PERSONS AND THINGS.

News Notes Compiled from the "Times" Exchanges.

San Francisco has a Chinese preacher. Ng Poon Chew is his name.

The four daughters of ex-Secretary Bayard are daring equestrienne.

One of Chicago's most eloquent speakers is a woman, the Rev. Florence Kolleck.

William Black, the novelist, is making a study of Mary Anderson for his next story.

A block of coal exhibited at the Iowa State Fair is thought to be the largest ever mined; it weighed 7,000 pounds.

Senator Quay received thirteen large mail-bags full of letters at his home in Beaver, Pa., one day last week. They came in blocks of five.

A San Francisco paper has kept a record of editorials on the Terry-Nagle matter, and it shows only three expressions of doubt as to the propriety of the killing.

The largest coal breaker in the world is in operation at Edwardsville colliery, Luzerne county, Pennsylvania. It prepares for market 4,000 mine cars of coal every ten hours.

A New Haven preacher is delivering a series of sermons on "After Death, What?" After he finishes his course both he and his congregation will know about as much of his subject as they did before he began to write or they to listen.

A San Diego grocer kept a fine Maltese Thomas to kill off rats. Last Saturday night he was attacked by a giant tarantula and was found dead Monday morning. The tarantula was subsequently captured and is now on exhibition. It is four inches long.

So many people were anxious to see the ravages by the storm at Coney Island that the crowd at the beach Sunday was the largest of the season, and it is even said that the receipts at Brighton were heavy enough to wipe out the losses occasioned by the storm at that part of the island.

Elizabeth Stuart Phelps spent two years in writing "Gates Ajar," and two years more in finding a publisher for it. Frances Hodgson Burnett was a country school teacher on a small salary when she began writing stories, and rumor has it that the stamps with which her first contribution was sent away were bought with money obtained from picking berries.

The Secretary of the Navy has ordered that every pay officer of a naval vessel in commission keep on deposit with assistant treasurer at New York, subject to the pay officer's order, a sufficient amount of Government funds in order to give every facility to officers and enlisted men attached to vessels in commission to remit money for the support of their families or for their own savings.

There is another row in the camps of the Chicago Clan-na-Gael, and some ugly things are being said to the effect that the Cronin suspects are being defended by lawyers paid with Clan-na-Gael money. The Clan-na-Gael in Chicago is made up of some very queer patriots, and if the camps were disbanded forever it would, no doubt, be better for the cause of home rule in Ireland.

Samuel Colt, the inventor of the revolver that bears his name, was originally a blacksmith, rough, uneducated, coarse, but a genius in his way. A company was formed for the manufacture of pistols, but Colt had so terrible a temper and was so unreasonable that no person could get along with him, so he bought out the company for a song and set up for himself. A lucrative contract from the government during the Mexican war was the foundation of a magnificent fortune.

The stone pavement in front of the residence of the late William H. Vanderbilt, in New York city, is made up of the largest slabs of flagging stone ever put in a single pavement. The stones were taken from quarries in Pike county, Pennsylvania, west of Port Jervis, N. Y., and from the Bluglow quarries in Ulster county, New York. The large slab immediately in front of the residence is the largest slab of its kind ever transported from any quarry and cost the millionaire $9,200; the entire cost of the pavement was $47,000.

Eli Perkins, who the world formerly imagined was dead, has turned up in New Haven as a lecturer on wit and humor. In the course of his very discursive remarks he said "humor is purely truth; wit is the exaggerated fruits of imagination. Humor is what is and has been; wit is simply what might be. All good humor in art or literature is truth. All good wit in art or literature is based on truth, but is carried on as far as imagination can carry it." Assuming the above definition to be correct, Eli, who deals in neither imagination nor truth, should at once stop trying to pose as a witty humorist.

All people and all denominations delight to honor the memory of the genial S. S. Cox. Sunday evening the synagogue on Eighth street, Washington, was crowded by his friends and admirers who held in grateful remembrance his services in behalf of the Hebrews. Henry King, Jr., presided and Philip Keyser, the vice-president of the congregation, sat with him in the pulpit. Rabbi Stein took part in the services. Mr. Simon Wolf delivered a eulogy which was at once just and appreciative. He spoke of Mr. Cox's effort in behalf of the oppressed Jews of Germany and Roumania and of that trait in his character which led him to take the part of the weak and oppressed. Short addresses were also made by Mr. A. S. Solomon and Louis Abraham.

Wilson Waddingham, who in 1887 purchased 183,000 acres of land in San Miguel county, New Mexico, is believed to be the greatest individual land proprietor in the world. His present landed interests amount to 1,500,000 acres, about 500,000 acres more than are claimed for the duke of Westminster. A year ago the largest producing farm in the world was one of the same number of acres (1,500,000) situated in the southwest corner of Louisiana. This immense farm is operated by a Northern syndicate, with J. H. Watkins as manager. The fencing alone cost over $50,000; enough to buy half the farms in a common county.

