

ST. MARY'S BEACON
LEONARDTOWN, MD.

THURSDAY MORNING, January 25th, 1880.

THE HOWARD CO. MEMORIAL.—The memorial of the tax-payers of Howard county, presented last week to the Legislature of our State by Judge Merrick, covers two much space to allow us to give it entire, but the many and important subjects it discusses entitles it to notice, and we therefore give the following synopsis of its contents:—The preamble of the memorial sets forth that as we have for the development of public enterprise drawn too largely on future resources to the jeopardizing of the public faith and public credit, the people engrafted upon the organic law a provision that a future public debt should be contracted without providing for its redemption by taxation within a period of fifteen years. Consequently any funds levied for such purpose should under no plea or pretext be appropriated to any other. To do so is a breach of trust, or obtaining of money under false pretenses.

Nevertheless, in temporary emergencies, public officers have transgressed such provisions, and did not hesitate as other borrowers to obtain funds from the most readily accessible sources. Exhibits that will not bear investigation imperfectly gloss over such flagrant infractions of constitutional law. Funds collected for the cancellation of a State debt should be held in sacred and inviolable trust by the State for the benefit of its creditors, and not be perverted from the uses for which they were intended by filling up the drains caused by lavish appropriations. The memorial advises immediate action on the repeal of tobacco inspection as an act of justice to producers and consumers, and reprobrates the present system as a burden to the planter and reproach to the State. A substitute law was drafted by the tax committee providing for private inspection at the owner's option. The weighing of live stock, etc., by State's officers is also denounced by the memorial as detrimental to the public welfare and to the interest of tax-paying citizens.

A bill is recommended providing for the trial of petty larceny and minor crimes before justices of the peace as a means of effecting great saving to the State, and facilitating the ends of justice. The memorial recommends relating to the Comptroller the duties hitherto performed by the Tax Commissioner as a desirable retrenchment measure. No useless offices should be permitted to exist or any new ones created as sinecures for special favorites to draw pay without service. There are already too many pensioners on public bounty. A reduction of the clerical force, perquisites and fees of incumbents in office is also advised. The sale of unproductive State assets is strongly urged, and that the State hereafter keep aloof from enterprises of private traffic, and defray the expenses of administration exclusively by taxation.

THE MAINE MESS.—The merits of the Maine mess may be summed up thusly—the legislative party, which don't hold the certificates, holds the "fort," whilst the other party, which does hold them, holds nothing else. And just here, the Maine Republicans passed a law that each candidate should have his name spelled right on the ballot and they have in the past thrown out many a democrat on this account. The Connecticut law expressly declares how the ballot shall be cast and that the names shall be uniform, and the complexion of the lower House has been changed more than once on this account. In New York the law directs how the ballots shall be prepared and to-day Clarkson N. Potter would be Lieutenant Governor of that State but for the fact that over 300 votes were cast for Clarkson "E." Potter. So it makes a grave difference when you come to vote the wrong one. And it is to this "complexion" that our popular elections have come!

ONE OR THE OTHER.—One of the two following things must be true. Either the present demand for the abolishment of "useless officers," for retrenchment, reform, etc., must be sadly mixed up with both or buncombe, or the past administration of our party in this State has been reprehensible in the highest degree. It is noticeable, moreover, that some who are now crying out loudest for reform and reduction of expenses never reformed any or reduced expenses when they were in position to do so with effect.

FOREIGN MISSIONS.—Hayes makes a new deal in the Foreign Missions. Foster, an Indiana man, now Minister to Mexico, he sends to Russia, and James Russell Lowell, Minister to Spain, he sends to Great Britain. Ex-Gov. Fairchild, of Wisconsin, is made Minister to Mexico. The Governorship of Utah is given to E. H. Murray, of Kentucky.

