FRIDAY MORNING, OCT. 12.

"The First Week in the House."

The Union and American of Thursday, has an article under the above head, in which it denominates the successful and unanswerable manner in which the American party have shown that the responsibility of delaying the organization of the House of Representatives rests with the Democracy, an attempt "to ward off anticipated blows." The impudence of the remark would be refreshing, but that similar exhibitions are so common from that source.

The Union and American attempts to base its defence of its brethren in their factious and disorganizing course, upon the assumption that the American party is in the minority in the House of Representatives. The assumption in the first place is not true, and in the second place if it was, would be no grounds for excusing the course of the Democrats. Whatever were the relative positions of the two parties, it was a well ascertained fact that a majority of the House desired to have Governor Brown Speaker. Gen. Doneison saw and knew this from the first to the last ballot, and had he been free from the trammels of party discipline, to act according to his own conception of propriety, especially in view of the consequences involved in this protracted contest, would, we doubt not, have unhesitatingly terminated the ballotings, as he had the power to do, by securing the will of a majority of the House. His opponent had been magnanimous in declining to vote for him under the circumstances, and under the circumstances it would not have been more magnanimous for him to have voted for his opponent.

The Union and American says in substance, that it was the duty of Gov. Brown to vote for Gen. Donelson, and thus force the latter gentleman to elect him (Gov. Brown,) Speaker. The Union and American made this assertion once before, and we explained why Gov. B. did not pursue this course, and the Union and American virtually acknowledged the correctness of our explanation at the time. But in reviewing the premises that paper finds this the only point that it can make with any effect in defending its party, and he returns to it like a dog to his vomit. Without denying or attempting to palliate the main fact, that such a course on the part of Gov. Brown would have placed him in the position of forcing his opponent to elect him Speaker, the Union and American tells its readers that he (Gov. B.) should have pursued that objectionable and unmanly course. The fact is that the course of Gov. Brown was a characteristic chivalrous display of gallantry, and though it may be too finely tempered to be appreciated by the Editor of the Union, we venture to say that it was and is appreciated by Gen. Donelson, Gov. Brown's opponent, and that that gentleman is always ready and willing to acknowledge it. There are some of the nobler impulses of human nature which will break through even the closely drawn lines of the Democratic party.

The Union and American belittles itself by giving utterance to the insinuation that Gov. Brown has schemed and planned to secure his election to the office of Speaker of the House of Representatives! The idea is so absolutely absurd and disgusting, that we have not the patience to look it in the face. Our stomach revolts at its slimy proportions, and we bid it back to the filthy sluice from which it emanated.

The Union and American says the plurality rule finally adopted was at war with precedent, and that the American party so admit; and that by its adoption Gov. Brown virtually voted for himself. Not one of these assertions is tenable. In the first place, Mr. Hatton showed conclusively that there was a precedent for the course finally adopted by the House, and that Gov. Johnson was instrumental in establishing that precedent in the Congress of the United States. As to Gov. B's voting for himself by voting for the resolution adopting the plurality rule, the editor of the Union and American knows, as well as any man, that he does Gov. Brown great injustice, in every respect, by such a charge; and we are persuaded that a proper estimation of the good opinion of his fellow citizens would have restrained him from promulging such an unfounded and ungracious charge, were it not that the party leaders required him to defend the party though the Heavens should fall. When the editor of the Union and American falls in such an emergency, the Heavens will fall. Gov. B. understood that the public time and public money was being squandered by the delay caused by a factious minority; he saw the indispensable necessity of adopting some alternative to put an end to the contest; and he readily voted for the resolution; but having done so, promptly withdrew his name as a candidate for Speaker;—having done which, he had fully discharged his duty in the premises, and effectually cleared his own skirts from the responsibility of delay in the organization of the House. Had he voted against the plurality resolution, what would have been the result? The minority were unyielding, and the contest might have been kept up until to-day, or next week. Gov. Brown saw this, and acted as every honorable and high minded man would have done under the circumstances. If the members of the American party saw fit to re-nominate him in the evening and elect him, he could not object. He had performed his duty to the letter; and without desiring the position, but rather preferring a place upon the floor, he is now Speaker of the House of Representatives the choice of a majority of that body, clearly and unmistakably expressed.