The ex-Confederates are to have an organ. It will be a monthly magazine called "The Confederate Veteran," and will be published in Atlanta by the Confederate Veteran Publishing Company. The price of the periodical will be two dollars a year. Its managers propose to illustrate it and make it in all respects an attractive publication. The magazine will advocate the principles of the Lost Cause, and will be devoted to sketches, reminiscences, and bits of Confederate history. The first number will appear in November. Such a monthly will doubtless be very popular, and its subscription list will probably swell rapidly.

The facinating game of draw-poker, writes a correspondent, will be more popular this winter in Washington among the fashionable women than ever before. Several new poker clubs will be organized. The ladies play for bonbons, gloves, etc., etc., and very often for cash. The games are, as a rule, for a small limit, but they get as much enjoyment out of them as if thousands changed hands. The wife of one of the Senators was much worried because her husband lost so much at poker, and determined that if he must play and must lose he should play with her, and she won'd benefit by his losing. She learned the game thoroughly, surrounded her table with good players, and a handsome lot in the northwestern part of the town is the result of her venture; and she is still winning, probably with an idea of putting a house on her lot.

At a spiritualistic seance in Buffalo, a few nights ago, a well-known photographer of that city, created a sensation by bringing into service a little Kodak camera and a flash light. The mediums were Mr. and Mrs. Cobb, of Mentor, O., and the seance was at a private house. After Mrs. Cobb had been securely bound the lights were turned off. Suddenly there came a blinding flash of light, a shrill shriek from the spirit, and a sound of scuffling, broken by the collapse of the cabinet. The lights were turned on and Mrs. Cobb was found dressed in little else but mosquito netting in the firm grasp of a detective, while the photographer's dry plate speedily developed a peculiar scene. A dummy was found in the cabinet on which the detective and Mrs. Cobb were seated side by side. Mrs. Cobb went into convulsions and Mr. Cobb vowed vengeance.

TOBACCO DEPARTMENT.

RICHMOND, September 20.—Offerings of tobacco at auction on 'Change Friday, September 20th, 1889: Total offerings, 23 packages, of which 9 packages were sun-cured and 14 packages of dark tobaccos: Of the sun cured tobacco: One package sold at $14 50, one at $11, one at $10 75, one at $10 25, one at $7.50, one at $7 25, one at $6, one at $4 60. Of the dark tobaccos: One package sold at $11, one at $10.25, one taken in at $9.25, one sold at $8 75, one at $7 25, one at $6.25, one taken in at $6, seven brought under $6.

Private sales reported to the secretary to-day: Wrappers, 28 hogsheads; fillers, 113 hogsheads; burleys, 5 hogsheads; dark tobaccos 159 hogsheads. Total sales reported to the secretary to-day, 305 hogsheads.

Office of the Collector of the United States Internal Revenue reports collections for the city of Richmond to-day as follows: Tax paid cigars and cigarettes, $237.40; tobacco, $3,088.60; special, $1.60. Total collections for city to-day, $3,327.60.

Farmer's, Wilson's, Blanchard's, Davenport's, Centre, Myers', Seabrook's Planters and Merchants' Warehouses report 89 hogsheads, 8 tierces and 3 boxes delivered to-day.

Registered at the Tobacco Exchange: W. C. Reed, Oxford; David Dunlop, Petersburg; C. C. Tramp Louisville; W. S. Barksdale, West Virginia; E. W. Martin, Florence, Ala.

The Louisville Courier-Journal of the 19th says:

"Beginning Thursday, the 19th instant, at 9 A. M., the sales will be held at the warehouses in the following order: Farmers', Globe, Planters', Kentucky and Tennessee, Crescents Central, Enterprise, Green River, Fall City, Ninth Street, Pickett, Givens, Headley & Co., Sawyer, Wallace & Co., Louisville.

"There was not a great deal of change in the market to-day, which was again irregular and unsettled. Some grades of burley were appreciably better. Sound, sweet hogsheads sold well, but those ill-flavored, funked, and otherwise in bad order were exceedingly dull and heavy. There were some large offerings of sweet, colory trash, and the result was exceedingly satisfactory, high prices ruling. Not many hogsheads of sweet burley wrappers and fillers were offered, but when placed on the breaks they elicited active and spirited bidding. Medium and common grades of leaf and lugs were unchanged. Darks were still heavy and flat.

"Receipts are now diminishing. Being heavy on Monday they were light both Tuesday and to-day and it may be that the end of the rush is at hand. It is more than likely that farmers have about exhausted their supplies. On this the condition of the market will depend. Its present unsettled state is due to the uncertainty concerning the supply in the hands of farmers and shippers. Should the receipts continue to grow less the market is likely to resume its buoyancy of ten days ago, but should they be large, buyers will have things at their mercy for a while at least.