REGISTRATION.—There appears to be a marked difference of opinion among democratic members of the General Assembly as to the necessity for a new registration. Certainly, if the evils which have grown up under the present system can be corrected and prevented by mere amendment, the argument is conclusive against a new registration. This appears to us to be the main point to be considered, but if amendment would merely "skin and film the ulcerous place," as we believe, and allow the admitted evils of the present system to crop out in the future, then we favor a new registration altogether. Nor are we able to see why a new registration should be necessary for Baltimore city and not for the counties. About the same proportional disparity, we are told, exists in the counties as in the city between the number of names on the registration lists and the number of ballots usually cast. This disparity is the strong point of Baltimore representatives why a new registration should be had. It is believed by the registers themselves that hundreds of names of dead or removed voters may be found on the registration lists in almost every voting precinct, but the registers have not sufficient certainty in the matter to justify them in striking these names off, and they are afraid to do it, the penalty for a mistake on this point being very severe, and thus the evil accumulates every year. That this condition of affairs allows great opportunity for fraud, none will deny, and few will gainsay that it has been embraced and is likely to be more resorted to in the future than the past, unless a corrective is applied. We will mention one fact bearing on this defect in present registration laws, and that is, in this county at the last election there was the extraordinary increase of 500 ballots over the votes of '77 and '78. We don't allege, because we don't know, that a single one of these ballots was fraudulent, but this astonishing increase provokes and is entitled to provoke the gravest suspicion.

DEMANDING REPRESENTATION.—The colored people of Baltimore held a meeting Wednesday week to consider their rights in the Republican party. The speeches all tended to show that the colored men, though forming two-thirds of the party, had no rights. A State convention of their race is to be called and an effort is to be made to secure representation on all the committees, a fair proportion of delegates to the Republican national convention and four members of the electoral ticket. They want a fair share of the government offices in the State, also.

DRUNKENNESS AND PROFANITY.—The following is a bill presented to the Legislature of Maryland:—"Every person who shall be found drunk upon any public street or highway in any city or county of this State, or at any place of public worship or public resort or amusement in any city or county of this State shall be deemed to be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction, subject to a fine of $1 and costs and committed in default. Justices of the peace for the respective counties shall have concurrent jurisdiction over such offense with the Circuit Courts of the counties, and the police justices of the several stations houses in Baltimore shall have concurrent jurisdiction over offenders convicted under this act." "Any person who shall wilfully hinder or obstruct the free passage of persons passing by or along any public street or highway in any city or town of this State, or who shall wilfully disturb any neighborhood in such city or town by loud and unusual noises, or shall profanely curse and swear, or use obscene language upon or near to any such street or highway, within the hearing of persons passing by or along such highway, shall, upon conviction, be fined not less than $1 and costs, and sent to jail by the court in default of payment."

THE PROPOSED SCHOOL LAW.—Hon. George Peter, of Montgomery, has presented a bill in the State Senate looking to the election by the people of a State Board of Education which shall have control of all school matters and appoint all officers.

The Leonard Scott Publishing Co., 41 Barclay Street, N. Y., have issued their reprint of Blackwood's Magazine for January, and the present number is one of unusual interest. Perhaps the paper which invites the most attention is the form of a letter written by a Turk who is highly educated and has been an extensive traveler. In view of the contemplated reforms in Asia Minor his theory as to the origin and nature of the collision between the East and the West is well worth considering; and it will be a surprise to many to hear the opinion of an intelligent man that "the consequence of the arrival of the so-called Christian in a heathen country is, not to bring immortality, but physical and moral death," and that "from first to last the work of Turkey has been due to its contact with modern Christianity."

Other articles are a continuation of "Buck Life in Queensland," in which the interest is well sustained. This number describes the sheep-raising and shearing, horse-raising, and a fearful fire-baked on an "unsuspected" sheep; and "How I Fell among Thieves," and an amusing appeal to legislative aid to protect the smugger from being trapped into making wronging payments.

Our Annapolis Letter.

ANAPOLIS, Jan. 25, 1880.

At 12 o'clock, meridian, on Tuesday, according to the provisions of the Constitution, the Speaker of the House of Delegates announced that the hour had arrived for the House to proceed to ballot for U. S. Senator to succeed the Hon. Wm. Pinkney Whyte, whose term will expire on the 4th of March, 1881. The result of the ballot was that the Hon. Arthur P. Gorman received 63 and the Hon. James A. Gary received 19. On the following day, Wednesday, the House and Senate held a joint convention in the Hall of the House of Delegates, and the Secretary of the Senate and the Chief Clerk of the House canvassed the votes taken by the Senate and House, respectively, and the Speaker formally announced that the Hon. A. P. Gorman, having received the greatest number of votes cast by the General Assembly of Maryland, is the only left for him to declare Hon. A. P. Gorman duly elected, etc. Mr. Gorman gave a grand entertainment at the Maryland Hotel at eight and a general invitation was extended to the members. There were many speeches, and the geniality of host, the affable and pleasant manners of hostess, the fascinating little family, together with a fine dinner, rendered this visit one among the most pleasant ever enjoyed by your correspondent.

