ALL READY FOR MOODY.

Choir Meeting and Grand Rally To-Night.

At 7:45 tonight the services at the tabernacle will begin. Last night a late train delayed the arrival of Mr. Rees, who had charge of the choir. The tabernacle held a good crowd by 8:30. Mr. Jones spoke briefly on the First Psalm. His running comments were very helpful, indeed. The meeting was so late in gathering that the services were somewhat shortened. Mr. Rees drilled the choir in several selections.

Tonight there will be a grand rally of all Christians and pastors. The choir will meet promptly at 7:45, led by Mr. Rees. The lights will be completed and chairs in plenty on the platform for a choir of 500. Badges will be given to all singers tonight. All singers are cordially invited to join the choir.

The meeting will open with a Bible selection by Rev. I. Reed, followed by a general prayer and testimony meeting, led by Mr Jones. All Christian workers are asked to attend and be ready to briefly testify and pray for the power of the Lord to be on the heart of all. The pastors will be expected to assist in this meeting also.

Mr. Jones says he wants to see Christians stirred up and ready to work and to preach and pray. He does not ask for long and tiresome testimonials and prayers, but brief, pointed remarks from all interested in the work of God.

Mr. Jones will close this service with an invitation to sinners. This meeting will be one of great power and will call for a great gathering, and all Christians are asked to pray for the meeting and to attend prepared to take a part in the singing and testimony meeting.

The pastors of the city will attend, and a glorious meeting is anticipated.

The great tabernacle will be graveled to keep down the dust, and the inquiry rooms completed and seated, at each end of the platform, and six arc lights put in.

The street car motormen are asked to slack up in passing the tabernacle, as the noise will be much less.

The building committee this morning will arrange to complete the gravelling and seating of the building.

Mr. Barlow will have hymn books there on sale, also at 202 Houston street, his office, with the Southern Novelty company.