"To-day's sales were 818 hogsheads; 15 old, 803 new; 640 original inspections; yesterday's rejections, 203."

The Henderson Gold Leaf of the 19th says the tobacco pack-house of Mr James P. Satterwhite, who lives a few miles from town, had one of his pack-houses, containing about thirteen barns of tobacco, burned last Friday night. Much of his best tobacco was stored away in it, all of which is a total loss. He had no insurance. The origin of the fire is unknown. The theory is that there must have been some coals of fire in a blanket or bed quilt that had been used about one of the curing barns, and which was folded up and thrown into the pack-house that night. No cause is assigned why any person should have been disposed to set fire to the house. Mr. Satterwhite is a good neighbor, a clever, upright citizen, and has no enemy as far as is known.

The Richmond Tobacco market was strong to day, especially on fillers and dark tobaccos, of grades sales were large and it is thought generally in excess of those reported to C. McL.

REVIEW.

NEW YORK, September 20.—Our market was again awfully dull, but there was not only a firm undertone but quite a general advance up to 1:30. From that time to the close great weakness in sugar trust helped to make a slight reaction. Instead of a fight in the Northern Pacific board it is now believed that the directors' plan will be adopted by Villard. All of the railroad men who published interviews to-day are bullish. There was no fresh cuts of rates anywhere. Money 4@6. Northwest reported a gross increase of $280,000 for month of August. Atchison is likely to offer a big blanket mortgage to reduce its charges, and the treasury accepted $1,163,000 bonds. All of these points were favorable, and the bulls are highly elated that the bad news of last week has had so little effect, and are more confident than ever that holders of stock will see that the evils in the situation are pigmies compared to the giant natural bull conditions. The list closed dull and at a reaction.

New York Financial Market.

[By Telegraph.]

NEW YORK, September 20.—Money closed at 4 per cent. Exchange closed steady; posted rates, 484½@488½; actual rates, 484 for sixty days, and 488a488½ for demand. Governments closed steady; currency, 6's 118 bid; 4's coupons, 127½ bid; 4½'s do., 105¾ bid.

The stock market was excessively dull this morning, about the smallest business for many days having been done. Only 473,000 shares changed hands. The tone of speculation was firm, however, and prices gradually strengthened throughout. At noon the general list was up ½ to ¾ per cent., while New Jersey Central, which was unusually strong, advanced ¾ per cent. The strength of the market was due almost wholly to support extended the list by holders. The market was more active after midday until 2 o'clock, though with no important change, but in the last hour trading came almost to a standstill. Northern Pacific preferred was the feature of the afternoon, trading being pressed for sale, and declined 1½ per cent. on the presumption that a portion of the board of directors would be opposed to the beginning of dividends of January 1st, according to the scheme proposed by the party now claiming to control the majority of the stock. The market closed steady, with prices at about yesterday's figures. Sales, 140,065 shares.

New York Cotton Market.

[By Telegraph.]

NEW YORK, September 20.—Messrs. Hubbard, Price & Co. say: "Again advices are disappointing from Liverpool, and our market opened with a heavy feeling, because weak selling off under efforts of traders to liquidate their holdings. In the afternoon the failure of the Southern markets to ease under the heavy receipts, and the growing feeling that 10 cents will not be a high price for cotton until many vacant places are filled up at present prices, caused a sharp reaction, the market closing firm with more than the decline recovered. Operators are becoming very bullish on the local situation and the strength of the Southern markets where the demand for the Continent is brisk at full prices. With light stocks and prices below the South our operators believe a further readjustment must take place by an advance in prices here, notwithstanding the good weather which prevails over the cotton belt adding daily to the crop. They argue the short interest here for Southern account will be compelled to cover or else furnish them with cotton. Under this belief they expect higher prices to morrow."

Spot cotton is steady; middling uplands, 11⅛c.; sales, 499 bales to spinners. Galveston quotes middling uplands at 10⅞c.; which shows an advance of 1-16. Closings: September, 10.96a10.97; October, 10.43a10.44; November, 10.14a10.15; December, 10.06a10.07; January, 10.08a10.09; February, 10.13a10.14; March, 10.19a10.20; April, 10.25a10.26; May, 10.32a10.33; June, 10.38a10.39. COMMISSIONERS' NOTICE.

COMMISSIONERS' OFFICE, RICHMOND, VA., August 22, 1889.

James Lyons, guardian of Anthony Robinson ..... Complainants; against
Anthony Robinson, an infant, by Hill Carter, his guardian ad litem, W. Russell Robinson and others ..... Defendants.

IN THE CHANCERY COURT OF THE CITY OF RICHMOND.