The soil of the country is rich, being assessed at from $200 to $300 per acre. Mt. St. Agnes, situated on an elevation of 100 feet, beautifully overlooks this little city. This convent can accommodate from 100 to 120 scholars. Ours merits, many of St. Mary's favored daughters can truly speak.

On Thursday, at 1 o'clock, p. m., the Hall of the House of Delegates was attended to Judge William M. Merrick, Chairman of the Committee appointed by the taxpayers' convention. Judge Merrick read a very interesting address which was replete with the abuses of the trust reposed by the people to many departments of the State and abounded in wholesome suggestions. The address was ordered to be placed on the Journal of the House.

Our young friends, Eugene F. W. then, W. J. Dawkins and H. H. Boswell, of St. John's College fame, came on occasionally, and from their affable manners and free and easy style have won for themselves the good will of the members.

Mr. Graves will start for his home on Saturday, the 24th instant, with four days leave of absence.

Yours truly,

SE-VARG.

ANAPOLIS, Jan. 26, 1880.

The election of U. S. Senator, which took place on the 20th inst. and which was made formal on the following day, was followed in the evening by a "Champagne supper," to which the members of the General Assembly and the prominent men of the State were invited. Speeches of a laudatory character of the Senator-elect, Gorman, were delivered by the Hon. George Colton, Barnes Compton, Chapman and others. Mr. Scott, of Washington county, being called upon, arose and said: "Gentlemen, I feel honored by this manifestation of your esteem and regard, and while the Senator-elect, Hon. A. P. Gorman, entertains different political views from myself, there is no member of the democratic party for whom I entertain a higher regard and greater esteem, and whom I would rather see promoted to the high and responsible position of Senator than the gentleman who has this day been knighted as the peer and champion of the democratic party." The entertainment passed off pleasantly. Mr. Gorman sought to make all enjoy themselves, and so far as your correspondent is aware, was the expression of all.

There is no business of very great importance before the House. The Senate Bill, originated by Mr. Gorman, entitled "Revenue and Tax," is now under consideration. Mr. Sullivan, has a considerable discussion. Mr. Sullivan's amendment is in favor of taxing mortgages. It is not certain what will be the sense of the Senate on this point. If the bill passes the Senate, as offered by Mr. Gorman, the general belief is, that it will be amended in the House and sent back for approval.

The Committee on the Judiciary made an unfavorable report on the House bill, originated by Mr. Scott, of Washington, favoring the taxing of mortgages. Mr. Scott's idea is this: "That if a man owns a farm worth or assessed at $10,000, and he mortgages the same for $5,000, the mortgage should pay taxes on $5,000, and the mortgage on five." Mr. Hayes, of Baltimore City, a member of the Committee, stated that, if we tax mortgages, the effect will be to drive capitalists out of the State. He then argued, (however inconsistent,) that the tax on mortgages would ultimately and finally fall upon the mortgagee.

On motion of Mr. Legg, of Queen Anne's, Mr. Scott's bill was ordered to be printed, and it is generally believed that the subject will receive considerable attention when it comes up before final action.

There is a wide spread feeling against the present mode of appointing School Commissioners, growing out of the present state of affairs in Allegheny, Montgomery and many other counties—so much so, that it is very certain there will be a change, but of its character or nature your correspondent is not able to speak.

The oyster question is also receiving considerable attention but is found to be a knotty subject. It is confidently asserted, however, that there will be some change in that interest.

Your correspondent visited the skating rink in Baltimore on Saturday, the dimension of which are 25x50 yds, asphaltum surface. To see the youths and pretty ladies of the city going gracefully along at such a festive rate as they move, reminded one of the balmy days of yore, and when we reflect upon the opportunity this offers to whippersnoots, leader words of devotion in the ear of the loved one, we will agree with the poet who says, "I wish I was single again."

Your correspondent takes the liberty of suggesting to the youthful ones of St. Mary's a visit to such a place where, hand in hand, the lover and loved, may while away many pleasant and happy hours.

