Abira Steele Richardson at one time one of the foremost business men of St. Albans and Franklin county, following the years of a successful business career in Bos-ton, died in this city Sunday of cerebral hemorrhages. The funeral was held at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frank L. Greene, on Fairfield street Tuesday after-noon at 2:30 o'clock. Abira Steele Richard-son, the son of Elisha Benton and Betsey Cutler Richardson, was born in Waits-field November 10, 1847. He was educated in the common schools of his native town and came to St. Albans in 1864 where he entered the employ of William N. Smith as clerk in his clothing store. Three years later Mr. Richardson went to Bos-ton to the service of John O. Smith & Co., one of the large wholesale clothing firms of that early period in the develop-ment of the ready-made clothing trade. For a little while Mr. Richardson was traveling salesman for this house, then was given responsible employment in the headquarters and shortly thereafter was taken into the firm. Largely through his capacity and activity the business grew under successive reorganizations until as Smith, Richardson & Bates it was one of the best known wholesale clothing houses in the East. Owing to a breakdown in his health, Mr. Richardson closed out his interest in Boston and came to St. Albans to make his home in May, 1888. Here he gradually resumed business activities, however, and with G. P. Twigg estab-lished the successful dry goods store of Richardson, Twigg & Co., now William Doolin & Co., was vice-president of the Franklin County Creamery associaton, president of the Fletcher Grante Works, director of St. Albans Electric Light & Power company, director of the Welden National Bank and president of the Robin Hood Powder company. He was one-time village trustee and represented St. Albans in the General Assembly of 1898, serving as chairman of the committee on ways and means and member of the committee on banks. He was actively engaged in many public enterprises such as the St. Albans Hospital associaton, Franklin County Fair association, etc., and brought his wide business experience and unflagging industry to the aid of much that made for good in various directions. In April, 1905, Mr. Richardson sustained a shock which for a time left him in a critical condition, but he gradually re-covered sufficiently to enjoy many com-forts of health and moderate activities until within the past few months. October 12, 1870, Mr. Richardson married Emma Barnes Soule of this city, daughter of J. Douglas and Mary Barnes Soule. Mrs. Richardson died June 13, 1918. They are survived by two children, Mrs. Frank L. Greene, of this city and Edwin H. Richard-son, of Boston; by four grandchildren, Lieut. Richard L. Greene, U. S. A., Mrs. Harris W. Alexander and Stuart H. Greene, of this city, and Edwin N. Richardson, of Boston. Mr. Richardson also leaves two brothers, John N. Richardson of Richmond and Loren S. Richardson of Concord, N. H.

The High School alumni banquet Fri-day evening at the parlors of the Metho-dist Church was the largest attended in several years. President S. S. Watson presided, and gave a resume of the events of the last year. A stringed instrument trio, composed of E. H. Royce, Roswell M. Austin and M. Darwin Greene, enter-tained with several selections. Mrs. Helen M. Robinson of Boston gave an excellent talk on "The Modern World from a Woman's Point of View." Arnold R. Denison, president of the class of 1920, spoke on behalf of the class. A vocal solo by Mrs. M. D. Armstrong was given, followed by a talk by Robert Ford on Chicago. Mrs. Alice Brewer sang a solo. The following officers were elected: President, Roswell M. Austin; vice-presidents, Miss Gertrude Beeman and Safford E. Thorpe; secretary, Philip R. Johnson; treasurer, Miss Marion Beach. Afterward the gathering went to the City Hall and enjoyed dancing until midnight.

The funeral of Edna Mary (Pierce) Greene, wife of W. H. H. Greene, who died at her home on Bishop street Thurs-day evening after a long illness, was held at the house Sunday afternoon at four o'clock. Mrs. Greene was 76 years old having been born in Stanbridge, Que., on October 12, 1843, the daughter of Mary (Dunham) and Curtis Pierce. She was married to Mr. Greene at St. Albans in the house where she died September 13, 1865. Besides her husband, she is sur-vived by three children, Mrs. James A. Graham of this city, Frederick Eugene Greene of Burlington and Miss Lettie Pierce Greene of this city. A son, Curtis Orin, died at the age of two years; one sister, Mrs. Caroline H. Perkins of this city, and three grandchildren, Helen G. and Norman E. Greene of Burlington and Miss Edna Graham of this city.
