knights of Pythias will confer knighthood upon several esquires Monday night.

Rev. A. Nash, recently state secretary of Nebraska for the Y. M. C. A., and now en route to China mission work, is holding special meetings here for the large crowds who are attending the federal court.

Our judges left yesterday to spend Sunday at home—Judge McClelland for Denison and Judge Bryant for Sherman. Judge and Mrs. J. M. Closson of Baltimore are here on a visit to their daughter, Mrs. T. S. Hill.

John Elder to Miss Lizzie Yastine; John Hendricks to Miss Phoebe Mitchell; these reads the marriage license record for yesterday.

In the courts a good deal was done yesterday. The federal grand jury passed on fifty-six cases for the week, indicting thirty cases and ignoring twenty-six. Mack Robinson was convicted of assault to kill, and the bond of Captain Jeff Durant of the Choctaw militia, charged with assault to kill, was forfeited, but later in the day the forfeiture was set aside. Several whisky cases were also disposed of.

In the state court the David Bradly manufacturing company obtained judgment with foreclosure of lien against J. P. Harrison for $3927.05; and R. F. Scott Grocer company against S. W. Kelton for $1265.38 and lien foreclosed.

Realty transfers yesterday $3720.

There is a vast amount of residence building going on in Paris, and for want of transit facilities to the suburbs the town has been built up solidly until very few choice residence spots can be had. The building of an electric line out in either of several ways would be followed by a large amount of building, and it would soon create a paying traffic. A five mile line to Blossom would be a paying thing, and would have a growing patronage.

THE RANDLE CASE.

THE TESTIMONY ALL IN ANDARGUMENT WILL BEGIN TODAY.

MRS. RANDALL TESTIFIES.

Dallas, Tex., April 8.—(Special.)—Joe Hill was the first witness introduced in the state this morning inthe Randle trial. Mr. Hill testified that he met Charles E. Henning on the street previous to the habeas corpus trial. He spoke of the Randle case and told him that he (Henning) had loaned Ed S. Randall $15 at a faro tble. He told him this when he said he was afraid he would have to testify in the case with regard to the alleged threats against the prisoner. Witness Hill was positive that Henning told him that he loaned Randall money at a faro table.

The state then announced that it would introduce witnesses to establish the reputation of E. S. Randall for peace and quietness—that he was an inoffensive and inoffensive citizen. The defense objected and made a determined fight against the introduction of this sort of testimony. Judge Burke, after carefully examining the law, overruled the objection and Lawrence Knepfly was called. He testified that he had known E. S. Randall for eight or ten years, and that the general reputation was good.

E. S. Reardon, so far as he knew, considered the reputation of deceased good.

J. R. Williams, was in business in the same block with Randall for a number of years. He considered the general reputation of deceased good.

Captain John H. Gaston, as far as he knew, considered the reputation of E. S. Randall good.

Ex-Sheriff W. H. Lewis also considered the general reputation of deceased good.

Deputy Constable Jacoby was called. Mr. Jacoby stated that he had been a deputy constable for eight years and had known E. S. Randall since 1883. His general reputation was good.

A number of others testified that Randall's reputation was good.

Mrs. Dilla M. Randall was sworn. The witness testified that she was the wife of the deceased; that they were married in Galveston in 1878, and that for a few years prior to their marriage Mr. Randall resided in Galveston. On Dec. 8, the day that her husband wall killed, he did not come down town until 12 o'clock. She was preparing to go to Paris to visit a sick sister. Mr. Randall was absent only a few minutes when he returned and accompanied her and Mr. and Mrs. Purdy to the Santa Fe depot, which is scheduled to leave Dallas at 1:20. That day it was late and did not leave the depot until 2:20. Mr. Randall remained with her and Mrs. Purdy until the train started. That night, on the arrival at Paris, she received a telegram that her husband had been shot by Major Randle. When she returned he was dead and six little children were robbed of kind father's care.

Colonel Seth Shepard was sworn and testified that he never offered C. E Henning a cent to testify. He met Henning once when the latter was drunk, but never made him an offer of money. He declared that Henning said he didn't want to testify because his friends were on the other side.