By the invitation of Mr. John T. Clarke, a resident of Mt. Washington, your correspondent paid a visit to Baltimore county. The congeniality of host, the affable and pleasant manners of hostess, the fascinating little family, together with a fine dinner, rendered this visit one among the most pleasant ever enjoyed by your correspondent.

The soil of the country is rich, being assessed at from $200 to $300 per acre. Mt. St. Agnes, situated on an elevation of 100 feet, beautifully overlooks this little city. This convent can accommodate from 100 to 120 scholars. Ours merits, many of St. Mary's favored daughters can truly speak.

Personal Mentions.

The Sergeant-at-Arms of the Maryland House of Delegates, Mr. Pope, came down on Saturday's boat with a summons for J. Frank Ford, Clerk of our Circuit Court, from the Committee on Elections, to appear before them with certain election returns which the Committee desire to interview. Though only remaining in Town a night, we had the pleasure of making the Sergeant's acquaintance and found him a most agreeable gentleman. Senator Combs, also, came down by the same route as a short visit to his family, but his time was so much monopolized by others that we were unable to get a word at him, except now and then and edge-ways. He left, with Mr. Ford, on the Hooply Tuesday morning for Annapolis. Mr. Graves is also at home once a brief visit and was in Town on Monday last, but though calling at our office, we had not the pleasure of meeting him, being out at the time. Jo. F. Morgan has been appointed a Justice of the Peace for the 3rd district of this county, viz. D. C. Hammett, resigned, and has qualified and entered upon the discharge of his duties.

The Marriage of Twin Sisters.

The Baltimore papers of Thursday last give copious accounts of the wedding ceremony of the two brides, (twins) formerly of this place, when they were reared and where they resided, until the removal of their family to Baltimore a few years ago. Whilst many kind wishes from their old home accompany the marriage voyage of the amiable sisters, can do more than to state that the matrimonial is not universal, their being at least one young gentleman of our acquaintance who has kept his face carefully shaven and never been seen to smile since he read the following announcement in the American:

"The dual brides were Miss Jennie Thomas Blackstone, who married Mr. Joseph R. Ford, of the executive shipping firm of Mather, Ford & Co., and Miss Annie Thomas Blackstone, who married Mr. Wm. M. Conway, son of the late John B. Conway and partner in the firm of Conway & Co. There were six bridesmaids—Miss Mary Compton, Miss Ellen Thomas, Miss Ella Blackstone, Miss Mary F. Ford, Miss Henry I. Carey and Miss Belle Smith, of Philadelphia. The brides were dressed in white. The bridesmaids all wore clusters of Jacquemont roses in their hair. Coming out the others escorted the brides. The beautiful ceremony of the Protestant Episcopal Church was performed by Rev. Walter Mitchell, of Hagerstown, uncle of the bride, assisted by Rev. Dr. Leeds, Colonel Blackstone, of St. Mary's county, father of the young ladies, and the church, which were yet in place, added to the brilliancy of the scene. Mr. Ford's popularity among the shipping merchants led to quite a demonstration in honor of his wedding. Flugs were displayed by nearly all the foreign vessels in the docks, strings of flags were thrown across Gay street at two places, and the flag of the Mercantile Exchange was up. After a very pleasant and participatory of an Northern tour. Mr. St. Tackie Wallis and other well-known gentlemen attended the wedding."

The Coming Entertainment.

As will be seen by reference to our advertising columns, the renowned "Pinafore" will be produced in the Society's Hall on Monday, the 9th day of February next. All the characters have been secured, and a rare chance will be offered our people to hear something good in the way of music. We shall certainly go early and often, if we could. We wonder if our friends of Prince Frederick or Port Tobacco ever heard anything of Pinafore? If not, this is a chance for them, and they, and any others from our sister counties, are invited. Fuller particulars are given in the advertisement, to which our readers are referred.

ROCHESTER PHYSICIAN'S EXPERIENCE.

R. Cullins, M. D., of Rochester, N. Y., certifies Oct. 6th, 1879, that he has used the Safe Kidney and Liver Cure in his practice for diseases of the kidneys and liver, and the result has been satisfactory in the extreme. He says: "I would now prescribe the same remedy to all similarly afflicted, and you are at liberty to state in your testimonials."—Jna.

Marrow Deeds.

