Local Correspondence.
The favors of L. A. J., J. B. J. and of Occasional in reply to Anna were received too late for publication in this week's issue. They will appear in our next.

System
In the annual statement of Treasurer Thomas, under head of receipts, instead of State donations on hand, read State donation Academic Fund.

Merchandise.
A few days before Christmas, the meat house of Mr. F. H. Bond in this district was broken into and about $30 worth of meat stolen. No clue to the thief or thieves has yet been found.

"Lives of great men always remind us that we are all subject to die," says an exchange, but never enough yourself away as as you can raise 25 cents for a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

New Daily.
We are in receipt of copies of the new daily, the Baltimore Times. It is handsomely printed and in editorial ability compares favorably with any of its cotemporaries. We will publish its prospectus next week.

Personal.
Our obliging meat caterer and general provision provider, Mr. A. J. Blaine, has removed his shop from his old place of business to the office adjoining the Big Brown Store, lately occupied by the School Commissioners, where he will be pleased to meet all who are in search of larger supplies.

Dudley, Carpenter & Co.
It will be seen, by reference to our advertising columns, that Mr. Wm. J. Edelen, formerly of our town, and long known here as a successful merchant and thorough business man, has removed to Baltimore and entered the house of Dudley & Carpenter as a partner. Mr. Edelen enters upon his new field of business with the warmest wishes of his St. Mary's friends for a prosperous career and we have not a doubt he will realize their hopes.

The New Year.
With this issue of our paper we enter upon a new year, and we cannot forbear wishing to our patrons all prosperity. We hope that the old year brought them no adversity, and that the new may be filled with all that is happy.
The old year was filled with dire prophecies, and from this, at least, we will be free in the new. We can safely say that the world will not end in 1882, and that it will run its course to be filled, as we will make it, with weal or woe.

Commitments.
Since our last issue, the following persons have obtained board at the expense of the county. On Friday, the 10th of December, ult., Milly Medley, colored, was committed to Jail by Justice Jas. G. Spalding charged with breaking into the Store of Messrs. Dixon and McGinley, near Oakville. On Monday Dec., the 26th, Nancy Hutchins, colored, was committed by Justice W. L. Dent, charged with the larceny of $40, and on Tuesday the 27th, Wm. Fowler, colored, was committed by Justice A. Barron, Jr., charged with attempting to commit an outrage upon the person of a white girl of about 10 years of age.

Christmas.
The "gracious season" passed in our village with all its attendant "high solemnities" and its opposite of fun and frolic. Christmas is kept with us with all its old traditions and remembrances. The little ones first welcome its coming by thoughts of Santa Claus on Christmas Eve, and the first ones to greet Christmas morning are they who whisper to each other of the mysterious little personage who rides over the house tops in the frosty night and brings the toys to deck the Christmas tree. The one last custom with us is the want of the mistletoe, under which the maiden pays her penalty.

THE DAY.
Early on Christmas morning the devout paid their devotions to the new-born Saviour at St. Aloysius' church, where mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Jenkins at 6 o'clock.
Mass was also celebrated at 7 o'clock and High Mass at 10.30 o'clock. The music of the High Mass was from Espuata, Concone and Mercadante, selections being taken from each.
"There were Shepherds Abiding in the Fields" was sung at the Offertory. Evening services were given at St. Peter's (P. E.) church by Rev. Mr. Peckman.

The religious obligations of the day being performed, the next thing in order was what generally knows with us as settling, which consists in the paying of respects to the hospitable owners of the different households in the village. These "visiting" can be too many, and some were merry with the cheer. There must be an end to all things and evening fell on happy and merry hearts. As we wished, we hope that all had a Merry Christmas, that none of the little ones were forgotten by Santa Claus, and that all the maidens were kissed under the mistletoe.

Now is the time to take Larocque's Anti-Bilious Pills for chills and fevers, bread-ache, dyspepsia, constipation, &c.; its effect upon the system is truly wonderful. 25 cents a paper; $1 a bottle. Sold by druggists.

[Local Correspondence]
CHARLOTTE HALL, Jan. 2nd, 1882.
Messrs. Editors:—A happy New Year and prosperity to the Deacon. 1882 has arrived and the world stands, Mother Shipton, Scond adventist, comets, pyramidal calculations, etc., to the contrary notwithstanding, 1881 has vanished into the past (would we could say happy for all) never to return and a new page is turned in the book of existence, it is as yet spotless—let us each and all keep it so and let it be a record of noble and integrity. Let it be a record not of lost hours, un-grasped opportunities, unholly deeds, but of the noble exhibition of the purest and holiest thoughts. Life is a pilgrimage born given into our keeping to be used to noble ends, and yet how few who think of it as such! Ay, too princes a boon to spend it that when "thy summons comes, thou goest like the galley slave scourged to death," rather let us so live that when our pilgrimage here is at end we may account with a joyous heart for the trust reposed in us by the gift of life.

The cold weather at present prevailing cheers the hearts of ice-house possessors, as affording a prospect of plenty of that valuable crop to aid in passing next summer agreeably.

Work on the R. R. has been at a standstill for the past ten days, its employees not being proof against the tempting pleasures of the holidays; at present writing, work has to some extent been resumed. The turn-table is nearly completed, a well has been sunk and its attendant tank is under rapid construction, the water is designed to be pumped into the tank by a windmill, something new in this part of the world, but in very general use in the North and West. Lumber is on hand to build a station house which will shortly be completed, and rumor has it that a passenger train will be put on about the middle of the present month.

Our village has every prospect of being beautified and possibly sanctified by the erection of a handsome P. E. church. The late Jos. Dent, a native of the adjoining county of Charles, but a resident of Wisconsin at the time of his death some years since, bequeathed $12,000 to erect a church here; this money has been unavailable till the present time, and we learn that work upon it will shortly be commenced. The church building will cost about $7,000 the remainder of the sum to be used as a fund for the maintenance of the pastor. Success to the enterprise.

[Local Correspondence.]
OAKVILLE, Jan. 2, 1882.
Thursday, the 29th ult., being incident, the entertainment at Mr. Zion was postponed until to-day. The recitations by Miss Redie were nearly ended when your correspondent arrived, but the expressions of those who heard the whole gave evidence of entire satisfaction in the large audience assembled. The most pleasing feature of the entertainment to the boys and girls of the school was the robbing the large Christmas tree and distributing its fruits among the scholars, after which followed presents to some of the older portions of the audience from their friends. Among these were some laughable sales. One young gentleman received a large package, and upon opening it, had his thinking capacities well tested to find out how any of his own wearing apparel could get upon the tree. Another received a Cinderella slipper, which he will use for a watch case until its mate and wearer can be found and then—well, we know what the Prince did. Another received a genuine live terrapin, which caused considerable merriment, and "Dot" was there and received some presents too. Did not find out what they were, but presume some of his fashionable lady friends remembered him. Your correspondent received no presents, but with the rest of the audience pronounced it an enjoyable entertainment.