At 4 o'clock both sides closed and the arguments will begin Monday.

IT WAS ANTI-MASONIC.

AND NOT ANTI-AMERICAN, THE DEMONSTRATION AT LA VIAFORA.

La Paz, April 9.—(Special.)—A party of American students on their way to the Chicago fair attended the funeral of Senator Czanila, a Chilian merchant of La Paz. The funeral services were held in the Masonic temple. This enraged the anti-Masonic populace, who attacked the building. The mob then set the building on fire and it was burned to the ground. During the riot several persons were injured. There was no attack upon or demonstration of any kind against the American consulate.

EARTHQUAKE IN SERVIA.

Belgrade, April 9.—A severe earthquake was felt in many parts of Servia yesterday. The village of Velikibopo-lack tumbled into ruins and several inhabitants killed. Deaths in wrecked houses are reported from other villages in the kingdom.

SENSATIONAL FAILURE.

Cincinnati, O., April 8.—The failure of William Rauscheim & Bro. is developing new sensational features every moment. It will require $250,000 to clear the firm of liabilities. It is now known $130,000 of forged paper is out, upon which William Rauscheim & Bros. obtained money.

PHILADELPHIA FAILURE.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 9.—Lukens & Co., Lumber company, has made an assignment. Liabilities, about $170,000, nominal assets, 60 per cent of the liabilities.

TERRIBLE FIRES.

Sioux Falls, S. D., April 8.—Details have been received here of terrible prairie fires near Chamberlain in which a large amount of stock perished and two persons were burned to death.

ASK REMOVAL

OF HARTLEY COUNTY OFFICIALS ON STATUTORY GROUNDS.

Hartley, Tex., April 9.—(Special.)—Suit has been brought and filed in the district court of this county by the State of Texas upon relation of certain citizens against H. W. Eubank, county judge, and H. Kimbal and John Armstrong, county commissioners, asking for removal on several statutory grounds.

DEYRE WAY OFF.

BUT 'TIS FOINE POLLYTICKS FOR A MAN WID A JAG

Luk at the Haythens Bowing to Their Firemen. Egyptions Paint Chicago Red—Camel Drivers Do the Saloons.

Chicago, Ill., April 9.—Last night a crowd of camel drivers from the mouth of the Nile, who had been transplanted to Chicago for the World's fair, started out to see the sights of Chicago, and by the time they had seen them their line of march was marked by a trail of deep and dark Egyptian red. The crowd of tourists was about forty strong and made as much of a sensation as a circus as they circulated among the saloons, wearing red fezes and yellow ochre broad guage trousers. The first point of interest to the Egyptians was the saloon. They were fascinated upon entrance and paralyzed when they departed. They went the length and breadth of the city's saloon belt, and a nation that makes a higher red liquor mark than Egypt today must work hard and long. Only one of them, Ahmud Seakfi, could talk English at all, and by the time he played several star engagements at the bar, he could not talk at all, and had not several of the sporting fraternity who inhabit Clark street, taken them in tow, Egypt en masse might have gone to the police station. As it was only one thing saved them, and that was their habit of bowing down to every policeman they met and muttering something which none of the officers understood, but which all of them took to mean, "Please permit us to live." "Deyre way off, but 'tis fine pollyticks for a man wid a jag," said a big policeman at Clark streets, as the men from the oldest nation on earth bent low before him. Just then two firemen came along, and down once more went the red-topped heads. "Luk at the haythens, luk at them, they thinks thems policemen," said the officer in wrath. "Gwan," he yelled, as he smote a pair of Egyptian trousers squarely in the dome with his club, and Egypt went marching and drinking along.

It was late in the evening before the proprietors of the Egyptian village corralled their wandering exhibits and dragged them back to midway plaisance. Many of them went in hacks, because, as Asmud Seakfi said, "Chicago great place; lots of whisky."

A CUTTING AFFRAY.

ON HIS WAY HOME FROM TRIAL FOR KILLING A MAN HE GETS INTO TROUBLE.