☞ The President of the Mississippi Central and Jackson, Tennessee Railroad, is confident that it will be completed and in running order, from the Junction, two miles beyond La Grange, to Jackson by the 1st of November, 1856.

State Council of the American Party.

This body met at the Old Representative Hall in the Court House in this city on Monday evening at 4 o'clock, pursuant to notice. The representation was large, comprising delegates or proxies from nearly every county in the State. The press of other engagements prevented us from attending the closing scenes, and consequently our notice of the proceedings has been necessarily deferred.

The Convention was called to order by the President, Gov. Campbell, A. C. Norvell, Esq., and C. W. Nance acting as Secretaries. After the credentials of the delegates had been regularly received and filed, a general business committee of five was appointed to whom all resolutions and communications should be referred. The Convention adjourned until 8 o'clock.

After supper the Convention met, and the committee reported a series of resolutions. Upon the said report, a protracted, but exceedingly happy and pleasant discussion arose, in the course of which some excellent speeches were made. The Council finally resolved, first

That it is the sense of the State Council of the American party of Tennessee, that the action of the National Convention of the American party for nominating candidates for President and Vice President of the United States, ought to be postponed to the first Wednesday in June next.

And second, re-affirmed their approval of the principles and platform adopted by the National Council at Philadelphia in June last.

They also resolved,

That this Convention recommend to the American Party the calling of a National Convention, to meet in the city of Philadelphia on the 22d day of February next, to take into consideration the general interests of the American organization.

On motion, the Convention then proceeded to select two delegates to represent the State at large in the National Convention to nominate candidates for President and Vice President, and upon taking the sense of the Convention, it was ascertained that Andrew J. Donelson, Esq., of Davidson county, and Thomas A. R. Nelson, Esq., of Washington county, were chosen as such delegates.

A Committee of Publication having been appointed, the Convention adjourned sine die.

FARMERS' BANK OF TENNESSEE.—We learn that our young friend WM. T. WHELESS, favorably known to our business community as Teller in the Bank of Nashville, has become the proprietor of the Farmers' Bank at Knoxville, and assumed the duties of Cashier of that Institution. Mr. Wheless is a young man of unusual business capacity for one of his age, and has especially won a high reputation as a Bank officer, since his connection with the Bank of Nashville, which dates with the establishment of that institution. We take pleasure in recommending him to the citizens of Knoxville, as a gentleman well worthy of their highest esteem in all the relations of life.

T. R. FARNSWORTH, Esq., formerly of Cincinnati, an experienced Bank officer, succeeds to the post in the Bank of Nashville made vacant by the resignation of Mr. Wheless.

TENNESSEE WHEAT.—We notice a sale in Philadelphia, on the 5th inst., of 6,000 bushels prime red wheat from Tennessee at $1 85 per bushel. The New York Courier of the 6th, reports a sale of 20,000 bushels Tennessee wheat to be delivered some weeks hence, at $1 92.

WHITE COUNTY AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—The first Annual Fair of the White County Agricultural Society was held at Sparta on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, of last week. The exhibition is spoken of as highly creditable to the farmers of White.

RAILROAD SUBSCRIPTION.—The County Court of Henry county has ordered a vote of the people to be taken on 1st of December, on a proposition for a county subscription of $200,000 to the Memphis and Ohio Railroad.

ECLIPSE.—There will be a total eclipse of the moon in the night between the 24th and 25th inst., beginning a few minutes before twelve o'clock. The moon will be totally eclipsed for one hour after the commencement of the partial eclipse, and will remain in total obscuration one hour and a half. This eclipse will be visible in every part of the United States.

SMASH UP AMONG THE SOCIALISTS.—The celebrated domain of the North American Phalanx, situated in Mammoth co., N. J., was brought to the hammer Wednesday morning of last week.