A correspondent, writing to us from St. Louis, under date of the 20th instant, narrates the narrow escape of Mr. Robert Loker, who was an invalid at the time, from perhaps serious injury by the fall of the plastering in his room. A very short time before the fall, he had occupied an arm-chair before the fire and it was while he was absent for a moment, in another part of the room that the plastering fell, demolishing the chair and everything else it came in contact with.

COMMUNICATED.

HOLLY WOOD, Jan. 27, 1880.

MEAS. ELLIOTT.—With much surprise, I see my name used in reference to the contested election between Mattingly and Graves and I ask for just a small space in your paper to inform your readers that my principles are true democratic, though I feel as free as the laws of the land will allow. I was not bought, bribed or drove up to the ballot box nor yet did I try to buy, sell, drive or deprive any one else from voting their sentiments, and Mr. Edward S. Poysey or any one else who says that I had a pair of scissors in my hand on the day of election tells a falsehood, and I will further say, in my past life, I have noticed and always thought there are none more ready to condemn the conduct of others than those who are most guilty themselves. I mean say that I am very much surprised at Mr. Poysey swearing as he has. I really thought him more of a gentleman than to do such a thing, as he seems to have such upright and respectable parents who are as highly esteemed by all who know them.

Library of Universal Knowledge.

Volume 24, of this great work, published by the American Book Exchange, New York, is ready January 15th, and volume V. will be issued about ten days later. They have been delayed somewhat by the printing of the large editions of the previous three volumes and the other publications of the house, their facilities for manufacturing having been taxed beyond their capacity. Resuming January 1st to the Tribune Building, and to the large building No. 25 Beekman and No. 18 Spruce street, where their facilities will enable them to manufacture from 6,000 to 8,000 volumes a day, the publishers expect to complete the entire work within the year, as announced. The volumes thus far issued being only the reprint of the last edition of the well-known Chambers' Encyclopedia, nothing more need be said of them than that they are well printed and bound; their form is vastly more convenient than the usual unwieldy quarto or octavo, and their price is cheap beyond all precedent in book-making, so that to the uninitiated it is a mystery how so much can be given for so little money, but as the practical printer and book maker, who know how the greatest element in modifying the cost of books is the number of buyers among whom the investment cost is to be distributed, the wonder would be not that the books can be made for the price, but that the number of buyers should be counted except by millions. Those who take pleasure in the dissemination of useful knowledge and choice literature will be glad to aid with their influence an enterprise so altogether worthy. The publishers will send any quantity of descriptive catalogues, to those who may apply, for distribution among acquaintances.

Literary Items.

Readers of standard books will be pleased to notice the great progress of "The Literary Revolution" which is being pushed by the American Book Exchange, New York. Among their books just issued, or nearly ready, are a very new edition of the Koran of Mohammed, complete, 35 cents; Macaulay's England in three volumes, $1.50; Milton's Poetical Works, complete, 50 cents; in the Acme Library of Biography, 12 volumes recently published at $1.25 each now brought into one volume for 50 cents; in modern Classics, Vicar of Wakefield, Rasselas, Piccolini, Paul and Virginia, and Utopia, all in one volume, 50 cents; nicely illustrated green and ebony bound volumes of Arabian Nights, Robinson Crusoe, Pilgrim's Progress, Baron Munchausen and Gulliver's travels, each 50 cents, and a book of humor and wisdom by the Author of Sparrowsong papers; all in good and some in large type, and well and handsomely bound in cloth. Descriptive catalogues will be sent free on request.

A Visit to Baltimore.

Will prove highly advantageous by inspecting Messrs. C. N. Oehm & Son's immense one price Clothing Establishment. A grand assortment of Men's Overcoats, Ulsters and Suits, ranging in price from $5 to $30, is now on exhibition, comprising all leading novelties for the present year. The elegant Boys' and Children's Dresses, Ulsters and Suits for School and Dress at $2.50 and upwards are the delight of the little folks. Genuine low prices for well-made garments is their motto, and we advise every one before purchasing to call on C. N. Oehm & Son, 230 W. Pratt St. and 55 Hanover St., adjoining Citizens Bank.

Dyeing.

The old dyeing establishment, Branch Office 110 W. Baltimore Street, is as ever prepared to do all kinds of work in their line, with neatness, cheapness and dispatch. The superior character of their work enables them to please the most fastidious, and save to the frugal many a dollar. The attention of our lady readers is especially called to their Baltimore Branch Office.