Beeville, Tex., April 8.—(Special.)—Last night Eugene Bell and Luke Hart got into an altercation in Hakey's saloon. The latter was stabbed in the abdomen. His wounds are of a serious nature and the physician considers him in a precarious condition. Bell is held in jail to await the outcome of his bloody work. The young man is a native of Goliad and is on his way home from trial for killing a man in the Panhandle, in which he was acquitted.

FARMERS ORGANIZE.

THE JOSHUA HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY—THE ALL COTTON IDEA LOSING GROUND.

Joshua, Tex., April 9.—(Special.)—The farmers of this community have effected an organization to be known as the Joshua Horticultural society, with G. M. Campbell as president, J. K. Bowman, vice-president, and G. W. Brown secretary and treasurer. The organization is small yet, as pertains to membership, but it bids fair to work a revolution in the crop interest in this community. Sufficient acreage is already assured to warrant carload shipments. Potatoes, cabbage and tomatoes are being transplanted now and are sufficiently advanced to insure early shipments. Our lands are peculiarly adapted to such crops, and it is only a matter of time when horticulture will be an important factor in the crops of this country, and the all cotton idea will take a back seat.

BILLIARD TOURNAMENT.

New York, April 8.—The international billiard tournament to have been played in this city has been declared off and $5000 offered as prizes withdrawn, owing to failure to secure a sufficient number of contestants when it was suggested.

ALARMING PLOT.

Madrid, April 8.—The government has discovered an alarming conspiracy of anarchists at Feres, evidently having for its object an insurrection against the authorities.

SOUTHERN CONVICT LABOR.

Columbus, O., April 8.—The Ohio State Miners' association today resolved to use all honorable means to have the present system of convict labor in the South abolished.

STORM IN NEW YORK.

Buffalo, N. Y., April 8.—Western New York was storm-swept yesterday. A great deal of damage was done by the cyclone, which spread over Springville, Westfield, Brockton, Mayville, Dunkirk and adjoining country. At Springville the cyclone blew down a barn and killed one man.

PINKERTON IN DALLAS.

Dallas, Tex., April 9.—(Special.)—Captain William A. Pinkerton, the noted Chicago detective, was in the city on an unknown mission. He departed for New Orleans via Galveston today.

THE CLOTHING CUTTERS.

New York, April 8.—Legal papers in the civil suits brought by individual cutters against firms of the Manufacturers' association to receive $20,000 each for damages through the lockout were served this afternoon on D. L. Newberg & Son and Bierman Hadleberg & Co. The firm of Newberg&Son reported to have complained to manufacturers that they have already lost too much money through the lockout and are anxious to compromise with the cutters.

The national debt in 1890 was $14.62 per head of the population.

A LIVE STOCK MARKET

IN THE GREAT SOUTHWEST.

That Is What Boston and New York Capitalists Are Establishing—An Expenditure of $950,000.

(Special correspondence United States Investor.)

Fort Worth, Tex., March 23, 1893.

The recent consummation of the packery deal at Fort Worth, surpasses in importance anything that has transpired for years in the Southwest. The great plains of Texas, Indian Territory and New Mexico are recognized as the most important cattle country of the United States, but until within the last three or four years, there was very little feeding done for the market. The practice for years has been to ship yearlings and 2-year-olds to the northern states to be fed and fattened for the market, the chief profit going to the feeder. With the large increase in the acreage of cotton and corn in Texas during the past few years, the practice of feeding cattle for the market, within the state, has rapidly increased.

At the recent cattlemen's convention held here it was shown that in 1891 Texas fattened 25,000 head of cattle, and in 1892 this number was increased 250,000 head. Corn is becoming an important crop, and the utility of cotton seed and hulls as cattle feed has done much to revolutionize the cattle business in Texas.