Six hundred and eighty acres of splendid land, possessing great natural advantages and resources, arable uplands, natural meadows, orchards in magnificent condition, groves of oak, hickory, chesnut and locust wood, dwelling-houses, brick buildings for agricultural purposes, steam engines, pumps, water-wheels, &c.,—in fact, every advantage which Nature could give or Science confer has been thrown away and sunk and lost upon a society cursed with the idiotic theories of the crazy Fourier, and his accomplices.

Nothing is wanting to complete the utter annihilation, the ridiculous climax of the scheme.

GEORGIA ELECTION.—The Atlanta Intelligencer of the 9th, a Sag Nicht papers, says:

We have official returns from 70 counties, and unofficial, but reliable returns from 31 more, making 101 counties heard from, which give a majority for Johnson over Andrews of 8,445 votes, and over Andrews and Overby both of 2,904, Overby's vote being as far as heard from in the counties from which we have returns, 5,541. The counties yet to hear from gave Johnson a majority over Junkins in the last election.

A foot race of four miles came off a few days ago at the Lawrence Race Course, Boston, between John Stetson of that city, and John Grindell of New York, for a purse of $600. Grindell took the lead and won, leaving the other far behind. The time was 28m. 5½s.

Correspondence of the Baltimore Sun.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.

Beef cattle yesterday advanced 2 cents per lb. In consequence of a falling off in the supply. The number offered was 2,992, which sold at an average of 9½c per lb. By the aid of the telegraph the speculators are enabled to create a fictitious scarcity at all times, and many persons almost despair of ever enjoying the luxury of cheapness again.

The commercial news by the Pacific is of considerable importance so far as breadstuffs are interested. Large orders are said to have been received for both wheat and flour, and the probability is that the market here will become a little excited. Prices have already gone up somewhat. Yesterday 4,000 bbls. State were sold for November delivery at $7.50, and 2,000 bbls. Ohio for the same month at $7.75.

An instance of the curious course of trade is noted in the fact that most of the California wheat lately received here from San Francisco has been sold for export to Europe. The wheat before it reaches the consumer, will have traveled a long distance. Grown in Ohio, New York and Pennsylvania, it was originally shipped from this port to the Pacific, but, not finding a market there, it was sent back to New York again, and now from New York it goes to Liverpool and the Continent.

Tennessee Conference.

NASHVILLE, Oct. 11.

The Conference met according to adjournment, Bishop Kavanaugh in the Chair. Religious services by the presiding Bishop. The roll was called and most of the members answered to their names.

Minutes read and adopted.

Calling of the roll was dispensed with during the remainder of the session.

The trustees of the following literary institutions, under the patronage of the Conference, presented their annual reports:

Lagrange College, Florence, Alabama.

Shelbyville Male High School, Shelbyville, Tenn.

Tennessee Conference Female College, Columbia, Tenn.

Tennessee Conference Female Institute, Athens, Ala.

Soule Female College, Murfreesboro, Tenn.

The several reports were referred to the Committee on Education, together with one from the Faculty of Lagrange College, explaining the circumstances connected with the removal of the College from Lagrange to Florence, Ala.

A special committee was appointed to examine an Elementary work, on the English Language, prepared by the Rev. Wm. Mulky, and report to the Conference upon the practicability of introducing it in all of our missions, where the English language is to be taught. Committee, R. H. Rivers, S. D. Baldwin, M. M. Henkle, J. O. Church, and A. R. Erwin.

In adopting rules for the government of the Conference, that one referring to closed doors, was discussed and modified, so that the doors are to be closed only durring the examination of the character of members. It was expressly stated that, at all other times, the Conference would be very glad to have the people generally present; and that the Bishop would always give spectators notice, when the examination of character will be taken up.

The examination of the character of those preachers who have traveled one year, was resumed, and the following were continued on trial: J. W. Timberlake, J. K. Woodson, E. P. Anderson, J. T. W. Davis, J. M. Wright, R. A. Wilson, E. F. Senter, Wm. Large, W. C. Haislip, and M. G. Williams.

