RIVALRIES OF ARMAMENTS.

Having obtained satisfactory responses to his suggestion that there should be an international conference on the subject of limitation of armaments, President Harding has issued the formal invitation to the governments concerned, the conference to open in Washington on No-

FRENCH DECIDE HOUSEKEEPERS HARD TO FIND

(By Associated Press)

PARIS, Aug. 23. French housekeepers like those of other countries are complaining that there are no servants to be had these days and not those there are are good for very little and refuse to stay long in the same household.

Dire pessimistic declarations are numerous, instructed by a list of 824 names that appeals in the Official Journal of men and women who have women their aid to whom 10 gold war medals have been awarded by the ministry of Hygiene for the longevity of their faithful servants in the same household. Eight years is the minimum time allowed for the award of these medals. Many servants enjoy the right to wear the medal on the tricolored ribbon with green and white and four is awarded annually.

DIRIGIBLE WAS AWAITED BY 200 NAVY OFFICERS

(By Associated Press)

LAKEHURST, N. J., Aug. 23. Two hundred naval officers and enlisted men were at the air station here today ready to anchor the giant dirigible ZR-2 when she noses down at the completion of her voyage over the waters of the Atlantic from England. The great airship is to start on her trans-Atlantic journey next Thursday, August 25.

More than $3,000,000 has been spent on the mammoth hangar built to shelter the armored airship, and hundreds of thousands more have gone into modern equipment that makes the station for receiving the leviathan of the skies at any hour of day or night and in any weather. Search lights installed on the roof of the hangar 150 feet above ground. Floodlights near them will illuminate the sky and brighten 20 miles in the landing field if the ZR-2 decides for new home between daylight and dawn. Down beneath the powers which are to guide the dirigible into dock, other lights [illegible]

HORSE-DRAWN PATROLS NOW THING OF PAST

(By Associated Press)

BOSTON, Aug. 23. The day of the horse-drawn patrol wagon has passed so far as the Boston police department is concerned. The last experiment of the old "Black Maria" now in service in the Hyde park district has been replaced by a motor driven machine. The old "Black Maria" will not be cast entirely aside, however, police officials said, but will be held for possible service when winter snows make the motor patrols useless.

Germany will pay $1,000,000,000 in gold marks on August 26. Having worked down Germany is doing fairly well at settling up.
