NEVADA ELKS RAISE $33,000

With the members of the Elks lodge in every county in charge, a campaign to secure $33,000 for use of the Salvation Army in home service work will be started in Nevada within the next few weeks and will end with an intensive one week drive in September.

Each county has been given a quota to fill and some of the most prominent men in every community in the state will be in charge of the drive.

"The home service work of the Salvation Army, like its war record, is a splendid example of what can be done by trained workers holding the field where other organizations have failed," said R. E. Lecper of the state lodge of Elks who has charge of the drive.

"The work of the army has been of the interest to Nevada and the Elks of the state are behind the drive to the man and will make it a success in every county and every community."

Maintaining the Salvation Army in its many different activities has been a big problem in the past. The old methods have been changed and from now on the army will work under a budget system and the $33,000 asked from Nevada will be all that the army will ask for a year.

The money will be used to help maintain the industrial school at Lytton, Cal., where Nevada children are welcome and where some are now being trained, it will be used to help maintain the maternity hospital on the Pacific coast province where Nevada girls are cared for and it will be used in extending the home service work of the army corps in Nevada. At Tonopah a corps will be stationed and as the army is extending other corps may soon be stationed in the state.

SIMON FAGAN DROPS INTO ORE

In many ways the Simon Fagan is one of the more interesting propositions in the district surrounding Mina. Originally located by a group of Reese river ranchers away back in the last century, it was later relocated by a well-known mining man of those days, known as "Cap" Fagan.

"Cap" Fagan held the property for a number of years, but after his death no work was done on the property, which eventually passed into the hands of Alec Bettles and "Klondyke" Smith, who in turn disposed of the property to its present owners the Simon Fagan Mines company.

E. S. Chaffey president and general manager, has a shaft down about 40 feet, which is in pay ore from about 10 feet below the surface. Assays are running from $45 to $50 per ton, and there is a large quantity of shipping ore on the dump ready for hauling to Mina. The values are chiefly in silver and lead, the gold content averaging from $6 to $8. The ore occurs in a limestone formation, near its contact with the rhyolite, and the vein widens out with depth, and shows better values. From the present outlook the Simon Fagan promises to be one of the early large producers of the district.

Article of incorporation of the Fagan Extension Mining company were forwarded to Carson City Friday by J. L. Pierce. The incorporators are J. L. Pierce, H. B. Lind and C. C. Matthews. The board of directors are H. B. Lind, Jay A. Carpenter and L. C. Aikens.

The property adjoins that of the Simon Fagan company, and it is understood that the new company will proceed immediately to develop the ground.
