Floods in Missouri and Illinois.

ST. LOUIS, July 20.

A despatch from Quincy, Ill., states that the late rains have so damaged the Hannibal and St. Joseph railroad between Hannibal and Palmyra, that the trains have ceased running between those places for the present. Between this place and Palmyra a large part of the country is inundated so that the railroad trains run with difficulty. The Toledo, Wabash and Western Railroad is much damaged and no trains have left here this morning. No trains had arrived from Quincy since Saturday night. Over 15 miles of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad has been washed away near Augusta, and on Saturday night a passenger train narrowly escaped running into the break, where the water poured through like a river. Large quantities of wheat in the stack have been carried away by high cracks in Adams Co. South Hannibal is inundated. Over 20,000 feet of lumber have been washed away.

End of the Sing Sing Robbery.

NEW YORK, July 21.

The mystery of Sing Sing prison has been at last partially cleared, and about 200 of the prisoners who had been placed in close confinement have been released and returned to work. The cause has attended the trouble to be universally feeling the blow so severely dealt out of the prisons, of to further what course of life.

The New Jersey Court of Pardons, at a recent session, pardoned forty convicts, four of whom are murderers. The officers are highly delighted with the pardons of other prisoners who were sending in petitions for the relief from imprisonment.