The Secretary read an interesting letter from Rev. D. C. Kelly, a missionary sent out from this Conference to China.

Conference adjourned with prayer by Bishop Paine. W.

Correspondence of the Memphis Whig.

Gov. Wm. B. Campbell—The Next President.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Several of the newspaper editors and correspondents have recently been suggesting the names of American citizens as probable candidates of the American party in 1856, for President of the United States. I, too, have a name to present, and that is the name of Ex Governor Wm. B. Campbell, of Tennessee.

In all the relations of life, whether as a citizen, a soldier, or a statesman, Governor Cambell stands without fear and without reproach.

He has never sought office, and yet, when the good of his country required him to do so, he has never shunned responsibility nor feared danger.—When Tennessee was called upon to send her volunteers to the sawmps of Florida, although then well known, he flew to the standard of his country and, by his gallantry and chivalry, won distinguished honors in the Florida campaign. Returning from the field of battle, he was soon afterwards returned to the Congress of the United States, although opposed by Ex Governor Trousdale, the most prominent statesman in his District.

Twice elected as the Representative of his District, and honored and respected at home and abroad, he peremptorily declined re-election, and, like Cincinnatus, retired to the shades and quiets of private life.

Again however, when our country was involved in a war with Mexico, he was one among the first to volunteer in her defense, and, during that war as the commander of the first regiment of the Tennessee volunteers, he won a position as a hero and a soldier second to none in that war. At the storming of Monterey he led his regiment, in his celebrated charge upon the Black Fort, to victory and to glory.

Returning from the field of his triumph, he was, not long afterwards, elected Governor of the State of Tennessee, although opposed by one of the popular and gallant statesman of Tennessee.

Having discharged the duties of that office, he peremptorily declined serving another term, and retired again to the peace and quiet of private life.

For him, the pomp and trappings of office and station never had any allurements. When his country needed his services, whatever the sacrifice, or whatever the danger, he never hesitated for one moment to count the cost, or to calculate the danger.

Such a statesman, such a soldier, and such a citizen, deserves the highest place in the confidence of his fellow citizens; and when the voice of the American people demand his services, he is not the man to shrink from responsibility nor cower at danger.

Conservative in his views, American and National in his deepest sympathies, he is the man for the crisis. As the American candidate for the Presidency in 1856, he could not be beaten. True to the rights of the States, and true to the compact of the American Union, he would be found fighting as boldly for the one, or the other, as his gallant ancesters in opposing the oppression of the British King, at the glorious battle of King's Mountain.

In the meridain of life, full of vigor, full of hope, insapable of doing what he believes to be wrong, he is my choice as the candidate of the American party for the Presidency of the United States.

September 24, 1855. AN AMERICAN.

NORTHERN DEMOCRATIC SENTIMENT.—The Chicago Democrat, a leading Democratic and Anti-American newspaper at Chicago, Illinois, says:

The same Democratic principles, that make us detest slavery, make us anxious for a healthy foreign immigration, as the best means of getting rid of it.

A FACT FOR THE SOUTH.—The Southern Sag Nicht editors are basely and calumniously charging that the American party North entertains abolition sentiments, and yet we find that the editor of the St. Albans (Vt.) Messenger was expelled from an American council for expressing the opinion that "the American party would never succeed in the free States unless it took a strong anti-slavery ground."

☞ The New York Mirror says:

FILLIBUSTERING.—We have received information that an extensive fillibustering expedition is now on foot from the United States to subvert the existing government of a Republic south of us. It is stated that an ex-Secretary of State of that Republic, now or recently in this country, is at the head of the expedition, the present Chief of that Republic having dismissed him for pecuniary peculation. Will the federal authorities at Washington attend to this?

STILL ANOTHER RICHMOND IS THE FIELD.—We mentioned a few days ago that there were five complete and distinct State tickets in New York; since then the temperance party has determined to make another ticket, and the liquor dealers have called a convention to make a ticket for themselves, and to crown the whole the Mirror suggests an eighth party of the best men with an independent ticket.—At this rate there will soon be as many candidates as voters. We suppose it will be a sort of scrub race, and the motto of all will be "the devil take the hindmost."