NOTICE.—The parties to the above suit are hereby notified that I have fixed on this office, corner Tenth and Bank streets, Richmond, Va., as the place, and the 20th day of September, 1889, at ten A. M., as the time for executing the requirements of the decree entered in the chancery suit above mentioned on the 13th day of August, 1889, at which time and place you are requested to attend, and do what may be necessary to protect your rights. Below will be found an extract from the decree under which this notice is given.

Given under my hand as a commissioner in Chancery for said Court.

WILLIAM J. LEAKE, Commissioner.

JAMES LYONS, p. q.

EXTRACT FROM DECREE ABOVE REFERRED TO.

By said decree one of the commissioners of the Court is directed to make the following inquiries and report the same to the Court, with any matter specially stated deemed pertinent by himself, or which any party may require to have stated, to wit:

First. Whether the objections filed by Marcellus Hicks, Isaac Lichtenstein and Jacob Lichtenstein respectively to the titles to the several lots purchased by them respectively at the sale under the decree of June 29, 1889, are good and valid and should be sustained, or whether the said objections should be overruled, and the said purchasers severally required to comply with the terms of sale of the lots purchased by them respectively, or have the said lots resold at their respective risks and costs. The said commissioner shall also report any other irregularity or matter in the said titles which he may discover or may be brought to his notice.

Second. Whether C. H. Langford is a tenant in rightful possession of lot No. 207 East Grace street, Richmond, Va., and what, if any, is the nature of his tenancy. Whether by sufferance, at will, or from year to year, or month to month.

Third. Whether J. H. Brown is a tenant in rightful possession of lots Nos. 203 and 205 East Grace street, Richmond, Va., and what, if any, is the nature of his tenancy. Whether by sufferance, at will, or from year to year, or month to month.

Fourth. Whether any debts and demands against the estate of Ashifa Robinson, deceased, are due and unpaid, or have been paid, which ought to be paid or refunded out of the corpus of the estate which passed from Ashifa Robinson to Anthony Robinson.

Fifth. Whether the city and state taxes for the year 1889 should be paid out of the corpus of the proceeds of the sale of the real estate sold in these proceedings, or out of the income of the infant, Anthony Robinson.

Sixth. What, if any, fee should be paid James Lyons or Benjamin H. Nash for legal services rendered in the causes of "Robinson's widow & ainst Robinson," "Mary E. Robinson against Robinson's children," "Matter, administrix, against Robinson and als," and "Lyons, gm dian, against Robinson and als," or any of them, and if so, out of what funds such fees should be paid.

And the said commissioner shall publish notice of the time and place of executing the foregoing decree once a week for four successive weeks in the Richmond Daily TIMES, that being a convenient newspaper, and such publication shall be equivalent to personal service of such notice on all the parties except Marcellus Hicks, Isaac Lichtenstein, Jacob Lichtenstein, C. H. Langford and J. H. Brown, whom the said commissioner shall personally summon to appear before him.

Teste:

W. J. LEAKE, Commissioner.

a medicine of GENUINE MERIT we place

RHEUMATIC CURE

Against the world for all impurities of the blood and diseases of the kidneys and skin.

It is absolutely an infallible cure for Rheumatism in all its forms.

We do not refer to people in some remote and inaccessible place, but give you the testimony of your friends and neighbors. Here is the proof:

LEE CAMP SOLDIERS' HOME, RICHMOND, VA., November 2, 1888.

Hunnicutt Medicine Company:

Gents,—Some eight years ago I was attacked with sciatica, and suffered for several days at a time the most agonizing pain. It continued getting worse, although receiving the best medical treatment and using almost every remedy that was suggested. I finally got so bad off and suffered so much I was unable to attend to any business, and went to the "Soldiers' Home." A short time after being there, in reading the Atlanta Constitution, I saw your "HUNNICUTT'S RHEUMATIC CURE" advertised and so highly recommended by citizens of Atlanta that I at once wrote to you for some, and in a few days received three bottles. I commenced taking it as soon as received, and before one bottle had been used I felt its benefits. I took the other two bottles and scarcely ever felt a pain. Ascertaining that this GREAT AND ONLY CURE for SCIATICA and RHEUMATISM was for sale by OWENS & MINOR, I bought one bottle more and used that, and since then I feel like a new man, without a pain, from that unbearable disease, SCIATICA, and I cheerfully recommend it to all afflicted with Sciatica or Rheumatism as a SURE CURE. Respectfully,

T. W. HUNGERFORD.

Hunnicutt's Rheumatic Cure.

Infallible cure for Rheumatism, Sciatica, Neuralgia, and all diseases of the Blood, Skin and Kidneys. For sale by druggists at one dollar per bottle; six boxes for five dollars. Send for book of testimonials free.
