VICTORY WILL SOON UNDERGO EXPLOITATION

Plans are being formulated whereby work will be resumed at an early date on the property of the Reorganized Victory Divide Mining company. During the past couple of weeks the workings have been cleaned up and placed in apple-pie order, and when the signal is given for the resumption of work, mine development will be instituted with a determination to make the Victory one of the popular issues of the Tonopah district.

While nothing definite has been given out concerning future operations, it is generally conceded that the main shaft, now having a depth of 205 feet, will be sunk for a good distance. This has been practically agreed upon in view of the fact that the ore vein faulted in the bottom of the 300-foot winze that was sunk from the 200 level. The vein matter is badly broken up, but engineers believe that by crosscutting on the east the vein will again be picked up and it need prove no surprise to them at any time that semi-sensational discoveries have been made.

The Victory was one of the most popular issues put out during the Divide excitement. The holdings are in the heart of the proven rich mineral zone, while the equipment installed is of the latest design, and in all of the Divide compilations [illegible] provided, and the assessment work operations will [illegible] be prosecuted will be [illegible] received by all interested in the Divide district.

The Victory Divide was recently [illegible] and an assessment of [illegible] per share was levied. The [illegible] was now [illegible] and as a result funds are low at the company to [illegible] the management to insure a well directed campaign of exploration being waged without interruption for a long period.

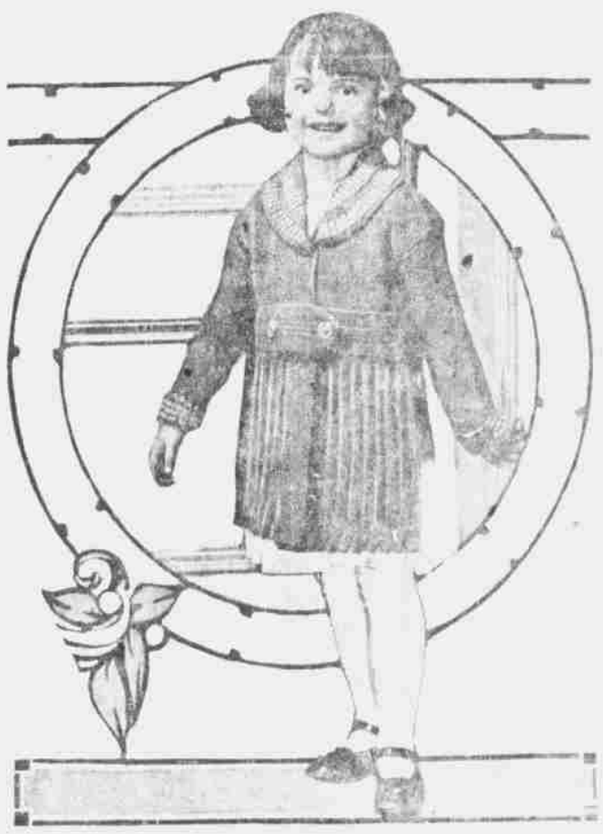
For Play and School



FROM the end of her childhood the little girl is made "comfy" in knitted clothes. If she is a winter baby, soft and fleecy under and outerwear of knitted wool defend her against the cold. As she grows she romps through little girlhood in sturdy knitted garments, along with small brothers similarly clad; the knitted muddy and sweater see her through the flapper stage, with scarfs and caps always lending their aid and finally she graduates into the realm of knitted things for grown-ups.

The number and variety of knitted garments for children make it possible to clothe them from head to foot. One can easily picture the little girl in the illustration with cap, leggings, mittens and a scarf perhaps in the depth of winter, scampering schoolward or rumbling in the snow. But now she is having her picture made in a new knitted coat which will make her comfortable throughout the fall without the aid of heavier things. JERSEY CITY, N. J., Sept. 6.—Johnny Wilson, middleweight champion, and Bryan Downey, of Cleveland, battled violently yesterday in a [illegible] pound fight. In the first six round they fought low to low, with little advantage and no knockdowns.

While no decision was permitted under the New Jersey laws, a majority of the newspapermen at the ringside were of the opinion that Downey outpointed Wilson.