Dick Tinto, in his letter from Paris to the New York Times, under the date of September 20th, states that the Moniteur has made an official statement that the harvest in France is totally insufficient for the wants of consumers; that the country needs 7½ million hectolitres more than it will yield this year, equal in our measure to twenty millions of bushels.

HOGS.—Contracts have been making for hogs through the week at $6@6 25 net, at which prices are firm. We hear of the sale of 1,000 head by a pork-house owner at $6 from the hooks. The Cincinnati quotation is $6 25. A letter from Allen county says hogs are selling there at $5 25 net, which is equal to $6 50@6 75 here.—Lou. Jour.

AN ERROR CORRECTED.

I LEARN that it is reported in the city that there is no ICE deposited here for sale, and the report is believed by many. I have a plentiful supply, both at my Depot, No. 4½, on Cherry street, two doors above the Gazette office, and at home in my Ice house—more ice than I expect to be able to sell during the season. NOTICE.

$200 REWARD!

ON Tuesday evening, at Odd Fellows' Hall in Nashville, during the exhibition of the Mechanical Fair, a small dark Pocket Book, with a steel clasp, was stolen from my pocket. It contained $25 in Bank Notes, some receipts, and three or four blank bills of Exchange, signed by myself and endorsed by Dr. John Waters. Also, three or four blank promissory notes, signed by myself and endorsed by Dr. John Waters. These Bills and notes are printed forms, with dates, amounts, &c., blank; they are the only bills or notes signed by myself and endorsed by him, which are in existence.

The above reward will be paid for the return of the Bills and Notes, or such information as will lead to their procurement—proportional reward for the return of any of them. All persons are notified not to trade or negotiate for such Bills or Notes, as they will not be paid.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

From the Newark Daily Advertiser.

We know of no other work which, within so small a compass, so well and so satisfactorily presents the chemical and physiological wonders which surround us; and that too, in a manner so free from technicalities, that the veriest tyro in the science cannot be otherwise than interested and instructed.

From the Utica Gazette.

Much scientific information is here presented in a condensed and interesting form, making a volume of high practical value.

From the Rochester Union.

This work is one of the most valuable that can be given to the American public. It should be in every family, and in every school and public library in the land.

From the Albany Atlas.

These two volumes, which contain an immense amount of instructive matter, are as interesting as a story book.

From the Troy Daily Whig.

It is adapted to the comprehension of the unlearned in technical chemistry, as well as to the learned, and the subjects treated are so useful, that it is saying no more than justice requires, to assert that it ought to be in every home in the country.

From the St. Louis Intelligencer.

This is a work for the youth as well as the grown man—for the scholar as well as the mechanic, and we can cordially recommend it as not only in a high degree valuable for its solid instruction, but also as a profitable source of entertainment.

From the Louisville Courier.

There is not one essay in these volumes that can fail to rivet the attention of any one fond of reading. It is a delightful book for a family circle. oct11

SYDNEY SMITH'S LIFE AND LETTERS.

W. T. BERRY & CO. have just received—

SYDNEY SMITH'S LIFE AND LETTERS.

A Memoir of the Reverend Sydney Smith, by his Daughter, Lady Holland; with a Selection from his Letters, edited by Mrs. Austin. 2 vols., 12mo., muslin.

"A more than commonly delightful and wholesome book.—London Critic.

Lady Holland has now fulfilled her mother's wish, by writing such a memoir as will enable the world to understand her father's character more nearly in its full integrity. Mrs. Austin, at the same time, has arranged each of his letters as could honestly be published, and illustrated them with a delightful preface full of sound and helpful comment. London Examiner.

Lady Holland has produced a vivid and interesting picture of the more private career and domestic life of her father. A charming portrait of a remarkable man, as he appeared to his friends and family.—London Spectator.

Next to a day with Sydney Smith himself, there could scarcely be enjoyed a richer treat than the perusal of this book. It is a worthy memorial of one of the wisest and best,
