ARMENIAN WAR FIELDS SUFFER FROM CHOLERA

(By Associated Press)

CONSTANTINOPLE, Turkey, Sept. 29.—Cholera is spreading the ugliest that port of Armenia which was the scene of the war between the Turks and Armenians for winter. According to a dispatch received here from Tiflis and [illegible] by Paxton Hibben, of Los Angeles, [illegible] Mr. Hibben is a member of the group of newspaper men of the Near East Relief who recently visited Armenia before [illegible] Turkish attack began in [illegible]. It seems that the [illegible] of Alexandropol is following [illegible] the unfortunate refugees [illegible] to [illegible] miles.

[illegible] 25 and persons are dying daily [illegible] from [illegible]. The bodies are [illegible] the streets [illegible] of [illegible] are [illegible] hard and are not buried.

There are 40 confirmed cases of cholera in Erivan and 112 in Alexandropol and the death rate averages [illegible] the 25 per cent of the cases. An Armenian physician of the Near East Relief at Alexandropol was just died. Armenian orphanages there are quarantined. Destruction of the number of [illegible] of cholera cases [illegible] in continuing in the villages [illegible] and several American relief workers.

In Karsk there are four cholera cases among 686 orphans under American care, but the epidemic among the children is being at least held in check.

"The homeless inhabitants of 140 [illegible] by the Turks, who are now massed in the fields and swarming in the city streets, are without the slightest hope of assistance from the impoverished government, in whose paper money 4000 rubles is equivalent to one cent.

"The Armenian foreign minister, Kanaz Khorchian, and the minister of [illegible] Sarkis Stabenman, recently waited on a delegation of 15 Armenians headed by Charles V. Vickery, general secretary of the New York United to appeal for America's help for Armenia through the [illegible]. They stated that the government was trying desperately to obtain peace from Russia but that the Bolshevik government was becoming [illegible] of the situation, of [illegible] and was [illegible] an ultimatum [illegible] [illegible] another source of supply.

"The [illegible] in Armenia were [illegible] of the aggressive [illegible] of the Turks and in some [illegible] of the new change the [illegible] the government [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
