ARGUE QUESTION OF ISSUING MORE PAPER CURRENCY

(By Associated Press)

Paris, April 30.—The question whether France's industrial crisis cannot be tided over by the printing press is being seriously discussed by French financiers and statesmen.

It is argued that an increase in paper circulation, if it further depresses the franc, will at the same time bring to France the benefit Germany is now enjoying from the low value of the mark that is, an immense profit on exports sold in foreign money, and a consequent automatic equilibrium in her foreign financial transactions.

It is also asserted that the increased issue of bank notes being solely intended for the restoration of the devastated regions, that is, only for investment rather than for the payment of expenses of administration, need not necessarily depreciate the franc.

The issue would be considered merely as a provisional one that would be withdrawn in proportion as amounts are collected from Germany on reparations account. The French treasury, it is argued, can take care of all other demands upon it when once relieved of the pressing burden of reconstruction. The government has not received the suggestion with much favor.

24 STUDENTS TO BE CHOSEN FOR BELGIAN RELIEF

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 30.—Twenty-four graduates of American colleges will be chosen on May 1 to pursue advanced courses in Belgian universities under the direction of the commission for relief in Belgium educational foundation.

Nomination of the students will be made by the heads of 13 American universities.

The students will go abroad under an exchange arrangement with the foundation universitaire of Belgium which has just selected 20 students, two of whom are women, to continue studies in this country.

The exchange was arranged by the American educational organization of which Herbert Hoover is president, and it is planned to make the exchanges permanent. Later, exchange professorships will be established and financial aid given Belgian institutions now undergoing rehabilitation.

MANY BANKERS WILL CONVENE WEST OF ROCKIES

(By Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 30.—On desk calendars of bankers of the Pacific coast are noted dates of from six to 10 group, state and national meetings they are to hold west of the Rocky mountains this summer.

High on the list is the American Bankers' Association convention, a national gathering, to be held October 3 to 7 at Los Angeles. Another meeting to be attended by delegates from eastern banks will be the National Association of Credit Men's convention to be held here June 14-17.

State convention dates and places have been announced as follows:

California, May 26 to 28 at Coronado Beach.

Oregon, June 3 and 4 at Seaside.

Washington, June 10 and 11 at Tacoma.

Idaho, June 14 and 15 at Boise.

Utah, June 17 and 18 at Provo.

Montana, August 4 to 6 at Helena.

W. EARL LINDSAY, of Sacramento, arrived this morning, and is stopping at the Mizpah.

NICK J. KESTI, one of the prosperous lessees on the Montana, accompanied by O. Cline, arrived from Hayward, California, last evening. Both gentlemen are ranch holders near Hayward.

MISS JOE CONNORS and sister, who have been in Reno for some time past, were arrivals on today's train from the Riverside city. They left for their home in Manhattan this afternoon.

MARK BRADSHAW and father, WILLIAM F. BRADSHAW, foreman of the Belmont mine, motored out to Arrowhead this afternoon. This is the senior Bradshaw's first inspection of the Arrowhead. They will return Tuesday.

AN EXAMPLE OF THRIFT

A somewhat unique case in Nevada courts is noted in the eastern part of the state where a guardian has been appointed for the person of Maggie Fat John, an Indian, 86 years of age and adjudged incompetent, to look after her business affairs. The latter consists of an estate of $1500, accumulated after three score years of thrift.

THOMAS MEIGHAN AT THE BUTLER TODAY

Have you ever felt the corroding effects of time? Do you feel old at 35 or thereabouts? Have you lost your youth? If so, how are you going to regain it? If you don't know you should see Thomas Meighan in his latest William De Mille Paramount picture, "Conrad in Quest of His Youth," which will be shown at the Butler today. This will do more for you than any physician can do.

The picture is delightful and not only does the hero regain the state of being he seeks, but no spectator who is becoming old can view the picture without feeling younger. The recipe for youth, as discovered by Conrad, is not the fabled elixir, or the much-discussed gland of the goat, nor does it lie in physical culture, but in LOVE. After vainly endeavoring to relive his past romances, Conrad falls in love and with the realization that he is in love, comes the restoration of his youth. Kathlyn Williams has a prominent role in the cast.

Added to the feature, a two-reel Mermaid comedy, "The Simp," featuring the well-known comedian, Lloyd Hamilton.

Tomorrow, a Mary Roberts Rinehart story, "It's a Great Life," and Eddie Polo in the circus picture, "King of the Circus."

Monday, "Dinty," with freckle-faced Wesley Barry in the leading role.
