DARING HOLDUP OF A BROKER

(Correspondence of Associated Press)

VIENNA Jan. 17.—A Vienna money broker was robbed of some 500 rubles (the ruble is a kopeck piece) to obtain confirmation of the Christmas location news. The story as worked out by the police is as good as a play.

The scheme was the famous coin interest game of informing the broker of a cache in the raw and of scarcity of time money by criminals disguised as gendarmes.

A supposed Ukraine general recently arrived in Vienna and engaged with the money broker to buy up to 2,000,000 rubles. It is illegal in Austria to deal in foreign money or to have it in private possession, and all foreign exchange is done through authorized banks. The broker agreed to have the amount in hand on a certain day. He lived and conducted his business in a hotel.

On the appointed afternoon but a little ahead of time, a man in the uniform of a Ukrainian colonel called on the broker and saluting said he had come for the federal Ks money. He sat down to a table to check the money when the door was opened and two gendarmes walked in and placed both under arrest on the charge of possessing and dealing in foreign money.

The broker begged and protested and finally was told to appear in court on the following day, his protest being taken with the greatest care and particulars. But the colonel's protests were marvelous. He stormed and invoked his nationality in vain. The two policemen gathered up the notes, counted it and on a receipt told the broker to appear promptly before the authorities.

Then taking the colonel, they left. An hour later the broker woke up to the fact that the colonel and the two gendarmes were fakers and he had been robbed of some 2,000,000 rubles.

The Vienna police as officers in this kind of thing and in a day or two had gathered in two of the swindlers but not the one with the money. Working on the case they finally ascertained that the money was to be used for political ends. The plan, according to the police reports, was a plot to seize the Ukranian legation here by an opposing political faction, get possession of the records and seals and defy the existing government, a plot characteristic of the present unsettled state of affairs in eastern Europe. The legation, however, had wind of it and was prepared for whatever might happen. The police say this is the second plot to the same end frustrated.