It is now a recognized fact among stockmen that cotton seed and cotton seed hulls make a cattle feed that has no superior. Texas raises annually about 2,000,000 bales of cotton. To be able to fatten the cattle of the plains on that portion of the cotton crop hitherto thrown away, is a thing that enhances one industry and develops another. To transform the breeding ground into a breeding and feeding ground combined, it is to infuse new life into the cattle business of Texas, and to build up a packing industry accessible to both, at sjoint from which railroads radiate in all directions, is to give the home producer better prices and the Eastern consumer lower prices, by reason of the former dealing with the latter direct. Texas has over 7,000,000 head of cattle, over 4,000,000 head of sheep and about 2,000,000 head of hogs. Heretofore the vast number of cattle has reached the consumer through northern markets. The packing establishment, now assured here, which will have a capacity almost equal to the ones at Kansas City, is not only important by reason of the meat that will be packed, but important because it will create at Fort Worth a great market. Fort Worth is about the same distance from New York as are Omaha and Kansas City, indicating that the running time will be about the same.

THE DEAL

referred to was the purchase of the plant of the Fort Worth Packing company, and the property of the union stock yards of Fort Worth, including 300 acres of land, by a syndicate, at the head of which is Mr. Greenlief W. Simpson of Boston. The purchase amounts to, in round numbers, $850,000, for packing and stock yards property and adjacent lands. The packery, as it exists at present, has a capacity of 800 hogs and 300 cattle per day, and the plan of the syndicate is to build a new beef packing house, and enlarge the old one so as to give the plant a capacity of 1000 beeves and 2000 hogs per day. The stockyads will be laid out anew by Elmer Washburn, late superintendant of the Chicago stock yards. The same syndicate has purchased other lands, giving them 500 acres in a body, making a great abundance of room for yards, buildings, railroads and switches. It is also understood that they have purchased the electric railway from the city to the yards. The deal includes the establishment of a bank by the packing house syndicate, which will be in position to make loans to stockmen at not over 8 per cent per annum.

Mr. Simpson was for a number of years general manager of the George H. Hammond Dressed Meat company, and was for a time intimately connected with that company's plant at South Omaha. Associated with him in this deal are men of large means of Boston, New York and New Orleans, though some of the wealthy men of Texas will be stockholders.

STOCKMEN CO-OPERATE.

One of the most significent features attending the consummation of this deal was the co-operation and guaranteed support of the cattlemen of Texas. At a convention of the latter, held in this city a few days ago, Mr. Simpson stated to them definitely what he wished to do, and asked them to sign an agreement to ship their cattle by way of the Fort Worth yards, with the assurance that if the market thus afforded was not satisfactory, they had the privilege of shipping one North or East at the same through rates as if they had not stopped at Fort Worth.

The result was that stockmen representing over 2,000,000 head of cattle annually promptly signed the agreement, which provides that if the agreement be violated, the ones doing so shall forfeit 50 cents a head for the number of cattle shipped past Fort Worth.

This promptness and readiness on the part of the stockmen made possible the centering here of the immense packing interests referred to. This is a deal that will do more to bring Texas in close touch with the Eastern states than any that has heretofore taken place.

The promoters of this enterprise have also had the hearty co-operation of the railroads, who, it is understood, have made very liberal concessions relative to shipments, stock and packing products. Improvements now being contemplated by the syndicate means, together with the purchase price of the original plant, the expenditure at Fort Worth of approximately $2,000,000.

TAPLEY.

IN THE CITY.

THE BRENHOLTZ FUNERAL.

This evening the remains of Frank L. Brenholtz will be escorted to the Texas and Pacific depot by the Knights of Pythias and members of the Mystic Circle, to be taken to New Orleans for interment.

The following calls are made in this connection:

Members of Ruby lodge No. 93 will meet at their castle hall today at 5 p. m. to escort the remains of Brother Brenholtz to the depot. (Signed) Porter Ball, chancelor commander; F. F. Haddix, keeper of records and seal.

The committee on the part of this lodge is: R. H. Orr, R. R. Darrah, and J. L. Cooper.

The members of Fort Worth Ruling Fraternal Mystic Circle are requested to meet at Knights of Honor hall today at 5:30 o'clock p. m. to accompany the remains of our deceased brother, Frank Brenholtz, to the train. (Signed) W. S. Essex, W. R.

