AMUSEMENTS

BUTLER THEATER.

At the Butler this evening another splendid programme will be shown, composed of four very interesting reels, as follows: A Biograph Indian drama, a style of story in which the Biograph company excels; "A Romance of the Prairie," John Bunny and Flora Finch in a side-splitting Vitagraph comedy, "Pulling Up," and the ninth episode of the great Million Dollar Mystery, "The Lady from an Ocean Liner," and more exciting than any previous number. Friday "The Perils of Pauline," with Henry Walthall, weekly, and Saturday another Public Daily News.

(By International News Service.)

BROOKLYN, Sept. 22—Jim Blue Jordan, the Brooklyn Federal twirler who refused to play with the Giants and went to the Federals, was struck hard by a batted ball today and had his nose broken. He lay on the ground stunned for several minutes.

TROOP MOVEMENTS NO LONGER HIDDEN FROM THE PEOPLE

(By Associated Press.)

SOUTHAMPTON, Sept. 22—The departure of troops from Southampton continues, but the movements are now kept less secret than during the passage of the first expeditionary forces. The report that made prevailed an excellent sort of the facilities here for handling such a great movement of troops.

Although the expeditionary force was dispatched from several points, Southampton handled the bulk of the 250,000 to 300,000 men who were sent to the continent during two weeks' time. The docks at the piers offered more than one and a half miles of water front, with railway lines so close to the docks that it is but a moment's work to transfer thousands of men, horses and equipment from the railway to the steamships. The precision with which the transfer was made was so marked that an entire train was often unloaded in three minutes, and it was not uncommon for twenty trains to enter the docks and complete their task of unloading within a single hour.

The plan had been worked out to the war office ten years before. The usual cars used for transporting horses, accommodating only seven or eight animals, proved a great factor in the speedy transfer. Each horse had a separate compartment, and the cases of the cars dropped down in such a manner that the animals dropped out without the slightest confusion. Some statistics who witnessed the movement remarked that the cars were far more practical for this sort of work than the large freight cars used in America, into which a number of horses were crowded.

Scores of hospital cars still line the dock tracks here ready for the reception of sick and injured returning from the continent. Red Cross flags are displayed and surgeons and nurses are in the cars with everything ready for the wounded. The hospital trains are made up of converted passenger coaches and sleeping cars. All have the small compartments common to English railway coaches with doors opening at the sides. Lifters are provided which will enter these small side doors and consequently it is much easier to place the seriously injured in berths than it would be if it were necessary to carry them through the end doors common to American sleeping cars and along aisles or hallways.

Baggage cars have also been converted into hospital cars where patients can be placed who need attention of a sort which can be rendered more satisfactorily in a room or two than in a small compartment.

ESTATE OF C. F. SIMONS WILL PAY FIVE PER CENT

The report of the trustee, J. M. Gillette, in the matter of the estate of C. F. Simons, who conducted what was known as Simon's cash store, recommending that a dividend of five per cent be declared was considered in the bankruptcy court this morning. No objection being been filed, the dividend was declared and other proposed orders were made in accordance with notice which had been given to all creditors. This means the payment of about $1,800 to the creditors whose claims have been filed and not objected to, minus some preferred creditors ahead of them. The trustee already has delivered $1,000 to preferred creditors. Much of this money will go to Slavonians who entrusted their savings to Simons.

Do You Know This Step?

The girl who can dance THE CASTLE POLKA will not be a wall flower

The Castle Polka is Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Castle's latest creation; and it will sweep the country this fall and winter, just as the "Hesitation" did last season.

Let Mr. and Mrs. Castle teach you—in your own home—how to dance it. They give you personal lessons in two pages of pictures and text.

In the October Issue of
The Ladies' Home Journal

You can learn it in an hour or two in your own home, just as if you were in Castle House, where all fashionable New York society will dance it.