The committee to accompany the remains to New Orleans is: W. S. Essex, H. L. Calhoun and Eugene Burr. They will leave by the 6:40 Texas and Pacific train.

AN ATTEMPTED HOLD-UP.

An attempt was made to hold up one of the late workers of the city and was treated to a disagreeable experience that he does not want repeated. He was going down Calhoun street when a burly negro wanted to get his timepiece, was bluffed off by hip or pistol pocket play, and was deterred from closing in his intended victim by the same kind of bluffing, though he was followed closely all the way home. Unfortunately the intended victim was unarmed, or there might have been a highwayman the less.

THE MAI FEST.

A cordial and courteously worded communication has been recieved at the Gazette office from the invitation committee of the Deutscher1Verein. Misses Jacob Hierholzer, Bruno, Reich and Charles Scheller, attested by Secretary Herman Nuecllis, inviting The Gazette to the Mai Fest to be held at the Rosedale pavilion on the 1st, 2nd and 3rd of May. On the first day of the fest the festivities will begin with a parade that will move from the square down Houston street to Front, to Main back to the square and thence to the pavilion.

THE GUN CLUB.

At 5 o'clock this afternoon at the Traders National bank a meeting of the gentlemen who have formed a gun club in the city will be held to receive the report of the committee on by-laws and name and generally to perfect organization.

Heretofore officers have been elected, to wit: J. Morgan Well, president; N. E. Grammer, secretary, and W. G. Newby, treasurer.

The membership of the club is limited to twenty in number, and the list is full. The purposes of the club are social, as well as for the improvement of the skill of the members with the gun, for the club will have both trap shooting and field shooting.

PENCIL PICKINGS.

The Bethel services are now held in a tent erected at the corner of Houston and Eleventh streets.

The funeral of Elwood Cravens at the new cemetery was largely attended yesterday afternoon.

The clothing of Ed Fay, stolen from his boarding house, has been found and restored to its owner.

The contest yesterday between the dust and the sprinkling wagons was a clear knock-out for the wagons.

A main on Rusk street in front of the Gazette office burst yesterday from the pressure put on the pipes in filling the standpipe.

Charley Smith, colored, was arrested by Officer McGarth for working a short change racket on a negro washerwoman, and it may end in a case of theft.

LETTER LIST

Remaining in the postoffice at Fort Worth Tex., Monday, April 10, 1893. To obtain any of these letters the applicant must call for "advertised letters" and give the date of the list. Also, all letters advertised shall be charged with 1 cent in addition to the regular postage, to be accounted for as part of the postal revenue, as per section 1684, page 318, United States postal laws.

AT HARDIN COLLEGE.

THE GAZETTE GIRLS FROM TEXAS AID LARGELY IN A SUCCESSFUL RECEPTION.

Recently the school girls at "Hardin" entertained their friends and a copy of the local paper gives a glowing account of the affair.

There was a gathering at Mexico, Mo., for the intercollegiate oratorical contest, and the Hardin girls did the honors of the town, several of the Texas lasses figuring prominently. Ten representatives from each of the colleges in the state were entertained as guests of the Hardin girls. The account says:

"The parlors as well as the dining-room were tastily and beautifully decorated. The tables in the banquet hall represented spring, summer, autumn and winter, and it was hard to tell which was dressed most artistically and appropriately. A pleasing feature of the decorations was a fountain of violet water in the reception hall. Tropical plants and cut flowers were displayed in profusion over the entire building."

The entertainment was devised by the executive committee, Mrs. A. K. Yancey, and Misses Bessie Herndon, Nellie Crouch and Genevive King. Two of these are Fort Worth girls, and Gazette girls at that. Miss Pearle Bailey, also of Fort Worth, was on the reception committee.

Miss Bessie Herndon of Fort Worth, the toast mistress, made the address of welcome, and Miss Ellen Lowrie of Comanche responded to "Unsuccessful Orators." Miss King played an instrumental solo.

The reception was a charming success, and it has a local interest because of the very large share of that success due to the Texas girls.

All chewers of R. F. Gravely's Superior brand plug tobacco, can find it at Turner & Dinger's.
